HUNDRED OF HUMBLE-YARD.

HUMILIART, Humilyerd, now Humble-yard hundred, takes its name from a valley in the parish of Swerdeston, where the hundred court was anciently kept, which in evidences still retains the name of HUMBLE-YERD, the low yard or court: it makes up exactly the whole DEANERY called by the same name, and paid to the ancient task or tenths 511. 1s. clear. It is bounded on the east with the hundred of Henstede, on the north with the county of the city of Norwich; on the west with the hundred of Forehoe, and on the south with the hundred of Depwade: there is no town in it which holds a weekly market at this time, it being so near the city of Norwich, that hath totally swallowed up all profits that could accrue to any village in so small a distance. The fee of this hundred was in the Crown, upon Earl Ralph's forfeiture in the Conqueror's time, before which it belonged to the mavor of Hetherset. In Henry the Third's time it was worth 12*l.* per annum, when it was farmed by William de St. Omer. In Edward the First's time Nic. de Castello or Castle farmed it, and Edward III. conveyed it in exchange to John de Clavering and his heirs; but it afterwards reverted and continued in the Crown till James I. granted it to Sir Charles Cornwaleis, Knt. to be held at the rent of 7*l.* 6*s.* 7*d.* ob. q. during the lives of Charles Cornwaleis, Esq. eldest son of Sir William Cornwaleis, Knt. Tho. Cornwaleis, Esq. eldest son of the said Charles, and Thomas Cornwaleis, son of the said Sir William.

HUMBLE-YARD DEANERY

Is in the ARCHDEACONRY of NORFOLK, and at the time of the Norwich taxation had 23 parishes in it, and the annual profit to its RURAL DEAN was taxed at 26*s.* 8*d.* The following deans were all collated by the several Bishops of the SEE.

1256, John Ordermer .	1356213
1312, John de Chetestan .
1320, Ric. Umfrey .
1333, Roger de Ayremine .
1337, John de North Killesey ; he resigned the same year to Rich. le Grage of Barew , who died in 1341, and was suc- ceeded by Ric. de Normandeby , who resigned the next year to John Backworth .

- 1349, Robert de Hardeshull, succeeded by
Tho. de Thornham the same year, and he in 1350, by Walter de Newhawe of Baketon, inceptor in arts.
 1360, John de Methetwold, shaveling.
 1388, Robert de Hedersete, clerk.
 1389, John Brereleje.
 1390, Walter Cutet of Brockford.
 1395, Will. Estryk.

1419, Nic. Frenge, he resigned in 1421, for Wayuford deanery in Suffolk, to

Robert Lambe, who resigned this for Thingo deanery in Suffolk; and in 1447, this deanery was perpetually united to that of Depwade, and Ralf Somerby was collated to both as one deanery, and ever after it attended that DEANERY.

COLNEYE

LIES at the northern extremity of this hundred; it was taxed at 1*l.* 12*s.* but had a deduction of 12*s.* a year, on account of the revenues of the religious here. The rectory is valued in the King's Books at 6*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* and being sworn of the clear yearly value of 41*l.* 11*s.* 8*d.* it is discharged of first fruits and tenths, and is capable of augmentation. The situation answers its name, it being a hill-island. The church is dedicated to St. Andrew the Apostle, to whose honour there was a GILD held here, and another of the Holy Cross; the image of which Saint stood on the north side of the altar, and was new painted in 1502. In the Lincoln taxation, the rectory was valued at 5*l.* and the rector had a house and 52 acres of glebe; but in the present terrier, there is a house and only 36 acres. It paid 1*s.* 8*d.* synodals, 6*s.* 8*d.* procurations, 9*d.* Peter-pence, and 3*d.* carvage.

The CHURCH consists of a nave only, which is 17 yards long, and 7 broad; the chancel is 10 yards long and 7 broad; it hath a round steeple tiled at top, in which are two bells. On the south wall of the nave is a small memorial for Richard Browne, Gent. who died Oct. 20, 1674, aged 58, with the arms of BROWNE of Diss in Norfolk, per chevron O. and B. in chief three estoils of the second, in base a wyvern arg.

On the north side is an altar tomb of wood, with Yaxley's arms, and this inscription,

Here lyeth buried the body of HENRY YAXLEE Esq; who died in the Faith of God's true elect Catholick Church, not trusting in the Merits of any, but the alone Saviour and Redeemer Jesus Christ, and his Death and Passion. He died March 6, 1650. They that know thy Name will put their Trust in thee, for thou never forsakest them that seek thee, Psalm 9, 10. This is Life eternal to know thee, the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom thou hast sent, Joh. 17, 3.

Tota Sapientis est Meditatio Mortis.

The same monument also shows, that John Tomson, Gent. died March 17, 1575. Will. Yaxlee of Boston, Gent. 1625, and Raphe Yaxlee, 6th son of Henry aforesaid, 1636.

There is a brass for Robert Pitcher May 1, 1641.

1701, Tho. Clayton, official to the Archdeacon of Norwich, and rector of St. Miles at Plea in that city, was presented by TERESA NORRIS, widow; at whose death in 1743, The Rev. Mr. John Brooks, who holds it united to the rectory of St. Augustine in Norwich, (see vol. iv. p. 67, 76, 126, 477, 570,) was presented by FRANCIS LOGGIN, Gent.

The whole town belonged to Earl Ralf before his forfeiture, after which it was divided into two parts or manors, distinguished by the names of West-hall and East-hall.

THE MANOR OF WEST-HALL

Was the capital one, and to that the advowson was many years appendant; it was given to Godric the sewer, of whom Walter held it at the time of the Conquest, who purchased and added to it, part of the other manor, which then belonged to Roger Bigot; at the Confessor's survey, this part was worth 30s. and at the Conqueror's 40s.; the whole town was then a mile long, and as much broad, and paid to the geld or tax 8d. farthing.¹ It after came to the Tateshales, and in 1201,

Sir ROB. DE TATESHALE had it conveyed to him by Gilbert son of Hervy, together with Wilton in Norfolk;² and soon after it was sold to the Malherbes. In 1239,

WILLIAM MALHERBE was lord and patron;³ and this year he had a warm contest with Ralf de Cringleford, concerning liberty of commonage for his tenants of Colney, with the tenants of the said Ralf, on a common called Sunderwoodhowe; and it went so far, that a duel was adjudged, and at the time, they both appeared armed in court; but then the judges decreed, that they should be inter-commoners, and that each should have the several services of their villeins and tenants, with prohibition that the lord of Cringleford should not plough, grub up, or any way alter the common from what it heretofore was. In 1302,

Sir Ralf de Malherbe, Knt. owned it, who in 1291, had sold a fourth part of it to

Elizabeth de Colney. This manor was held of Rob. de Tateshall, who had and held it of Rob. Fitz. Roger, at one fee, for which reason it was ever after held of the honour of Horseford. In 1309,

Sir Ralf Malherbe and Eliz. his wife, settled it with the advowson, on

HENRY SON OF JOHN DE NORWICH, rector here, and ROGER SON OF GILBERT BOURNE, in trust for them for their lives, and then to

GILBERT MALHERBE, remainder to ROGER in tail: it had then, a manor-house, mill, 240 acres of land, 12 acres of meadow, and 14 of pasture in demean; the quitrents were 35s. and 9 quarters of oats, and it extended into Hetherset, Melton, and Cringlesford. In 1326,

THO. DE BROCKDISH, and ROBERT DE WELHOLME had it; and now it seems that the 4th part of it, which had been sold to Eliz. de Colneye, was purchased by

SIR ROB DE LA ROKELE, lord here, whose son ROBERT⁴ in 1331, conveyed the 4th part and the advowson, to

RICH. DE MELTON, citizen of Norwich, and Maud his wife. In 1345,

JEFFERY DE SNORING had the remaining three parts; and in 1346, JOHN BRAHAM, Esq. and Anne his wife, daughter and coheir of John Tendring of Brockdish, and Cecilia wife of Rob. Ashfield of Stow-Langetot, another daughter and co-heiress, settled it on

WILLIAM DE NORWICH, junior, and his heirs; and in 1370, William Wiset and other feoffees, sold it to Catherine widow of Sir William Capele, Knt. and Sir Edmund their son; and in 1401,

WILL. REES owned it, soon after which it was joined to

THE MANOR OF EAST-HALL,

Which was forfeited by Earl Ralph, and afterwards given to ROGER BIGOT, of whose gift Waregerius held it in the Conqueror's time, when it was worth 30s. per annum.⁵ In the Confessor's time it was of 20s. value only, and Stigond was the then lord. The successor of this Waregerius assumed the name of COLNEY from this village, and

SIR RALF DE COLNEY, Knt. was lord here in 1260. In 1291,

SIR WILLIAM DE COLNEY, his son, had it, and held it at a quarter of a fee of the Earl-marshal, who held it in chief of the King, as did JEFFERY DE COLNEY after him; and in 1306,

RIC. DE COLNEY; in 1310, Sir

WILLIAM DE COLNEY and Eliz. his wife settled it in trust on John de Whinbergh, who was to hold it for their use during their lives, remainder to Jeffery, Ralf, John, and Roger, their sons, in tail: it contained then three messuages, one mill, 200 acres of land, 10 acres of meadow, and 32s. annual rent in Colney, Carleton, Parva-Melton, Ertham, and Merkeshall, and was held of the honour of Fornect.

In 1346 LAURENCE, eldest son of Jeffery, eldest son of Sir William de Colney, owned it, and sold it the same year to Will. Blomcyle, Richard Hakon, Hugh, parson of Melton All-Saints, and Edmund de Lesingham, feoffees in trust for the said William, Hugh Curson, and John de Welholm; in 1377, William Pope, rector here, Richard Carter,

Nic. atte Launde and Anne his wife, settled it on Rob. atte Launde for life; remainder to Nic. and Anne, and their heirs; which Nicholas enjoyed it in 1401; and in 1432, Anne Launde had it for life, reversion to John Browne and his heirs, it being purchased by him in 1401. In 1451, Nic. Browne died seized in fee tail of BROWNE'S manor in Colney, with the moiety of the advowson, which by purchase had been added to it, and Nic. Dunston of Norwich was found his next heir; in 1480, Rob. Bumpstede of Willingham St. Mary in Suffolk was buried in the chancel of St. Mary's church of Soterley in Suffolk at the entrance of it, and made John his eldest son, and Rob. Bumpstede, chaplain, his son, executors; and gave his manor in Willingham, to Marion his wife, and his manor of Colneye to his son Peter, if it could be recovered out of the King's hands, there being then a contest about it, between him and the heirs of Browne; about 1490, John Melton had it, and in 1497, settled it by fine on

JOHN YAXLEY and his heirs; in which family it continued (as the presentations show) till the late troublesome times, when one of the Yaxleys being a papist, settled this and Bowthorp, (see Bowthorp, vol. ii. p. 387,) and a considerable estate in Yorkshire, on his kinsman, Rich. Browne of Colney, whose son, Henry Browne, sold it to Mr. Hunt of London, who sold it to Mr. Jeremiah Norris, from which time it hath continued in that family. The Spelmans, Dethicks, and Walgraves, were concerned as trustees for this manor, in many settlements of it, made by the Yaxleys.

JEREMIAH NORRIS of Norwich, Gent. is the present lord.

THE MANOR OF MELTON'S

Took its rise from the 4th part of Westhall, which was sold as aforesaid in 1331, to Rich. de Melton, who presented in 1337, and Richard de Bradenham, his trustee, in 1338; it afterwards belonged to Thomas de Bumpstede, whose trustees, William, rector of Colneye, Ric. de Bitering, John de Plumstede, and others, settled it on Rob. de Bumpstede,⁶ who presented in 1351; it having been settled in 1348, by Thomas the son, on Rob. de Bumpstede, the father, and Cicity his wife, Philip son of Edmund Browne, and Margaret his wife, and their heirs. In 1399, Nic. son of John Corpsty, and John son of Philip Browne, released it to Ric. de Melton; and his trustees, Sir Miles and Sir Brian Stapleton, Knts. Thomas Bose, parson of Wramplingham, Rob. Serjeant of the same, and John Lingwood of Norwich, settled it on John, son and heir of Richard de Melton, who presented in 1418, and 1455, and Rob. Melton his son in 1481; and in 1497, John Melton sold it with the manor of East-hall to John Yaxley; from which time it hath been joined to that manor.

There was a freeman and 80 acres of ground, &c. held by Rob. de Vals (I allibus or Faux), of Will. de Schoies, and after by Roger de Ebrois, at the Conqueror's survey;⁷ part of which was afterwards settled in 1196, by Roger Picot, on Decodate, prior of St. Faith at Horsham, and the convent there, which in 1428, paid 2s. to the taske.

This town belonged to EDWIN in the Conqueror's time, who settled it at his death on the abbey of St. Bennet at HOLM in Ludham in Norfolk; it was then worth 40*s.* afterwards 60*s.* and at the Conqueror's survey 4*l.* and was then held by GODRIC the Sewer, after Earl Ralf's forfeiture. There was also another manor here, and in Great Melton, held by one of the Confessor's thanes, which Godric also had; Little-Melton was one mile and an half long, and 1 mile and 1 furlong broad, and paid 8*d.* q. to the *geld.*³ Ingreda, wife to Edwin, confirmed her husband's grant, but after their deaths, Ralf their son agreed with Richer the Abbot, Ralf the Prior, and the monks, that he should hold it for life, remainder to Letseline, his wife, for life, and the heirs of Ralf for ever, if he had any, if not, it was to revert to the convent, of which it was to be always held, by a clear rent of 10*s.* a year. It was called in this deed MEDELTUN the Less, or the Middle-Town. King Henry II. sent a precept to the sheriff of Norfolk, that the Abbot of St. Bennet should hold quietly this manor, which Hubert de Montchensy had disseized him of, during the war, and which he had acknowledged before the Archbishop of Canterbury, to be of that convent's fee; whereupon it was agreed, that Hubert and his heirs should hold the town of the convent, paying a fee-farm rent to the Abbot, of 10*s.* which is now paid to Bishop's manor of Heigham, which belonged to that convent. In 1284, William, son of Sir Warine de Montchensy, had view of frankpledge, assize of bread and ale, free-warren, &c.

In 1272, Reginald de Argentine and Lora his wife purchased several lands here; and in 1318, John son of Reginald, held one part of the manor at the 16th part of a fee, of Aymer de Valence Earl of Pembroke,

In 1381, Sir John de Argentein, Knt. settled it on Sir William, his son, and Isabel his wife, daughter of Will. de Kerdeston, Knt. after the death of himself and Margaret his wife, who had it in 1383, the quit-rents being 10*l.* per annum, as also the manor of Keteringham; and Joan, wife of Bartholomew de Naunton, Knt. and Margaret their daughter, 40 years old, Alice wife of Baldwin St. George, Knt. and Baldwin their son, 21 years old, and Maud wife of Ivo Fitz Warine, Knt. were heirs. In 1445, Will. Wymer, and Margaret his wife, who was daughter and heir of John Toll of South-Elmham, settled it on John Alyngton, junior, Esq. and Mary his wife, remainder to Will. Alyngton, junior, father of the said John and Eliz. his late wife, remainder to Anne Alyngton, cousin of Elizabeth. In 1469, John Alyngton and Mary his wife owned it; and in 1534, Giles Alyngton and Mary his wife, sold it to ELIZ. MARSHAM, widow, when it extended into all the Meltons, Hether-set, Bawburgh, and Colney: she was widow of John Marsham, mayor of Norwich, who was buried in the chancel of St. John Maddermarket in Norwich, A^o1525, (see vol. iv. p. 290.) In 1557, Tho. Marsham, alderman of Norwich, was buried in St. John's Maddermarket, and left Elizabeth his wife, and Ralph his brother, each a moiety of the manor; James Marsham, his kinsman, was executor, with Eliz. his mother, Eliz. his wife, and Hamon Claxton, Gent.; his sister, Eliz. Layer, had John, Thomas, and Christopher, his nephews. In 1567, Ralph Marsham of Norwich, grocer, was sole lord; he married a daughter of Hamon Claxton of Livermere in Suffolk, and left it to Robert Marsham, his son and heir, who married Eliz. daughter of Robert Downes of Bodney and Great Melton, who had first Edward Marsham of Little Melton, lord in 1612; who married Elizabeth, daughter and coheir of Edmund Grey of Bunwell in Norfolk; second, John Marsham; third, Thomas Marsham, alderman of London, from whom descended Sir Robert Marsham of Winfarthing, created Lord ROMNEY in 1716, (see Peerage vol. iv. p. 298.) The manor was sold about 1620, for then it appears by a particular made for its sale, that it was let at 125*l.* per annum, and contained above 16 score acres; and the freehold rents belonging to it were 3*l.* 12*s.* 2*d.* per annum, most having been manumised by the Marshams. In 1623 Tho. Sayer and Will. Barker settled it on Laur. Sotherton, Gent. and his heirs. In 1636, AUGUSTINE SCOTTOWE, Gent. died siezed of Melton Parva, and left two sons, Richard his son and heir, aged 10 years, and Augustine, aged two years. Richard Skottowe died in 1656, Augustine Scottowe in 1683, and it continued in this family till Thomas Scottowe of Norwich, Gent. sold it to

Sir BENJAMIN WRENCH, Knt. M. D. of the said city, who is the present lord.

MELTON-HALL, HERTFORD'S, OR HEREFORD'S MANOR,

Belonged very early to ROGER DE MELTON PARVA, and Muriel his wife, about 1180, and after to Roger his son, and Roger his grandson, who sold to Master Vincent de Bek, all his lay fee and freehold, which he and his father held of Will. son of Jeffry of Great Melton, in order to enable him to go in pilgrimage to the Holy-Land, having settled on Emma his wife the land late Rob. de Melton's, his kinsman, near the land of William the parson of Little Melton. In 1228, Will. de Bek held it at half a quarter of a fee of the heirs of Montchensy, who held it of Sir Robert de Tateshall, who held it of the honour of Peeverell; in 1280, William de Hereford (from whom it took its name) owned it; in 1318, Emma de Bek had it; and in 1323, Will. de Hertford held it at the 8th part of a fee, of the Earl of Pembrook, and John Dames had it soon after. In 1338, by the name of BURFIELD'S manor, an 8th part of it was settled on John Skilman and Margaret his wife, and John their son; and in 1345, it was found that the heirs of Will. de Bek held it. In 1371, the feoffees of Margaret widow of Ralf de Bocking, released it to John Dunmyng and his heirs; in 1401, Thomas de Blickling, son of Thomas, son of William de Blickling, and Julian, daughter of William Spynk of Norwich, his wife, held it; but he being a minor, it was in the King's hands; in 1408, Rog. Blickling had it; in 1418, it was sold by John Swan and Ric. Moneste, to John Briston, Esq. Henry Lesingham, and Robert Harrington and Eliz. his wife; in 1459, Robert Allen, senior of Ertham, and Henry Spelman, mortgaged it to Simon Thornham, &c. for 110 marks; and in 1501, Tho. Batchcroft of Melton Parva gave it to Christian his wife, by will, for life, and then to be sold; in 1574, Rich. Calle of Melton, Gent. and Edith his wife, and Tho. Calle, Gent. and Catherine his wife, sold it to NICHOLS SOTHERTON, junr. of Norwich, Gent. and his heirs, in whose family it afterwards became joined to MELTON-PARVA manor,

 GREAT-MELTON,

OR MIDDLE-TON, had two churches standing very near one another in the same churchyard; that dedicated to St. Mary the Virgin is now standing, and in use; it belonged to the manor of HACON'S or HAKUN'S in this town, and when Norwich Domesday was made, Ric. Hakun was patron of it; the rector had a house and four acres of land; it was first valued at 9, and after at 12 marks; it paid 13*d.* synodals, 6*s.* 8*d.* procurations to the Archdeacon of Norfolk, 12*d.* Peter-pence, and 2*d.* ob. carvage. The tower was built in 1440. and hath three bells in it; the church hath only one isle, which is thatched, as is the south porch; the chancel is tiled. The rectory remains undischarged, being valued in the King's Books at 6*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* and so pays 13*s.* 4*d.* yearly tenths, but no first fruits. It paid to the ancient tenths 3*l.* 16*s.*

HACUN* had bought it, and settled it on Ric. Hacun, it being then held at half a fee; and in 1219, Hubert, son of *Ric. This was allowed in Eire in 1274, and 1284; at which time, *Ric. Hubert Hacon, and Anne his wife, conveyed to William, son of Warine de Montchensie, capital lord of the fee, the advowson of St. Mary, the lete, and the moiety of the churchyard, containing 1 acre; and the same year a fine was levied between Johu son of John de Bohun, and Ric. and Anne son of Hubert Hacon, and Anne his wife, by which the 4th part of Oftou manor in Suffolk was settled on Johu; and in 1290, John Hacon of Shouldham and Anne his wife. Hubert son of John Hacon and Katherine his wife, conveyed many lands here to Simon of Hetherset; and in 1302, Hubert son of Sir Richard Hacun, Knt. had the MANOR only, out of which he granted 6s. 8d. per annum, to the said Simon; for Hugh de Vere and Dionise his wife had the LETE and advowson, and held it as part of the fees of Rob. de Tateshall, which Thomas de Caily then had. In 1312, they settled them by fine on Gilbert Baliol, and Katherine his wife, who were found in 1315, to hold them, as Hubert Hacon did the manor. In 1318, Ric. Hacun of Great Melton married Anne, second daughter of Roger, and sister and coheir of Ric. Loveday of Great Brisete in Suffolk, and in 1320, Hubert his father settled this manor on him after his own death, which happened about 1323, for then Hubert's heirs had it. In 1345,⁵ Ric. Hacun held it with Brisete Magna in Suffolk, which he had of his wife's inheritance, and in 1360 he was lord here. In 1342, Gilbert Baliol conveyed the advowson and lete, &c. to Sir Richard Talbot, who presented in 1347, in which family it continued till lately, as the several presentations show, to which I refer you. The manor continued in the HACONS; for in 1432, Will. Hacon of Ipswich, and Margaret his wife conveyed it to John Hacon of Wyceton, whose son Thomas of Cley in Norfolk, in 1450, sold it to Robert Toppe, merchant and alderman of Norwich, who died in 1467; and his son Robert of Great Melton in 1487, gave the manor and his whole estate, to Sir Gregory Lovell, Knt. his nephew, and to Anne Lovell, his sister, and to John Toppe, his bastard son, divers legacies; and it continued in that family till 1534, (see vol. i. p. 323,) and then Thomas Lovell, Knt. and Eleanor his wife, settled it on Ambrose Wolley, and in 1557, Roger Woodhouse, Knt. settled it on Henry Drury, as trustees only to the Lovells, from which family it went to EDWARD DOWNES of Melton, Esq. who married Katherine, daughter of Sir Thomas Lovell of Herling, Knt. relict of Sir Thomas Knevet of Bukenham, and of Edward Spring, Esq. in which family it became joined to, and remained with,

THE MANOR OF PEVERELL'S

In this town, to which the advowson of the church of All-Saints, with the chapel of of Algar's Thorp, always belonged. This church, since the act for that purpose, is ruined; the steeple is square, the nave is 20 yards long, and the chancel 9, it had a south porch, but no isles: on a stone in the altar are three coats impaled, 1st, 6 escalops 3, 2, 1. 2d, ANGLISH. 3d, a boar's head cooped:

⁵ 1333, Joan Hacon died seized of six acres held of the lord, and Will. her son was her heir, and 18 years old, but Nic. Crostweyth her husband held it for life, by the law of courtesy of England, in 1523, John Hacon was steward of Amringhall court, to the dean and chapter.

Here lieth JOHN ANGUISH of Great MELTON Esq; who after a faithfull Discharge of his Duty to King Charles the first of blessed Memory, in his Wars during the wicked Rebellion, died on the 12 of Febr. aged 79 Years.

On another adjoining stone, ANGUISH impales a lion rampant in a bordure indented.

Here lyeth the Body of Major EDM. ANGUISH Apr. 10, 1694, 80, and ANNA his Wife, Oct. 8, 1702, 81.

Hic jacet spe futuræ Resurrectionis Thomas Ward, hujus alteriusque Ecclesiæ Rector, obiit 22^o die Sept. Anno Æt. 59, Dni. 1680.

In the north-east corner of the chancel is an old arched monument, by which lies a stone, but the inscription was so covered with dirt, I could make out only the words, Dum Ludis, transit Vita, but it was laid over Edmund Anguish, Esq. lord and patron, who died Nov. 5, 1657, æt. 84.

There is an inscription in the churchyard for the wife of Robert Davy.

The RECTOR, when Norwich Domesday was made, had a house and 23 acres of land, valued without the portion, at 12 marks, and the portion of the Prioress of Redlynghfield, being a portion of the tithes of the demans, was valued at 1 mark, afterwards at 30s. the synodals 2s. procurations 6s. 8d. Peter-pence 1s. 4d. carvage 2d. The present terrier hath a house and 25 acres of glebe. There was a GILD of St. John Baptist held in the church. The south porch was new built in 1455, and this parish paid to the old taske or tenths, 1*l.* 17*s.* out of which there was a deduction of 8*s.* on account of the lands and revenues of the religious here. It stands in the King's Books by the name of Melton Flotman. All-Saints rectory is valued at 6*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* and pays 13*s.* 4*d.* yearly tenths, but no first fruits. There is a good house, called MELTON HALL, north-west of the churchyard at a small distance, in which the Rev. Mr. Lombe now dwells, which is the site of this manor.

PEVEREL'S MANOR

Was owned by KETEL, a Dane, in the Confessor's time, and contained two carucates; there was a wood to maintain 100 swine, two beehives, a faldage, and 60 sheep, and in the Conqueror's time 114, when it was held of RALF PEVEREL, one of the Normans who came in with that prince, by GARINUS or WARINE, who had 7 freemen under him; the church was valued with the manor, and had 3 acres of land worth 2s. the manor and church was in King Edward's time valued at 6*l.* and in King William's at 7*l.*; the whole of the town and both manors, paid 16*d. ob.* to the geld or tax.

It was a league and 3 furlongs long and half a league broad, and was always held of the PEVERELLS;⁶ for in 1204, Gerebert de Sancto Clarcheld it for life, of the fee of Will. Peverell; but it was the manor only, for the Peverells had the advowson, lete, and royalties as capital lords all the while. MATHEW PEVEREL gave to the monks of Norwich, lands and rents belonging to his manor here; ⁷ in 1186, Will. Peverel, his son and heir, held five knights fees of the honour of Peverel, of which this manor at 3 fees, and Brakene manor, which attended this, at 1 fee; and Oliva his widow held it in jointure; and William de la More gave Ric. I. 40 marks to marry her, and have the custody of Peverel's children and lands till they came of age; she after married Hugh de Risings, and in 1204, William his son had seizin of this and Brakene, and paid the King 20 marks, and a palfrey for livery thereof; and the same year, Cecily de Sancto Omero, or Seut Omer, lady of Brundale manor, promised King John 10 marks, if he would put her in seizin of the land of Will. Peverel, as freely as King Richard I. gave the custody thereof and of his heir, to William de la More, and William's widow to be wife to the said William de la More, which was granted; and the year following, Will. Peverel took it out of her hands; in 1218, Mat. Peverel held here, and in Brakene, Keteringham, Carleton, and Riveshall, 4 fees, of the honour of PEVEREL, and Jeffry Tregoz one in Billingford. In 1242, Hugh Peverel held Melton at three fees, and John his son and heir was 23 years old. In 1246, Alice widow of Hugh Peverel held it till her dower should be assigned; and the custody of the heir and estate of Hugh, was granted to Peter Braunch. In 1249, Alice his mother was married to Alexander de Vaux, or de Vallibus; and Oliva, grandmother to Hugh, was alive, and married to Mat. Peverel.

In 1350, King Henry III. granted him a weekly market and FAIR to his manor of Melton and free warren to it and his manor of Brakene, and assise of bread and ale, which was allowed in eire in 1284;⁸ with liberty of a cucking-stool, paying 16d. ob. per annum to the King's hundred court, for the exemption from its jurisdiction. In 1291, Sir Bartholomew de Redham, Knt. gave the moiety of Scotow manor with his daughter Joan, in marriage to John son and heir of Sir Hugh Peverel, and Sir Hugh gave lands to Sir John Peverel, the parson of Scotow; Sir Thomas, son of John Peverel, his grandson and heir, died in 1295, and was buried in Bodmyu priory in Corwall. In 1298, Sir Hugh, and Maud his wife, held it as of the honour of Hatfeld Peverel, at 3 fees, and Braken manor at 1 fee; and the same year conveyed Melton to Hugh Wykeman, parson there; by which they settled this manor and advowson on themselves for their lives, remainder to Sir Robert de Bajocis, Knt. and Maud his wife, daughter of John Peverel, their grand-daughter, in tail. This Sir Hugh was buried also in Bodmyu priory, to which he was a benefactor.

Sir Rob. de Bajocis, Baieux, or Bayhouse, was of the ancient family in Lincolnshire of that name, owners of the honour of Baieux in that county. John de Bajocis was justice itinerant, and conservator of the King's royalties and wreck in Devonshire and Corwall in 1218. In 1302, John son of Hugh Peverel had it. In 1308, John Peverel and firmed the donation, on condition they received his brother, Peter Peverel, a monk among them. (Regr. v. Eccl. Cath. fo 48, 75.)

⁸ In 1284, Andrew Peverel was one of the barons summoned to attend King Edward I. into Wales.

Joan de Redham his wife settled this and Brakene in trust, on Remigius, rector here, to hold to their uses for their lives. In 1327, it was settled on Hugh Peverel and Margaret his wife, in tail. In 1338, Thomas Seymour, lord of Pulton by Cirencester, and John de Lyle, lord of Harwood in Yorkshire, released to Eliz. Peverel, Ric. de Bayhuse, and Will. de Burton, Knts. this manor, and Pishobury in Hertfordshire, the church of Wimpol, the manors of Coveney, Rampton, Cotonham, and Westwyk, in Cambridgeshire, with many others; in all which, Alice his wife, daughter of Rob. de Lisle, and Eliz. Peverel, &c. were infeoffed. In 1342, Ric. de Bayhouse, Alice de Seintmor, Eliz. Peverel, Will. de Burton, Knt. Edm. de Benhale, and Henry Exenny, granted them to John de Lisle, lord of Harwood; and in 1344, John de Bayhouse quitted all his interest to Sir Hugh Peverel, Knt. lord here in 1346. In 1349, the jury found, that John son of Edmund Peverel died Nov. 15, but long before his death had conveyed his manors, in trust, to John de Insula de Rubeo Monte, Hagh Bray, and others, and Tho. de Verdon and Alice his wife had them for life; but the said Alice being dead, Margaret, now the wife of William de la Pole, junior, sister and heir to the said John Peverel, was 20 years old, which said William de la Pole, released all his right to John de Insula and his heirs, and that the said John Peverel died under age, and the King's ward. In 1351, Sir Hugh Peverel, Knt. and Maud his wife, settled the manor and advowson on themselves for their lives, remainder to Sir Robert de Bajocis, and Maud, daughter of John Peverel, in tail; and in 1360, they conveyed all their right to Robert de Bumpstede and Thomas his son, except 20s. rent, and two knights fees belonging to the manor. In 1372, Maud, daughter of Robert de Bajocis, Knt. and sister of Sir Richard de Bajocis, Knt. released all her right in this manor and advowson, to William Burton, Knt. and Eleanor his wife; this Sir William was one of the justices of the King's Bench in Edward the Third's time, whose chief seat was at Talethorp in Rutlandshire; he died in 1374, leaving issue by his first wife, Sir Thomas Burton, Knt. 40 years old; and by Eleanor his 2d wife, Nicholas. (Wright's Rutlandshire, p. 128.)

In 1395, John Peverel of Melton was lord of a moiety, and patron. In 1401, the said John had settled a moiety on Will. Curson and Margaret his wife, and they three held it of the honour of Hatfield Peverel at half a fee. In 1435, John Peverel, Esq. died, and was buried in the church of the Austin-friars at NORWICH, and left Eliz. his wife executrix, who was afterwards buried by him.⁹ In 1436, the said Elizabeth, then widow of John Peverel, settled the moiety on herself and William Paston, Ric. Elsy and Margaret his wife, who presented in 1444; and in 1467, Elsy and his wife conveyed their right to Rob. Skerne, and others, trustees for Will. Paston, who presented in 1476, and 1488. In 1523, Sir Gilbert Talbot the younger, Knt. was lord and patron; and in 1543, Tho. Ashtey had it in right of Mary his wife, one of the daughters and coheiresses of the lady ANNE, late wife of Sir Gilbert Talbot, Knt.¹ In 1545, Robert Newport and Margaret his wife settled the third part of the moiety of this manor and advowson on Sir John Clere, Knt. In 1547, the King licensed Anthony Littleton to alien a third part of the manor to Robert Richers, and his heirs; in 1548, Tho. Asteley and Mary his wife sold their third part to the said Robert; in 1559, Rob. Richers held three parts of the moiety of this manor, and in 1575, had got the whole moiety, and sold it to ROB. DOWNES and his heirs, who had purchased the other moiety before 1531; for in that year he presented in its right, and died in 1547, Francis his son being 16 years old. It appears that Thomas Downes first purchased this moiety of Tho. Appleyard, Gent. and Avice his wife.² In 1538, the said Francis Downes was lord also of Thorney manor; and in 1561, Robert Downes had livery of this, and was returned lord in 1570; in 1574, Edward his son was born, Apr. 8; he married Katherine daughter of Sir Tho. Lovell of Herling, Knt. relict of Sir Thomas Knevet of Bukenham, Knt. and of Edward Spring, Esq. In 1589, Rob. Downes of Melton, Esq.³ and Dorothy his wife, presented; and in 1609, they sold the whole to THOMAS ANGUISH Esq. and his heirs; he bare gul. a cinquefoil or, a mullet for difference sab.; crest, an adder sleeping in a fern bush proper;⁴ and the same year it was settled on Edmund Anguish, Gent. and his heirs; he was second son to John Anguish, twice mayor of Norwich; this Edmund presented in 1631, died in 1657, and was succeeded by John Anguish of Melton, Esq. his son, who presented in 1680. He gave it by will to JOHN son of EDMUND WOODHOUSE of Lexham, who married Anne his daughter;⁵ he was lord and patron in 1692, and John Woodhouse his son sold it to EDMUND KEENE; and by the particular then delivered, it appears that the quit and free-rents of the two manors were 9l. 10s. per annum; that the fines were at the lord's will, and each manor had weyf, estray, letes, and all other royalties, and that the whole demears and estate were above 400l. per annum. In 1701, Edmund Keene was lord of the town, and afterwards one of the South Sea directors, he died single at Bath, Jan. 21, 1723, but before his death, had sold Melton to EDWARD LOMBE Esq. who settled in the hall here,⁶ and died Apr. 1738, being succeeded by his brother,

The Rev. Mr. JOHN LOMBE, late fellow of Caius college, after that, rector and vicar of Scarning, then rector of Hethill, and now of Sparham and Foxley, who is the present owner, and lives here.

ALGAR'S-THORP

Is a HAMLET to Great-Melton; it had a CHAPEL, formerly parochial dedicated to St. Mary Magdalen, but now long since demolished; it stood in a close called Maudlin close; NORWICH Domesday says, that then the rectors of Melton St. Mary and All-Saints took all the profits belonging to the chapel, for which they were obliged at their charge to find a chaplain to serve in it; it had baptism, burial, and all signs of a mother church, and seven parishioners and their families; it is still called THORP hamlet. In 1476, it was perpetually united to Melton All-Saints, though the chapel continued in use till the Dissolution, in the Conqueror's survey it is not named, being then part of Melton, which was given soon after to one ALGAR, from whom it took its name.

In 1198, ROB. DE RIFLAI settled on Maud Prioress of KARHOE, and that convent, 7s. rent here,⁷ to be received yearly of Alice Peverel, Humfry de Erham, and Gerebert de St. Clere, and their heirs; and the Peverels gave so much after, that the prioress in 1279 was returned to hold in Melton and Algarthorp, of John Peverel, a quarter of a fee; and in 1428, that convent was taxed at 39s. 6d. for their temporalities here.

JEFFRY son of GODFRY DE ALGERESTHORP gave two acres of land to the monks of NORWICH,⁸ with the consent of Sir Hubert Hacun of Great-Melton, his lord, Ric. Hacun his son, and Hubert Hacun his nephew; Will. Burch, parson of Horningtoft, being witness; and in 1491, the pitauciary of their monastery accounted for the profits of 2 acres in Algerysthorp by Bawburgh, which were given by Sir Gregory Lovel, Knt. for a pittance in the monastery on his obit day. The principal part or

MANOR OF ALGAR'S-THORP

Belonged to one ALGAR, of the gift of MATHEW PEVEREL; in 1248, John le Breton, for siding with the French King, forfeited it; in 1249, Simon son of Will. de Melton, and Will. de Hereford had it, with Simon son of Herbert de Hetherset, and Maud de Melton; and in 1267, Simon de Melton was sole lord; in 1268, it was found before the justices itinerant then sitting at Diss in Norfolk,⁹ that Bartholomew de Redham had unjustly disseized Richard Skilman of Hethersete, and in 1284, Barth. de Redham and Ric. Skilman, had unjustly disseized John son of the said Bartholomew, of 4 messuages, 60 acres of land, and 6s. rent here. In 1305, Simon de Hethersete and Cecily his wife had a release from Ric. Doche, or Doge, mercer, of London, who married Sibil, daughter of Nicholas de Hethersete. 1523, John le Graunger of Great Melton granted lands in Graunger's Croft, to Sir Simon de Hethersete, Knt. and Cecily his wife; this was soon after divided into many parts; Henry and Will. Lominour had some lands and rents, Jeffery Dazy the younger of Marlingford, others, and James le Palmer, Thomas de Blickling, David Mercator, or Chapman, were, and had been, concerned in the manor called Skilman's. In 1401, Henry Lomnor, junior, had the biggest part, which joined to HACON'S; and the other parts afterwards were in the Wootons, Flowerdews, Corbets, and Davies.

The revenues of the monastery of Wimondham here, were given by Mat. Peverel, and Alice his wife, Richard son of Ribald, Hugh Noble, Jeffery Clerk, and Roger de Hereford.

HETHERSETE,

THE capital village of this HUNDRED, is called in Domesday Book HEDERSEETA. the seat at the place or most publick road entering the hundred; it belonged in the Confessor's days to OLF, one of the thanes or barons, and after to Earl RALF, on whose forfeiture it was given to ALAN Earl of Richmond, who gave it in the Conqueror's time to KIBALD, who held it of ALAN.¹

This was then the capital manor, and had 3 carucates of land, wood for 40 swine, 87 sheep, 7 hives of bees, one church with 60 acres of glebe worth 5s. and one other church,² with 8 acres of glebe worth 8d. and 77 socmen, who held 4 carucates, one mill, and 2 freemen that held 60 acres; and Earl RALF had the soc or superiour jurisdiction, viz. the hundred which he forfeited. The manor was worth 8l. in the Confessor's time, and was risen to 10l. per annum at the Conquest. The town being a league long and half a league broad, and paid 26d. 3q. to the gelt or tax. And from this time it passed with the manors of Kenton in Suffolk, Pikenham and Barford-hull manors, as in vol. ii. p. 483, till the death of Ralf Fitz-Ralf in 1269, when Pikenham, &c. descended to Robert de Nevile, who married Mary, his eldest daughter and heiress; and this went to Sir Robert de Tatesshall, lord of Bukenham castle,³ in right of *Joan*⁴ the second daughter and heiress

This Sir *Will. CROMWELL'S MANOR

To this day; and from thence one moiety of it passed with Bukenham, through the CLIFTONS to the KNEVETS, till Sir Edm. Knevet, Knt. about 1540, mortgaged it to JOHN FLOWREDIEU, or Flowerdew, who presented jointly with Sir Edmund in 1541, and so it continued till 1554; and in 1560, the said John purchased it to him and his heirs.

The other moiety went with MAUD CROMWELL to JOHN FITZWILLIAMS, her husband, and passed in that family, as you may see vol. i. p. 378; and it after came to Sir ROB. DREWRY, or DRURY, Knt. who in 1541 sold it to the aforesaid John Flowerdew, Esq. and so he became sole lord of the manor, and patron of the church; Rob. Drury, Esq. his son and heir, releasing all his right; and soon after, he manumised many of the copyhold lands, as sole lord, and died Apr. 16, 1564; by Cat. daughter of Will Sheres of Ashwelthorp, who is buried in this chancel, he had seven sons; William his eldest son married Frances, daughter of Rog. Appleyard of Stanfield-Hall in Winondham, and died before his father, leaving Anthony his eldest son, who married Martha, daughter of John Scottow, and inherited a moiety of this manor, at his grandfather's death; Thomas, the third son, inheriting the other moiety; the whole being intailed on John, Edward, Edmund, Christopher, and Mark, younger sons of the said John; all which, at different times, sold and released their rights to EDWARD their brother, who also purchased the royalties: and so the whole was solely in the said Edward about 1584. In 1571, he was a lawyer of note, for then the DEAN and CHAPTER of Norwich retained him their standing council, by grant of an annuity for life of 20s. out of their manor of Eaton. In 1572, he lived at Stanfield-Hall in Winondham, and was retained by Roger Woodchouse, Esq. and had an annuity granted him of 40s. In 1575, he was retained by Will. Helmes, with an annuity of 40s. out of his manor of Rackhithe. In 1580, he was serjeant at law, and treasurer of the Inner-Temple, in which he was succeeded by Tho. Rysden, Esq. In 1584, 3d Baron of the Exchequer in the room of John Clenche, with an annuity of 20 marks, besides all the fees, profits, &c.; and upon the removal of Robert Shute, 2d Baron of the Exchequer into the court of Common-Pleas, he was made 2d Baron, in 1585, and obtained a grant of 3*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* to be yearly added to the fees of that office; he died March 31, 1586,⁶ seized of all the manors of this town, (except Woodhall), and married Eliz. daughter of Will. Forster of Windham, but had no issue, and was interred in the chancel here, leaving his brothers Thomas and Christopher, his executors; and Anthony son of William, his eldest brother, was his heir;⁷ at his death he gave by will to the town of LYN, a silver cup gilt, and another to the town of YARMOUTH, and to Mrs. Shelton a gilt cup, which was given him by the city of NORWICH. He was buried with much pomp, as appears by the fees paid the herault for attendance, &c.⁸ It is plain this Serjeant was an oppressor, complaints being exhibited against him by numbers of people, for ploughing up boundaries, enclosing lauds, &c.⁹ It seems that Anthony sold the whole to his brother John, who died seized 17 Nov. 1587, leaving Edward his son and heir, then 7 years old, whose trustee, Henry Hobart, Knt. presented in 1620, and then the manors were mortgaged to WILLIAM GOSTLIN, who presented in 1639; and before 1670, the advowson was in JOHN GOSTLIN, M. D. and his heirs for ever, and the manors settled on THO. FLOWERDEW of London, merchant, and were after sold in 1678, to Captain JOHN AIDE of Horstead, who was sole lord of all the manors; and in 1739, JANE POMFRET; and they are now in

EDWARD ATKINS of Kettringham, Esq. high-sheriff of Norfolk in 1743, by purchase.

The fine of the manor of Cromwell's is certain, at 4*s.* an acre and 6*s.* 8*d.* for every message on alienation or descent; and 2*s.* an acre, and 3*s.* 4*d.* each message for a fine upon every mortgage title. The ancient blanchefarm to Humbleyard hundred was 5*s.* per annum, and to Cosseye for the privilege of the lete 4*s.* It hath the correction of the assize of bread and ale, weyf, and free-warren.¹ It paid 40*s.* per annum to the honour of Richmond;² the manor of Huningham-hall,³ and Baniards in Wramplingham,⁴ are held of this manor.

HACON'S MANOR

Was part of the great manor granted off by the FITZ-RALFS; it takes its name from the ancient lords of it, viz. HUBERT HAKUN of *Great MELTON*⁵ was LORD in 1306, and afterwards Robert Hacan. In 1556, HENRY DRURY was lord, and being purchased of Rob. Drury by Serjeant FLOWERDEW; it was joined to Cromwell's manor as it remains at this day; the customs being the same as those of Cromwell's manor.

WOODHALL AND CANTELOSE,

Anciently called HETHERSET'S manor, belonged to GODRIC the sewer at the Conquest; one part of its soc belonged to Earl ALAN'S capital manor, and the other to the KING, and Earl of NORFOLK, of whose descendants it was always sheld at a quarter of a fee.⁶ John de Hetherset and Margery his wife were succeeded by Sir Simon and Cecily his wife, who with consent of Remigius his brother, parson of Hingham,⁷ settled it on Margaret their sister, and Sir Robert de Ufford, her husband, who was lord here; this Sir Simon was a man of note, being one of the King's justices itinerant, was alive in 1336; and was succeeded by his eldest son, Sir John, whose widow Elizabeth remarried in 1357, to John son of John de Reppes, and then conveyed the third part of this manor to Will. de Hethersete, her eldest son, and Eve his wife, who left two daughters, their heiresses; Elizabeth, second wife to John Winter of Town-Berningham, Esq. whose daughter Eliz. dying without issue, the whole of this manor came to Sibill, their other daughter, married to JOHN PALGRAVE, Esq. of Northwood Berningham, who kept court here in 1481. In 1517, Henry son of Margaret Palgrave died, and left it to John his son, at his wife Margaret's death; 1545, Clement Palgrave, Esq. owned it; and in 1578, John Palgrave, Esq. and from that time it went as PALGRAVE'S manor in Wintham, (for which see vol. ii. p. 505,) till it was purchased and joined to the other manor by Mr. JOHN AIDE.

The CUSTOMS of this manor are as the former, except the fixes, which are arbitrary; the quitrents of all the manors in money and corn are above 50*l.* per annum. The manors extend into Barford, Wramplingham, Dunston, Taverham, Belogh, and Hunningham, and have all royalties belonging to them. There remains only one small tenement in demean, with liberty of digging white and red brick earth on the commons, and right of commonage thereon.

The CHURCH is dedicated to St. REMIGIUS, and had formerly two medietyes, each having a RECTOR instituted thereto; the one from Sir Robert de Tateshale, patron thereof, was called Tateshale's mediety; as the other from Sir Ralf Fitz-Ralf, was called Fitz-Ralf's mediety; and the rector of Tateshale's mediety had a house and an hundred acres of land,⁸ and was valued at 15 marks and an half.

John Smetherst, yeoman of the Crown, brother to this Robert, was buried in the church before the rood.

1507, John Phillip, rector in 1515, exchanged for St. Mary Magdalen's hospital in Colchester, with John Wayn, who was presented by Sir ROB. DRURY, Knt. guardian to Will. and Edmund Knevet, Esqrs. In 1532, Wayn exchanged this for East-Mersey in Londou diocese, with

1541, John Barret, S. T. P. had it of the gift of EDMUND KNEVET, Knt. and JOHN FLOURE-DIEU, (or FLOWERDEW), Esq. and the next year, he resigned to

Chris. Wilson, when Flowerdew presented, by grant from Sir EDMUND KNEVET; in 1549, May 20, this rector, by consent of the BISHOP and PATRON, exchanged 18 pieces of glebe in Hetherset; he was deprived in 1554, and

Edward Jackson had it of Sir EDMUND's gift, and died in 1573, when EDWARD and JOHN FLOWERDEW, Esqrs gave it to

Miles Hunne, who was deprived in 1596; the Queen by lapse, gave it to

Joshua Hutton; but in 1603, Miles Hunne was restored; for then, he returned answer to the general enquiry made, that there were 200 communicants in this parish,² that he held it with Fornet St. Mary and St. Peter, one benefice, though two distant churches, valued at 20*l.* that he was chaplain to LETTICE Countess of Essex, and as such a licensed preacher, and had been so 30 years, and that Tho. Flowerdew, Gent. was patron here.

1609, Tho. Hunne, A. M.; the KING; Erasmus Hunne, A. B. was his curate. 1615, the aforesaid

1617, Sept. 2, Will. Warren, A. M. the KING; but his title being found invalid, in the same year, Jun. 6, being then S. T. B. he was presented by THOMAS PLUMSTEDE, JOHN GOOCH, and *RIC. 1660, Tho. Jermy was presented by JOHN BEARE of Westleton, at whose death in

1670, Tho. Church, S. T. P. had it of the gift of JOHN GOSTLIN, M. D. of Caius College in Cambridge; and in 1673, at Church's death, the doctor gave it to

Will. Lock, A. M.; and in 1702, at Lock's death, to John Amyas, who held it united to Melton All-Saints. In 1704, Dr. Gostlin, president of Caius college, by will dated Febr. 10, gave the patronage to that society, and in 1724, John Morrant, A. M. fellow there, was presented by the master and fellows, on Amyas's death, and held it united to St. Clement's in Norwich. He was buried here, and in 1736, The Rev. John Berney, A. M. the present rector, was instituted at the presentation of the MASTER and fellows. He is now D. D. Archdeacon of NORWICH,⁶ chaplain to the Bishop, rector of the two consolidated rectories of the Saxlinghams in Norfolk, and of the rectory of St. Clement at the Bridge in NORWICH.

The whole living was valued first at 20, after at 26, and after that, at 31 marks, and the portion of tithes belonging to Coverham abbey was valued at 20s. and let to the rector by perpetual composition, who always paid 2s. to each tenth for it. It lies at St. in the King's Books, pays first-fruits, and 16s. yearly tenths; synodals 5s. procurations 5s. Peter-pence 4s. and carvage 8d. ob. and the whole town paid to every tenth 5*l.* 9s. and had 13s. 4*d.* deducted on account of the lands in it belonging to the religious, for which they were taxed. The master of St. John of Jerusalem's Commandry at Karbrook in Norfolk had small rents here paid by the lord of the manor, of the gift of the ancient lords.

There were the GILDS of St. Remigius; and of our LADY, held at her altar in our Lady's chapel; and another of St. THOMAS, held at his altar in St. Thomas's chapel.

In the 7th of Eliz. a messuage, 20 acres, and 3 roods, belonged to the inhabitants, of which one rood and an half formerly belonged to St. John at Carbrook, and 4 acres and 3 roods to the gilds here, and one acre and two roods to find a lamp in the church, on which account they seized all the town lands, as concealed from the Queen upon the statute.

In Edward the First's time, John and Roger Bygod were owners, but I do not find them ever concerned in the manors; they and their family settled and continued a long time here; and were descended from the BYGODS Earls of Norfolk.

The CHURCH of Hetherset hath its north porch tiled, nave, two isles, and chapels leaded, with a square tower and 5 bells. The chancel is totally ruined, and part of the nave used as a chancel.

⁶ See vol. iii. p. 641.

In our LADY'S chapel, at the east end of the south isle, is an altar tomb, having the portraitures of a knight armed cap-a-piè, with a sword hanging from his head, which lies on a cushion, his spurs on, and a lion at his feet; he is in a surcoat of his arms, and hath his shield of them, viz. BERNAK, erm. a fess g. By him is his lady with a dog at her feet, and on her mantle are the arms of BERNAK, impaling DRIBY, arg. three cinquefoils and a canton gul. (see vol i. p. 374.) The inscription is lost, but was this,

Obitus Domini Willi de Bernake M^{ccc}xxviii^o. vi^o Mensis Aprilis.

Obitus Domine Alicie de Bernake M^{ccc}xxviii^o xii^o die Aprilis.

This Sir William Bernak, Knt. and Alice his wife, daughter and heiress of Sir Robert de Driby, Knt. were buried in the midst of the dilapidated chancel, from whence this monument was removed, through a covetous desire of the lead wherein they were buried, by John Flowerdew, father to the Baron. It seems the chancel was rebuilt by them and Robert de Driby, the then rector, for their arms were to be seen in the east window.

In St. THOMAS'S chapel, at the upper end of the north isle, is a fair raised tomb, wherein lyeth Catherine, mother to Baron Flowerdew, and wife to John Flowerdew, without inscription. In the same place lie John her husband, and Tho. Flowerdew; and in the chancel, lies buried the Baron, and for want of a gravestone of his friends cost, is covered with one from another man's grave, as the MSS. from whence this account is taken, words it.

In the midst of the chancel.

In 1658, JOHN LOPE, Gent. of Norwich, gave for the use of the poor, a messuage called Jeck's in Hethersete, copyhold on Woodhall, and half an acre copyhold on Cromwell's manor, which is now the Queen's-head, and is rented at 10*l. per annum*, the clear income of which is annually applied by Jermy Harcourt, Gent. and Claude Roberts, the present feoffees, in clothing the poor.

WALSINGHAM BOKENHAM, Esq. gave a house and lands for the use of the poor, now let at 4*l. 7s. 6d. per annum*.

The part of the old town-lands, which remained after those taken away in Edward the Sixth's time, are now let at 2*l. per annum*. ALICE KETTLE pays a rent charge of 2*s. 6d. per annum*.

Mrs. ALICE GODDARD, who is buried in the churchyard, on the east side of the north porch, gave a crimson velvet cushion for the pulpit, in the year 1729.

In 1735, CLAUDE ROBERTS fitted up the vestry, gave 3 brass sconces for the pulpit and desk, a Bible, Common Prayer Book, and communion table-cloth.

THICKTHORN, OR THICKHAM,

Is a hamlet to this town, which takes its name from ALAN DE THICKTHORN, its owner, who had it of Steph. le Noreys; in 1240, the said Alan, and Clarice his wife, settled it on Roger son of Robert de Thickthorn, Tikethorp, or Tykeham, who obtained of Henry III. A^o. 41 reg. liberty of trying pleas in his court at THICKTHORN; and the same year he settled a messuage and 100 acres, on Will. de Huckford and Margaret his wife, and Tho. Rosceline. In 1275, Daniel de Thickthorn lived here, and held his court; and soon after, Ralf at the Thick-thorns. In Queen Elizabeth's time, Robert Balle of London, Esq. conveyed it to Roger Ramsey, Esq. of Norwich, who died 16 June, 17th Car. I. seized of the capital messuage called Thickthorne, and 300 acres of land in Thickthorne in Hethersete, held of the honour of Richmond, at three quarters of a fee, and Johu his son and heir was 45 years old. It belonged after to the Flowerdews, since that, to Isaac Motham, or Mortram, Esq. but it seems all the lands held of the manor were purchased in.

This hamlet is on the left hand of the London road from Norwich to Hethersete, and the common belonging to it still retains the ancient name; it is owned by MILES BRANTHWAIT of Hethill, Esq.

CANTELOSE, CANTELOWE, OR CANTLEY,

Was part of the manor of Hethersete, but a separate parish, with a parochial church, and 8 acres of glebe in the time of the Conqueror; it took its name of Canteleese or Cantelose, about King Stephen's time, signifying the leas or *lecs*⁹ that were cut off, or separated from the parish, as being a village by itself, totally exempt from the jurisdiction of the Archdeacon of NORFOLK, for it paid neither procurations, synodals, nor Peter-pence, and but 3*d. carvage*. When NORWICH Domesday was made, Sir Rob. de Tateshale was patron; and it was a rectory

RECTORS OF CANTELOSE.

Tho. de Brunne, rector.

Simon, rector. THO. DE BREKLES, parson of Cantelos, granted to Simon, son to Herbert de Hetherset, the ancestor of Sir Simon de Hetherset, who lived in 1331, his wood in Tweitfield in Bekstede in Hethersete.

1321, Jeffry de Depham. Sir WIL. DE BERNAK, Knt.

1355, Rob. Scotard. The KING; by lapse. He changed this for Wikes vicarage in Worcester diocese in

1361, with Simon de Laxton, who was presented by RALF Lord CROMWELL, as was

Simon Muriel in 1365, and died in 1372, and was buried in Great Linsted church, being succeeded by

Will. Noppe, the last RECTOR here; for in 1397, this church was consolidated to Hethersete, by HENRY Bishop of Norwich, at the petition of RALF CROMWELL, Knt. and the parishioners; it being certified that the revenues were so small, that it had laid void because nobody would accept it; and it was agreed that the profits should be divided between John Christmass and Tho. Sawnders, and their successors, RECTORS of Hethersete, for ever; who served the church alternately as a free-chapel, till the reformation, when it was totally demolished. The place where it stood being called the Old Churchyard.

There was an ancient family surnamed from this hamlet, for JOHN, son of PETER DE CANTELOS, and WILL. BYGOD, were owners here in Henry the Third's time.

The capital messuage called CANTLOWE-HALL, is now owned by Arthur Jenney, Gent.

CRINGLEFORD

TAKES its name from the shingle, or gravelly ford, over which there is built a noble bridge of stone, dividing the county of the city of NORWICH from that of NORFOLK. At the Confessor's survey the whole town belonged to ALURED the priest, a freeman of Bishop Stigand; but at the Conqueror's, ROGER BIGOT held one part of it, being the chief manor, of the Bishop of Baieux, which had one carucate in demean, three parts of a watermill worth 20s. at the first survey, and 40s. at the second; the town was a mile and two furlongs long, and six furlongs broad, and paid 11*d.* gelt, and there then belonged to it two freemen and an half, which held 25 acres, and one acre of meadow worth 2s. lying in the parish of Flordon.¹

The said ROGER held the second part,² of ALAN Earl of Richmond,³ and a third part in his own right, of the Conqueror's gift,⁴ so that the whole town, and all that belonged to it, was wholly in him when the survey was made, but it was soon after divided, and the manor called afterwards

BERFORD'S MANOR,

Was in a family which took their names from this place; RIC. DE CRINGLEFORD was lord here,⁵ and ROGER his son; his brother RALF was lord after him, and was succeeded about 1242, by his son WILLIAM, who in the year 1271, sold 5 messuages, 120 acres of land and 12 of marsh, part of the demesns, to Henry de Heylesdon; and JOAN his wife released her right, and this part was joined to Heylesdon's manor; but ROGER DE CRINGLEFORD having entailed the manor after his own, wife's, and son William's death, on ADAM DE BERFORD and PLEASANCE his wife, they held it in 1287. In 1315, Emma, relict of Will. Lek, Rob. de Poleye, &c. released their right to him, as feoffees to Adam his father. William son of Adam de Berford had it, and died seized, leaving it to Sir ADAM DE BERFORD, clerk, late rector of Foston in Yorkshire, his son; who in 1350, jointly with Agatha his mother, conveyed it in trust to Will. de la Pole, senior, Knt. Sir John de Chestrefield, rector of Foston, John de Berford, citizen of Norwich, and Hugh Bandon, rector of Bunwell; and in 1357, they released it again to the said Adam,⁶ who, in 1367, settled it on trustees, viz. Sir Robert de Wylasham, Knt. Sir Will. de Henleye, rector of Credlington, Sir Hugh Bandon, rector of Bernham, John de Ertham, Sir William, parson of Intwood, and Sir John Elys, chaplain; and in 1368, Sir John de Wylasham and John de Ertham released to the rest. In 1369, Henlye and Elys settled it on Catherine, widow of Sir Will. de la Pole, senior, Knt. and Sir Edmund de la Pole, Knt. their son, William de Thweng of Foston, and Tho. de Esterfield, their trustees; in 1370, William Wysete, rector of Intwood, Hugh de Bandon, rector of Bernham, John, and Rich. de Berford, and Emma and Cicity, sister and heirs of Sir Adam de Berford late rector of Foston, released all their right in this manor; by which means it was absolutely vested in the De la Poles, who settled it soon after on Edmund Gourney, Will. de Boyton, Tho. Spynk, and John le Latimer of Norwich, when it extended into Hethersete, Eaton, Ertham, Little-Melton, Colneye, and Cringleford watermill belonged to it; in 1381, John le Latimer was sole lord, and had view of frankpledge, weyf, and strey, belonging to his manor of Cringleford and Surlingham; and the same year, Gournay and the other feoffees of the Poles, released all right to him. In 1391, Margaret, widow and executrix of John Latimer, and Nic. Blakeney, citizen of Norwich, co-executor, released their annuity of 10*l.* out of Berford's manor, to John Otteley, Will. Berton, and John Bishop. In 1406, John Bishop, mercer, of Norwich, conveyed it to Simon Sampson, and Gilbert Debenham, Esqrs. Ric. Whethermersh, John Jernegan, and Richard, son of Ric. Talmache, Esq.; and in 1408, they released it to Simon Sampson, Esq.; in 1409, Sampson sold it to William Westacre, archdeacon of Norwich,⁷ Will. Rees, Esq. John de Thornham, rector of Sparham, Edm. Perke, clerk, William Sedman, merchant, and Walter Eton, citizen, who in 1411, by license from the King, settled it on St. Giles's hospital in mortmain, to find a chaplain (being no brother of the hospital) to live as a brother in it, who was daily to say mass, and pray for the soul of Master John de Derlington, late archdeacon of Norwich, and all his family, and for Roger Prat, clerk, late master, and Will. Paston, and all the deceased, allowing him a good stipend, chamber, and clothing; and it continued till the Dissolution in that hospital, and then passed with the HOSPITAL and its revenues, to the corporation of the city of NORWICH, to whom the manor now belongs.

HEYLESDON'S, OR THE CAPITAL MANOR,

With the advowson, was given by ROGER BIGOT, along with Shimpling,⁸ to Rob. de Vallibus or Faux, in which family it continued a good while. Sir John de Faux, Knt. Will. de Faux, then Robert de Faux, and about 1240, Sir Alexander de Faux, Knts. were lords; Sir Alexander sold an acre of land and the advowson, to Bi-hop SUFFIELD,⁹ who in 1249, settled it on St. GILES's hospital, which he then founded. In 1287, Sir John de Faux, Knt. his son, was lord; and sold the manor, with the fishery called Cringleford Ee, and his pool, and right of fishing in the stream from Ertham to Cringleford-bridge, to Henry de Heylesden, whose son Henry was lord in 1303; and then sealed with a lion rampant, as this family always did; and held it of William de Bokenham, he of the heirs of Multon, they of the EARL-MARSHAL, and he of the King, at 3 quarters of a fee; and in 1315, John de Heylesdon, after him Henry de Heylesdon, who in 1345, held it of Will. Leigh, Knt. as of his manor of Multon's in Surlingham. In 1381, Emma, widow of the said Henry, had it for life, and then Roger, their son and heir, who held it in 1401, and in 1413, conveyed it to Sir John de Norwich, lord of Yoxford, Edm. Barry, John Clifton, lord of Topcroft, Rob. Alleyn, senior, Rob. Suffield, citizen of Norwich, John Bowkes and John Soterle of Intwood, and Thomas Ringste, trustees, to the use of Tho. Wetherby of Norwich, Esq. and his heirs; who at his death left it for life to Margaret his widow, who in 1454, leased it for 8 marks a year, to be paid her in Carrow abbey, where she boarded with the nuns, among which Alice Wetherby, her daughter, was one; at her death it was to go in trust to John Heydon, Tho. Welles, and Tho. Croftes, who conveyed their right in reversion, to John Jenney,¹ and John Browne, and in 1460, Will. and John Jenney, and John Browne, sold it to the master and brethren of St. Giles's HOSPITAL aforesaid;² and so it became joined to Berford's manor, with which it now remains.

DUNSTON'S, OR HETHERSET'S MANOR,

Was held by ALURED of ROGER BIGOT, who left it to EUDO his son, and he to Walter his son, whose son Roger assumed the surname of Norwich, and left it to Gilbert de Norwich his son, to whom it was confirmed by Robert de Vaux, lord of Heylesdon's manor. In 1284, Henry de Norwich, clerk, had it, and it was after in Hugh de Dunston: and about 1315, was conveyed to Sir SIMON DE HETHERSET, Knt. one of the King's justices, and Cecily his wife, who in 1313 had purchased of Thomas Spriggy of Monesle, and Julian his wife, 6 marks rent in Cringleford. This judge was descended from Alexander de Hetherset and Maud his wife, who were both alive in 1249, and was son of John de Hetherset, and brother to Remigius, parson of Hingham;³ he had three sisters; Margaret, married to Sir Rob. Ufford, Earl of Suffolk, Emma, to Sir John Leke, who was his trustee for this manor, and Katherine, to Sir Walter father of Sir John Norwich, who built Mettingham castle in Suffolk. This Sir SIMON had six sons and two daughters; 1, Sir JOHN, his eldest son; 2, Sir Edmund Hethersete, Knt. buried in the Charter-house in 1380, and left no issue; his wife Isabell was buried in Buxhale churchyard in Suffolk, A^o. 1412; 3, William, rector of Attleburgh; 4, Roger, rector of Billingford; 5, George, parson of Sculthorp; 6, Nic. rector of Berford;⁵ Joan married to Sir Rob. Wachesham, Knt. and Margaret to Sir Hugh Peverel of Melton, Knt. and most of these brothers were concerned in this manor, which seems to have been shared among them; but as all died without issue, William de Hethersete, eldest son of Sir John Hetherset, and only heir, (for all his brothers died young,) inherited the whole; he was made guardian of the wool-customs in this county in 1357, and by Eve his wife had only two daughters, ELIZ. second wife to John Winter of Town-Berningham, and SIBIL, to John Palgrave of Northwood-Berningham, Esq. who was lord here in his wife's right, and at last, heir of the whole inheritance. After this it was divided, and the chief part purchased by Tho. Wetherby, Esq. who was buried in the Austin friars at Norwich,⁶ and so became joined to his manor called Heylesdon's.

BARUN'S MANOR

Was granted to one GRIMBALD, from Berford's manor, by Ralf de Cringleford, lord there, and was conveyed by Grimbald to Walter Barun, or Baron? Hugh Barun had it after him, and in 1304, Will. Barun of Cringleford conveyed it to Petronel his sister, and her heirs; in 1317, Tho. Spriggi;⁷ and Julian his wife granted it to Sir Simon de Hetherset, Knt.⁸ Cecily his wife, and William their son, and their heirs, and so it was joined to Hetherset's manor. In 1280, Sir Simon Peche, Knt. granted divers rents here, to Nic. de Castello or Castle, and Cecily his wife, which in 1298 belonged to Will. de Bukenham and Julian his wife, and were after joined to this manor.

The CHURCH is dedicated to St. Peter, and was a rectory till Sir Alex. de Vaux sold it, with an acre of land, to Walter de Sniffeld, Bishop of Norwich,¹ who appropriated it wholly to St. Giles's HOSPITAL in Norwich, which he founded in 1249, when it was worth 10 marks per annum, and ever since it hath been a perpetual curacy, as it now remains,² being in the gift of the city of NORWICH, in right of that hospital. The steeple is square, and hath three bells, on the second of which is this,

Sum Rosa Pulsata Mundi Katrina vocata.

On the biggest, which is the soul-bell, is this,

JESU CHRISTE, Fili Dei miserere nobis.

It hath a nave 22 yards long and 7 broad, and a small chancel, all tiled, and a north porch leaded.

In the altar rails there was a stone (now gone) for Lucy wife of Mr. Robert Cook, Dec. 1668. A virtuous woman, and a loving wife. There are also interred JOHN PYKAREL Gent. Deborah daughter of Laya Vynn and Honour his wife, June 11, 1726, an infant Honour their daughter May 15, 1737, 14.

There is a small parsonage-house at the north-west part of the churchyard, called anciently the Priest's Chamber.

When this living was appropriated, it had a house and 2 carucates of land, valued at 5*l* ; it paid 4*s.* synodals, 14*d.* Peter-pence, 3*d.* ob. carvage; and the lands of the sacrist of Norwich were taxed at 5*s.* In 1603, Edward Brewster had the profits and served the cure, there being then 66 communicants; and Anthony Style, Gent had the hospital revenues by lease. The several benefactions of which may be seen under the history of that hospital, vol. iv. p. 384, &c. It is now leased for life, to the Rev. Mr. JOHN ARNAM, rector of Posewick, with the house, tithes, &c at 3*s.* 4*d.* per an. un. payable to the hospital; and being under value, and not at all in the King's Books, it is capable of augmentation. In 1428, the PRIOR of St. Faith was taxed at 4*s.* for his temporals in this town; and the PRIOR of St. Olave at Herlingflete, had 45 acres of land, 3 messuages, 4 acres of meadow, 4 acres of marsh, and 2*s.* rent here, and in Thorp by Hadescro; purchased of Adam

Bacon in 1312. The Prior of Norwich was taxed for his temporals at 6s. 8d. which were given by Ralf son of Will. de Cringleford, Roger and Alice, son and daughter of Richard de Cringleford, William son of Roger de Cringleford, Walter Baron, Gilbert le Uphalder, Roger Bigot, and others. In 1291, Petronel, widow of Peter at Cringleford Cross, settled one acre and an half on Petronel her niece, to pay for ever 4d. per annum to have 4 masses said yearly for her soul, in this church, every Christmas day. This village was totally consumed by fire in Queen Elizabeth's time, for which reason, an act passed in the 23d year of her reign, for the re-edifying it.* It paid 30s. to the old tenths.

In the bounds of this parish there stood a free chapel, dedicated to St. Ethelbero, commonly called St. Albert's chapel; and in Queen Elizabeth's time, St. Ethelberd's chapel was reckoned among the lands concealed from the Crown; it is now demolished, and was always appendant to the parish church, with which it passed to the hospital; it had many rents paid to it, and the alder car, called St. Alber's Grove, in Cringleford, belonged to it. It appears by the hospital accounts, that it was a thatched building, and that in 1531 they almost rebuilt it; the profits of it in a good measure consisted in the offerings made by pilgrims that came in pilgrimage, for many came hither on that account; but what this image here was so famous for, as to be visited that way, I have not found. In Regr. Rix, fo. 309, in the Bishop's office, I find the will of Agnes Parker of Kesewick, who was buried in Cringleford churchyard in 1505, in which are these words, "Item, I owe a Pilgrimage to Canterbury, also I owe to St. Tebald of Hobeis, Item to St. Albert's at Cringleford iij Tymes.

Between this and Erltham, on the same side of the river with this town, stands the farm-house called NEWFOUND, from a remarkable sort of earth newly found there, which was lately transported to Holland for the potters use, but now totally disused.

INTWOOD

BELONGED to Earl Ralf at the Conquest, and to Coleman, a free-man of Bishop Stigaud's, in the Confessor's time, and after the Earl's forfeiture, the Conqueror gave it to Eudo the sewer, who held it at the survey; it was worth 3*l.* per annum at the first survey, and 4*l.* at the Conqueror's; being a league long and half a one broad, and paid 9*l.* q. to the geld.⁵ THORP, called afterwards Gloresthorp and Gocthorp, which now is included in Swerdeston, belonged about half of it to this manor, which was so called, as being then situate in the Wood. The ancient family of the TIVILES were settled here very early. In the time of King John and Henry III. Ralf de Tyvile of Intwode held his manor here at two fees; one, of the ancient family surnamed de Riparijs, and the other of Will. Marshal the younger. In 1285, John de Tyvile was lord and patron, and had view of frankpledge, assise of bread and ale, and all power of the lete, paying 10d. to the King, as to his hundred of Humbleyard; so that this town was by that rent, exempt from the jurisdiction of the hundred court, and now the manor was held of the honour of Albenarle; and the Prior of St. Faith held the 8th part of a fee of the said John, and Tho. de Tyvile of Weston, and others, held a fifth part of a fee of him. In 1305, the said John granted to Simon de Hethersete, liberty of commonage for 100 sheep, and all other cattle, in Intwood; this John sold the advowson and lands here, to Nic. de Castello.

* 1580, an act passed to impower the city of Norwich, as lords of Cringleford, to grant what lands they pleased to be held by copy of court roll of their manor, and to make it as ancient copyhold, in order to re-edify that their village, which was totally burned down.

In Edward the Second's time, Hugh de Tyvile was lord, and in 1313, Tho. Spriggi of Monesle was lord and patron, and he and Julian his wife had it in 1325, and in 1349, Will. son of Ralf de Bokenham, was lord and patron, and had free-warren here. In 1356, Barth. Appleyard and John de Erpingham, citizens of Norwich, owned it; Appleyard having obtained a release from *William de Bakenham*⁶ and Joan his wife, settling it on him and his heirs; and in 1367, it was held of Rob. son and heir of John de Insula, or Lisle, Knt. Will. Appleyard his son held it till 1401, and then Bartholomew Ellys was found to hold it at two fees, of the duchy of Lancaster, of which Sir John Lisle held it, but it was in trust only, for Nicholas son of William, and grandson to Bartholomew Appleyerd. sold it to Tho. Wetherby, the rich alderman of Norwich, who died in 1445, and left it to Margaret his wife for life, and then to John Jenney, Esq. and Eliz. his wife, daughter and heiress of the said Thomas: this John Jenney was third son of Sir John Jenney, Knt.; he died in 1497, when Will. Jenney, son of his son John Jenney, inherited; he died at Intwood in 1512, and was buried under a large stone in the chancel, now robbed of its brasses; Catherine his wife survived him. In 1537, Sir John Heydon, Knt. and others, conveyed the advowson and manor to Ric. Blyant, with Swerdeston manor and advowson; but Sir John and the others, were only trustees of John Blyant and Anne his wife, who presented in 1517, and Ric. Blyant, Esq. their son and heir, sold it to Sir Ric. Gresham, Knt. of London, who died in 1548, seized of the manors of Intwood, Keswick, Swainsthorp, Hardwick, Swerdeston, and Mulberton, leaving John his son and heir, then 30 years old. This RECTORY, when single, was first valued with the portions at 5, after at 9 marks. When Norwich Domesday was made, John de Tivile was patron, and there was a house and 30 acres of land; the portion of tithes then belonging to the monks of Colchester, was valued at 4s. that of the celler of NORWICH at 6s. 8d. being for two parts of the great tithes of the demesans, which were given by Ralf de Tivile, lord here, and were confirmed by John de Grey, and Tho de Blunvyle, Bishops of Norwich.⁸ The portion of the Prior of St. Faith was then valued at 1s. but in 1428, increased to 2l. 4s. 2d. in land and commonage. The hospital of St. Giles in Norwich had lands here.⁹ The synodals were 13d. Peter-pence 12d. carvage 2d. and it paid 2l. to each tenth. Being consolidated to Keswick, it is above value, and pays first fruits and yearly *tenth*s, viz. for Intwood 10s. and 10s. for Keswick. The Virgin formerly had her image in this church, with a light constantly burning before it.

for the produce of his demesns here, and of his manor of Surlingham; and in 1220, Jollun de Vaux was lord of both manors, and proved his exemption: there were great contests between him and the Prior and Convent of Norwich, concerning rights of commonage in Eaton; but things being agreed, he became a good benefactor to their monastery, by confirming all right he had in Eaton to the monks, and a water-mill in Kesewic called the Old Mill; and Emma, daughter of Bartholomew, son of Will. de Hethill, released all her right in the mill, which was first given to the convent by Albert de Novilla or Nevile, subject to pay 10s. a year to the monks at Thetford, which Vincent Prior of Thetford released in 1289, and Robert Prior of Alvesborne, and the canons there, released to the monks of Norwich, a rent of 20s. in Kesewic; and in 1286, Ralf de Amodesham and Alice his wife, conveyed to the Prior of Norwich 40s. rent here to be remembered daily in the bed-roll of the church of Norwich; and accordingly the monks of Norwich were taxed for 40s. of temporal rents in this town. Sir John de Vaux, Knt. was succeeded about 1234, by his son Sir Alex. de Waus, Knt.⁵ who granted to the Norwich monks, joint fishery with him in his stream from Hereford-bridge, and an acre of land there, Roger de Vaux being witness; he confirmed to the Prior and monks of St. Faith at Horsham, 18 acres of land in Casewic, which John Godchep gave them in free alms, and also a portion of tithes out of his demesns, for which that convent was taxed at 6s. 8d. spirituals, and 11s. temporals. In 1265, John de Vaux was lord of this and Boton, and Mary his widow had an interest in it; and in 1295, the manor was settled by a fine, then levied between William son of Herbert de Vaux, and Burga his wife, on the said Mary, for life, remainder to them and their heirs; and in 1296, Petronilla, daughter of Alexander de Vaux, claimed a part of it; and in 1315, the said Burga, her husband William being dead, was lady here, and in 1318 obtained a charter of free-warren to the manor. In 1320, she and John de Vals, her son and heir, as executors of Will. de Vaux, paid 102*l.* to the King, as the remainder of the account of the said Will. who was the King's receiver for the revenues of his castle and honour of Knaresburgh in Yorkshire. In 1347, John Sparrow of Norwich was lord. In 1349, Sir John Ufford, Knt. and Hugh de Curson, by whom in 1365, this and Vaux's manor in Burgh St. Mary were settled on Will. Clere of Ormsby. In 1390, Dionise Clere had it. In 1445, Rob. Clere, Esq. gave it after the death of Eliz. his wife, to Robert Clere his son, when it was held of Fornet honour. In 1469, Eliz. Clere had it, and in 1523, Sir Robert Clere, Knt. her son. In 1549, Sir Ric. Gresham, Knt. died seized, and Eliz. his relict had it, and after her, Sir John Gresham, their son and heir. In 1563, Isabel Gresham, widow, and in 1577, Sir Tho. Gresham, Knt.; and in 1580, Will. Gresham, Esq. and from that time it hath passed along with the manor of Intwood, and remains with it at this day.

The CHURCH was dedicated to All the Saints,⁶ and the rector had a house and 26 acres of glebe; it was valued at 5 marks, and is now solidated by consent of Will. Gresham, Esq. patron of them all; and this church was immediately pulled down. The steeple is round, and is still standing, being very small, as was the church, which had a nave, chancel, and south porch; the churchyard is ploughed up to the walls; it stands on a hill between Hertford-bridges and Intwood, on the south side of the river, and the ruins are seen at some distance. There are a very few houses besides the hall; the whole village belonging with Intwood, to JOHN LORD HOBART of Blickling.

More east, on the same side of the river, on a promontory, bounded on the south-east by the river Taüs, are seen the ruins of another church, properly enough called

M E R K E S H A L L,

IT being at that time, the mark out of the great lake at the division of the rivers, though by corruption it is now called MATTESHALL; the whole village, as well as the church, is dilapidated, there being only one farm-house in its precinct, which was lately built by the PETTUS family, called Matteshall-Hali, where the farmer lives that occupies the whole.

This village belonged in the Confessor's days to GODWIN, a freeman of Bishop Stigand, who held it at two carucates in demean; the whole was then 5l. per annum, besides the church, which had 6 acres of glebe, worth 12d. per annum. At the Conquest it belonged to RALF BEAUFOE, was worth 11l. a year, had a freeman that held 6 acres in Dunston, which belonged to this manor, of which the KING and EARL had the soc or lete, and the town was then 6 furlongs long and 5 broad, and paid 6d. ob. geld or tax.⁷

Afterwards it belonged to HUBERT DE RIA, or RHYE, being settled on him by the Beaufoe family, when Henry son of Hubert married Agnes de Beaufoe; ⁸ this Hubert gave the tithes of his demean in Merkeshall, to the monks of Norwich, and Henry de Ria and Agnes his wife, confirmed them. On the division of the barony of RHYE, this went to Isabel, who married for her 2d husband, Roger son of Hugh de Cressi, who had a daughter named Isabel, married to Alex. de Poringland, and before that, to WILL. DE MERKESHALL, whose son, Peter de Merkeshall, was lord here; and alter him SIR William de

Merkeshall, Knt. his son, whose widow Margery, daughter of Sir John de Faux, was a benefactrix to Norwich priory; ALIVA, the other heiress, to RHIE barony, married John le Marshal, and had in this town and Castre adjoining, rents of 11*l. per annum* which she conveyed to Robert de Mauthy and Alice his wife,⁹ who in 1267, sold part of them to ROGER son of HUGH LE BIGOT; and in 1274, this part was esteemed as a manor, for the Earl-Marshal held a manor in Merkeshall, and had free-warren to it; and Stephen de Brokedish was his bailiff there. In 1382, Sir Will. de Merkeshall granted this advowson and 7 acres of land, to Norwich monks; but a law-suit ensued, and it was proved that Peter de Merkeshall, his father, had granted it to Roger, son and heir of Roger de Thirkelby, and he, to Walter de Thirkelby, his brother, who sold it to Roger Bigot; and in 1284, the said Roger agreed for the whole of the manor with Sir William; * and it was settled on him and his heirs, and he had view of frankpledge, assise of bread and ale, and all royalties allowed him to his village of Merkeshall, paying 12*d.* a year to the King, to his hundred of Humbleyard; from the jurisdiction of which, this village was exempt by the said payment. In 1306, the manor and advowson was settled on GILES DE MUNPYNZOUN, and Lady CHRISTIAN his wife, who presented in 1310. In 1343, NIC. DEVEROS had it too, and in 1349, it was settled on THO. MOYNE, who died seized in 1362, leaving it to Edm. his son and heir. In 1384, it belonged to SIMON and ROGER BLICKLING of Norwich; and it was settled in 1386, on Henry Luminor and Margaret his wife, and William their son, of London; and in 1395, to Henry Luminor, senior of Norwich; in 1408, he, Margaret his wife, and Thomas Moigne or Monk, of Merkeshall, settled it on Edmund Warner of Norwich, in trust for WILLIAM MORLEY, Esq. whose daughter Margery had it in 1441, and in 1451, John Yelverton, Esq. was lord of the manor of Merkeshall, called MONK'S manor, or LUMNOUR-HALL: about 1520, I find it in James Helmes, Esq. and in 1551, Amy his widow had it, and was succeeded by their son William Helmes of Rackhithe, Gent. who about 1568, sold it to Thomas Pettus, alderman of Norwich, with Rackhithe, &c. In which family it hath continued ever since, Sir Horace Pettus, Bart. being now lord.

The CHURCH was dedicated to St. Edmund the King and Martyr, and stands on a point or promontory, like the chapel of that Martyr, which stood at the very north-west extremity of the county, from thence called St. Edmund's Point; it never had a steeple, but only a nave, and chancel, the first about 10 yards long and 8 broad, the latter about the same length, and about 6 yards broad; the only house in the parish stands about 2 furlongs south of it; the ruins are still perceptible at some distance. The rector formerly had a house and 24 acres of glebe; it was first valued at 2 marks, 7*s.* 6*d.* after at 10 marks; it paid 18*d.* synodals, 3*s.* procurations, 6*d.* Peter-pence, and 3*d.* carvage; and the rents of the monks of Norwich were valued at 4*s.* 2*d.*

⁹ In 1441, 5*l. per annum* rent out of this manor, was owned by Rob. Mauthy of Mauthy, Esq. was settled on Margaret his granddaughter, married to John Paston, Esq. and came to John Paston, Esq. of Mauthy, their son.

Gregory Smith, chaplain, jointly with MARGERY, daughter of William Morley, Esq, deceased.

1451, Rob. Ryal. JOHN YELVERTON, Esq. at Henry Bagot's death in 1525, Will. Paston having obtained a grant of this turn, of James Helmes, Esq. he presented

William Woodward, priest, not as formerly to a rectory, but to a free-chapel; by means of which, at the Dissolution, it was demolished, the glebe and profits seized, which were then valued at 6*l.* 6*s.* per annum. Woodward was returned not rector, but custos or master of it, and had a pension for life assigned him as custos, of 2*l.* 15*s.* 6*d.* which I find paid him in 1553, and then it was totally left out of the King's Books, and the whole lost for a time; but in 1608, it being found that it was a presentative rectory, formerly valued in the King's Books at 3*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* it was reinstated, and the King presented.

Tho. Twaits, A. M. to it by lapse of time, and he having some trouble in recovering the arrears, compounded it at last, with the patron; so that in 1609, Sir JOHN PETTUS, Knt. presented

William Leedes, a licensed preacher; after whom

Hen. Nerford had it, and on his resignation, in 1637, John Howlet, A. M. was presented by THO. PETTUS, Esq. who in 1639 at Howlet's cession, gave it to

Will. Scamler, A. M. In 1687, on John Scamler's death, Sir JOHN PETTUS, Bart. presented

Ric. Dix, A. M. at whose cession

John Goddard had it; and in 1695, Mar. 16, Rob. Fawcet, junior, A. M. on the death of Goddard, had it consolidated to the adjacent rectory of Castor St. Edmund. with the consent of Sir JOHN PETTUS, Bart. and then held it united to Burlingham St. Peter, and now it remains, by virtue of the consolidation, part of Castor, though this is in this hundred, and Castor in that of Henstede, being divided only by the river Taüs, which runs between them, separating those hundreds.

SWERDESTON.

THIS village, at the time of the Conqueror's survey, was in many parts, being then six furlongs long and 5 broad, and paid 13*l.* geld. And THORP, or Gowthorp, then belonged to it, and MANGREEN also, as they do at this day; the two last, and one part of Swerdeston, belonged to ROGER BIGOT,² but the manor of Swerdeston, called afterwards.

SWERDESTON, OR COLBY'S MANOR,

Which was the principal one, belonged to ORDINC, a Dane, one of the Confessor's thanes or noblemen, and was then worth 6*l.*s. and the church, which had 15 acres of glebe, was appendant to it.³ It was given by the Conqueror to RALF DE BEAUFEOE, being then worth 10*l.*s. per annum. RICHARD held the whole of RALF, when the Conqueror's survey was made; PAGAN or PAIN, the son of Richard, succeeded, and RALF his son after him, who, by the name of RALF FITZ-PAIN, gave lands here to the monks of Norwich, for the almoner's use,⁴ on condition they received himself, his father, and mother, and Soloman his uncle, into their bedroll, and celebrated for their souls, as for the brothers of their house. In 1247, William Fitz-Ralph, lord here, sold the advowson to the nuns at CARHOE; and the year following, Walter Bishop of Norwich appropriated the church to them, reserving a vicarage to be presented to by that convent; Bartholomew son of Will. who assumed the name of Swerdeston, was lord in 1256, and in 1315, it belonged to Tho. de St. Omer of Bruudale, who died seized about 1364, leaving it to his two daughters and heiresses, Alice, after married to Sir William de Hoe, Knt. and Eliz. to Tho. Waryne. In 1392, it belonged to John de Coleby,⁵ in which family it continued so long, that it still bears that name. In 1440, Tho. Wetherby, lord of Bruudale, had an interest here. In 1510, Will. Jenney, Esq. held it, who died in 1512, and was buried at Intwood; and from that time it passed with that manor, and JOHN Lord HOBART is now lord, and patron of the vicarage. (See p. 40, 41.) It was held of the KING, as parcel of the dutchy of Lancaster.

THORP, GOWTHORP, OR GALTHORP-HALL MANOR,

Belonged to ROGER BIGOT at the Conquest, and continued in that family some time; it came afterwards to the family surnamed le Moigne, or Monk, and in 1286, William le Moigne lived here, and claimed view of frankpledge, assise of bread and ale, &c. of all his tenants here. It seems, the chapel of St. James, which belonged to this manor, was founded by some of this family, and endowed with the great tithes of the manor. It was consolidated to INTWOOD church in 1401, (see p. 42,) but was in use till about 1590; it is now totally demolished, but stood in the Brick-kiln Close south-east of the hall. This was always reckoned as a hamlet to SWERDESTON, and is now included in the parish, though the lands belonging to it are often, on account of the consolidation, said to be in GALTHORP in Intwood, in the parish of Swerdeston. In 1306, Peter son of Will. le Moigne, or Monk, was lord. In 1320, Will. son of John le Monk of Gowthorp, and Isabel his wife, sold it to Ric. Cole of Norwich, who released it again to Peter le Monk in 1343; and in 1351, John de Gowthorp seems to have had an interest in it; but in 1355, Nic. Blakeney and Emma his wife sold it to Bartholomew Appleyard, when it contained 11 messuages, 4l. quitrents, &c. and Will. de Blickling and Mariona his wife, released all their right in 1367. In 1405, Rob. Stalou of Norwich, and Margaret his wife, conveyed it to Ric. Purdamore of Norwich, and other trustees. In 1486, Margaret widow of William Skipwith of Norwich, Esq. gave this manor to William her son, with remainder to Edmund his brother,⁶ and ordered John Ratcliffe Lord Fitz-Walter, and her other feoffees, to settle it accordingly, and in 1494, Will. Skipwith and his wife settled it on Ric. Haleys, John Jollys, Simon Damne, and Rob. Walsh, their trustees, with the advowson of Newton Flotman, and a fishery in the river of Hertford; ⁷ all which, in 1525, were conveyed by Sir Edward Boleyn, Knt. and Anne his wife, to Leonard Spencer and William Knightly. In 1560, it belonged to Will. Steward, or Steward, who settled in the manor-house called Golthorp-hall; his second wife was Grisseld, daughter of Thomas Eden of Sudbury, and his first was Eliz. daughter of Sir Chris. Jenney, Knt. of Great CRESINGHAM; ⁸ and in 1608, he and Grisseld his wife settled it after their deaths, on their son Thomas and Mary his wife, daughter of Henry Lord Grey of Groby, both which are buried in St. Stephen's church in Norwich, with many of their family. ⁹ By them this manor was sold to THOMAS BERNEY, 3d son of Sir Thomas Beruey of Park-hall in REDHAM, by Julian his wife, daughter to Sir Thomas Gawdy, who died in 1673, and is buried here, by Dorothy his wife, who was daughter and coheir of John Smith of Ameringhall; they left two daughters; Julian, married to Will. Branthwait of Hethill, Esq. and Frances, to Sir Edward Barkham of Westacre, Bart. and two sons; William, the youngest, married Bridget, daughter to the Lord Chief Justice COKE. John, the eldest son, settled here, and died in 1678, and by Eliz. his wife, daughter of Sir Arthur Onslow of West Claudon in Surrey, Bart. he had Elizabeth, buried here in 1678; Anne, married to John Suckling of Wotton, Esq. and Thomas Barney, Esq. his son and heir, who by Anne, youngest daughter of Rob. Suckling of Wotton in Norfolk, Esq. who are both buried here, had JOHN BERNEY of Swerdeston, Esq. the present lord, who now dwells in Galthorp-hall, which stands about a quarter of a mile eastward of the church.

MANEGRENE MANOR,

Was a hamlet to SWERDESTON, and at the survey belonged to Roger Bigot, from whose ancestors it was conveyed to Osbert of Mannegrene and after that, Will. de Haverhill had it conveyed to Will. de Mannegrene, his kinsman. In 1315, Emma de la Penne and Peter Plumstede owned it, and it belonged about 1334, to John le Neve of Mannegrene, and in 1340, was settled on John his son, and Margaret his sister, who married Will. Dene; and in 1395, they released to John le Neve all their right; and from thence till 1559, I have met with no account of it, when Tho. Aldrich of Mangrene, Esq. ⁴ was buried by the font in Swerdeston church, and left Mangrene-hall manor to Cecily his wife; about 1570, it was owned by Thomas Aldrich, Gent. by whom the most part of the lands held of the manor (if not all) were purchased in, and with an heiress of that family, it went to the Davies; Mr. Henry Davy, married a daughter of Israel Long, Gent. whose daughter and heiress Anne, married to WILLIAM CHURCHMAN, Esq. who now owns it, and dwells at Mangrene-hall, which is about half a mile north-east of

The CHURCH, which was originally dedicated to St. Andrew; and about 1400, rededicated to St. Mary the Virgin. It is a vicarage valued in the King's Books at 6*l.* but being sworn of the clear yearly value of 2*l.* 14*s.* and 4*d.* it is discharged of first fruits and tenths, and is capable of augmentation. It was anciently valued at 10 marks, was appropriated to the nuns of Carhoe as aforesaid; there was no house, but the vicar had 24 acres of land; his vicarage was valued at 5 marks, but not taxed. It paid synodals 2*s.* 4*d.* procurations 6*s.* 8*d.* Peter-pence 14*d.* and carvage 3*d.* In the time of Henry VI. the whole impropriate rectory was let to the vicar at 3*l.* 10*s.* a year. The Prioress of Carhoe was taxed at 10 marks for it, and 11*d.* for her temporals, and the Prior of Alvesbourne had temporals here, taxed at 18*d.* the whole village was taxed at 3*l.* to every tenth, and paid 50*s.* clear, the rest being deducted on account of the revenues of the religious. In 1307, Lettice, wife of William Paim, settled 40 acres of land, and 5*l.* per annum rents here, on her chantry in St. Stephen's in Norwich.²

The 3d, GODRIC the sewer's the 4th belonged to Merkeshall manor, as at p. 46, and the 5th was a freeman of the KING's who had then 13 acres only, valued at 12d.* But soon after, the whole became one manor, with the advowson of the rectory appendant thereto, and belonged to the Crown, till the beginning of Ric. I. when William Helgheton had it of that King's gift, whose son Herbert de Helgheton granted the advowson from the manor, to Alice de Fundenhale, wife of Robert Fitz-Ralf, who in 1196 had a trial with Herbert for the advowson, when the jury found, that it was not apparent, that the church had ever yet been presented to, but that the parsons held it, from parson to parson, as from father to son, till the death of the last incumbent, and that though the said Alice had no manor nor demean in Dunston, yet, it being founded in the fee of the said Herbert, her grant was good, and she had the advowson confirmed to her, and her parson was instituted,⁵ and so the advowson was separated from the manor.

In 1205, King JOHN confirmed the manor to WILLIAM son of WALKELINE DE DUNSTON, when Walkeline his father took upon him a religious habit, and entered a monastery. This William was falconer to King JOHN, who settled this town on William de Dunston, son and heir of William his falconer,⁶ and Alice his sister, and their heirs; he was succeeded by Bartholomew his son and heir, who in 1256, pleaded an exemption for his manor, from suit of the sheriff's turn. In 1280, Rob. de Dunston, John de Dunston, and Jeffry de la Penne, were lords here; and the same year, William son of Rich. de Dunston was sued, for pretending to appropriate to himself the fishing in the river between Shotesham and Dunston, when it appeared, that the fishery on Dunston side, was common to all the tenants of Dunston manor.⁷ In 1285, Emma, widow of John de la Penne, had one part of the manor, and in 1286, William son of Richard, and William son Nicholas de Dunston, were lords; in 1345, Robert and John de Dunston had it; in 1385, Hugh de Dunston; and in 1395, John de Dunston and Maud his wife settled it by fine on Sir Edmund de Thorp and his trustees. I find about this time, Robert de Holveston had an interest in the manor,⁸ which soon after belonged to John Howes of Dunston, who sold it to John de Bouyngton and Christian his wife, who all joined about 1399, and conveyed the whole to Bartholomew de Apple- yerd, citizen of Norwich, for life; and after his decease to Richard de

In 1632, John Hamond of Ellingham by Bungeye, Gent. owned it, and dying this year, left it to John Hammond his son and heir. It afterwards came to the LONGS, and is now owned by ISRAEL LONG, Esq. who is sole lord, impropiator and donor of the donative or perpetual curacy of

The CHURCH, which is dedicated to St. Remigius; its advowson was separated from the manor, as is above related; and in 1233, it belonged to Bartholomew de Creke, as part of the ancient inheritance of his family, for then he granted it to Richeld, widow of Rob. de Creke, his father's second wife; and in 1264, it was given by Margery, relict of Bartholomew de Creke, foundress of the nuns at FLIXTON, to that house, to which it appropriated by Simon de Walton Bishop of Norwich,⁹ on condition the nuns should have the whole of the rectory, finding a priest to perform the duty, and paying him for so doing; and in 1288, a fine was levied, by which Roger Fitz Peter Fitz Osbert, and Sarah de Creke, his wife, the heiress of the Creke family, settled the advowson on the Prioress of Flixton, in pure alms: at the time of the appropriation, the rector had a house and 30 acres of land. The living was first valued at five, afterwards at 7 marks and an half, and paid 2s. synodals, 6s. 8d. procurations, 12d. Peter-pence, and 2d. ob. carvage. In 1349, when the general plague had depopulated great part of the realm, it was returned, that most of the parishioners here were dead, the land left untilled, so that the Prioress could not pay the King's taxes for it, nor the 10l. per annum to the Bishop, then usually paid. It was granted by Edward VI. in 1539, to William and Tho. Woodhouse,¹ and the whole belonged to Anthony Stiles, whose son Anthony had livery of this rectory, with Swerdeston, &c. to which he got it annexed, as at p. 52. In 1559, Ric. Nicholls, Esq. had it; and in 1603, Simon Lusher, curate here, returned answer, that there

The Rev. Mr. William Berney, rector of Newton Flotman and Frettenham, is the present curate.

The church is about 19 yards long and 5 broad, hath no isles nor porch; the nave and chancel hath one continued roof, covered with tiles, as is the top of the tower, which is square, and hath in it only one bell.

On a stone in the chancel there are three effigies in brass, with a brass plate under them, but no inscription; and lower down on the same stone, are cut three shields; on the first, a lion with its tail turned over his head.³ 2d, TALBOT, arg. a chevron gul. between three talbots passant sab. 3d, HARBORNE, gul. a lion passant or. between three bezants, a crescent for difference.

SWAINSTHORP,

AT the Confessor's survey, was known by the name of Thorpe only, and before the Conquest began to be called Swaens-Thorp, from the swains or country men, that inhabited there. Rolf Stalra, Bishop Stigand, and the antecessor of Godric the sewer, had it at the first survey, and it belonged to Tovi at the second, all but Godric's part, which was then of 2*s.* 8*d.* annual value, and belonged to him.* The whole was then a mile long, and as much broad, and paid 11*d.* geld. The rents of the manor were 29*s.* per annum, and one of the churches had

23 acres of glebe. It afterwards came to the Bigots, by whom it was given to a family surnamed DE SWEYNESTHORP, of which Gilbert de Sweynesthorp, is the first I meet with, that assumed that name; he left it to Walter his son, who by deed without date, granted lands here to be held of him and his heirs, to Ralf de Kynegham or Kiningham, son of William de Shotesham; in 1195, it was settled by Rob. son of Reginald and Ulf de Sweynesthorp and William his son, on William de Fulbourne for life, from whom it took the name of

FULBOURNE-HALL MANOR,

And soon after, Robert son of Reginald de Sweynesthorp, and Bartholomew son of Jeffry de Sweynesthorp, were lords here; and in 1225, Ric. de Sweynesthorp, who that year obtained a market to the town of Laxfield in Suffolk.⁵ In 1249, it appears, that there had formerly been a serjeantry belonging to this manor, the owner of which was obliged to find a cross-bow and archer in time of war, to guard Norwich castle for 30 days, at his own cost; but the lords here, granted divers lands to the then value of 3l. per annum to the Ertham family, chargeable with the whole serjeantry, (see vol. iv. p. 510.) which after came to Robert de Worthsted, who parcelled it out to the Earl-Marshal and others; and in 1362, John Berney had a part with his manor of Fishlee, and after John de Hales had it; and in 1345, Rob. de Holveston. In 1286, Isaac, chaplain to the Jews at Norwich, and many others, both Jews and Christians, were tried for breaking the churches of Sweynesthorp and Newton. It after came to John de Sweynesthorp, and then to Walter de Bradenham; and in 1315, Ric. de Bradenham was lord, who in 1352, settled the manor and advowson of St. Peter's church here, which belonged to it; 6s. 8d. rent in Cobney; the 4th part of Malherbe's hall manor, and the 4th part of the advowson of Newton Flotman thereto belonging, on himself for life, remainder to Roger le Haukere of Redenhall, and Mary his wife, in tail; and Tho. de Swalhyng and Robert, parson of Sweynesthorp, son of Walter and brother to Ric. de Bradenham, confirmed it; and in 1372, Roger le Haukere of Redenhall, was lord, and held it of the Norfolk family at half a fee, and in 1386, Mary his relict had it, and soon after it was united to the other manor here, called

CURSON'S MANOR,

Which was that part that belonged to Godric the sewer, and afterwards came to the CURSONS, who held it of Tateshall honour; Will. le Curson was lord here, and patron of the church of St. Mary, which was appendant to this manor when Norwich Domesday was made, and in 1315, Rob. le Curzon had it; in 1338, he settled it on himself and heirs in tail. In 1316, Ric. Neel, held here and in Holkham, a fourth part of a fee of the honour of Lancaster; and in 1323, he held it of the barony of Montchensy, late of Aymer de Valence, and the next year Peter le Bret's heir had it, and in 1348, John son of Rob. de Thorp. In 1381, Will. de Hockham and Christian his wife, settled it on John

Stukele, vicar of Windham, in trust; and in 1399, John Curson had it, and the same year it belonged to Henry Laminour, who joined it to the other manor, and so was seized of both; in 1402, he was found to hold Fulbourne-hall manor, of the Duke of Norfolk, as of Forncet manor, at half a fee, and this manor of Will. de Kerdeston, and he of the heirs of Montchensic, and they of the heirs of Maud de Cromwell, and they of the KING, at the 8th part of a fee; and in 1406, the two united manors and their advowsons, were settled by John Mays and Robert parson of Swainsthorp, their trustees, on the said Henry Laminour and Margaret his wife; and in 1409, John Peverell owned them all, who presented jointly with Eliz. his wife in 1429; in 1440, Eliz. then widow of Nicolas Blomvile (who held them for life) and William Blomvile, settled them by fine, on William Paston of Paston, and his trustees, Rob. Clere, Esq. John Dam, &c. In 1447, Tho. Lucas of Holkham, Esq. gave the moiety of his manor of Swainsthorp, to Etheldred his wife for life, remainder to Stephen Lucas his brother, with the reversion of the other moiety in tail. In 1450, John Paston, Esq. was sole lord, and died seized in 1465, and his feoffees presented in 1467, and in 1505, Will. Paston and Bridget his wife had it, and the next year, settled it on Sir John Fineux, Knt. Chief Justice of the Common Pleas, and he on Sir Robert Rede, Chief Justice of the King's Bench, Edward Poininges, Knt. John Moore, Serjeant at law, &c. to the use of Agnes Paston, widow, for life, remainder to Will. Paston, Esq. and his heirs, to perform the will of Sir William Paston, Knt.; and in 1516, the said William Paston infeoffed Sir John Hecveningham, Knt. and others, and in 1536, Sir Will. Paston, Knt. and Bridget his wife, and Jeffry Paston, Esq. and Mary his wife, sold the manors and advowsons, to Sir Ric. Gresham, Knt. who left it in 1548, to Sir John Gresham, Knt. his son and heir, who had the whole, and held Fulbourne-Hall of Forncet at half a fee, Curson's of the dutchy of Lancaster, and the serjeantry of the KING in chief. In 1570, Sir Tho. Gresham, Knt. owned them, and his Lady after him; and then Sir Will. Gresham his nephew had them, when the customs of the united manors (now called Swainsthorp-Hall) were found to be, that the finer are at the will of the lord, the copyhold descends to the eldest son, and the widow's dower is a third part. In 1580, Will. Gresham, Esq. owned them, and in 1609, Sir Will. Gresham, Knt. held it of Forncet at half a fee. In 1616, Sir Will. Gresham and Elizabeth his daughter, sold it to Christopher Colby, &c. in trust for Sir Henry Hobart, Knight and Baronet, Lord Chief Justice of the Common Pleas; and in 1617, they all joined and sold it to Tho. Steward and John Pickerell, and their heirs; and in 1622, they conveyed it to John Myngay, alderman of Norwich, who had a grant of the lete, during the lives of Sir Charles Cornwaleis, &c. (see p. 1), it belonging to the hundred. In 1640, Mary, relict of Thomas Steward, Esq. and Henry her son, released all right to John Myngay aforesaid; and in 1650, Rob. Rich, Esq. administrator to Sir Edwyn Rich, released all his right (which was a mortgage only) to John, son and heir of John Myngay, who settled it in trust on Roger Myngay, Gent. his brother. In 1662, Mary, relict of Alderman Roger Myngay, had it; and John, Anthony, and Roger, her three sons, released it to her; and the next year, she, and John and Roger, conveyed the manors, advowson, and whole estate to Anthony Myngay, her second son, who in 1666, married

Anne, daughter and coheiress of Charles Cornwaleis of Mileham, Esq.; he died 28 Dec. 1713, and is buried in St. Stephen's church in Norwich, and left Frances his only daughter and heiress, who first married Mr. Lane of Bristol, by whom she had no issue, after to William Brooke, Esq. recorder of Norwich, who is the present lord and patron. She died Aug. 23, 1729, and is buried in St. Stephen's, having no issue now surviving.

The CHURCH of St. Mary was demolished at the Reformation, it being in a decaying way ever since its consolidation to the present church of St. Peter; for in 1503, it was called the old church, and the principal image of the Virgin, was almost decayed. William Curson was patron of it at Domesday making, when the rector had a house and 20 acres; it was valued at five marks, but not taxed in the last valuation; it paid 2*d.* synodals, 12*d.* procurations, 2*d.* carvage, and 1*d.* Peter-pence; and in 1435, an image of St. Anthony was given to the church.

In 1316, Sir Ralf Matherbe had another 4th part, and presented here; and in 1319, Godfrey de la Rokele presented in right of another 4th part, which in 1331, was conveyed by Sir Robert son of Robert de la Rokele, Knt. and Reginald de Nerford and Margaret his wife, to Jeffry de la Salle of Norwich; and in 1346, *Barth. de Salle*⁹ conveyed it to Rich. de Bitering of Norwich, Nic. Appleyard, citizen of Norwich, and Emma his wife, and their heirs, they being feoffees to Barth. de Salle. Sir Ralf Matherbe's part was joined to the other 4th part, which in 1306 was held by JOHN DE REYNSTHORP, who dwelt here, and took his name from this place, and held it at half a fee of Fornct manor; but he parted with his right in the two 4th turns of the advowson of the mediety of the church; Ric. de Boyland had it after him, and Will. de Rees after him. in 1383, Adam Humfry of Salle had it, and died in 1385, leaving Margaret his daughter and heiress, who was a ward of Barth. Appleyard's, who paid 10 marks to the manor of Fornct for her marriage; and the said Bartholomew, the same year, purchased the right of Thomas de Bumpstede in the advowson, and had it settled in trust on Thomas Spynk, *Will. In 1538, Robert Clere had it in trust, and afterwards Sir John Clere, Knt. for John Appleyard. In 1555, John Appleyerd of Braken-ash, Esq. and Thomas Chapman, Gent. son and heir of Alexander Chapman, Esq. deceased, sold to Will. Bigot of Stratton in Norfolk, Gent. and John Strote of Reepham, clerk, and their heirs, in fee simple, the manor of MYLES or MILLS. In 1609, Thomas Baxter, Gent. in right of his wife, who was late the wife of Alexander Chapman, and before that, of James Bigot, Gent.³ held his manor of Reynesthorp in Newton Flotman, Tuseboro and Swainsthorp, at half a fee of the manor of Forncet. In 1477, Margaret, widow of John Newton, released NEWTON'S Place here, to Will. of Newton her son, whose son William, in 1503, by the name of *Will. third part belonged to Hethill manor, being 15 acres of the demcans, and was then owned by Roger Bigot,⁹ who had the chief of this town, which was held by OLF the Dane, of him;¹ Earl RALF had a part of it, which he forfeited, and GODRIC the sewer had it.² The antecessor of ROGER DE RAMIS had a freeman also; but all centered at last in ROGER BIGOT, and OLF was the lord under him. It was a mile long, and five furlongs broad, and paid 9d. 3q. to the geld or King's tax. And from that, to the present time, the manor was always held of the NORFOLK family, and lately of their honour of Forncet, at one fee.

This manor came to the BUTTEVELYNS very early, and passed with Gissing, as you may see in vol. i. p. 177. In 1139, Rob. de Buttevilane was pardoned by King Stephen, for 13s. due for Danegeld. William son of Robert, succeeded, who founded Pipewell abbey in Northamptonshire in 1143,³ and married Joan, daughter of Sir Ralf Camois, Knt.; and when Henry II. went into Normandy, he had a writ directed to the Bishops of Lincoln and Norwich, and to all his liege people, English and Normans, of Northamptonshire, Norfolk, and Suffolk, granting to William Buttevilan, the lands of his father Robert, in Cotesbroke and Pipewell in Northamptonshire, in Florenduna in Norfolk, and Flichestona or Flixton in Suffolk; with soc and sac, thol and theam, and infangencthef, and all other liberties which his father honourably enjoyed, both in woods and plains, waters, &c. In 1292, Sir William Butteveleyn, Knt. had it; his wife Margaret was daughter and only heir, of Sir Thomas Mose, first husband of Christian, daughter of Sir William Latimer, Knt.; (see vol. i. p. 77); he released to Sir Robert son of John de Thorp, divers of his villeins, which lived in Thorp, but belonged to this manor, and consented that Sir Peter Rosceline, Knt. should convey to the said Sir John Thorp, Knt. a meadow held of him in Flordon: in 1305, he held this and Flixton at

In 1310, Robert Buttevyline, Knt. and Nicolea his wife, had Cotesbroke manor settled on John de Foxton, their trustee, except the third part, which Agnes widow of Will. de Buteveline held in dower. In 1314, Lady Nicolea was a widow, and had her dower assigned, and Sir William her son and heir inherited; and in 1316, had a charter for free-warren here, and in his manor of Cotesbroke in Northamptonshire, and Hynweycke in Bedfordshire; in 1363, Lady Nicolea was married to Sir Giles de Ardern, Knt. In 1337, Sir William was married to the Lady Julian, and in 1345, they held this and Flixton, of the Earl-Marshall, at two fees. In 1344, Thomas son of William Botevelyn, Knt. sold the manor and advowson of Newton, and Brandon and its advowson, in Essex and Suffolk, to William de Bohun Earl of Northampton, and Elizabeth his wife. In 1348, Sir William settled on Nicholas de Poininges, Knt. his manor of Cotesbroke in reversion, after Lady Nicolea's death; and in 1354, he settled this on Edmund de Caston in trust. In 1383, it belonged to Robert Butevelyn of Flordon, Esq. In 1369, Thomas Gardener of Gissing, Esq. (see vol. i. p. 170,) granted to Robert son of William Botevelyn, Knt. an annuity of 20 marks, on his marrying Katherine his daughter. Their son Robert Butevelyn inherited,⁴ whose son William Butevelyn, was an idiot, and was seized in 1447;⁵ and at his death, his estate went to JOHN KEMP of Weston, Esq. &c. as at vol. i. p. 177—9, and hath continued in that family with the manor of Gissing, to this day.

The church is dedicated to St. Michael; the rector had a house and 60 acres of glebe, now reduced to 24; it was valued without the portion at 17 marks, and the portion of the monks at Thetford at 13s. 4d.;⁶ it paid 2s. 4d. synodals, 12d. Peter-pence, and 5d. carvage, and stands in the King's Books at 6l. 13s. 4d. and is discharged of first fruits and tithes, and being sworn of the clear yearly value of 42l. 19s. 6d. ob. it is capable of augmentation.

The Abbot of Creke had temporals here taxed at 6d. and the Prior of Norwich had rents taxed at 18s. 1d. issuing out of lands in this town, which belonged to Hapton manor, and were given them by Will. Puleis and Margaret his wife, and Roger de Puleis his son, and Agnes his wife, Roger son of Gosceline de Flordon, Walter son of Atveric de Flordon and Wido de Verdon, principal lord of Puleis's fee in HAPTON, confirmed them. This village paid clear to each tenth 2l.

The steeple is round and hath three bells, the church is 24 yards long and 6 broad, and hath no isles; the nave and chancel are tiled. There is no memorial of any kind, in the church; but there lies an old stone in the porch, broad at one end and narrow at the other, which shows it to have been laid over some priest by its shape, and accordingly, I find that Roger Northwold, rector here, who died in 1371, is buried under it. There is a very large stone in the churchyard, for Mary daughter of William and Mary Dade, Jan. 3, 1718, 16. Martha, another daughter, 23 March 1718, 4. And Mary their mother, died at Great-Melton June 5, 1721, 45. There are stones for John Hakecon 1722, 2. And Anne wife of Thomas Baxter, 1694.

KENINGHAM,

WAS in the hands of ANCHOLF, and others, in the Confessor's days, and of TOVI⁷ and GODRIC the Sewer, in the Conqueror;⁸ when it was half a mile long, and five furlongs broad, and paid xi.d. geld. It came immediately to the NORFOLK family, and attended it constantly till Queen Elizabeth's time, and then the manor was sold by Thomas Duke of Norfolk, to Sir Thomas Gresham, and became joined to Mulbarton, though the demesns were sold again by Sir Thomas in 1570, to Mr. TURNER, in which family they still continue.

THE RECTORS OF KENINGHAM

The church was demolished totally long before the Reformation, and the churchyard became glebe to Mulbarton, and hath been since exchanged, and is now owned by Mr. Turner of Kenningham; it stood south-east of Mulbarton-green about half a mile.

In 1315, the Prior of Thetford had divers small rents taxed at 5s. 1d. And there was a free-tenement owned by a family surnamed from that place, purchased first from the manor by Will. de Shotesham, who gave it to Ralf his son, who assumed the name of Kyningham, on his settling here in Henry the Third's time. In 1299, William de Kiningham and Alice his wife lived here, and he was returned as having a manor or free-tenement, in 1315; and in 1393, brother JOHN KININGHAM was the 21st provincial of the Carmelites or Whitefriars in England.⁹ He is mentioned in For's Martyrology, fo. 437, 39, as one of those that sat at the trials or examinations of Nic. Mulmains, widow of Ralf de Tony; and in 1267, he held the hundred of Grimeshoe and Saham manor, during her life; in 1275 he was justice itinerant in Cambridgeshire, and had a charter of free-warren and a fair here, confirmed, which was first granted to William his father, with free-warren and a fair at Brundale, by King Henry III. in the 38th year of his reign, 1253.⁶ In 1285, upon the quo-warranto brought for St. Omer manor in the county, to set forth and prove their several liberties, the Thomas claimed view of frankpledge, assize of bread and ale, and all things belonging to a lete, and had it allowed; he also claimed liberty of infangenthef, and accordingly erected a gallows here; and this year, one Walter Godwyne of Carleton, taken in this manor, and convicted of felony by Nic. de Monuer of Carleton, in this court sufficiently proved, was condemned and hanged; but it appearing that this Thomas de St. Omer was the first that erected a gallows here, and that without the King's grant, or the manor having the liberty; it was ordered that he should be disseized of such liberty, and the gallows pulled down. This Thomas, at his death, settled sufficient revenues out of his lands here, on the pittancer of Norwich cathedral, to keep his anniversary for ever, and to treat the convent on that day.⁷ He left two daughters his heiresses; Elizabeth,⁴ married Thomas Waryn, and they levied a fine, and thereby released all right in the manors of Mulbarton, Keteringham, and Brundale, in Norfolk, to Sir WILL. DE HOO, Knt. and ALICE his wife, half sister to the said Elizabeth; but the advowson of the town continued in Sir William de St. Omer, Knt. till his death, and after in Elizabeth his relict, till her death, and then the whole centered in the Hoo family, and Sir William de Hoo first presented here in 1367. He it was that built the present church and tower in the chancel of which he and his lady were interred;⁵ he adorned the windows with the portraits of himself and lady, and her family and their arms; and till lately, one of the north windows had in it, the pictures of Sir Thomas de St. Omer on his knees in armour,

This Sir WILLIAM was a great warrior and a man of figure in his time, serving in the French wars many years, being one of the favourites of John Earl of Somerset, governour of the garrison at Calice, under whom he served; he died in the year 1410,⁴ aged 76, and was succeeded by Thomas, his son and heir, who in 1417 levied a fine to settle the manor and advowson on himself and heirs; in 1434, he presented by the name of Thomas Hoo, Esq. but he was soon after knighted; in 1436, he was sent to suppress the rebellion about Caux in Normandy, where he conquered the rebels and wasted their country; in 1445, he was elected knight of the garter; employed again in the French wars, where he merited so well, that he was created a baron of the realm by the title of Lord Hoo and HASTINGS, and was summoned to parliament accordingly; he was also keeper of the seals in France, and afterwards chancellor there; he had three wives, Elizabeth, daughter and heir to Thomas Felton, Knt. by whom he had one son, Thomas, who died before him; the second was Elizabeth, daughter and heir to Nic. Wichingham, by whom he had only one daughter, Anne, the third was Eleanor, daughter to Leo Lord Wells, sister and coheir to Richard Lord Wells, her brother; by whom he had three daughters; but upon this last match, this manor was settled on Tho. de Hoo, Esq.⁵ his brother and heir. This Lord's will is dated Feb. 12, 1454, by which he settled 20 marks per annum on Battle abbey, for two monks to sing perpetually for him and his ancestors, at St. Bennet's altar in their church: Thomas de Hoo, Esq.⁶ settled this manor and advowson on Anne, only daughter of the Lord Hoo, by Eliz. Wichingham, on her marriage to Sir JEFFERY BOLEYN, Knt. sometime lord mayor of London, who died seized, as did Anne his widow.⁷ Sir William Boleyn, Knt. of Blicking succeeded, and by his will dated in 1505, he entailed it on Thomas his son, who enjoyed it after him; he was Earl of Wilts, Ormond, and Rochford: and in the year 1535 sold it to JOHN GRESHAM, and it was inherited by Sir Richard, and then by Sir Thomas Gresham, Knt. who was lord in 1575; and in 1579, William Gresham of London, Esq. had it, who

On the east pillar next the pulpit, is fastened a brass, representing an open book, on which,

SCARGILL, erm. a saltier gul. impales LE NEVE.

Here lies the Body of the most religious Mrs. SARAH SCARGILL, the Wife of Mr. DANIEL SCARGILL, Rector of this Parish, with whom she lived in all conjugal Vertues near 7 years, and then Death divorced them upon the 22d Day of Aug. 1680, in the 30th Year of her Age. She was the Pious Daughter of a Loyal Gent. Mr. THO. LE NEVE of Aslacton, Cozen to Sir WILL. LE NEVE, who was Herald to King Charles the first, of Blessed Memory: She was a Person of unimitable Devotion, of a most nice and tender Conscience, of sweet Behaviour, and in all Things so faithfull a Servant of GOD, that I dare contest the Divine Goodness to have rewarded her. Happy Soul, whose Body rests Here! and may it rest! by no profane Hand disturbed, 'till her Soul shall take it up again, at the Great Day of Restitution.

(This on one leaf of the book.)

On the other at top, is engraven a hand, as out of a cloud, beckoning, and the person obscured by the cloud, is supposed to speak thus,

COME PILGRIM TO THY HOME,

Dear Love! one feather'd Minute, and I come,
To lye down in thy dark retiring Room,
And mingle Dust with thine, that we may have,
As when alive, one Bed, so dead, one Grave,
And may my Soule teare through the vaulted Sky,
To be with Thine, to all Eternity.
Oh! how our Bloodless Forms will that Day greet,
With Love Divine, when we again shall meet,
Devest of all contagion of the Flesh,
Full fill'd with ever lasting Joys, and fresh,
In Heaven above, (and't may be) cast an Eye,
How far Elyzium doth beneath us lye.

Dear! I dis-body and away,

More swift than Wind,

Or flying Hind,

I come, I come, away. DANIEL SCARGILL.

Worthy of a longer Life, more worthy of eternal ; so adorned with bright Endowments of Nature, so graced with Vertues, that it may be a Question, whither those more embellished the Woman, or these the Christian, prudent beyond her Age, of so early and constant Piety, that it grew up with Reason, and survived it ; so obliging, that she knew not how to disoblige ; so far from Pride, that Humility seem'd not an acquir'd Vertue, but an innate Perfection ; of so discreet, and yet of so engaging Behaviour, that she equally gain'd the Esteem and Love of All : So dutifull a Wife, that while she wanted no Pattern to copy after, she might justly be an illustrious Pattern of conjugal Love and Behaviour. Thus ripe for Heaven, she dyed on Earth, that she may never cease to live above, where her ardent and swift Desires had already fixed her Heart.

Which may the KING of Heaven's large Estate,
Into immortal Happiness compleat,
That what on Earth her Vertues have begun,
May through Eternitie's Dimensions run.

After the Dissolution, King HENRY VIII. in the year 1545, granted the impropriate rectory and the advowson of the vicarage to ROBERT RUMBOLD, alias REYNBALD, and his heirs, to be held in capite by knight's service ; and in 1558, Anne, wife of Ben. Reynbald, daughter of the said Robert, and Elizabeth her sister, had livery of it, and in 1562, presented

John Dixy.

1568, Adam Each, lapse. 1576, Andrew Thetford, Gent. presented Henry Webb, on whose resignation in 1728, the Rev. Mr. Samuel Clark, A. M. the present vicar, was presented by EDW. ATKYNS, Esq. the present patron, and now holds it united to the vicarage of East-Dearham, with the chapel of Hoe, and sinecure rectory of East-Dearham aforesaid.

The chief MANOR of this town, belonged to OLF the Dane in the Confessor's time, and to Ralf Fitz-Walter at the Conquest, who then held it of Roger Bigot, and it had a church and 40 acres of glebe, was worth 3l. per annum, being a league long, and half a league broad, and paid *6d. ob. geld.*⁸ The other manor belonged to KETEL the

Dave, at the Confessor's survey, and was held of Ralf Pezevell by Wavine, at the Conqueror's;⁹ had a faldcourse, and though it was included in the value or estimation of the chief manor, was of but 7s. per annum less value in yearly rents, to its lord.

The chief manor, called afterwards

ARGENTEIN'S, OR KETERINGHAM-HALL MANOR,

Came to ROBERT DE VALLIBUS, or VAUX, from Ralf Fitz-Walter, and he held it of Roger Bigot. This Robert came in with the Conqueror; he left it to William his son and heir; and in 1197, Aubrey de Vere Earl of Oxford died seized of a manor here, which was the head manor, though one third part of the town remained still in the Vauxes, and was after called CASTELYN'S manor; in 1239, Hugh de Vere Earl of Oxford had it, and gave it Hugh de Cressi, in frank marriage with Margaret his daughter, and died seized in 1262, when, for want of issue of their bodies, it reverted to the Veres, and Robert de Vere Earl of Oxford gave it in frank marriage with Lora his sister, to Sir Reginald de Argentein, Knt. and they held it in 1265; in 1315, Sir John de Argenteyn, Knt. his son, was lord, and held in 1345, of the Earl of Oxford at one fee; he was succeeded by Sir John his son, who in 1381 settled it on Sir Will. his son, and Isabel daughter of Sir Will. de Kerdeston, Knt. his wife, after the death of himself and Margaret his wife, who held it in 1383; and in 1590, it appears that their three daughters and their issue, were heirs; namely Maud, wife of Ivo Fitz-Warine, Alice, wife of Baldwin St. George, and Baldwin their son, then 21 years of age; and Joan, wife of Baith. de Naunton, and Margaret their daughter, 40 years old, which Margaret had this manor, and married to a Bukenham, of whose trustees the manor was purchased by Sir WILL. APPELYARD of Keteringham, Knt. and with Emma his widow, passed to her husband Sir Henry Grey, Knt. who lived at Keteringham, and lies buried in the chancel there, with this inscription,

Here lyth Syrre Henry Grey, the Sonne of Syrre Thomas Grey knyght, of Heton, & of Tione his Wyfe, that was Syrre to the Duke of Norfolk, that dyed at Hens, and Emma the Wyfe of the foresaide Syrre Henry Grey, the Widow of Sir William Appleyard of the said County of Norfolk Esqper, on whose Sowles God have Mercy.

Their effigies in brass, with their hands conjoined as praying, remain on the stone; he is in complete armour, standing on a lion, and there are the arms of BROTHERTON impaling GREY, a lion rampant in a bordure ingrailed arg. and GREY impaling Appleyard, az. a chevron or between three owls arg.

The present chancel was rebuilt by these two,¹ and their arms remain in the east window the same as on their tombstone, and also the arms of ENGLAND, and GREY impaling or, a lion rampant double quevee gul. GREY impaling gul. a saltier arg. and these: arg. on a fess between three leopards faces gul. three bells of the field, quarterly, 1st, gul. a lozenge arg. 2d, 2 coats quartered, 1st, per bend *A. There are also the arms of Fitz-Walter, and a REBUS of a tun, with an oaken branch with acorns fixed in the bunghole. In the middle pane is Sir Henry Grey on his knees in complete armour, with Grey's arms single, and crest, on a wreath vert and gul. a lamb's head arg. and arg. on a cross gul. five escalops or. Crest a demi-lion, on which a mullet of five sab. By his will dated in 1492, he gave his manor of Keteringham-hall after their deaths, to

THOMAS HEVENYNGHAM, Esq. son and heir of Sir John Heveningham, Knt. and to Anne his wife, daughter to Dame Jane Grey, wife to the said Sir Henry Grey, and their heirs, with remainder to William Grey of Merton, and his heirs; and thus it became the residence of the ancient family of the

HEVENINGHAMS, who had their surname from the town of that name in Suffolk, and hath been very honourably matched; and if we may credit many accounts,² Jeffery de Heveningham was lord there in Canute's time, A^o 1020; but as the former part of their pedigree does not relate to this town, I shall not begin with the account of the family earlier than

THOMAS HEVENINGHAM aforesaid, Esq. the great favourite of the Duke of Gloucester, who settled an annuity of 10*l.* on him for life, out of his manor of Rothing-Berners in Essex. He died in 1499, and is buried in the chancel here, with this inscription,

Orate pro anima Thome Heveningham Armigeri, Filii et Heredis
Johannis Heveningham Militis et Banneretti qui obiit ultimo die
Januarii, Anno Domini M. cccc. lxxxix. eius anime propicietur Deus Amen.

The tomb is on the south side of the altar, built in part into the wall, the brass plates are fixed over it, and the foregoing inscription over his head, and the following over her's:

They are both in praying postures; behind him are four sons, and behind her are four daughters. There are also the arms of HEVENINGHAM, quarterly or and gul. in a bordure ingrailed sab. nine escalops *arg.*⁴ quartering REDISHAM.

COURTNEY, or, three torteauxes, with a label of three az. for difference, impaling or, in a bordure ingrailed gul. three catherine-wheels sab.

JOHN HEVENINGHAM, son of the said Thomas,⁵ succeeded, and married Alice, daughter of Sir Ralf Shelton the younger of Shelton in Norfolk, Knt. he died in 1530, and is buried in the chancel, with this on a brass plate, Hic iacet Johannes Heveningham, Filius Thome Heveningham Armigeri, cuius anime propicietur Deus Amen.

Sir ANTHONY HEVENINGHAM, his son and heir, was made a banneret by King Henry VIII. and married first Katherine, daughter and heir of Sir Philip Calthorp, by whom he had Henry, his son and heir, who died without male issue, by Anne his wife, daughter of Eden of Suffolk; as did Amy their daughter, who married to Sir Edmund Windham of Felbrigg, Knt. In 1546, he settled by fine on himself and Mary daughter of Sir John Shelton the elder, of Shelton, Knt. his then wife, the manors of Heveningham, Ubbeston, Cookeley, Walpole, and Sibeton in Suffolk, and on their heirs; and in 1557, he held the manor

³ The inscription is thus in Weever, and on the stone; but as Mr. LeNeve observes, there seems to be a contradiction between the will of Sir Henry Grey and this inscription, for in the former, this Anne is said to be daughter of Jane, wife of the said Sir Henry Grey, (who is called Emma on the monument,) and here she is said to be daughter of Tho. Verde, Esq.; he would have this a mistake, for Will Appleyerd, Esq.; but in the pedigree she is called so, and the arms of YERDE, or YARD, arg. a chevron between three water-buckets gul. are placed as belonging to her; the words of Sir Henry's will are, 28 Sept. 1492, "as touching my Maners, Lands, and Tenements hereafter following, first I will that my Lord Edmund of Suffolk, with all other the Feoffees of my Maner of Keteringham alias Keteringham-hall, shall stand seized thereof to the Use of me Syr Harry Grey and Jane my Wife, term of our two Lives, and the longest Liver, and after to the Use of the Executor of the longest Liver for Payment of Debts and Performance of our Wills, and after eight Years after the Death of the longest Liver, to remain to Tho. Hevening- ham Esq. son and heir of John Heveningham Knt. and to Anne his Wife, Daughter to the said Dame Jane Grey, wife to the said Sir Henry Grey, and to the Heirs of their two Bodies lawfully begotten," with remainder, &c. By which it seems to me, that this Anne was the daughter of Jane or Emma, daughter of Will. Appleyard, Esq. by Tho. Yarde, a first husband.

of Westbarrow-hall, of the honour of Ralegh, and Totham Parva, and Goldhanger in Essex, and died the year following, and according to his will, is buried by his last wife, under a tomb on the north side of the chancel, which hath lost its inscription, but the arms of Heveningham, with helmet, crest, and supporters, and those of Shelton, with a helmet and crest, and two talbots arg. collared and chained gul. for supporters; and the same two coats impaled, lately remained. She remarried to Philip Appleyard, Esq. but died soon after, leaving

Sir ARTHUR HEVENINGHAM, Knt. her son and heir, who about 1570, appears to have been lord of this, with the manors of Fretenham, Gissing, Shropham and South-Walsham in Norfolk, Heveningham, Ubestone, Walpole, Cookeley and Sibton in Suffolk, and Goldhanger in Essex; he married Mary daughter of Hanchet of Hertfordshire, who lies buried in the chancel with this,

Here lyeth buried the Body of the Lady Mary Heveningham, Wife to Sir Arthur Heveningham Knt.⁶ Nov. 9, 1633.

On an adjoining stone is this: Here lyeth buried the body of Sir Arthur Heveningham Knt. who died Oct. 8, 1630. Sir John Heveningham Knt.⁷ his son, inherited at his death; he married first, Katherine, daughter of Lewes Lord Mordaunt, she died 1602, and he married again to Bridget, daughter of Christopher son of Sir William Paston of Paston in Norfolk, Knt.; she lies buried in the chancel, with the arms of Heveningham impaling Paston, and this

Here lies buried the Body of the Lady Bridget late wife to Sir John Heveningham Knt. deceased, and Grandchild to Sir William Paston of Paston in the County of Norfolk Knt. ob. June 9, 1624. On another stone, Here lieth buried the Body of Sir John Heveningham Knt. Son and Heir of Sir Arthur, ob. 17 June 1633.

WILLIAM HEVENINGHAM, Esq.⁸ his son and heir by his second wife, inherited; he was of this town and Hockwold in Norfolk; and married first, Katherine daughter of Sir Henry Walop, of Farley in Hantsire, by whom he had no issue: this man was one of the judges of King CHARLES I. for which, at the Restoration, he was deservedly tried and convicted, and all his estate forfeited for that unparalleled villainy; but being one of those nineteen regicides that surrendered themselves upon the proclamation of the 6th of June 1660, he had his life saved; and the year following, Mary, daughter of John Earl of Dover, his second wife, obtained a patent from King Charles II. for most, if not all, her husband's estate, particularly that of Heveningham and this manor, which she enjoyed during her life. On the north side of the altar is a handsome monument of black and white marble, with the effigies of a man and woman, each having a child by them,⁹ in a praying posture before a reading-desk, and to the table on which the

They are both buried in a vault under the altar; the coffin of this traitour and his bones are now wholly broken to pieces, which seems to have been done designedly, for his head or scull is laid upon his wife's coffin, ¹ which is very entire; she died at her house in Jermyn-street, London, in Jan. 1696; in the same vault is a child's coffin.

Sir WILLIAM HEVENINGHAM, their son and heir, was knighted at Whitehall in 1674; he married Barbara, daughter of George Villiers Viscount Grandison of Ireland, by whom he had Abigail, his only heiress, who married to Henry Heron, Esq. and they sold it to

EDWARD ATKYNS, Esq. son and heir of Sir Edward Atkyns, Knt. Lord Chief Baron of the Exchequer, who is the present lord and patron, and resides at Keteringham-hall, which is a good seat in a pleasant country, about four miles distant from the city of Norwich.

There are monuments in the church for, Barbara the youngest daughter of Sir Arthur Heveningham, Knt. the wife of Tho. Bradley, 17 Sept. 1634. And a brass shows, that William son of Clerc Talbot, LL. D. died in this parish Aug. 29, 1635. On the font were the arms of Redisham and Grey, with a label of five points. In the chancel is a brass plate with a small effigies, and this,

This man was a wholesale tailor in Norwich, and raised great fortunes there, and was father of John Ayde or Aid of Horsted, Esq. lord of that manor.

On the north side is an altar tomb with the arms of a lion rampant only, and these two verses out of the Psalms :

What Man is he that liveth and shall not see Death? shall he deliver his Soul from the Grave? SELAH.

But GOD will redeem my Soul from the Power of the Grave, for he shall receive me? SELAH.

CASTELYN'S MANOR

Belonged to KETEL the Dane, after to Warine, of whom it was held at the Conqueror's survey, by Ralf Peverel, (see p. 91,) and passed with Peverel's manor in Great Melton, as at p. 18; and in 1237, Oliver de Vaux, lord of Keteringham, granted a third part of this town to Richard de Rupella, or Rokele, which was added to this manor. In 1385, Nicholas de Castello, or Castelyn, (from whom it took its name,) was lord of it, and had view of frankpledge, assise of bread and ale, and lete in his manor, allowed by the justices in Eire, on condition he paid yearly to the King's hundred of Humbleyard 14*d.* 0*s.* 4*d.* In 1306 it was held by Will. de Ros, Maud his wife, and Petronel de Vaux, of Roger Bigot Earl of Norfolk. In 1345, Will de Bokenham held it at a fourth part and half a quarter of a fee, of Nic. de Castello, who held it of Will. de Rokele, he of the heirs of Roos, they of the Earl-Marshal, and he of the King. In 1364, Sir Thomas de St Omer of Brundale had it, and Alice, daughter of Petronel his wife, after married to Sir Will. de Hoo, Knt. and Eliz. their daughter then 12 years old, and after married to Tho. de Warine, were coheirs, and in the King's custody; and in 1372, Warine and his wife released all his right to Sir Thomas and his wife; see p. 76. In 1402, he released all his right in this manor calle Castelyn's, and all his lands thereto belonging, in Keteringham, Stanfield in Windham, Carleton, Curson, Intwood, Cantelose, and Hethersete, to William Parker and Stephen Spelman, citizens and mercers of London; and in 1404, Sir Thomas Hoe his son confirmed it. In 1495, Sir Henry Grey joined it to Keteringham-Hall manor, with which it now continues.

KANGHAM'S MANOR

Very anciently belonged to William de Keteringham, after to Sibil de Keteringham, and then to Peter their son, who granted part of it, by deed without date, to Will. de Curzon of Stanfield, and Robert his son, in the presence of *Sir Richard de Curzon*² of Stanfield in Windham, ² He was William's brother, both sons of the Lady Catherine.

and Sir *John de Curzon*³ of Keteringham; and this *William*⁴ gave in marriage with Alice his daughter, to Will. de Kanhham, who released one part of it again to Oliver de Keteringham, on condition the said Oliver paid for the said William, to the church of Keteringham St. Peter, 2s. yearly for wax to be burnt before the cross and altar of St. Mary there. This part was sold in 1342, by Tho. de Keteringham and Sciencia his wife, to John de Honton and Ivetta his wife; but Kanhham's part, which was much the largest, was held by Alice de Kanhham in 1274, at three parts of a fee, of the Fauzes, which she divided into many parts, selling some to John son of Simon de Heder-sete, Nic. de Castello, Will. Carpenter, &c. with consent of William her son, and Clenence her daughter; another part she granted to Andrew her son, who conveyed it to Richard son of Ric. le Curzon, who had all the part that remained unconveyed, by deed from the said Alice de Kanhham; and in 1256, this Richard held it with Stanfield-Hall manor in Windham, as at p. 502, vol. ii.; it was then valued at 4l. 13s. 2d. rents, and had 127 acres in demean, and it continued with Stanfield, till Henry Heveningham of Keteringham purchased a part of it, which was after joined to Keteringham manor, and the other part still remains with Stanfield.

The Prior of PENTNEYE had a manor here composed of divers parcels, given by the lords of the other manors, viz. Robert de l'aux, Richard de la Rokele, and Alice de Kanhham, who in 1249, granted to Simon Prior of Pentney, 28 acres of land, 8 acres of wood, and 5s. rent, and the whole was held at half a quarter of a fee of the honour of Forncet, and was taxed at 38s. 10d. and at the Dissolution it was granted from the Crown with the impropriate rectory, and with that became united to the other manors.

WILLIAM CURSON (see vol. ii, p. 517) and others, gave lands here to Windham monastery, which at the Dissolution were granted to Sir Edward Clere: the Prior of St. Faith's had 6s. rent here; and in 1314, the Prior of Hauley was found to hold the fourth part of a fee in Keteringham, of John Peverell, which was after released from that priory, and joined to Castelegu's manor.

³ He gave to the Norwich monks which Alice, prioress there, and the convent, granted to Herbert Skilman of 12d. a year out of this manor.

CARLETON,

COMMONLY called CARLETON Curson, from its lords of that name, takes its denomination from the Eheoples, *Laples*⁵ or countrymen, that anciently inhabited in it; Carleton signifying no more than the Charles Town, which is the reason we meet with so many places of that name; for distinction it is sometimes called Norwich Carleton, or Carleton by Norwich, and very often East-Carleton: as there are two manors, so there were also two parochial churches, standing within about 50 yards of one another, with a highway only between their churchyards; that now standing, is dedicated to St. MARY, and was appropriated to the nuns of MARHAM from their foundation; and before 1324, the Priory of Alvesbourne held it appropriated to them, and served it by a stipendiary chaplain, and the prior had a house and two carucates of land; it was first valued at five, and after at six marks,⁶ paid 4s. procurations, 7d. synodals, 6d. Peter-pence, and 4d. carvage; and there was a gild of St. John Baptist held here. Alvesbourne prior and his convent conveyed it to the master and brethren of St. Giles's hospital in Norwich,⁷ who were obliged by the Bishop, in the year 1408, to present a rector, it appearing that the appropriation, though it had continued so long, was never legally made;⁸ and accordingly it hath been a rectory ever since, in the gift of the hospital, till the Dissolution, and now is in the MAYOR and commonalty of Norwich, as guardians to the hospital.

1579, Henry Golding had it of the gift of the Queen, and Mayor and Commonalty. He died in 1628, and Tim Plomer had it, at whose death in 1639, Greg. Mower was presented, and in 1651, Miles Smith. In 1681, the Mayor and Commonalty gave it to Peter Coppin, and at his death in 1729, The Rev. Mr. John Smith, the present rector, was collated by lapse.

THE CHURCH OF ST. PETER THE APOSTLE, was wholly appropriated to the priory of SHOULDHAM,⁹ and no vicarage endowed, and had a carucate of land belonging to it; it was first valued at 5*l.* after at nine marks, and paid 9*d.* synodals, 6*s.* 8*d.* procurations, 2*d.* ob. carvage, and 12*s.* for every tenth.¹ It was disappropriated for want of a legal appropriation, and became a rectory in the gift of Shouldham priory.

 1521, Rob. Longland held it, and is buried before the high-altar on the south side; and in 1530, Rob. Thaxter was the last presented by the convent, who in 1441, had it united to St. Mary as aforesaid, and it continued with it till 1679, and then
Tho. Lewgar was presented, but did not enjoy it long, for Golding had it,² and after him
Plummer; but in 1640, the King presented
Edw. Rogers to it single, and in 1677, it was returned a seignieure, as it is; for the church, which is a small one, without any tower, was turned into a parsonage-house, now uninhabited and in ruins; the close in which it stands is glebe, and is south-east of St. Mary's, with which it is held by The Rev. Mr. Smith, the present rector. The church was suffered to be dilapidated about 1550.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH hath a square tower half fallen down, one bell, the nave and chancel are tiled, and the north isle leaded; at the east end of which, is an old altar and chapel, dedicated also to St. Mary, before which lies a stone disrobed of its brasses, under which

CARLETON CURSON'S MANOR

Belonged to OLF the Dane,⁵ and was held by Walter, of Roger Bigot, at the Conqueror's survey; there were then two churches, which had 38 acres of glebe, belonging to this manor, and 27 freemen and an half, part of which belonged ROG. BIGOT, and part to RALF PEVEREL, ³ This William was second son to Nicholas, and brother to John Appleyard of Brakene, lord here, and was himself lord of Dunston; see p. 56.

who had also a manor here, which belonged to KETEL the Dane,⁶ and after to Godric the sewer, then to RALF PEVEREL, of whom it was held at the last survey, by Warine; and there were then ten freemen here, over which, the King and the Earl, had LETE or jurisdiction; at the first survey, this town was worth to the lords 3l.; at the last 5l. 10s. a year. The family that took their surname of CARLETON from their lordship here, were descendants of this Walter, in whom it continued till Alice, daughter and heiress of Philip de Carleton and Margaret his wife, carried it to John de Curson of Carleton, her husband; and in 1203, William de Curson their son was lord, and held the manor, part of the Earl-Marshal at one knight's fee, and part of the honour of Peverel at one quarter of a fee. In 1301, Will. de Curson of Carleton, who was eschator, accounted with the King in the Exchequer, for the receipts of his office, and in 1308, Ric. son and heir of William, agreed before Sir Will. de Carleton and others, to settle divers lands here and in Stanfield, on Katherine, widow of the said William. In 1315, Will. Curson was lord, and died in 1320, and John his son and heir succeeded, who in 1325, held it jointly with Margaret his wife, of Tho. de Brotherton Earl of Norfolk, and Will. his son and heir was then three years old. In 1371, Hugh Curson had it, who in 1387, had it settled on himself and Beatrix his wife; Rob. de Berney and others being trustees; and in 1392, they sold it to Sir Robert Berney, Knt. Nicholas de Blakney, Thomas de Blickling, Hugh atte Fenn, and Tho. Hert, and their heirs; and the same year, they sold it to Will. Appleyard and Margaret his 2d wife, and their heirs; and in 1406, it extended into Hethill, and the rents and profits were about 15l. per annum. It had a lete, and paid to the bailiff of Humbleyard hundred for lete fee 3d. and for hundred scot 15d. and for a rent of honey due to the hundred, 15d. and was obliged to find a wax taper yearly to burn before the image of St. Catherine in one of the churches. And from this time it continued in the APPLEYARDS of Brakene, along with that manor, as you may see at p. 83, 4. In 1551, John Appleyard, Esq. had mortgaged it to Simon Morse of Great Yarmouth, merchant, and he entered upon it, and Appleyard held it by lease from him at 40l. per annum, and after sold the whole to Tho. Townesend, Esq. along with Brakene, and by him it was sold to Ric. Rabye, Gent. who in 1612 conveyed the manor of East Carleton Cursums to Sir Will. Heyricke, Knt. when it extended into Keteringham, Mulbarton, Swardeston, and Hethill. It was soon after conveyed to

CARLETON MANOR, PEVEREL'S, AND THE GRAND SERJEANTY,

Belonged to KETEL the Dane, afterwards to Godric the sewer, then to Ralf Peverel, of whom Warine held it at the Conqueror's survey, and the KING had then a freeman here, and 32 acres of land, half a carucate and one acre of meadow, valued at 3s. a year,⁸ all which, he gave to be added to this manor for ever, on condition that the lords for the time being should yearly carry to the King's house, wherever he is, so he be in ENGLAND, 2½ herring pies or pasties, being the ancient fee-farm rent of the city of Norwich, and place them on his Majesty's table, for which serjeanty and service, the person so carrying them shall always receive there, wherever they are delivered, six white loaves, six dishes of meat out of the King's kitchen; one flaggon of wine, one flaggon of beer, one truss of hay, and place of oats, one pricket of wax, and six tallow candles;⁹ which service is now annually performed by the sheriffs of the city of Norwich, or their deputies, the city being now lords of this manor by purchase.

WILLIAM, son of RALF DE CARLETON, son of Warine aforesaid, and William son of John de Carleton, brother of Ralf, held it by the sergeanty aforesaid, and the manor was then valued at two marks.⁴ In 1235, William son of Ralf de Carleton, and Will. Curson, had it; and in 1247, Eustace son of William de Curson; and in 1274, he, and Will. de Brokedish,² Robert de Welhom, Agnes daughter of William de Carleton, and John de Hethersete, had the serjeanty; the manor being then found to be held of Hugh Peverel, as of the honour of Peverel, at a quarter of a fee; and in 1277, the citizens of Norwich paid 4d. to the bailiff of the manor, as a customary payment for carrying the King's pasties. In 1286, Tho. de Brokedish and the others owned it, after that Jeffry de Brokedish, and after him, William son of Jeffery, and the others, had it; and after him, Nigel de Brokedish and his parceners; and Will. de Curson, who died seized in 1319, when John de Curson, his son and heir, was 25 years old, and Robert de Welholm had then the fourth part. In 1315, John Curson died seized of the other three parts, and Margaret his widow had one of the three parts assigned by John de Blomevile, ESCHATEOR, as her dower, and William his son and heir was then three years old. In 1327, on Rob. de Welholme's death, his fourth part went to Robert his son and heir, who in 1335, is said to have been married to one of the heiresses of Sir Ralf le Botiler. In 1343, Thomas Curson of East-Carleton, and ² William son of Ralf de Carleton, who had half the manor and sergeanty, left four daughters his heiresses, Alice married to Will. de Brokedish, Isabel to Robert de Welholme, Agnes unmarried, and Maud married to John de Hetherset.

Joice his wife, conveyed divers of the demesns by fine, to John Rolf of Norwich, and Alice his wife, and John Ashewell, free from any part of the sergeanty. In 1345, the heir of William de Colville, Hugh Curson, and John de Welholme, owned it; and in 1336, he, and Edw. de Welholme, his brother, had a King's pardon for purchasing lands held in capite, and adding them to this manor, without license. In 1360, Ric. de Colneye had the 4th part of it. In 1369, Nicholas de Welholme settled it (if he had no issue) on Richard de Welholme, his nephew, and Agnes his wife; and for want of their heirs, on Alice daughter of Thomas de Welholme; and in default of heirs from her, on Robert, son of Ric. de Nethergate. In 1399, Will. Curson held it. In 1401, the whole became vested in Will. Appleyerd of Brakene, the 3d part in right of Margaret his wife, who was widow of Will. Curson, and the 4th part by purchase from Nicholas at Launde, who held it at a quarter of a fee, of Forncet manor; the other parts being held of John Peverel, by a quarter of a fee, as of the honour of Hatfield Peverel; and from this time it attended the Appleyerds along with Brakene, as may be seen at p. 83, 4. In 1530, it appeared that both Sir Nic. Appleyerd and Rog. his son held the lands called TRENCHES, now joined to this manor, by the service of summoning and distraining all the suitors to the court of FORNCEY. It was sold by John Appleyerd with Brakene, to Thomas Townesend, Esq. who in 1576, acknowledged the receipt of the herring pies of the sheriffs of Norwich, by indenture dated on Saturday Sept. 4, at the gild-hall, where the lord of this manor was obliged to come, or send a deputy for them, once in a year only; about 1600, it was purchased by Sir Edwyn Rich, Knt.; it after belonged to the Hobarts, then to the Richardsons,³ and in 1643, Sir Thomas son of Sir Thomas Richardson, Knt. Lord Chief Justice, held the manor by knight's service of the Earl of Arundel's manor of Forncet, and a messuage and 24 acres of land in grand sergeanty. In 1673, Thomas Lord Richardson Baron of Cramond, had it; and in 1680, Peter Clayton, Gent. held the manor and sergeanty; after which the whole was purchased by the CITY of NORWICH, who are the present lords, and alternate patrons of the rectory.

The old revenues of the city in this town and Hetheld, or Hethill, are tied for an annuity of 10*l.* to the master and fellowes of Bennet college in Cambridge, for exhibitions and sermons, as appears at large vol. iii. p. 311.

The ancient revenues here that belonged to St. Giles's hospital, were given by the founder thereof, as may be seen at p. 383, vol. iv.

Brother ROBERT DE CARLETON, warden of the Gray friars in Norwich, was a native of this town; see vol. iv. p. 113.

³ See vol. ii. p. 449.

Is the next village southward of Carleton, and belonged to OLF, one of the Confessor's thanes, who had two carucates in demean. ⁴ The church had then 30 acres of glebe, and belonged to the manor; there was wood sufficient to keep 60 swine, and three breeding mares ran in it; there were 8 socmen, and the manor extended into Keteringham, ⁵ Newton, ⁶ and Kesewic was a berewic to it; it was then worth 5*l.* 6*s.* 6*d.* a year, after that, was raised to 6*l.* and at the Conquest to 8*l.*; it was a league long, and 6 furlongs broad, and paid 6*d.* 3*q.* to the geld or tax. but though the manor was now in one, it was after divided into the several manors called Hethill, Jerningham's, Penne's, Goldingham's, Ward's, Twait's, and Nevile's; the five first of which now belong to MILES BRANTHWAIT, Esq. and the two last to the city of NORWICH; and all of them have been always held of the Norfolk family, and now are, as of the manor of Forncet.

The whole continued in the BIGODS till HUGH BIGOD, the third Earl of Norfolk of that family, divided it into many parts, and gave the capital manor, called

HETHILL, AND AFTERWARDS CURSON'S MANOR,

TO WILLIAM DE CURSON of Carleton, and it continually attended the manor of Carleton Cursons, as may be seen at p. 101, being held of the manor of Forncet at one fee; and in 1306, it extended into Carleton, Mulbarton, and Swerdeston, and had a lete belonging to it; from the Cursons it passed to the APPLEYARDS of Brakene, and continued with that manor, as you may see at p. 83, 4, and was sold with it and Carleton Cursons, to Tho. Townesend, Esq. who in 1569 had license to alien it to Rowland Heyward, John Langley, and Fraucis Boxyer, and their heirs, as trustees; and about 1601, Tho. Townesend of Brakene, Esq. sold it to Miles Branthwait, Esq. who came and settled here.

JERNEGAN'S, OR JERNINGHAM'S MANOR,

Was sold in 1297, by Ralf de Wedon and Alice his wife, to Will. de Halton; Ralf de Creping held it of ROGER BIGOT Earl of Norfolk, at the fourth part of a fee. It after belonged to Sir Hugh Jernegan, who settled it on John Leiston, who married Joan his daughter and heiress. In 1345, Henry Jernegan had it, and in 1355, John Jernegan; and it had a lete belonging to it. It was purchased by the APPLE-YARDS, and so became united to Hethil manor aforesaid, with which it now remains. In 1609, MILES BRANTHWAIT, Esq. held it of Fornet manor at the 8th part of a fee.

PENNE'S MANOR,

Was granted by HUGH BIGOD aforesaid, to EUSTACE CURSON of Carleton, commonly called Eustace de Carleton, whose son William was knighted, and was commonly known by the name of Sir WILLIAM DE HETHIL, whose son, Sir Bartholomew de Hethil, left two daughters, Alice, the eldest, married to William de la Penne, and Emma the youngest to John de la Penne, the sons of Jeffery de la Penne, who had his life in this manor by their gift; in 1274, they were found lords here, and had a lete belonging to it, and the assize of bread and ale of all their tenants. In 1285, Emma widow of John de la Penne, and Alice her sister, then wife of Ralf le Clerk of Aymondesham, held it at 3 quarters of a fee of the Earl of Norfolk, and it was then found to have liberty of free warren belonging to it; it contained a capital messuage, (now called HETHILL-HALL,) and 237 acres of land adjoining, 10 acres of meadow, 20 acres of wood, 31s. 1d. ob. quitrents, and 4 capons; and extended into Swerdeston, Dunston, Mulbarton Carleton, Brakene, Wrenningham, Nelonde, and Swainsthorp. In 1306, Jeffery de la Penne, had it, and John de Penne released to him that moiety which Emma wife of Bartholomew, son of William, held in dower: Peter de la Penne had it after him; and in 1338, Adam de la Penne conveyed a quarter of a fee of it to Richard de Bitering and Rich. de Bumpstede of Norwich. In 1379, Thomas de la Penne sold his 3d part to BARTH. APPLEYARD, citizen of Norwich, and WILLIAM his brother; and then Adam de la Penne, and Peter de la Penne, and Christian his wife,⁷ sold all their parts in this town only, to APPLEYARD, in whose family it continued till Philip Appleyard, Esq.⁸ sold it to James Atham,⁹ who kept his first court in 1563, and the next year sold it to Thomas Townsend of Brakene, Esq. who sold it to MILES BRANTHWAIT, Esq. who in 1609, held it of Fornet manor at one fee.

⁷ She is called CHRISTIAN DE BOW-
NINGTON, A^o 4 R. II.

⁸ See p. 84, 5, under Brakene.

⁹ See vol. ii. p. 502.

GOLDINGHAM'S MANOR

Was granted by HUGH BIGOD to ALAN DE GOLDINGHAM, with view of frankpledge, and assize of bread and ale of all the tenants; and in 1285, Alan de Goldingham (his son, I suppose,) brought an action against Edmund de Wimundhale and Maud his wife, (Alan's mother, I imagine,) for waste committed in that part of this manor, which the said Maud held in dower, of his inheritance; and in 1315, John de Goldingham owned it, and held part of it of the honour of Eye, and the other part of the Earl of Norfolk. In 1400, Richard de Goldingham had it, who sold it to the Appleyards, and so it became joined to their other manors; in 1609, Miles Branthwait, Esq. held it at one fee of Forncet manor.

WARD'S MANOR,

Or free tenement, anciently belonged to the Raymonds; and in 1306, the heirs of Thomas Raymond had it; and in 1390, John le Ward, who in 1401, conveyed it to Walter Orlage, who was lord in 1432, and in 1461, John Meke had it, whose son John owned it in 1509, and in 1514, his son John paid his relief for it, being 12*d.*; he sold it to William Browne, whose son Robert sold it to Miles Branthwait, Esq. who in 1609, held it of Forncet manor by the 100th part of a fee.

TWAIT'S MANOR

Was granted by Hugh Bygod to Will. de Thweyt, and after belonged to John de Tweyt and Eglantine his wife, who owned it in 1315; in 1318, John de Tweyt settled it on Andrew le Cursou and John de Brakene, who reconveyed it to the said John for life, and John his son, lawfully begotten on Katherine de Bukenham; and for want of his issue, to William his brother, remaindar to Ernald brother of William, and to Jerom brother of Ernald; it then contained 4 messuages, 111 acres of land, and 16*s.* yearly rents; and extended into Wrenningham, Brakene, Mulbarton, Swerdeston, Keteringham, and East-Carleton; and in 1321, he purchased of Bertram le Moneye of Gouthorp, many lands and tenements in Hethill and added them to his manor. In 1345, John son of John de Tweyt was lord. In 1461, it belonged to Thomas Tweyt, from whom it came to the Pains, and in 1511, John Chauntrell farmed it of the Duke of Norfolk, during the minority of John Pain; in 1526, Sir Will. Pennington, Knt. had it, and afterwards Robert Andrews; and in 1556, it belonged to Thomas March and Eliz. his wife, and John March and Frauces his wife, daughters and coheirs of Robert Andrewes; and after this, it came among their children, and Tho. Norton of Brakene, Rob. Bishop, and Ric. Sewal, sold one moiety, and Ric. Catlyn and John Worsley of Norwich, butcher, the other, to John Appleyard, of whom it was purchased by the mayor and commonalty of Norwich, who in 1609 held it of Forncet manor at the 4th part of a fee.

NEVILLE'S MANOR.

Hugh Bygot infeoffed Albert de Novilla, or Nevile in it, who seems to have been concerned in the foundation of Alvesbourn priory in Wodebridge in Suffolk, to which he gave this manor, with the advowson of Carleton St. Mary, as at p. 98; and in 1315, that prior was returned lord of it, and let it at six marks a year. In 1391, Robert Brethenham, prior of Alvesbourn, held it of Forncet manor at half a fee, and paid 5*l.* for a relief, as his predecessors had done, and was taxed at 3*l.* 5*s.* 5*d.* for his temporalities; and this remained with Carleton in Alvesbourn priory till 1424, and then John Duke of Norfolk, Walter Bishop of Norwich, Ralf Shelton, Esq. and John Heydon, counsellor at law, purchased them of John Turnour, prior of St. Mary at Alvesbourn, and the convent there, for the use of John Selot, master of the hospital of St. Giles in Norwich, and his successors, there being then one messuage, 133 acres and one rood of land, one acre and an half of meadow, 10 acres of pasture, 30 acres of wood, and 7*s.* 6*d.* quitrents in Hethill, and two messuages, 119 acres of land, 4 acres of meadow, and 4*l.* quitrents in Carleton,¹ belonging to this manor of Nevile's, which was by this means joined to the

MANOR OF BRITON'S,

AFTERWARDS CALLED

THE HOSPITAL MANOR IN HETHILL,

Which John le Bretun, or Briton, held of Roger Bigod Earl of Norfolk, at whose death the said Roger, in the presence of his brothers Sir Hugh and Sir Ralf Bigod, Knts. about the year 1250, conveyed to Walter de Suthfield Bishop of Hail, (or Hethil;) Carleton, and Nelonde; all which, the Bishop, in 1253, settled on St. Giles's hospital, which he founded:² and at this time also, Ric. de Hethill, and Ralf son of Roger de Hethill, and Ralf son of Reginald de Hethil, gave and confirmed to the hospital, a messuage and 47 acres, and three roods, which formerly belonged to John le Briton;³ and in 1330, other lands here were added by purchase.⁴ This manor was held of the manor of Forncet, by the 4th part of one fee, and the 20th part of another.

These manors, with all the revenues of the city in Carleton, were tied by the mayor, sheriffs, &c. (who received 200*l.* as a consideration for so doing, of Archbishop Parker) to pay annually for ever, a clear rent of 10*l.* 8*s.* whereof, for three exhibitions to three scholars of Benet college, to be named by the mayor and majority of aldermen, out of the schools in Norwich or Aylesham, and the other 40*s.* to be retained yearly by the mayor, to pay to a preacher, yearly to be sent by the college, 6*s.* 8*d.* for a sermon at Thetford, 6*s.* 8*d.* for another at Wimondham, 6*s.* 8*d.* for another at the cathedral, and 10*s.* for a sermon in St. Clement's church in Norwich, and the other 10*s.* to be distributed there, as may be seen at p. 313, vol. iii. where there is an exact account of this donation.⁵

In 1577, I find an agreement between the city and Mr. Thomas Townsend, lord of the other manors, "for the apporcionyng ow't HETHELD GRENE, betwene the cittie and Mr. Townsend, to be "done by Sir Thomas Cornwaleis, Knt. and Mr. Thomas Sotherton, "alderman."⁶

These manors belong now to the mayor, sheriffs, &c. as guardians of St. Giles's hospital; and in that hospital accounts in 1728, among the revenues, I find it entered thus, Manor of EAST-CARLETON cum HETHILL 9l. 10s. 2d. ob. per ann. From EAST-CARLETON cum HETHILL and WREN's Close there, 80l. per ann. out of which paid Archbishop PARKER's yearly annuity to BENNET College in CAMBRIDGE 8l. his sermon at St. CLEMENT's in Ascension week, &c. 2l. 7

The CHURCH of Hayele or Hethill, is dedicated to all the Saints, and had an image of all the saints, and a GILD kept before it, of the same dedication. The RECTOR had a house and 50 acres of glebe, when Norwich Domesday was made. The whole without the portion stood at 18 marks, in the most ancient Valor, but was then raised to 20 marks, and it stands in the King's Books thus: 10l. HETHELL, alias HETHWOLD rectory, 1l. yearly tenths; so that it pays first fruits, and is not capable of augmentation. It paid 16d. Peter-pence, 4d. ob. carvage, 18d. synodals, 6s. 8d. procurations; the monks of THETFORD had a portion of tithes here, valued at 13s. 4d. given them by Roger Bigod, their founder,⁸ out of his demesns; Windham abbey had lands here of the gift of William de Albani,⁹ valued at 40s. per annum; in 1528, Richard Amore of Norwich, priest, gave three acres of grove by the parsonage in Hethill, to be sold to find a light before the image of All-Saints in Hethill and our Lady at Brakene, and one acre in Forthbrigge, to the maintenance of the PERKE' light for ever. It paid clear to every tenth, 2l. 4s.

The advowson was never aliened from the Norfolk family, but attended the inheritance of it, belonging to their manor of Fornet, till the Earl of Arundel sold it to Thomas Townsend, Esq. who joined it to his manors, with which it still continues.

HUGH BIGOD Earl of Norfolk, granted to HERVY the land which Roger de Constantine held of the lay-fee, and the land which Helias his mace-bearer held in Hethill, by the service of being his wheelwright; witnesses were Henry Bigot his brother, Roger his bastard son, and Hugh his son, William de Nevile his constable, Sulim his sewer, &c.

In 1277 it appears that the manor of Cursons was obliged to find a certain quantity of oil for the lamps in the church, and chapel of the manor-house, and a certain number of loaves to distribute to the poor

LITTLE WRENINGHAM,

As it was afterwards called, lies in Domesday Book by the name of WASINCHAM and WALSINCHAM, and was formerly in two parts; KETEL the Dane had the biggest part in the Confessor's time;* and at the Conqueror's survey, WARINE held it of RALF PEVERELL, and the church had 60 acres of glebe; and ROGER BIGOD's manor had six freemen who held 130 acres.⁷ Both these united early in the Bigods, who infeoffed the whole in the THORPS of Ashwellthorp, with which it hath passed to this day, and therefore I shall refer you to my account of the manor of Ashwellthorp.

The CHURCH was dedicated to St. Mary, and in Norwich Domesday, Sir Robert de Thorp, son of Sir John, was the patron; it then belonged to the rectory of Ashwell-Thorp, and the rector had no house in this town, but one at Thorp only; but it having all the signs and properties of a mother church, it was separated from Thorp, and became a parochial chapel, and independent rectory, valued at 20 shillings, and paid 12*d.* procurations, 8*d.* synodals, 7*d.* Peter-pence, and 2*d.* ob. carvage.

NELONDE,

Called Newland, Nayland, and Nailyng, and in Domesday EILAND, or the land at the eye or island. Roger Bigod was lord of it at the Conquest,⁸ Earl Eustace had another part of it,⁹ and Earl Hugh a third, as a berewic to his manor of Fundenhall.¹ They all united in the Bygods, who infeoffed the BRITONS, and John le Briton infeoffed the manor and advowson in John son of Henry de Thorp, who recovered the advowson against John le Briton, on an action brought in 1256; and from that time to this, it passed with the Ashwellthorp estate, and is now a member of Great Wreningham manor, to which town this village was annexed in 1414.

1414, the perpetual united rectory of NELONDE and WRENINGHAM-PARVA, was annexed and perpetually united to the perpetual united rectory of the mediocities of Great Wreningham, and so continue as one consolidated rectory at this time.

When Norwich Domesday was made, Sir Robert son of Sir John de Thorp, was patron; the rector had a house and 19 acres of glebe, it was first valued at 4, after at 5 marks, but was not taxed; it paid 4s. procurations, 2s. synodals, 12d. Peter-pence, and 2d. carvage. Belhouse-hall stood in this parish, and there were 74 acres and an half of land in demean adjoining to it; two parts of the tithes of which, belonged to EYE priory, for which that house was taxed at 10s. The temporals of the Prior of St. Faith were taxed at 2s. 1d. The church was demolished at the Reformation; it lies between Wreningham and Ashwellthorp, and is called the Old Churchyard.

REGINALD SON OF HUGH DE NELONDE, and in 1259, Bartholomew son of Will. de Nelonde, had a free-tenement here, with divers services and rents belonging to it; but it long since was purchased by the Thorps, and added to Belhouse manor.

In 1283, it was found that the LETE of Nelonde belonged to the Prior of Windham and Robert de Tateshale;² and in 1284, upon a suit commenced about it, the Prior proved that it belonged to his monastery, of the gift of William le Buteler, in the time of King Henry 1. and that that King confirmed it to his monastery, with the assise of bread and ale, &c. of all their tenants here, and in Brakene.

WRENINGHAM-MAGNA

HAD two manors in it, which included that, and the greatest part of Nelonde; the manors of NERFORD'S and BELHOUSE-HALL; the site of the former was in Nelonde parish, where the ancient family of Belhouse resided, and the site of the latter was in this parish.

² WYMONDHAM Dne. Regine ex parte Nelonde. LETA 10 OCT. 1638.

The keyward for the part aforesaid, doth not gather any rents, but in the town of Wreningham cum Nelonde. The COMMONS in the said towns are the upper and lower Greens, and certain spots lying at the ends of their lands called Spongfield and Lodgefield, in all about 150 acres, on which the tenants in Wreningham and Nelonde only, have the commonage or feeding the cattle, with the privilege of digging clay and gravel, and cutting furze, at all times, for their necessary uses. And it was found, that Sir THOMAS RICHARDSON, then Lord

Chief Justice of the King's Bench, and lord of STANFIELD in Windham, had an enclosure made upon the west end of Wreningham Green, which was presently laid open by the lord of Wreningham cum Nelonde, and so remains; and it was found, that the inhabitants of Windham and Ashwellthorp, who had been oftentimes wrongful commoners or overchargers, were punished from time to time, in the Lord's court of Wreningham, for such offences committed.

Ex Autog. Indorsed, "the Verdict of the Tenants of Wreningham cum Nelonde, upon Sir THO. HATTON'S Inquisition of our commons."

THE MANOR OF BELHOUSE-HALL

Belonged to LEVOLT, a thane of the Confessor's³ and at the Conquest was given to HERMER, of whom VAGAN held it; it had a church and 10 acres of glebe; the lete or superiour jurisdiction belonged to the King and the Earl of Norfolk; it was worth at the first survey 60s. and at the last 80s. per annum. Great Wreningham (including Nelonde) was one league long, and half a league broad, and paid 10*d.* to the geld or tax. And Little Wreningham was six furlongs long, and five broad, and paid 6*d. ob. q.* to the geld.⁴ This manor was in the Norfolk family, and was by one of them, given to the Creykes, and Sir Jeffery de Creyke gave it with the moiety of the advowson, to Sir THO. DE BELHOUSE, Knt.⁵ who came and settled in the manor-house of his own building, and was succeeded by Sir Richard his son and heir, who was lord in 1280, and held it at half a fee of the heirs of CREKE, who held it of the Earl-Marshall. This Sir Richard sold the mediety of the advowson, to Robert son of Sir John de Thorp, who gave it to Carrow abbey. In 1383, Sir Robert, son of John de Thorp, by the name of Sir Robert Fitz-John of Ashwellthorp, obtained a charter of freewarren, in all his lands here. In 1384, the manor was infeoffed in Peter de Brompton or Brampton, and by him in Robert de Salleford, who released it to Sir Robert aforesaid, in trust for Sir Richard de Belhus, who died in 1300, and Sarah his wife had it for life; and Thomas his son and heir had the manors of West Bilney, Bodney, Tudenhams, Faldegate, &c. Sir Richard de Belhus, his son, was lord after him, but dying without issue male, the manor came to the share of JOHN BOSUN or BOZUN of Wissingsete in Norfolk, Esq. whose father William, married Maud second daughter and coheir of this Sir Richard Belhuse, Knt. and in 1415, Edmund Oldhall and John Drew, parson of Harpsey, feoffees of Boznu, conveyed this manor to Sir Edmund de Thorp, Knt. and his heirs, and so it became part of the estate of that family, and hath continued with it ever since. The finis are arbitrable, and the manor hath free-warren by the charter of Edward I.

NERFORD'S MANOR

Belonged to the BIGOTS,⁶ and was by them infeoffed with the moiety of the advowson in the CREKES, who separated the manor into two parts, that which the mediety attended, was held at half a fee of the Earl Warren, by Sir RICHARD DE NERFORD, who sealed with three fusils in fess *erm.*⁷ he left it to Christian his widow, and she to Sir Robert de Nerford their son, and Alice his wife, founders of the religious house called St. Mary de Prè or de Pratis,⁸ from its situation in the meadows between Burnham-Thorp, and North-Creyk, to which house they gave the mediety of the advowson; and the Bishop appropriated it without any vicarage reserved; so that during the appropriation, the rector of the other mediety served it as their chaplain; this was about 1206. She was succeeded by her son William, who sealed with a lion rampant er. and Alice his wife, daughter of John le Moigne, or Moneye, with a de-lis or, and they sold it to Sir JOHN DE THORP, with their part of

The CHURCH is dedicated to all the Saints; the Abbot of CREYK had one mediety appropriated to his house, to which belonged a house and 16 acres of glebe, and a small manor;¹ it had no vicarage endowed, the rector serving the whole cure, had a pension of 40s. per annum out of it, which was not taxed; the Prioress of CARROW was

The soil of the northern part of this hundred, is light and sandy, that of the southern more rich and heavy, the whole is enclosed, though the southern part hath more wood than the other, but there is no great quantity in any part of it.

N. B. The COUNTY raises yearly, either a 300*l.* quarterly levy, which is 1200*l.* each year; or a 450*l.* quarterly levy, which is 1800*l.* a year; or a 600*l.* quarterly levy, which raises 2400*l.* a year. All which is in the disposition of the justices of the peace, to be employed as the act directs. I have inserted only the 600*l.* quarterly levy on each parish, because the 300*l.* levy is always half as much, and the 450*l.* levy is three quarters of the 600*l.* levy.

HUNDRED OF DEPWADE.

THE hundred of Depwade takes its name from the DEPE-FORD¹ over the river by Taseburgh, which though now of no great remark, in early days was otherwise; the river Tais being then very broad, and fordable in no place in this hundred, but here only. The HUNDRED is bounded on the north, by the hundreds of Humbleyard and Forehoe; on the east, by Hensted and Loddon; on the west, by Shropham; and on the south, by Diss and Earsham hundreds. The fee of it was in the Crown, till King Richard I. gave it to GUNDED the Countess; Roger son of Will. had it after; and in 1225, King Henry III. gave it for life to Roger de Hadisco; and in 1249, it was valued at nine marks a year; in 1274 it was in Edward the First's hands, and was worth 6l. per annum clear; and this King settled it on John de Clavering for a term of years; and in 1315, Edward II. assigned it to Sir Walter de Norwich; but in 1327, Edward III. granted it to Sir John de Clavering, with Cossey, &c. and his heirs;² since which time, the inheritance of it attended Cossey, and was afterwards sold by divers of the lords there; the several lords of the manors purchased the royalties and letes belonging to their manors; by which means the hundred court failed. This HUNDRED paid 63*l.* 13*s.* 11*s.* clear to every tenth, and now raises annually to the land tax at 4*s.* in the pound, 3057*l.* 14*s.* 9*d.* viz.

The annual payment of each town in this HUNDRED to the land tax, at 4*s.* in the pound.

This HUNDRED being so near Norwich, it hath not any place where there is a market now kept. The soil is rich and well enclosed, and hath much wood and timber in it, but the roads (as a necessary consequence of good land) are dirty and bad.

CARLETON - RODE.

THIS village, to distinguish it from many other of the same name in this county, hath the addition of RODE fixed to it, from a remarkable RODE or cross standing in Rode-lane, where the road from Wimondham to Diss laid.

The CHURCH is dedicated to all the Saints, and hath a square tower and five bells; there are two isles with chapels at their east ends, the chancel and nave are thatched. When NORWICH DOMESDAY was wrote, ROBERT FITZ OSBERT was patron; the rector had a house and 26 acres of glebe, which joins to the north side of the churchyard; the living, with the portion of the prior of SEES, was valued at 26 marks,³ paid 3s. 9d. procurations, 4s. synodals, 13d. ob. Peter-pence, carvage 2d. and now stands thus in the King's Books,

16l. CARLETON RODE Rect. - - 48l. clear yearly value,

As sworn; so that it is discharged of first fruits and tenths, and is capable of augmentation.

Here were GILDS of our Lady, St. Peter, and St. John the Baptist; and in 1502, the tower was finished, and the bells fixed.

There was a free-chapel in this town, dedicated to the Virgin Mary, the way which leads to it is still called Chapel-gate-lane, but it hath been long since demolished.

On the steeple wall is this,

He was presented by Sir ROGER, son of Sir Walter de Norwich, Knt. on whom this advowson was entailed by fine levied about 1320, when John Noyon and Peter Jernegan, and Catherine, relict of Roger Fitz-Osbert, settled it on Sir Walter de Norwich and Catherine his wife, and Roger their son.

In 1472, Edmund Cok was buried in this church, and gave a legacy to the chapel of the blessed Virgin Mary in this town.

At the Conquest, this town was in five parts, the first and principal part belonged to ROGER BIGOT's manor of Fornset,⁵ and was held of

The second part belonged to Tibenham manor, which ALRIC a thane of the Confessor's held, and was given to EUDO son of Spiruwin, who held it at the Conqueror's survey, and Hainfrid under him.⁷ CARLETON was then two miles and an half long, and one mile and a quarter and four perches broad, and paid 22*d.* to the GELD or tax. This part was after aliened from Tibenham manor, and joined to Carleton; and accordingly in 1550, Thomas, son and heir of Edmund Knevet, held a parcel of the manor of Tibenham lying in Carleton-Rode. And hence it is, that as all the manors are united, and joined to BUNWELL and CARLETON, with their members,⁸ that TIBENHAM is always mentioned. This part was very early joined to BOKENHAM castle, which it always attended till sold from it by the Knevets;⁹ and accordingly in Henry the Third's time, 1257, that King granted to Robert de Tateshale, Lord of Bukenham Castle, liberty of free-warren in his demean lands in this town,¹ and King Rich. II. in 1394, confirmed it to Constantine de Clifton his heir; and in 1275, King Edw. I. granted view of frankpledge or a lete, and assize of bread and ale of all his tenants in Tibenham and Carleton, for which he paid 3*s.* per annum to DEPEWADE hundred.

The third part belonged to William de Warren, who had it of the king's gift, and ALMAR a freeman held it in the Confessor's time under Bishop Stigand;² this afterwards became the manor called BUKENHAM'S.

The fourth part belonged to ALAN Earl of Richmond,³ as appendant to his manor of COSSEY,⁴ and made part of the manor of Carleton.

The fifth part belonged to the manor of Howe, which GODRIC the sewer took care of for the King.⁵ And this was the state of the village at the Conqueror's survey. The capital manor called

CARLETON MANOR,

Contained that part and advowsons, which OSLAC had of the BIGOTS, and that part which belonged to Cossey, the former of which was always held of the Norfolk family, and the latter, of the honour of Richmond,⁶ to which the King's part was afterwards added, when MAUD, mother of King Henry II. gave it to GUNDRED the Countess, the whole being then worth 10*l. per annum.* That Countess infeoffed the whole in one OSBERT, and Petronel or Parnel, his wife, the father and mother of Roger Fitz Osbert, founder of St. Olave's in Herlingfleet, about 1216; and he, by Maud his wife, left OSBERT his son, who gave 40 acres in Tibenham, to the church of St. Olave, with his body to be buried there, leaving PETER FITZ-OSBERT his son and heir, who gave the advowson of Witlingham to the church of Saint Olave, and dying in 1275, was buried there, as was Beatrice his wife in 1278, leaving this manor and others, to their son Roger, who passed sometimes by the name of Fitz-Osbert, sometimes Le Fitz-Osbert, or Oubern, and is often called Roger son of Peter, son of OSBERT,⁷ he died in 1305; CATHERINE his widow survived him, and held it for life; she presented twice to this rectory. At her death it was to descend to the heirs of the two sisters and heiresses of ROGER aforesaid, viz. Sir PETER JERNEGAN,* son of Sir Will. Jernegan, by ISABEL, sister of the said ROGER, and to JOHN NUIN, or NOION, (now Nun.) of Salle in Norfolk, son and heir of ALICE the other sister of the said ROGER, and they about 1320, by fine, settled the manor and advowson on

Sir WALTER DE NORWICH, and CATHERINE his wife,⁸ and ROGER their son and his heirs, together with the manor and advowson of Bunwell Perse-hall, all which, have passed together to this day.

RODE-HALL MANOR

In Carleton-Rode, took its name from the owners, who were surnamed from the RODE or cross they dwelt by. In 1237 WALTER DE RODE held it a quarter of a fee of Roger Fitz-Osbert, he of the Earl-Marshal, and he of the King. In 1271, Ralf, father of Walter, released all right to Walter: It after belonged to William de Rode, called also de Carleton; and in 1358, to Benedict de Uvedale and Johr de Carleton-Rode, and then to Robert de Rode;⁹ and in 1402, Will. Woodherd had it, and after him Robert Morton, Esq.; and in 1470, I find it in Henry son and heir of JOHN HEYDON, Esq. who joined it to his other manor here, called

BOKENHAM'S IN CARLETON-RODE,

Which took its name also from its owners; in 1279, ROBERT DE BUKENHAM died seized, leaving it to ISOLDA his wife, who claimed the guardianship of their son, against John de Hastyngs, Roger Bigot, William Ross, and Maud his wife, William de Nerford and Petronel his wife, and Robert de Caston, all claiming the same, on account of lands held of them by the heir. It appears that this manor had then two acres of meadow in demean, 100 acres of wood, four hens paid for rent, 64 days work in harvest, done by the tenants, pannage for 84 hogs, and liberty for 80 men, and two servants appointed by the lord to look after them, to gather nuts for six days together in the woods belonging to the manor of Lopham. In 1404, Agnes wife of Tho. de Lye, had a third part of it, and conveyed it to John de Colby; and afterwards all the parts were bought in by John Heydon, Esq. and in 1479, Henry Heydon his son, held these manors joined as aforesaid at the death of John, together with Bosevile's manor in Bunwell, to which I refer you.

In 1544, I find a fine levied of the third part of the manor of BEAUCHAMP'S or BEACHAM'S, which was settled by Rob. Newport, Esq. and Margaret his wife (in whose right he had it) on Sir JOHN CLERE, Knt. This belongs to BEACHAM'S manor in Wimondham, which extended hither. (See vol. ii. p. 506.)

The lords of the honour of CLARE, had lands here held of them. In 1438, JOHN Duke of Bedford died seized of two COURTS called Turns, and one COURT called Lete, to be held yearly in the village of Carleton-Rode. (Esch. No. 36, 14 H. VI.) and the whole lands held of that honour were extended or valued at half a fee.

In 1570, return was made that Thomas Knyvet, junior, James Hubbard, Gent. Anthony Denny, Gent. Robert Grey, Rob. Jexe, and John Randolph were lords here, and that the honour of RICHMOND and the Earl of ARUNDEL were chief lords of the commons.

In 1699, the manor of Richmond's, formerly the Talbot's, is mentioned, and said to belong to Mr. William Jubbs, and then to Mr. Martin; but finding this never named elsewhere, am apt to think, that they only hired the property of Richmond honour.

The religious concerned here were, the prior of Norwich, whose temporals were taxed at 4s. those of the Prior of Bukenham at 2s. 9d. and those of the Prior of Wangford, at 6d. ob. q.

BUNWELL.

THIS town is not so much as once called by this name in Domesday Book, but that of Haber-tan, or the Holy Stone, from some remarkable stone cross erected there; but it soon after became to be called by the name of Bunwell, which was a hamlet belonging to it; BUNWELL signifies Fons Rivuli, or the Rivulet's Head, and accordingly the situation of the place answers it, for that part of the town which is distinguished, by this name, from the other manors, hath the fountain or head of a small rivulet arising in it, which passing southwards, is called Bunwell-Beck, running at the entrance into Tacolneston common, and thence by Stanhowe bridge,¹ to Aslacton and Forncet. This town comprehends several villas, berewicks, or lesser hamlets, mentioned in the style of the court baron, and which now are the several manors, viz. Bunwell Haddeston, Bosevil's, Perishall, and Banyard's; all which are in the bounds of this parish, and besides these, the style of the court runs, Carleton, Tibenham, cum Membris; all which lie in the parishes of Tibenham and Carleton, which see.

The CHURCH is dedicated to St. Michael the archangel, and had 30 acres of glebe belonging to it at the Conquest, when there were three manors, to each of which, a part of the advowson belonged, but Roger Fitz-Peter Fitz-Osbert bought a part of Walkeline de Bosevile; so that he had one moiety, and Sir Robert Banyard the other.

When Norwich Domesday was made, Rob. Fitz-Osborn was patron, and the rector had a house and 40 acres of glebe; it was first valued at 20 marks, after at 30 without the portion; and the portion of the prior of Lewes was first laid at six, after at ten marks, and consisted of two third parts of the great tithes, of all the demesans of Bosevile's manor, which were given to the monks of Castleacre, (a cell to Lewes in Sussex, by Walkeline de Bosevile, and Lady Agatha de Bosevile, and Pandulf Bishop of Norwich confirmed the agreement, made by the judges assigned by the Pope for this purpose, on a suit between the monks of Acre, and Alan de Beccles, rector here,² that the rector and his successours, should for ever receive all the tithes of all the demesans and tenants of Bosevile's manor, paying to Castleacre convent 30*d.* every Easter, and 30*d.* every Michaelmas; which is paid at this day by the rector, to the Duke of Norfolk, in right of the dissolved monastery of Castleacre, which was granted to his family at the Dissolution. The portion of Sees monastery was first taxed at 10*s.* after, at 13*s.* 4*d.* then by composition between the monastery and rector, reduced to 6*s.* 8*d.* pension, which is also paid by the rector at this time, to the aforesaid Duke. The procurations were 6*s.* 8*d.* synodals 2*s.* 2*d.* Peter-pence 10*d.* carvage 6*d.* and the town paid clear to each tenth 5*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* It stands thus in the King's Books,

And not being discharged, is capable of augmentation. The spirituals of the Prior of St. Olave were one mark, his temporals 3s. and the temporals of the Prior of Bukenham were 4s. 11d.

1731, The Rev. Mr. James Baldwin, the present rector, holds it united to Carleton. JOHN BUXTON, Esq. (see p. 127.)

The CHURCH is a neat lightsome building, having a nave only, which with the south porch is covered with lead; the chancel is tiled, and hath a decayed vestry on the north side; the tower is square, and a neat structure, and was finished about 1520. In 1505, William Taylor of Haddeston, a hamlet of Bunwell, was buried in the churchyard, and bequeathed "toward the making of the stepill of Bonwell every yere "whan the masons work upon it, 6s. 8d. till the sum of 33s. 4d. be "paid." There was a brass plate fixed in a stone on the west side, but it is now lost; as is the following inscription preserved by Mr. Weever, fo. 814.

Of your Charity pray for the Soul of John Garosse and Margaret his Wife, on whose Souls Jesu have Mercy Amen.

1724, November 15, the widow Richards was buried here, aged one hundred and eleven years.

In the chancel on the north side, is a stone for Mr. John Blake, Aug. 21, 1686, Æt. 64, and the arms of BLAKE with a de-lis for difference on it, as in vol. i. p. 48.

Sir Sim. Socelye had a pension granted him out of the revennes of Metyngham college in this town, by Henry VIII. I suppose he was one of the last fellows there; he was buried here in August 1555, and Mr. Andrews, the Prince's servant, had another pension; but he was buried here soon after the grant.

In 1479, JOHN BUKKE purchased eight acres and one rood freehold in Springfield in Bunwell, and by will dated in 1497, gave it for ever to the parish of Bunwell, to help the poor in discharging the King's taske, and other charges when they fall; he is buried at Bunwell, gave 35s. to adorn our Lady's tabernacle and the herse of the Sepulchre of our LORD in the church. These are town lands at this day.

In 1498, IDONEA, wife of John Bukke, confirmed to John Heydon and other feoffees, her husband's gift, of 7 acres in one peice at Blome's Close by Does in Bunwell, and 1 acre 1 rood, in one peice in Bunwell at Northaugh.

1546, WILL BRET, according to the will of Simon Rede of Bunwell infeofed Henry Lincoln and others, in 3 acres of land lying in Windham, by the land of the gild of St. John Baptist in Besthorp, &c. to the sole use of the inhabitants of Bunwell, towards paying the tenths and *fifteenth*s of the said parish, to the King, and relief of the poor.

In 1581, WILLIAM and JOHN INGRAM, brothers, settled one acre in Bunwell, to the use of the poor.

In 1629, NAT. WADESORTH, rector, and WILL. BRET, settled two acres of pasture lying in Carleton, either towards paying the taske, repairing the church, relieving honest poor people, or any other charges needful to be defrayed by the parishioners of Bunwell,

There are two cottages with a rood of ground to each, which belong to the parish.

In 1546, among the town accounts ⁶ is this entered " Paid to John Warde for beating down the altars one day and half 11d. and " received of Will. Rysyng for the high altar 16d. (for the stone, I " suppose, that covered it); 1554, paid for the pix image 6d."

HADESTON, BAINARD'S, OR BANIARD'S-HALL

Was the principal manor in this town, and belonged to TORN a Dane in the Confessor's time, and at the Conqueror's survey, GAOSERID or GODEFRIDE held it under RALF BAINARD; there belonged to two villeins, two bordars or copyholders, 4 servants to manage the demesns, which then contained two carucates, besides 15 acres of meadow, and wood that would maintain 20 swine, 190 sheep, and one hive of bees; at the first survey it was worth 5*l.* a year, and at the second 10*l.* 12*s.* There were at the first survey, 18 freemen, reduced to 12 at the second, and they were worth 28*s.* in yearly rents paid to the manor; the whole town was four miles and one furlong long, and two miles and 15 perches broad, and paid 9*d.* to the geld.'

As this manor, for the most part, passed with the manor of Merton, till THO. DE GREY, Esq. the present lord of Merton, sold it with the moiety of the advowson, to the BUXTONS, who joined it to their other manors here, I need only refer you to the account of Merton at vol. ii. p. 298.

ROBERT BAYNARD gave two parts of the tithes of this manor, to the monks of Lewes; Fulk Bainard held it at one fee of Robert Fitz-Walter, as of his manor of Hemenhale, and confirmed his father's grant to the monks of Lewes. JOHN Prior of Lewes, released 60 acres in Merton, and one messuage to Fulk, and he released to the prior, and confirmed the advowsons of Merton and East-Riston, and the two parts of the tithes of Hadeston demesns; he paid 28*s.* every 20 weeks, for castle-guard to Baynard castle, for Merton, and this manor, and had assise of bread and ale and weyf belonging to it.

In 1371, Sir ROGER GREY of Merton, Knt. ordered his feoffees (see vol. ii. p. 302) to sell this manor to raise portions for his two daughters; and accordingly, they, jointly with the consent of Sir Thomas Grey, parson of Wethersfield, in 1389, sold it for 200 marks, to THO. Duke of Gloucester and his heirs, Thomas Archbishop of York, Robert Bishop of London, Ric. Earl of Arundel, Thomas Earl of Warwick, and others, his feoffees; and in 1303, the said Duke of Gloucester obtained a royal license, to settle an annuity of 10 marks a year, on the abbey of Walden,⁷ but the settlement was never completed. In 1398, Ric. II. granted it to Edmund de Langley Duke of York,⁸ as part of the possessions of the Duke of Gloucester, attained; it afterwards belonged to John Stukley in right of his wife Phillippa, daughter and heiress of John Mohun Lord of Dunster, widow of Edmund

In 1536, the manor of Whitwell-Hall in Skeyton, was held by Thomas Sterne, of Grace Catesbye, as of her manor of Bainard's Hall in Bunwell, which she held in jointure. In 1543, Fawce's manor in Easton,¹ was held by Gilbert Talbot, of Edmund Grey, as of his manor of Bainard's Hall.

In 1566, ROBERT GREY held this manor of the Earl of Sussex, as of his manor of Atleburgh, by one fee. In 1611, Robert Kemp, Esq. of Gissing, held his manor of Burnet's of this manor; and in 1742, the quitrents of the manor of Bainard's-Hall in Hadeston, were 22*l.* 14*s.* 4*d.* q. a year.

The ancient BAYNARDS upon losing their barony of Baynard's castle, for rebellion against Henry I. had it given from them to the ancestors of the Fitz-Walters, as at vol. ii. p. 299. But this manor being granted to a younger branch before the forfeiture, it was never forfeited, though these Baynards bare their arms differing only in colour from the Fitz-Walters, their chief lords; as the Fitz-Walters did from the Clare family, whence they descended, from whose arms they only varied by a fess between two chevrons, instead of three chevrons born by the Earls of Clare, and in like manner the Cornherds or Cornberths, in imitation of the Baynards, their capital and chief lords, bare the same arms, only varied in colour, and often quartered them with the Baynards; but when Sir Thomas de Grey, Knt. married the heiress of Sir Richard de Cornherd, Knt. he laid aside the paternal coat of Grey, and he and all his descendants always used Cornherd's as their own, except Tho. de Grey, clerk, who always bare the ancient family arms of Grey, with a mullet; and when their son Tho. de Grey, Knt. married Isabel, daughter and coheir of Fulk Baynard of Merton, the GREYS ever since bare Bainard quartered with Cornherth, as follows:

HADESTON, FITZ-OSBERT'S, PETER'S-HALL,

PERER's, commonly called PERSE-HALL manor in Bunwell, took its name from PETER FITZ-OSBERT, its lord; AILWIN of Thetford was lord of it in Edward the Confessor's time, and ROB. DE CURCUN held it of Roger Bigot at the Conqueror's survey, when it had a mill, 21 bordars, wood for 46 swine;² the tenants could sell their lands, conditionally that they reserved the lords services; the church had 30 acres of glebe, two acres and an half of meadow, and half a carucate, the soc or superiour jurisdiction over the manor, belonged jointly to the King and Earl, and the manor in the first survey was valued at 40s. and afterwards at 70s.; but as it passed with Carleton manor to Walter de Norwich, as at p. 129, I need not repeat it, but refer you thither; it was held of the Earl-Marshal at 1 fee, and had free-warren allowed in cire, to Roger Fitz-Osbert, its lord; in 1287,

Sir WALTER DE NORWICH being seized, left it to Sir John his son, who confirmed it for life to CATHERINE his mother, and after her decease, to the master and chaplains of the college of St. Mary at Raveningham, of his own foundation, to whom he gave his castle at Metyngham in Suffolk, to which he ordered them to translate their college or chantry, and his own and ancestors bones; he gave them part of his estate to increase the number of their fellows from 8 to 13; he first founded them at Raveningham in 1342, translated them in 1350 to Norton Supecors, and in 1394, they removed and fixed their college at Metyngham; Sir John Plays, Sir Robert Howard, Sir John Boys, Knts. John Wollerton and Elias Bintre, clerks, having obtained license for that purpose in 1382, though they could not settle it before: they were executors to Sir JOHN son of Sir Walter de Norwich,³ and grandson to Sir JOHN the founder of Raveningham. But notwithstanding this, it being settled at the purchase on Sir Walter de Norwich and Catherine his wife, and Roger their son, for life; the said John had it and presented in 1349 and 1357, and held it in 1371 at one fee, by the name of HADISTON manor, alias PERYSHALL in Bunwell, Carleton, and Tibenham; with the advowson of Carleton, and the mediety of the advowson of Bunwell; and John de Norwich, son of Walter, was his heir; and in 1374, Katherine de Breouse, or Brewee, cousin and heir of Sir John de Norwich, junior, Knt. viz. daughter and heiress of Thomas, brother to Sir John, father of Sir Walter, son of Sir John Norwich, junior, settled it with Ling, Metyngham castle, and others, on Sir John Plays, &c. and Miles Stapleton, executors of Sir John Norwich, junior, and feeffees to her; and in 1394, they settled on the chantry of Norton-Subcross, 3 messuages, 86 acres of land, 5 acres of marsh, 6 acres of aldercarr, 12 acres of reed-harth, and 4s. rent, in Raveningham, Norton-Subcross, and Metyngham, and the moiety of the advowson, and the manor of Pereshall in Bunwell; and thus

JOHN LE NEVE, the last master of Raveningham chantry at Norton-Subcross, became lord of this manor, and patron of the mediety of this church; and in 1425, Master THOMAS WHITEHEAD, and he in 1442, by Master THOMAS BOWBRIGG, alias Shaer, on whose death in 1448, WILLIAM FRANSHAM was elected, and died in 1480, and ROBERT WRIGHT, priest, had it; and in 1493, RIC. BRAUNCHE, and in 1520, RIC. SHELTON, who died in 1530, and THO. MANNING, suffragan bishop of Ipswich, succeeded; he was the last master.

This college was granted, with the revenues thereto belonging, to the DENNEYS, and in 1547, Anthony Denney, Esq. one of the privy council, had it; and in 1560, John Denney, Esq. in 1619, Thomas Denney; and in 1620, Firmian Denney, Gent. It was after purchased by the BUXTONS, with the moiety of the advowson, and joined to their manor of Carleton, &c. The quitrents in 1742, were 19*l.* 14*s.* per annum.

HADESTON, BOSEVILE'S MANOR,

Belonged to OSBERN at the Confessor's survey, and to ROGER FITZ-RENARD at the Conqueror's; in Osbern's time it was worth 20*s.* and in Roger's 40*s.*⁵ Fitz-Renard's issue assumed the name of HADESTON, and WILLIAM DE HADESTON, lord here, held it of the Earl Warren, as did William his son, who died young and without issue, leaving his sisters his heirs, viz. ALICE, married to William Muleton, and CATHERINE to Roger Talbot, who all released their rights in 1198, to AGATHA DE HADESTON, their sister, who the year following, married to WALKELINE DE BOSEVILE; and Ric. Turburn and Margaret his wife, released also their part to their sister Agatha, by which means Walkeline became possessed of the whole manor. He was succeeded by his son William, and he in 1218, by Robert his brother, who held it at one fee of the Earl Warren; he confirmed to the monks of Castleacre, two parts of the tithes of his demean lands here, and of his lands in Tibenham and Westhache, which his ancestors gave to that monastery. In 1297, Will. de Bosevile had it, and held it of William de Mortimer, who held it of the Earl Warren. In 1314, Margery, widow of William, settled it on Robert de Bosevile and Joan his wife, who seems to have been a BOYS; John de Boys, junior, and Ralf de St. Omer, parson of Brundale, being concerned in the settlement. In 1345, Robert Bosevile held it of Constantine Mortimer; it was after that Adam Bosvile's in 1363. In 1403, Sir Robert Noon had it,⁶ and in 1417, Sir Henry Noon, Knt. and after him Sir John Heydon, who died seized in 1479, when he held it of Mortimer's manor of Atleburgh; he was succeeded by Henry Heydon, Esq. his son, who held it with the manors of Bukenham's and Rodehall in Carleton-Rode. In 1570, they belonged to Sir Christopher Heydon, and were left by him to JAMES HUBBERT, Sir Christopher being bound thereto, by the grandfather of the said James. In 1588, it appears by a survey then made, that James Hubbert, junior, Esq. was lord of the several manors of Hadeston, Boscwells, Rodehall, Bukenham's, Whitwells, and Launds; all which were joined, their court being kept at Bunwell, and the style of the court was, BUNWELL, CARLETON, and TIBENHAM cum membris; the two first being in Bunwell, the two second in Carleton, and the two last in Tibenham; the whole rents were about 44*l. per annum*. In 1597, HENRY HOBART, Esq. conveyed them to JOHN HOBART, Gent.; they belonged to JOHN BUXTON, Esq. of Chanons in Tibenham in 1623, and after him to ROBERT BUXTON, whose widow HANNAH owned them in 1678, and her son Robert Buxton, Esq. had them, who was succeeded by John Buxton, Esq. father of ROBERT BUXTON, Esq. the present lord of all the manors in this town, and sole patron of this church.

THORP'S MANOR IN BUNWELL

Was originally part of Fitz-Osbert's manor, which was separated by Roger Fitz-Peter Fitz-Osbert, who settled half a fee here, on SARAH his first wife, and her heirs; she was heiress of Sir Bartholomew de Creke, Knt. son of Sir Robert de Creke, lord of North-Creke in Norfolk, and died in 1285, and Sir JOHN DE THORP of Ashwellthorp, Knt. was one of her cousins and heirs, and had this allotted to his share, and obtained liberty of free-warren to it of Edw. I. and in 1314 he settled it on himself and Alice his wife, in tail; and in 1324, they held it of Bainard's manor by the service of 5*s.* a year, and the rents were then 3*l.* 10*s.* per annum, and Robert de Thorp, his son and heir, was 30 years old, and lady Beatrix, widow of the said Robert, held the third part in dower, and from this time it constantly attended Ashwellthorp.

It was settled by Sir EDMUND DE THORP, senior, on Thomas de Thorp, his second son, with remainder to Sir Edmund Thorp, Knt. his eldest son. In 1406, Sir Thomas Jernegan had it, and had a charter of confirmation of free-warren;⁷ in 1414, Sir Thomas de Thorp ordered it to be sold or to go with Eliz. his daughter. In 1550, James Downes and Elizabeth his wife had it, when Roger Woodhouse, Robert Riechers, Thomas Asteley, and Mary his wife, conveyed divers parts of it to him; in 1272, Robert Downes was lord, who joined it to his manor of BEACHAM'S or BEAUCHAMP'S in Wimondham, with which it still remains.

There was an ancient family surnamed DE BONEWELL, for in 1268, William, son of Jeffery, son of Richer de Bonewell, gave to MILES, prior of Lewes, a rent of 2s. 6d. out of his lands in Bonewell, by deed dated at Bukenham castle, in the presence of Richard de Purl, constable of that castle, and others. They continued a long time in the neighbourhood, for in 1482, William, son and heir of Richard Bonewell of Carteton-Rode, conveyed to Thomas Chamberlain, Gent. and others, divers lands in Carteton-Rode.

ASHWELL-THORP

WAS anciently called THORP only, and ASHEWELL was a hamlet in Thorp, but there being so many Thorps in the county about King Stephen's time, it began, for distinction sake, to be called ASHWELL-THORP; the name of ASHWELL^s does not once occur in Domesday Book, though it seems to have been a well inhabited place; for in 1131, Sir JOHN DE THORP Knt. founded and built a house for the residence of a chaplain or chantry priest, to perform daily service in it to the inhabitants of the hamlet, and to pray for his own and wife's souls, and those of his ancestors and successors for ever. Having obtained a royal license of mortmain, he settled the house and five marks a year, for the chaplain's maintenance; but in 1315, thinking he had not fully endowed it, he confirmed to GOD, St. Mary, and all the Saints, the messuage and five marks annual rent, and another close of land, which he now added to the chantry aforesaid, with the consent of Sir Gregory de Thorp, Knt. his brother, the King, and Sir John de Clavering, Knt. his chief lord, confirming it; the revenues of this chapel were valued at 3*l.* and paid 6s. annual tenths; but at the dissolution of chantries in the time of Edw. VI. the whole was seized, and granted away by that King; and in 1598, Sir Thomas Knevet purchased the chapel-house, and all that belonged to the dissolved chapel of Ashwell: and ever since they have continued with the manor.

1315, Thomas de Cantia, or Kent, was presented to the chapel by the founder, all rights of the mother-church at Thorp being reserved.

1327, John Fish of Therston. Sir ROBERT DE THORP, Knt.; he held this united to the mediety of Fressingfield in Suffolk, which he changed in 1334, with John de Pgrave, for Thorp rectory, and in 1335 rechanged again, but held this till

1344, when Jeffery Kemp of Little Massingham was presented by BEATRIX, relict of Sir ROB. DE THORP, who gave him Thorp rectory in 1349; he resigned in 1352, and she gave it to

Adam de Redgrave; and afterwards it was generally held by the rectors of Thorp, upon their giving security to perform daily service in the chapel, by themselves or deputy.

ASHWELL was also a distinct manor from Thorp, in a family surnamed from the hamlet. RIC. DE ASHWELL was lord of it in Henry the Third's time,⁹ and after him, Sir John Eswell or Ashwell, his son, whose brother was parson of Little-Massingham in 1286, and joined with him and sold it to the THORPS, who joined it to their manor of Thorp, with which it still continues; but the title was not completed till 1347, and then John de Ashwell-Thorp, son, I suppose, of Sir John, confirmed the whole, to Sir Edmund de Thorp, Knt. and his heirs.

THORP

CONTAINED one manor only; at the Confessor's survey it belonged to a thane of Bishop STIGAND, and was worth 5l. per annum. At the Conquest it belonged to Earl EUSTACE, and was worth 6l.; it was a mile and an half long, and five furlongs broad, and paid 6d. ob. q. geld.¹ It soon after this belonged to one WILLIAM, sometimes distinguished by the addition of NORWICH, where he lived; and that ROGER mentioned in the record called Testa de Nevil, seems to have been his son; he was succeeded by ROBERT, called FITZ-ROGER, and after by the name of Sir Robert de Massingham-Parva, who held 7 fees in Thorp, Massingham, Anemere, and many other towns, of the honour of Bouonia or Bulloigne. His wife EDA survived him, and held Thorp in 1209, when she was called EDA DE THORP:² Hugh son of Robert lived at the same time; he is also called sometimes Hugh de Massingham, and was succeeded by Sir JOHN the Knight,³ son of Sir Hugh, often called John Fitz-Robert; he sealed with chequy or and G. a fess in a bordure arg. and was lord of Ashwellthorp, Fundenhall, Wrenningham, Bonwell, &c.; he married Margery daughter of Sir Rob. de Creke, lord of North-Creke and Hillington in Norfolk, and Combes

This Robert, in 1264, had several manors, lands, &c. confirmed to him, by Robert son of Sir Richard Nerford, Knt. of Wreningham, in Wreningham, Thorp, Fundenhall, Hapton, Flordon, Ashwell, and Tacolneston. (See p. 119.) In 1271, he was impleaded for erecting a gallows at Ashwell-Thorp, when the manor never had that liberty, which he took down again; but had then free-warren, view of frankpledge, assize of bread and ale allowed to the manor in Eire. It seems Margevy Creke his mother, was alive in 1274, and had an annuity out of the manor: in this year *Rob. Fitz-John*⁵ was sheriff of Norfolk and Suffolk. In 1282, he had another charter for free-warren in his manors of Horham, Hoxne, Wynton, and Stradbrook in Suffolk, and in Wreningham, Bunwell, and Fundenhall in Norfolk. In 1284, he was allowed the liberties of a gallows, pillory, and weyf, in this manor.

JOHN DE THORP,⁶ son of Rob. aforesaid and Maud his wife, succeeded, being lord here, and of Fundenhall, Bunwell, Hapton, and Wreningham; it appears that he had two wives, AGNES and ALICE, the former of which died about 1299. In 1293, he was summoned among the great men to attend King Edward I. at Portsmouth, on the first of Sept. in order to recover Gascoign, then possessed by the French King; and this year he procured his father's executors to advance by way of loan to the King, 167*l.* 2*s.* 10*d.* ob. on his going that journey. In his time, an extent was made of the several fees and manors held of him, as of this manor of Ashwellthorp, among which his sister ALICE held 20*l.* in Mawtby. Will. de Colneys held 100*s.* in Tiben-

⁴ Ric. de Eye was his uncle.

⁵ In 1249, this appears to have been a numerous family. In 1274, it seems that a JOHN FITZ-JOHN was descended from the family of LUVELL, "Johannes filius Johannis habuit libertates in Massingham Parva et nomen ejus fuit Luvell. Rot. Hund. Frithbridge 3 E. 1." see vol. i. p. 207. In 1392, John Fitz-John, lord of Massingham died, leaving Ric. his son 30 years old. In 1292, Robert de Thorp was made Justice of the Common Pleas. Dugd. Orig. Jurid. Chronic. fo. 30.

kam, &c. In 1303, Maud his mother held Sharpenhow manor in Bedfordshire for life, the reversion of which, was settled by Sir John de Thorp, on his son George de Thorp and Eliz. his wife. In 1307, he was summoned as one of the King's council; and in 1309, had another summons to attend King Edward III. at Newcastle upon Tyne, to march against the Scots, who had broken the truce,⁷ made with them, at the instance of Philip the French King. In 1314, he had been some time married to his second wife, *ALICE*⁸ relict of Sir William de Mortimer; on whom this manor, with those of Fundenhall, Tivetshall, Buxwell, Wreningham, and Horham, and the advowsons of Ashwellthorp, and the mediety of the church of Fresingfield, were settled by Alexander de Repham, rector of Sculton, their trustee; it being then held of Sir John de Clavering at one fee: in 1315, being appointed high SHERIFF of the county, he got a letter sent to Sir William de Norwich, to get him excused by reason of his corporal infirmities, and another to Hervy de Stanton, Chancellor of the Exchequer, from the Prior of Norwich,⁹ by whose interest he got off serving the office at present. In 1321, a commission issued to Sir John de Thorp and others, to seize all persons in Norfolk and Suffolk, who should rise in arms against the King. In 1322, he and Thomas Bardolf, were appointed wardens to guard the coasts of Norfolk against any invasions from the Flenings or Scots; and the same year, he and Alice his wife conveyed the manor of Ailes-westhop in Erebridge hundred, and the advowson of the moiety of that church, after their deaths, with lands in Geyton, Walton, Wykes, and Berweell, to the Prior of PENTNEY and his successors. In 1323, he was joined with Walt. de Norwich, Simon de Hethersete, and John de Redenhall, Knts. who were all appointed the King's justices to examine into the frauds committed by the collectors of the taxes, several of them, having collected more than they returned into the Exchequer, but dying on the 16th of May this year,¹ John le Claver was made justice in his stead. It appears from the inquisition, that he and Alice his wife, held jointly at his death, Hillington, Helmingham, Massingham-Parva, Titshall, Thorp, Wreningham, Fundenhall, Hapton, Combes, &c. manors, and that

ROBERT DE THORP, his eldest son, was above 30 years old; he married Beatrice, daughter of Sir Edmund de Hengrave, and died possessed of these manors in 1329, leaving a wife, and

¹ Just before his death, he was joined with Sir Edmund Bacon, Knt. to treat of, and assent to, a match between Alphensa, eldest son to the King of Arragon, and Jean, daughter to Edward II King of England, the day for the treaty being fixed by the patent, to be held at the Tower of London, Febr. 19, 1322.

JOHN DE THORP, his eldest son and heir, 15 years of age, and John de Clavering, his chief lord, was his guardian. Alice his grandmother was alive in 1325. In 1336, Lady Beatrix his mother, was patroness here and of Massingham-Parva, where she resided, and held North-Creke manor in jointure. He married this year, and settled on Robert Brown, parson of Shipden, John son of Robert de Ingham, and other trustees, his manors of Ashwell-thorp, Fuendenhall, and Wreningham, and all his advowsons except North-Creke, to the use of himself, and Joan his wife, and their heirs. In 1358, he paid rent to the Earl of Suffolk for the moiety of his manor of Combes. In 1339, he made Sir George de Thorp, Knt. and John Yenne of Norwich, his attorneys, to present to his livings, during his being out of England, in the King's service in France; and this year, he settled on the chaplain of Ashwell chapel for ever, to pray for his soul, 100 shillings, and 100 pence annual rents, issuing out of lands here; and the next year granted to the minoresses of St. Clare's order by Aldgate, 20 marks annuity out of his lands in Congham, Combes, and Helmingham, during the life of Catherine, the widow of Sir John, son of Sir Oliver de Ingham. In 1340, his feoffees released to him all right in the church of North-Creke, and all the lands in Helmingham in Suffolk, which Sir Ralf de Bocking held for life; he died this year, and Joan his widow, who was heir to Lucy and Maud her sisters, daughters of Roger atte Eshe, was alive and married in 1345, to Sir Roger le Strange, who was lord here in her right, during her life; but they having no issue,

EDMUND DE THORP, his brother, inherited; and in 1348, there was a suit commenced to prove Joan, his then wife, a bastard; but on trial, Bishop Bateman certified, that she was legitimate, and was sister of Thomas, son of Robert, son of Robert Baynard, who died seized of Colkirk and Gately manors in 1329, and cousin and heir of Robert Baynard, who lived in 1257, and therefore Edmund had those manors of her inheritance. He was lord also of Combes and Finingham in Suffolk, a moiety of the former of which, he held in fee-farm of the King, at 11*l.* 4*s.* 4*d.* a year, and 15*s.* scutage; and Robert de Ufford Earl of Suffolk had the other. In 1349, he settled 100 marks annuity on William de Bergh, rector of Cantley, Robert de Thirning, rector of Combes, Thomas de Bumpstede, citizen of Norwich, and Adam de Redgrave, rector of Bathele, out of Ashwellthorp, Fuendenhall, Hapton, Banwell, Nelonde, Wreningham, Horham, and Wolton in Strudbrook; he sealed with chequy on a fess three crescents. In 1351, Sir Miles Stapleton, Knt. and Joan his wife, daughter and heir of Sir Oliver de Ingham, released Fresingfield advowson, and a messuage in Nether Conisford in Norwich, to Sir Edmund and his heirs. In 1358, he in-feoffed his manors, &c. to raise 100 marks per annum, for 21 years, to pay his debts, and 100*l.* to each of his daughters, Beatrix and Joan, by the advice of Joan his wife: John his second son, who married Mary daughter of John Argentein of Halesworth in Suffolk, was to have Horham and Wolton in Strudbrook, and all his lands in Suffolk, to him and his heirs; Robert his third son to have Banwell; and Eliz. his daughter married Robert Corbet of Asington in Suffolk. In his time, the several FEES and MANORS held of the MANOR of ASHWELL-THORP were extended, and by the extent renewed, it appeared, that

Half a fee in Sweynesthorp, Gouthorp, and Dunston, was held by the annual payment of a pair of boots to the lord of Ashwell-thorp, and a pair of buskins lined with felt, to the lady there, which was then held by John de Hethersete; and Nic. de Aldburgh held in Denton and Aldburgh, one fee by the payment of a pair of gilt spurs every Easter.

And this family had many fees held in Norfolk, Suffolk, Cambridgeshire, and Essex, of their several manors, viz.

OF THEIR MANOR OF MASSINGHAM-PARVA,

John Barford and Walter Calthorp, held a fee in Anemere, and John le Wassand held Frengre manor and advowson at one fee, which William de Colneye lately held; and Wichingham manor was held by John de Hall and his parceners, at two fees; Warine de Bassingbourn held Chishil and Shipueye manors in Cambridgeshire at one fee, and all of them, though held of Massingham, were held by the lord of Massingham, of Robert Fitz-Roger, lord of Horsford, as of the manor of Horsford.

The same Sir EDMUND DE THORP, senior, being lord of North Creke, Helmingham, and Fundenhall, had the following fees held of him, viz.

AS OF HIS MANOR OF NORTH-CREKE,

Three quarters of a fee in Burnham, held by the Prior of Walsingham, half a fee in North-Creke and Burnham-Thorp, held by Bartholomew de Calthorp; a quarter of a fee in Depedale held by Roger de Tofts, another quarter there, by Thomas de Brancaster; one fee there by Thomas Bacon; a quarter of a fee in Burnham held by Will. Angre, half a fee in Stanhowe by Bartholomew de Calthorp, half a fee formerly held by Robert de Quarles, in Quarles, but now by Edmund de Baconesthorp, the Prior of Pcterston, the Abbot of Creke, and the heirs of Richard de Redham; half a fee in Dallyng held by Simon de Pratis, or Meadows, &c. the 8th part of a fee in Shipden by Cromere, held by Will. de Bradenham, Roger de Reymes, Rob. Theland, and Will. Hery; half a fee in Burnham by Sir Gregory de Thorp, half a quarter of a fee there by Sir Tho. Sniterton; the manor of Berningham in North-Erpingham hundred, held by the heirs of Eustace de Berningham at one fee; three quarters of a fee in Northwood Berningham held by Ric. de Berningham; half a fee in Basingham by Sir Rob. de Mowtby; the manor of Ranton held by Will. de Valens at the 8th part of a fee; a quarter of a fee in Wickmere held by Robert de Baconesthorp; half a fee there by John de Irmingland, and two messuages and 42 acres of land in Riburgh, held by John Burnham at a quarter of a fee; all which, were held of NORTH-CREKE manor, as of Fitz-Osbert's fees, and by the lord of North-Creke, of the Earl-Marshal, as of FORNCET honour.

THE FEES HELD OF SIR EDMUND AS OF HIS MANOR OF FUNDENHALL, WERE THESE,

John de Norwich held Melles manor in Suffolk at one fee, as of Sir John Thorp's manor of Fundenhall, he of the Earl-Marshal, and he

of the King; and the THORPS held Fundenhall and all the fees held of it, as of the Earl-Marshal's manor of Forncet; but the manor of Melles belongs to Metingham chantry or college, by license from Sir Edmund de Thorp; half a fee in Carleton, Brakene, and Mulkebarton, was held by Edmund de Baconesthorp, and John Pycot; one fee in Carleton and Quarles, was held by Edmund de Baconesthorp, which fee Sir John de Thorp purchased of Sir Robert Hovel, and is now divided among Sir Thomas St. Omer, the Prior of Shulldham, the Prior of Alvesbourne, and many others. Besthorp manor was held at half a fee by Edmund de Baconesthorp; one fee in Creke and Nelonde, held by Ric. de Belhouse; one fee in Besthorp by John de Curson, one fee in Hockham by Mary Countess of Pembrook, one fee in Wynston and Cratfield in Suffolk, held by Ric. de Bocking; half a fee in Cratfield by Rob. de Wayland, a quarter of a fee in Bunzell by Will. de Bosevile; one quarter of a fee in Carleton Rode, by Will. de Rode.

THE FEES OF SIR EDMUND'S MANOR OF HELMINGHAM WERE,

One fee in Stikingland in Suffolk, by Rob. de Creke. One fee in Honington, as of the Earl-Marshal's manor of Chesterford, by James de Creyk; one fee in Kenton, by Nigel de Kenton; two fees in Westhorp and Finingham by Adam Conyers; half a fee in Flixton, held by Flixton prioress; a fee and an half in Middleton and Yoxford, held by Rob. de Creyk; all which fees in 1305, were divided, and were the fees of Rog. Fitz-Peter Fitz-Osbert, who had them of the inheritance of Sarah his wife, and were delivered to Sir John de Thorp, as cousin and heir to Margaret, one of the aunts and heirs of the said Sarah; besides which, the family of the THORPS inherited from her, the following estates and fees.

The south part of the moiety of the capital mansion-house of the CREKE family at North Creke, and the moiety of that advowson, and the moiety of two fees and an half in Creke, and the moiety of the advowson of Hilington.

This Sir EDMUND sometimes sealed with a chevron between three crescents: a cotemporary and relation to him, but how near I cannot find, was

Sir WILLIAM DE THORP, who was made a King's Serjeant in the 16th of Edward III. and afterwards justice both of the King's Bench and Common Pleas, and 26 Nov. 1347, Chief Justice of the King's Bench; in 1350, the record of judgment had against Sir Will. Thorp, late Chief Justice,² was affirmed, considering that against his oath he had received bribes,³ but he was soon after restored to the King's favour, and made a Baron of the Exchequer; in 1353,⁴

Sir ROBERT DE THORP (as is supposed) brother to Sir William, was made the King's serjeant, and summoned to parliament among the judges and King's council in 1346, Chief Justice of the Common Pleas in 1357, and Lord Chancellor of England 26 March, 1372.

Sir EDMUND DE THORP, junior, eldest son of Sir Edmund aforesaid,

⁴ 10 Ric. II. Sir Will. Thorp, late

was married by Sir Jeffery de Massingham, rector of Ashwellthorp, Oct. 6, 1368, to MARGARET, daughter of Richard de la Rivere, in the presence of Sir Edmund his father, and dame Joane his mother, Sir Ralf de Shelton, Knt. and others; after whose decease, he married again to JOAN daughter and heiress of Sir ROBERT DE NORTHWOOD or NORWOOD of Northwood-Bertingham, in Norfolk, and of Northwood in Kent, who was widow to Roger Lord Scales of Newceels; for which match, not having obtained the King's license, he was pardoned in 1387, upon paying the King 20*l.* for a fine for that transgression; the said lady holding divers lands in capite.

In 1370, Sir EDMUND DE THORP, senior, was sheriff of Norfolk and Suffolk, as appears by a discharge given him by Robert Bacon, who succeeded him in that office. In 1380, Robert de Thuring, rector of Combes, and Tho. de Bumpstede, citizen of Norwich, were infeoffed by him in his manors, advowsons, and lands, in Ashwellthorp, North-Creke, Massingham-Parva, Fundenhall, Hapton, Wreningham, Nelonde, Hethill, Tacolneston, Bonwell, Horham, and Wotton in Stradbrook; by which they were settled on his son and others, paying him an annuity of 100*l.* per annum.

In 1381, Sir EDMUND DE THORP, junior, Knt. and JOAN his wife, purchased divers messuages, &c. and several villeins here, of Hugh son of Robert de Dunston, and Christiana de Bonington, which Peter de la Penne of Hethil, and the said Christiana purchased of Adam de la Penne of Hethil, and the said Peter sold them to Robert de Dunston, father of Hugh and William. In 1383, he, and Sir Richard de Waldegrave, Knt. Will. Winter and Tho. Wayte, had a grant of the temporalities of the Bishop of Norwich, during the forfeiture of Henry Spencer Bishop of the see, except the knights fees, and advowsons of churches, paying 50 marks yearly to the Exchequer; and in 1385, they had a writ directed to them to restore them to the Bishop.

In 1393, Sir EDMUND DE THORP, senior died,⁵ and was buried by Beatriz his wife, in the chancel at Ashwellthorp, and gave five marks to any one that would take a pilgrimage for him to St. James the Apostle; and legacies to his tenants at Thorp, Fundenhale, Hapton, Wreningham, Colkirk, and Little-Massingham, where he was lord; many rings, jewels, &c. to JOANE his wife, for life, and then to Sir Edmund, his eldest son and heir; and particularly the murrey cup tipped with silver, which is the charter cup of THORP, was to go from heir to heir, to all that shall be lords of THORP of his blood, and three gold rings set with Oriental sapphires; he gave Edmund his heir all his goods in his manor-houses at Colkirk, with Apleton-Hall, and Little-Massingham; he had Thomas, Robert, and George, his sons, and ordered to be buried under a plain tomb, without funeral pomp; Joane his widow died at Colkirk, Febr. 1399, and was buried by her husband, and then

Sir EDM. DE THORP, her son, held his first court here, and immediately after, put his estates into feoffees hands, viz. Sir Thomas Percy, Sir Robert Knowlles, Knt. John de Cleyc, clerk, and others; at which time it appears, he had manors, lands, rents, fees, or service; here and in Hapton, Fundenhall, Wreningham, Nelonde, Brakene, Fordon, Tacolneston, Wimondham, Hethil, and the reversions of North-Creke, Horham cum Stradbroke, and Wotton in Suffolk, which were held for life by his brother Robert; his seal hath three crescents 2 and 1, and a plume for a crest: and now also, he assigned to his mother for life, Hupton and Fandenhall manors; she sealed with Thorp as before, impaling Boinard. Upon his going beyond sea, he made his will, and gave Ashwellthorp for life to his wife, and North-Creke, and if his infant children died, then North-Creyk to go to his brother Thomas, Horham to his brother Robert, and if Little Mussingham manor should fall into his hands, his wife to have it for life. His seal had always a label of three, during the life of his father. This Sir Edmund new roofed and glazed the church and chancel at Thorp, and founded THORP'S chapel for his own burial place and that of his successors, on the north side of the chancel; and by the covenant made with John Faudy of Salle, carpenter, it was to be 27 feet long and 12 broad, within the walls. He was mayor of Burdeaux in Gascoigne in 1399. In 1408, John Spencer and Katherine his wife,⁶ released to Sir Edmund and Joan his wife, the manor and advowson of Stonham-Aspall, alias Antegain in Suffolk, and a moiety of Coulyng, which she had in right of her mother Catherine, who was daughter and coheir of Sir John de Aspale of Stonham-Antegain, who had Sir Ralf Hemenhale for her other husband. In 1415, Joan Lady Scales, wife of Sir Edmund de Thorp, died and was buried by her order, in Ashwell-thorp churchyard, and gave 20*l.* to make her a tomb; she gave her manor of Coulyng to be sold, and her manors of Stonham and Witlysford, to Robert de Scales and his heirs male, remainder to the Lady Catherine Savage, her daughter, remainder to her daughters Joane and Isabell.

THOMAS DE THORP, Esq. second son of Sir Edmund de Thorp, senior, had Bunwell manor for life: in his will dated 1414 it appears, that by Elizabeth his wife, he had one daughter and heiress, named Eleanor. He ordered Cleydon manor in Suffolk to be sold, by Th. Brease, John Sprot, and John Snetyl, rector here, his feoffees; and gave 10*l.* as a stock to be always lent out to some person in Ashwell-thorp, the interest to be laid out in buying new altar clothes, and ornaments for the chancel, in which it seems he was buried; his feoffees were to pay 5*l.* to the chief lord of the manor of Bale, for the relief of Eleanor his daughter, if that manor should come to her hauds, Bunwell manor to go to Elizabeth his wife for life, then to his daughter and her heirs, remainder to his nephew John, son of Robert de Thorp,⁷ and his heirs, but Sir Edmund his brother was to have the preference, if he pleased to buy the manors.

In 1417, Sir Edmund de Thorp,⁸ John Nevile, and John Kemp, LL. D. were appointed by King Henry V. to treat of and compose all differences which arose from any violations of the truce between the Duke of Burgoin and that King.⁹ This Sir Edmund, as I take it, is the same person whom Holinshed calls the Lord THORP, who was

The arms of THORP quartering BAINARD are cut on his armour; he hath a chaplet about his head, and a sword lying by his side, signifying, that though he lost his life in war, yet he obtained the victory; at his head an angel holds an inescutcheon of St. George; at her head the arms of France and England, at his feet a greyhound, and at her's a lap-dog; on the south side are four angels holding four shields, 1, THORP and BAINARD quartered. 2, NORTHWOOD, erm. a cross ingrailed gul. on the first quarter, arg. a fess between two bars gul. 3, CLIFTON. 4, BARRY, arg. a chevron between three bears heads cooped sab. muzzled or. And on the north side are shields with these arms: 1, or. a lion rampant gul. armed and langued az. 2, arg. two bars and a canton gul. 3, KERDESTON, gul. a saltier ingrailed arg. 4, CALTHORP.

Sir EDMUND left two daughters his coheireses; JOAN, who married Sir Robert Echingham, Knt.² and after to Sir John Clifton of Bukenham castle, Knt.³ but on failure of issue according to the entail,⁴ the estate of the THORPs vested in her sister ISABEL, who married PHILLIP TILNEY of Boston in Lincolshire, Esq. and they kept their first court in 1436, in which year she died, and lies interred under a marble with a brass circumscription in Thorp's chapel, with the arms of TILNEY, arg. a chevron between three griffins heads erased gul. impaling THORP, quartering BAINARD, and her effigies.

After her death, her husband retired from the world, took on him a religious habit, and turned secular canon, and was admitted to St. Butolph's prebend in Lincoln cathedral, where he was buried in 1453; the arms of Tilney impaling Thorp, quartering Bainard, are on his grave-stone there, and this,

At his feet is this,

Passed the Pilgrimage of this present Age,
Resteth Sir Phillip Tilney, closed in your Sight,
In his youth Esquier, and so wedded to his Wyf,
The Daughter and Heir of Edmund Thorp Knight.
And Aunt to Thomas Lord Scales, descended of Lynce right.
Disposed him after to God's Ordinaunce,
Couth none find in him matter of Displeasaunce,
Here he lyeth buried Canon and Residentiarye,
Sunntyme of Patrimony sufficient in deed,
But Death, that from her Nature cannot varie,
Hath reased him by Force, and we must all succeed;
Consider heer a Harcion, Wormes to feed,
And pray for his Soul, of Peyn to have a lgsse,
And doo for hym, as thou wouldest he did, at thy need,
Now Jesu for thy Passiõ, bring hym to thy Blyssè.⁶

ELIZABETH his wife was a widow in 1470, and then made her first will, relating to all her manors except Stonham, Aspall, Eestbergholt, and Cowling in Suffolk; but before 1472, she was married again to THOMAS son and heir of JOHN Lord HOWARD, Knt. afterwards Earl of Surrey, and Duke of Norfolk, and made another will;¹ and in 1506, Nov. 6, by the name of ELIZABETH Dutchess of Norfolk, she made her last will, which was proved at Lambeth in 1507, by which she ordered her body to be buried in the nuns quire, of the Minoreesses without Aldgate, London, near the place where Anne Mongomery lieth. The Duke survived her, and held the manors by the courtesy of England, to his death in 1524, when he was buried in the priory church of Thetford,² commonly called Thetford abbey.

Sir JOHN BOURCHIER, Knt. son and heir of Sir Humphry, and grandson and heir of JOHN Lord BERNERS, was summoned to parliament as Lord BERNERS in 11 and 12 of Henry VII. and in the 1st, 3d, 6th. and 21st of Henry VIII. and died deputy general of the town and marches of Calais, 19 March 1532, 23d Henry VIII. He ordered his body to be buried in the chancel of St. Mary's church at Calais, and after the decease of his lady, gave his manors of Houghton, Offley, and Doxley in Hertfordshire, to the King, to satisfy the 500l. sterling that was due to his Majesty, and the overplus of their value was to go to perform his will, &c. He married CATHERINE, daughter of JOHN HOWARD Duke of Norfolk, who survived him, and died 12th March, 27th of Henry VIII. 1535. This Lord BERNERS was only seven years old at his grandfather's death; in 18 Edward IV. he was made Knight of the Bath, at the marriage of the Duke of York, second son of King Edw. IV. with the daughter and heir of the Duke of Norfolk. In 7 Henry VII. he was retained to serve that King, with two spearmen, himself of the number, each having his *custrel*³ and page, and nine demi-lances on horseback, in order to an expedition into France; and accordingly Oct. 1, the King took shipping at Sandwich, and the same day landed at Calais with a great army, and laid siege to Bologne, till Nov. 8, when a peace was made, to which all the peers consented, and among them this John Lord Berners. In 1495, he assented to a peace made with France, on the sea, near Bologne. In 1513, he had the King's letters of protection, being made captain of the pioneers at the siege of Therovene. In 6th Henry VIII. he was made Chancellor of the Exchequer for life; and that year attended the Lady MARY, the King's sister, into France, to her marriage with Lewis XII. In 19 Henry VIII. he obtained a grant from the King, of the inheritance of the manors and advowsons of Oakham, Eppingham, Waldingham, Titsey in Surrey, Stratton, Audeley in Oxfordshire, Knoke in Wiltshire, and Up-Clatford in Southamptonshire, with all the knights fees belonging to them. It is also observable, that this John Lord Berners was a person so eminent for his learning, that by the command of King Henry VIII. he translated the Chronicle of Sir John Froisart, out of French into English: he likewise translated several other works, out of French, Spanish, and Italian, as, *the Life of Sir ARTHUR, an Armoricant Knt. In 1560, she made her last will, and ordered her body to be buried by her husband: she gave Colkirk to her 2d son *William,*⁶ and Gateley and North Creke to her son Edmund, remainder to her right heirs, her daughters, Rose widow of Oliver Reymes, Alice wife of Oliver

He was knighted by Queen Elizabeth in her progress into Norfolk; in 1579 he was high-sheriff of the county; his will was proved in 1617; by which it appears, that Thomas Knevet, Esq. his grandchild, was his heir; Abigail Mandeford, Katherine Paston, and Muriel Bell, were his three daughters; *Eliz. Per Oliver Johnsonum Tyronem Nordovicensem.

This Sir THOMAS, was a man of great repute, and much beloved for his hospitality and good nature, for which he was eminent, as the following BALLAD containing an incredible story (the tradition of which still remains) fully declares :

The Ballad of ASHWELL-THORP, made in Sir Thomas Knevet's time.

Once there liv'd a Man,
Deny it they that can,
Who liberal was to the Poore ;
I dare boldly say,
They ne're were sent away,
Empty Handed from his Doore.

When Misers in Holes crept,
Then open House he kept,
Where many then, did resort,
Some for Love of good Beere,
And others for good Cheere,
And others for to make Sport.

There was a Gentleman,
From LONDON City came,
The Countrey for to see,
And all in the Pryme,
Of jovial CHISTMASS Time,
There merry for to be.

This LONDONER did say,
If the Gentry would give way,
A Trick to them he w'd show,
That an Acorn he would sett,
If they would please to ha'te,
Which to a great Tree should grow.

The Acorn he pull'd out,
And shewed it all about,
In his Hand then he took it agayne,
In the presence of them all,
In the middle of the Hall,
He sat down the Acorne playne.

While one could drink a Cup,
 There did an Oak spring up,
 Which was so huge and tall,
 With Arms it so put out,
 And Branches all about,
 That it almost fill'd the Hall.

This Oak then did beare,
 Which was a Thing most rare,
 Acorns both black and brown,
 For which the Swine did busk,
 And they did loose their Husk,
 As they came tumbling down.

This great Oake there did stand,
 To the View of every Man,
 Who saw, it was so playne,
 But Roome then to afford,
 To bring Supper unto Bord,
 They wish't it gone agayne.

Then lowdly he did call,
 And two came into the Hall,
 Who were both stout and strong,
 And with the Tools they had,
 To work they went like mad,
 And laid this Oake along.

I'll tell you here no Lye,
 The Chips there then did flye,
 Buzzing about like Flyes,
 That Men were forced to guard,
 Their Faces well to guard,
 For Fear they sh'd loose their Eyes.

He bid them then be bold,
 And e'ry one take hold,
 This Oake for to carry away,
 And they all hold did get,
 But c'd not stirr't a whit,
 But still along it lay.

He said they had no Strength,
 Which he would prove at length.
 For it sh'd not lye long on the floor,
 Two Goslings young and green,
 They then came whewting in,
 And carried it out of the Door.

Then gone was the Oake,
 That had so many a stroke,
 Before that it fell downe,
 Thus as it grew in haste,
 So quickly did it waste,
 Not a Chip then could be found.

This Story is very true,
 Which I have told to you,
 'Tis a Wonder you did'nt heare it,
 I'll lay a Pint of Wine,
 If Parker and old Hiinde,
 Were alyve, that they w'd swear it.

The heralds being this day heard at the bar, pursuant to an order of the 16th instant, in relation to descents of BARONIES by writ; and debate thereupon, &c. This question was put; whether, if a person summoned to parliament by writ, and sitting die, leaving issue, two or more daughters, who all die, one of them only leaving issue, such issue has a right to demand a summons to Parliament.

It was resolved in the affirmative.

The church is dedicated to all the Saints, and when Norwich Domesday was made, Sir ROB. FITZ-JOHN was patron; the rector had a house and 10 acres of glebe, it was valued at nine marks, paid 6s. 8d. procarations, 3s. synodals, 2s. 6d. Peter-pence, and 3d. carvage. The terrier hath a house and about eight acres of glebe. The church of Ashwell is down, and immemorially annexed to Thorp. There is weekly service here. The village hath about 20 families, and it paid to each tenth 26s. clear. The etymology of its name is, the THORP by the Well or Fountain at the ASHES. Here was a GILD of the Holy Trinity, and in 1504, the tenor bell was made by the contribution of Sarah Sawyer and others.

TACOLNESTON,

COMMONLY called TACKELSTON,⁹ belonged to Stigand the Bishop, in the Confessor's time, who held it as a berewic to WIMONDHAM; it was then worth 10*l. per annum*, when the Conqueror's survey was made 20*l.* and it belonged to that Prince, and was under the custody or care of GODRIC his sewer; it was about three miles in length, and one in breadth, and paid 10*l. ob.* to the GELD or tax.¹ There was then a part of it which belonged to ROGER BIGOT's manor of Fornet,² and went as Fornet manor did, and continues with it to this day.

The whole town, except BIGOT's part, was in the Crown, till Hen. I. gave it to Richard de Lucy, who held it at three fees, and paid castleward for them to Dover castle, and he gave two of them to Sir ROB. DE MUNTENEY or Mounteney, who held them in 1161; and the other fee to HUGH son of Hamel, or Hameline,³ who then held it of Dover castle, and they were always held after of the honour of DOVER, of the Fitz-Walters, as of their manor of Hemenhale.

HUGH son of Hamel was succeeded by REGINALD OVEDALE de Uvedale, or D'ovedale, and John de Uvedale his brother: the first held his part at half a fee of Walter Fitz-Robert, and the last held his of him, at the fourth part of a fee; and this constituted the manor called afterwards from its owners DOVEDALE's, or Tacolneston manor. SIMON FITZ-RICHARD held a fourth part of a fee, which made up the manor called afterwards the Earl's manor, HUGH son of EUSTACE of Tacolneston held one fee of Walter Fitz-Robert, which was after called WILLIAM's manor; and BARTHOLOMEW son of Philip Malherbe held one fee of Walter Fitz-Robert, which was after joined to Takeleston manor; and the aforesaid manors had their several shares in the advowson, all which were purchased by Hugh de D'Ovedale, and so the advowson attended Dovedale's manor.

TACOLNESTON, OR DOVEDALE'S MANOR,

Descended from REGINALD DE UVEDALE to Benedict his son after whom Hugh de Uvedale had it;⁴ this Hugh, in 1214, purchased a part of the advowson of Rob. Mortimer, and became lord and sole patron; he was son of John de Uvedale, brother to Reginald, by Amicia daughter and heir of Roger Malherbe of Tacolneston, by which match, *Malherbe's*⁵ part was united to this. In 1274, he had liberty of free-warren allowed to the manor, and view of frankpledge, and assize of bread and ale over all his tenants; and in 1285, the King's charter for liberty of warren was allowed an aire, but the other liberties belonged to the King's hundred, whose bailiff was to be present at every LETE, and receive three shillings a year of the lord for liberty of holding a lete. He was succeeded by Sir John Dovedale, his son and heir, about 1306, when he held here one fee of Roger Bigod of Norfolk. In 1318, this John gave his manor of Bedingham to the canons of Walsingham, upon which an inquisition being brought, the jury presented, "That besides the manor of Bedingham which John de Uvedale gave the canons of Walsingham, at that time John had his manor of Tacolneston, and several lands and tenements in Nexton Plotman, to the value of 40*l.* which would fully satisfy all customs and services, as well of the manor so given, as of the lands remaining; in scutages, view of frankpledge, aids, tallages, wards, fines, redemptions, amer-ciements, contributions, and all emergencies; and that the said John might still be put on all assizes, juries, and recognisances, as before the said gift, so that the country would not be more charged than before the said John gave that manor."⁶ This I have transcribed at length, as showing in a good measure, the reason for making the statute of mortmain. In 1332, Isabell widow of John de Dovedale, daughter of Gilbert de Eton and Alice his wife, (which Alice was one of the three sisters and heirs of Thomas de Tichesey), paid a relief to the King for Tichesey manor, which the said Thomas held at two fees of the King. In 1321, Sir Peter, son and heir of Sir John de Uvedale, had the manor at the death of his father; and the inquisition says, that it was held of the Earl of NORFOLK, who held it of the Fitz-Walters manor of Hemenhale; that the manor-house had 90 acres of land adjoining, woods, groves, a windmill, and 3*l.* 10*s.* yearly quit-rents; that he held also manors in Cambridgeshire and Surrey, and that Peter his son was 26 years old. This Sir Peter married Margaret, daughter and coheir of William de Rusteing of Congham, with whom he had RUSTEYN'S manor in Wimondham, in 1333, and the two manors were then settled on Sir Peter and Margaret his wife, remainder to Sir Thomas de Uvedale, Knt. remainder to Hugh son of *John de Uvedale*⁷ in tail. Sir Peter died about 1345, for the then Lady Margaret his widow held it of the Earl, and presented in 1349. After her, Sir Thomas de Uvedale had it, and paid 3*d.* ob. a year out of the manor, to St. John's commandry at Carbrook; he presented in 1361, but was dead before 1374, for in that year John de Uvedale presented; he was, as I take it, son of Hugh, on whom the manor was intailed: in 1388, he obtained a charter from King Ric. II. confirming the charter of King Edward I. dated 16 May, in the 32d year of his reign, (1303,) by which that King granted to Sir John de Uvedale and his heirs, a weekly market on Wednesday, to be held at his manor of Tacolneston;⁵ and two fairs yearly, to be held at the said manor, the one on the vigil, day, and morrow, of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist; and the other on the vigil, day, and morrow, of All-Saints: and also liberty of free-warren in the said manor. In 1401, the said John held one fee of it of Thomas Mowbray, as of the manor of Fornet; one fee of Robert Mounteney, who held it of Mowbray; he presented in 1410, and it appears that he married Margaret Rees, and died about 1434, for in that year, Robert Clere, Esq. of Ormesby, held his first court for the manor of Tacolneston, D'Ovedale's, jointly with ELIZ. his wife, only daughter and heiress of THO. UVEDALE, Esq.; she outlived him, and died in 1492, and was buried by her husband in Norwich cathedral, (see vol. iv. p. 35,) and settled a rent charge out of her manors of Cleydon and Threston or Tharston, for one of the monks to pray for their souls, and founded two priests to sing before REES's altar in the collegiate church of St. Mary in the Fields in Norwich, for her own and husband's soul, and those of Will. Rees, Esq. and Margery his wife, her father and mother, who were buried there, (see vol. iv. p. 176,) she gave 4 bushels of malt to every tenant and householder in Ormesby; and legacies to Robert Clere her son; and to Andry and Dorothy his daughters, 200*l.* each, their sister Anne being a nun at Demcy; she gave legacies also to John and Ralph sons of Sir Ralf Shelton; and to her daughter dame Margaret Shelton, a pair of gold beads for life, and then to Alice Heveningham, daughter of Sir Ralf Shelton; to Eliz. Bedingfield, daughter to her son Robert, her god-daughter, 500 marks, of such money as she and her son Robert ought to have of Sir Edmund Bedingfield, Knt. for the marriage of John his son and heir, to her god-daughter. In 1493, Philip Calthorp, Esq. and others, held their first court to the use of Robert Clere, Esq. and in 1506, a court was held in his own name, and that of Alice his wife, daughter of Sir WILL. BOLEYN of Blickling, Knt. and he was succeeded by Sir John Clere, Knt. his heir, who married Anne, daughter of Sir Tho. Tirrel, Knt. and in 1550, Edward Clere, Esq. his son, held his first court; he married Frances, daughter and heiress of Sir Ric. Fulmerston of Thetford, Knt.⁹ and settled this and Tharston manors on Anne his mother for life, Sir John Tirrel, Knt. his uncle, being trustee; at his death, Sir Edward Clere of Ormesby, his son, had it; he married Margaret, daughter of Will. Yaxley of Yaxley in Suffolk, Esq. whose son Sir HENRY CLERE of Ormesby, Baronet, mortgaged it to Mr. John Browne of Sparkes in Tacolneston, who afterwards joined with Sir Henry, and sold it to Richard Brockden or Brogden, alderman of Norwich, son of James Brockden, sheriff of Norwich in 1679, and Rebecca Gascoign his wife; he married Mary Douglas of Norwich; their son James Brockden was killed before Namur about 1695; he had three wives; 1, Mary, daughter of Hugh Bokenham, alderman of Norwich; 2, a daughter of Martin Skyppe of North-Tudenham; 3, a daughter of Tho. Woode of Brakene, Esq. but had no issue; his mother Mary held this manor for life; and afterwards remarried to John Ladd, surgeon of Norwich; and it after belonged to Benjamin Andrewes, who sold it to Edmund Knipe of Tacolneston, Esq. the present lord, who hath a good house here, about two furlongs west of the church, anciently the seat of the Brownes, called SPARKES; William Knipe, Esq. is his son and heir.

WILLIAM'S MANOR

Was granted to WILLIAM surnamed of Tacolneston, the place of his birth and habitation, from whose christian name the manor took its name; he was succeeded by Eustace, and he by Hugh his son, who owned it in 1196; and in 1249, it was found, that he held it at a whole knight's fee, but was not yet knighted. In 1256, Adam de Tacolneston had it; and in 1284, William de Tacolneston was returned of full age, and fit to be knighted; and in 1285, by the name of Sir William de Tacolneston (though he is often called Sir William Fitz-Eustace) he had view of frankpledge of all his tenants, and assise of bread and ale; the King's bailiff of the hundred attending at the LETE, and receiving 18*d.* per annum; he was lord in 1297. In 1305, Richard de Tacolneston had it; in 1308, R. de Tacolneston settled on Anastaia, daughter of Robert de la More of Brakene, divers lands, &c. here and in Forncet, for life, remainder to himself; and in 1316, the said Richard was lord. In 1381, John de Tacolneston was lord; the famous JOHN TACESPHALUS (I believe) who was born here, and was elected PRIOR of the Carmelites or White-friars in Norwich in 1404, of whom PITS speaks, p. 607. He was D. D. a man of great learning, remarkable piety, and a good orator; a great preacher against the disciples of Wickliff, Hus, and the Lollards; he published two books by way of comment on the Revelations; a collection of sermons for the Saints days, and many others; and to make them of the greater authority and esteem, he went to Pope Martin V. to Rome, to obtain his approbation and publick recommendation, which he had just obtained when he died, and was buried there; and it is probable, the manor fell by escheat, to the lord of Forncet manor, of which it was held, and continued with it till about 1570, when the Earl of Arundel was returned lord of William's manor in Tacolneston, and chief lord of the commons there, in right of the EARL'S manor, which belonged to Forncet manor; but it was sold by the Earl to the Cleres, and by them to the Brownes; and in 1623, Edm. and Rob. Browne, son and heir apparent of Edm. atticled with Tho. Kuevet, Esq. and for 1900*l.* sold him Tacolneston manor, and the manor of WILLIAM'S, with the advowson and the rents of assise there above 11*l.* per annum, 6 capons, 2 hens, and 5 eggs; but it did not take place, for WILLIAM'S manor descended to John Browne, who joined and sold Tacolneston manor as aforesaid, to JAMES BROCKDEN, but kept this to himself; in 1657, the said John Browne the elder, Gent. was lord, and in 1664, John Browne, his eldest son and heir, kept his first court, in which it was found, that the custom of the manor is to the eldest son: and it hath continued ever since in the Brownes, and at the death of Richard

Browne, it descended to his son, the Rev. Mr. John Browne, rector of Ashwelthorp, who is the present lord.

EARL'S MANOR

Was held as aforesaid by Simon Fitz-Richard, and in 1199, by Richard Fitz-Walter; in 1277, Robert Fitz-John and Maud his wife settled it on Richard de Eye, and it had three messuages, seven score and three acres of ground, 50 acres of wood, a mill, &c. In 1306, Roger Bigot Earl of Norfolk and Marshal of England held it jointly with Alice his wife, of Robert Fitz-Walter, by the service of two parts of a fee; and from that time to this, it hath passed as Forncet manor.

The CHURCH is dedicated to all the Saints; when Norwich Domesday was wrote, HUGH DE DOVEDALE was patron; the rector then had no house, but two barns, and 23 acres of glebe, though now there is a house, barn, and outhouses, adjoining to the north side of the churchyard, and about 30 acres of glebe. It was first valued at 10, after at 12 marks, and paid 6s. 8d. procurations, 3s. synodals, 2s. 6d. Peter-pence, and 8d. carvage; and the town paid 2l. 10s. clear to every tenth. The Prior of Bokenham's temporals were taxed at 6d. and those of the monks of Thetford at 2s. ob. The RECTORY stands undischarged in the King's Books at 12l. pays first fruits, and 1l. 4s. yearly tenths. There were two GILDS here, the one of All-Saints, and the other of St. Nicholas. The church was rebuilt about 1503, for there were about that time, many legacies given to the foundation of the church of Tacolneston. The tower is square and hath five bells in it; the nave and chancel are thatched, the south isle is leaded, and the south porch tiled. In 1520, John Bannister was buried in the churchyard by Cicily and Beatrix his wives, and gave his manor of Aldham-hall in Lancashire, to his eldest child. In 1543, Will. Bexwell of Tacolneston, was buried in the church.

Robert Frosdit or Frosdike was presented by ROBERT EUSING, Gent. and JOHN SIMOND, chaplain, by grant from Sir Tho. Clere, Knt. About 1556, Sir Robert Poynter had it; at his death in 1562, Edw. Clere, Esq. gave it to

Will. Mellinge, on whose resignation in 1577, SIR EDWARD CLERE gave it to

George Gurnay, who in 1603 returned answer, that here were 120 communicants. In 1618, John Taylor; he held it united to Thugarton, and was presented by THOMAS PALGRAVE of Pulham, who had it of the gift of Sir Thomas Knevet of Ashwell-thorp, Knt. and he in 1589, had the turn of Eliz. Trevor, who had it of Sir Edw. Clere. In 1643, John Taylor, senior, clerk, gave it to

Daniel Colby, who resigned the same year, and Taylor, senior, gave it to

John Taylor, junior. In 1660, ROBERT BALDOCK, Esq. presented

Will. Smithies, who resigned in 1671, and then the said Robert, by the name of Sir Robert Baldock, Knt. gave it to

John Baldock, who resigned and took Redgrave in 1681, and Richard Kerrington had it of the gift of Robert Baldock, Knt. serjeant at law, who was deprived for not taking the oath to Will. III. and in 1690, Sir Robert gave it to

Charles Ward, afterwards rector of Mileham, who held it united to Hockering; he resigned in 1705, and

Horace Townshend had it, of the gift of George and Mary Townshend; at whose death in 1706, the Rev. Mr. Thomas Townshend, the present rector, who holds it with Shipdham, was collated by lapse.

The advowson was sold from the manor by Sir Henry Clere, and was after purchased by SIR ROBERT BALDOCK, who descended from an ancient family of that name in this county, for RICHARD BALDOCK of Neketon owned a good estate there in 1263; in 1683, the said Robert was appointed King's serjeant by patent, and being an active man in King James the Second's time, he was one of the King's council at the trial of the seven Bishops in 1688,* in which cause, showing much zeal, he was the same year made one of the justices of the King's Bench, in the room of Sir John Powell, Knt. who was turned out for maintaining, that the Bishops petition to the King could not be a libel; because it was founded upon the King's incapacity to dispense laws; which was very true: he had two wives, first Mary Bacon; 2d, the relict of Sir William Hewet of Breccles; by the first he had two children, Henry his only son, who died without issue, soon after his father, and left his only sister MARY, then wife of George Townshend of Little-Wrotham, Esq. his sole heiress, whose only surviving son is the present rector. SIR ROB. BALDOCK aforesaid built a house opposite to the south part of the churchyard, which is commonly called Tacolneston-Hall, in which he dwelt, but now being decayed, great part of it is pulled down. This estate with the advowson, was sold some years since to Mr. Ferrer, who left it to his son William Ferrer, Gent. and his sister, carried it to her husband, BERNARD HYDE, Gent. of Seven-Oak in Kent, the present patron.

FUNDENHALE,

AT the Confessor's survey, belonged to one of his thanes named BURKART, who owned the chief part, and was patron of the church, which had then 24 acres of glebe;⁵ ALURIC, a freeman of Bishop Stigand, had another part; and there was a berewic in Nelonde (⁶), which belonged to it: WALTER DE DOL, lord of Habetuna or Hapton, became lord here, and made these two villages one manor; he had them both of ROGER BIGOT, who held them of Earl HUGH, except two parcels, which the said Roger kept as belonging to his manor of Fornet (⁷), with which they always passed to this time. This town was a league in length, and half a league in breadth, and paid 13*d.* ob. to the tax.

The MANOR was very early in a family, which took their name from the town of North-Creke, where they were lords, and always resided. Sir ROBERT DE CREKE much augmented his estate, by marrying one of the heiresses of the Glanvilles family; after whose death, he married again; for in 1233, Richemeia his widow, was lady of the manor, which she then resigned to Sir Bartholomew de Creke, her son, who married Margery daughter of Jeffery Harnes, widow of Le Clerk, who survived him, and was lady in 1251, and in that year, resigned all her right in this manor and those of North-Creke, Combes, and Flixton in Suffolk, to ROBERT DE CREKE, her eldest son and heir; but on his death without issue, she had it again; and in 1274, had view of frankpledge and assise of bread and ale allowed her here; about 1258, she founded FLIXTON nunnery in Suffolk, and at her death, John de Creke, her son, inherited, who in 1285, obtained a charter of free-warren from King Edward I. for this manor, and that of Creke, when it was found that it extended into Hapton and Wimondham, and that one fee of it was held of Chester honour, and another of the Earl-Marshal, as of Forncet manor; but he dying without issue, his inheritance went to Sir JOHN DE THORP, Knt. (called John Fitz-Robert)⁸ in right of Margaret (or Margery) his wife, daughter of Sir Robert de Creke, and at length coheir of Sarah de Creke, sister to Sir John de Creke, and wife to Roger Fitz-Osbert,⁹ and from him it descended to Robert Fitz-John de Thorp, his son, who obtained general releases from Roger son of Peter Fitz-Osbert, and from Agnes daughter and heiress of Jeffery Giltspur of Beccles, who married Agnes de Creke, his mother's sister; Joan de Creke, his other aunt, being dead issueless. And from this time it always passed as the manor of Ashwell-thorp, with which it still remains at this day, as you may see from p. 142, to p. 162.

The CHURCH is dedicated to St. Nicholas, and was a rectory appendant to the manor, till Margery, widow of Sir Barth. de Creke, foundress of Flixton nunnery in Suffolk, gave it with a message and 12 acres of land,¹ and many rents and services here,² to Beatrix, prioress of Flixton, and her successours for ever;³ and that convent presented till it was impropriated to their house, by William Bateman Bishop of Norwich in 1347,⁴ an annual pension of two marks⁵ being reserved to the Bishop, in lieu of first-fruits; and 2s. a year to the sacrist, as to the high-altar at the cathedral, and the Prioress was to nominate and find, a stipendiary CHAPLAIN, to be approved by the Bishop, and pay him for serving the cure; and from that time it hath been a donative, in the gift of the impropriator, who names a chaplain or clerk, and pays him for serving the cure, to which when licensed by the Bishop of the diocese, he is a perpetual curate. John de Creke was rector sometime before NORWICH Domesday was made, and had a house and 40 acres of glebe, and it was valued at 15 marks with all the tithes; it paid 2s. Sd. synodals and procurations, 16*d.* Peter-pence, and 3*d.* carvage. In 1273, the day after St. Luke's day,

³ In 1288, Roger Fitz-Peter Fitz-

Osbert, and Sarah his wife, released all right in the advowson, to the nuns, they releasing to him in exchange, all their right in the churches of North-Creke in Norfolk, and Combes in Suffolk.

⁴ The appropriation is extant in the fourth Institution Book, fo. 5; see also the eighth Institution Book, fo. 125.

there was an inquisition taken in the consistory court at Norwich, on the oaths of John, vicar of Thorp, Roger, vicar of Tharston, Gilbert, chaplain of Hapeton, and others,⁶ who presented that the rector for the time being, ought to repair the church of Fundenhale, and if it should happen, to rebuild it; and that a certain lady called BERTHA DE FUNDENHALE,⁷ gave to the said church and rectors thereof for ever, 15 acres of land in Fundenhale field, and a mark yearly rent in the town of Harpol; on condition, the rector and his successors for ever, should repair and rebuild it, as often as it should happen to want; which lands and rent, the rector then enjoyed; and that in a former controversy between the parishioners and Robert du Boys then rector, it was adjudged by the Bishop's official, that the rector should repair it, and not the parishioners: at the Dissolution in 1536, the King granted to Rich. Stephens and George Buck, "all the rectory and church of FUNHALL in the county of Norfolk, and the advowson of the vicarage of the parish church of FUNHALL, to be held by the rent of 6s. 8d. per annum, and the yearly stipend of one CHAPLAIN performing divine offices, and taking the cure of the souls of the said parish;" and in 1547, Stephens had license to sell it to Sir John Clere, Knt. and his heirs. Afterwards, Thomas Knevet of Ashwell-thorp, Esq. lord here, and the inhabitants, petitioned the House of Commons, that the Lady Clere of Cotton, late wife of Sir Francis Clere, and John Smith, Esq. who purchased the reversion of the impropriation of Sir Edward Clere, brother to the said Sir Francis, who died without issue, might be called to show, why they should not pay a competent stipend out of the profits, sufficient to find a serving minister, that might serve it regularly, and continue with them, instead of such poor stipends as 12 or 16 pounds a year at most, by reason of which, no minister would stay any time on the cure, there having been 40 returns of curates in the memory of one man; but it appearing that one Mr. Symonds, who obtained a presentation from the King in 1608, could not enjoy it, as not being presentative; but that the impropriator was to nominate a chaplain or curate, and pay him out of the profits. a competent stipend, they were dismissed. However, Mr. Edward Voice, the then curate, being returned to the house as a "godly, conscionable, and painful preacher of GOD'S word," was appointed minister, and had a competent stipend⁸ assigned him out of the profits, by virtue of the order of the House, made Dec. 19, 1640. The impropriation now belongs to JOHN BERNEY, Esq. of Swerdeston.

1341, Henry Becke of Beccles, the last rector. In 1603, Mr. John Peay, curate, returned answer, that he was perpetual curate, it being a donative, and there were 93 communicants in the parish, which paid 46s. to each tenth, and in 1627, Richard Punder, A. B. perpetual curate here, returned much the same account.

The Prior of Winoudham's temporals were taxed at 12*d.* and the spirituals of the Prioress of Flixton at 15 marks,⁹ and were to pay 20s. to each tenth; but in 1347, the nuns being returned to be very poor, they were excused the tax. Here was a GILD of St. Nicholas, and lights before his image, and that of the Virgin in the church, which is built in the collegiate form, with a square tower, under which William Petifer, parish chaplain, was buried in 1374; and in 1460, William Norman, parish chaplain here, was interred in the chancel, and Master Iergent, D. D. a friar-minor, was to pray for him in his convent at Norwich; he was a benefactor, as was JOHN DANIEL,¹ who was buried in 1418 in Magdalen-chapel in St. Stephen's church in Norwich, and gave 20 marks to repair this steeple, and ordered a priest to celebrate a whole year in the church, for the souls of Roger and Christian his father and mother, &c. There are three bells, on the first,

1. Sonitu sum sanus, me fecit Baxter Ricardus.
2. Munere Baptiste, Benedictus sit Chorus iste.

The rood-loft is whole and painted; in the middle of it is a shield with the East-Angles arms, and round it,

Next is a P. with the cross keys, for St. Peter, and the arms of Flixton nunnery, gul. a catherine wheel, with a cross arg. that house being founded in honour of St. Catherine; next is a crown and mitre, and S. D. for St. Nicholas, the patron of the church; there are two or three stones disrobed of their brass plates, under one of which, lies buried John Kemp of Fundenhale, by his mother: Margaret his wife, and John his son survived him, and inherited his estate here.

There was anciently a manor or free tenement called SUNDAYS, which was joined to the other manor early, and now continues with it.

WILLIAM KNYVET, Gent. second son to EDMUND KNYVET, Esq. serjeant porter to King *Henry VIII.*³ married Dorothy, daughter of Mr. Thimthorp, and by will dated Nov. 26, 1594, ordered his body to be buried in the church of Fundenhale, where he lived, leaving two sons and two daughters; 1, Muriel, married to Jeffrey Abbs, and had issue. 2*d.* Amphillis, married to Mr. Johnson, and left issue, Anne.

to wait on her, and an honourable pension for life, out of this impropriation.

THOMAS, the second son died without issue. And JOHN KNYVET of Fundenhale, his eldest son, married Joan daughter of Robert Browne of Tacolneston, and had JOHN KNYVET of Fundenhale, who married Joanna Sutton, from whom descended WILLIAM KNYVET, Esq. of Fundenhale, the present coroner for the county of Norfolk.

H A P T O N,

HAPETON, HABETON, or HARPTON advowson,³ was given by Sir Robert de Nerford, founder of Lingerescroft hospital by North-Creke, afterwards called the monastery of St. Mary de Pratis, or CREKE abbey, to that house, to which it was appropriated, and was to be served by a chaplain or parish curate, to be nominated by the convent, and paid a competent annual stipend for the service, out of the profits; and Alice daughter of John Pouchard, formerly wife of Sir Robert de Nerford, confirmed it, with the moiety of the church of Wrenningham (as at p. 119,) as did King Edward I. in 1273.⁴

The CHURCH is dedicated to St. Margaret, was first valued at 7, and after at 8 marks, and had 23 acres of glebe; it paid 5s. procurations, 22d. synodals, 8d. Peter-pence; and 4d. carvage; and the Abbot paid for his spirituals, 10s. 8d. to each tenth, and for his temporals 25s. 1d. In 1314, John Ashwell, by royal license, aliened to the Abbot of Creke, three roods of land in Hapton, to enlarge the site of the rectory-house there. In 1426, Brother Robert Felbrigge, abbot of Creke, sold to John Flete and his heirs, a messuage called Dalyots in Hapton, and 4 acres of land, paying 2s. and an hen yearly to that house. In 1461, John Shelton, Esq. lessee to John, abbot of Creke, sealed to John Wode, then parish chaplain of Hapton, all the lands, houses, great and small tithes, for 10 years. About 1506, this monastery was looked upon as dissolved, because the abbot died without a convent, to elect another; whereupon, all the lands and revenues, by the procurement of the Lady Margaret Countess of Richmond, mother to King Henry VII. were settled on her college in Cambridge called CHRIST'S college; and ever since, the impropriation hath remained in the master and fellows there, who nominate a perpetual curate to serve the parish, and pay him out of the profits, it having been esteemed a donative in their gift, ever since the foundation, and as such it now remains.

In 1603, Mr. Thomas Hutchinson, perpetual curate, returned answer, that there were 43 communicants, that the whole parish paid 50s. to each tenth, and that Christ's college had 23 acres of glebe. The

from which family it went to the Nerfords.

⁴ Tanner's Notitia, fo. 357.

Prior of Thetford was taxed at 22*d. ob.* for temporals here; the Prior of Walsingham 6*d.* the Abbot of Sibeton 10*s.* and the Prior of Bukenham 2*s. 9d. ob.*

The church hath no steeple, the nave is leaded, and the chancel thatched; in the east window are the arms of Thorp, Clifton, and Caily, and ac. three crosetts arg. but there are no other memorials. There is a bell hanging in a wooden frame in the churchyard.

On the stocks :

Those that fear God, and keep an honest Name,
Shall not come here, to undergoe the Shame,
Then you that suffer, don't true Justice blame.

There was an ancient family surnamed from the town; in a deed without date, Stephen son of Eustace de Habeton, was an owner here, and in 1348, Will. de Habetun, and in 1412, John Hapton of Wimondham.

By a deed without date, William Apuliensis gave to God and the church of St. Michael at Floreudona or Flordon, 3 acres in Habbetona or Hapton, between the land of Roger son of William the priest, and the glebe of St. Margaret's church at Hapeton, for the benefit of his own soul, and those of his father and mother, of Margaret his wife, and of Roger Glanville, and all his ancestors; Safrid, the priest of Habbeton, and Michael the parish chaplain of Flordon, and many others, being witnesses.

The manor was joined to that of Fundenhale at the Conquest, by Walter de Dol; the church had then 15 acres of glebe. The town was a mile long, and a mile and a quarter broad, and paid 6*d. 3q.* to the geld.⁵ It was always held of the Norfolk family, as of Forncet manor, at one quarter of a fee, and always attended the manor of Ashwell-thorp, as at p. 142, to p. 162, to which I refer you. The manor-house is called Hapton-hall, and was always the jointure-house of the Knevet family. The style of the manors now runs, Ashwell-thorp with Wrenningham, and Fundenhale with Hapton.

The manor of Forncet extended into this town, and hath done so ever since the Conquest, for then HERBERT, chamberlain to Roger Bigot,⁶ had a freeman and 15 acres; and another freeman late of Bishop Stigand,⁷ held 30 acres, &c. and there were 4 freemen⁸ that always belonged to Forncet, that held 36 acres, &c.

There was another part in this village of about 90 acres, and some small rents held by knight's service of William de Fallibus, or Vaus, and in 1221, was settled by William de Langham, on Robert de Nerford, and was held in 1341, by Robert son of William Dun, of Roger le Strange, lord of Knokyn, and Dame Joan his wife. In 1263, John son of ALEXANDER DE VAUX, had a grant for a weekly market and yearly fair here,³ and for free-warren in Cruchestoke, Boston, and Aslacton, by patent from Henry III. In 1288, Walter de Kerdeston held two fees, one here, and the other in Bulcamp in Suffolk, which were assigned to Will. de Roos of Hamlak, and Maud his wife, on the partition then made of the estate of her father John de Vaux of Hott and Cley. In 1296, it belonged to William de la Chambre, and was settled on Thomas de la Chambre. In 1306, it was settled by Reginald le Gros, on Oliver de Redham and Joan his wife, and was then held of Tho. de Verdon, who held it of Forncet. In 1309, Will. del Park of Iketishale in Suffolk, (from whom the manor took the name of PARKS), and his partners, held the manor late Thomas del Chambre's, and the tenements late Ric. de Sething's, of Sir

Duke* and his heirs, he being the son of his first wife Joan, if he would grant Eliz. his second wife and widow, an annuity for life, of ten marks a year, which being done, it was vested absolutely in the said Tho. Duke and his heirs; he married Margaret, daughter and heir of Henry Banyard of Spectishall, and they had this manor with Park's manor in Wacton and Hedenham, and Brampton manor in Suffolk, which they left to William Duke of Brampton, who married Thomasine, daughter of *Sir Edw. THE PRIORY MANOR

Was given to the Prior of THETFORD by ROGER BIGOT, their founder,⁷ together with the advowson of the church, and remained in that monastery till its dissolution in 1540,⁸ when it was given with that house to the Duke of Norfolk, and continued in that family till 1561, and then was sold to Charles le Grice of Brockdish, and John Tiler, who in 1564 settled it on John Rivet and Christopher Thetford, and in 1572, Andrew Thetford had it; in 1574, after Charles le Grice's death, it was granted to Andrew Mansfield of Norwich, Gent. and Jane his wife, whose daughter Susan was married to the said Charles, who died seized, and devised it to pay his debts; and it was sold to Thetford, and by him in 1598, to the Buxtons, in which family it now remains, ROBERT BUXTON, Esq. being lord. The quitrents are 4l. 13s. per annum, and the fines of this and Park's manor are at the will of the lord.

The CHURCH is dedicated to St. Michael the archangel, and was given by Roger Bigot to the priory of Thetford, of his foundation, to Peter-pence, and 2d. ob. carvage. The Prior was taxed for his spirituals at 12 marks, and paid 16s. to every tenth, and for his temporals 7l. 7s. 3d. In 1603,⁹ Mr. Thomas Chandler, perpetual curate here, returned answer, that there then were, 129 communicants, and that this town paid 16s. to every tenth. There are now about 50 families, and weekly service, the salary being 20l. per annum.

The impropriation always attended the Priory manor, and was left by Laurence le Neve, Gent. to Reuben Gilman of Loddon, and his heirs, and he at his death gave it to his younger brother, Mr. John Gilman, the present owner.

The nave, south isle, and south porch, are leaded, the chancel tiled, the steeple is round, and hath five bells. In the south isle,

HEMENHALE.

THE rectory here, was given by Walter Fitz-Robert, patron of Dunmowe priory in Essex, to that house, to which it was impropriated and a vicarage endowed, which was presented to, by the priors there, till the Dissolution, and then King Henry VIII. granted the impropriation and advowson of the vicarage, to Robert Earl of SUSSEX, and his heirs, to be held of him in capite, by knight's service; and ever since they have attended the manor here, with which they now remain.

Before the appropriation, the rectory had a house and 20 acres of glebe; it was taxed at 26 marks, and consequently the prior paid 34s. 8d. to each tenth. The vicarage was taxed at 10 marks, or 6l. 13s. 4d. as it now stands in the King's Books, and being not discharged, it pays 13s. 4d. yearly tenths, and is not capable of augmentation. It paid 4s. synodals, 3s. Peter-pence, and 8d. carvage.

The church is 20 yards long, the breadth of the nave and two isles is 12 yards, being all covered with lead; it hath a square tower about 16 yards high, and only one bell and a clock; part of the chancel is ruined, and the remaining part is tiled; I find no inscription, save one, on a stone in the north isle, which lies over Robert French Gent. Aug. 31, 1711, Æt. 57.

The town lands were given by Mr. Sewell, and are now let at 22*l.* 10*s.* a year.

This town paid 6*l.* 10*s.* clear to every tenth.

In 1615, 13 Oct. ELIZ. GRAY, aged above 100 years, was buried here; she was a descendent from Robert son and heir of John Grey, Esq. lord of the manor of LITTLE-HALL in Topcroft, in 1408, which manor extended into Hemenhal, Wooton, and Bedingham.

Belonged to TORN, a Dane at the Confessor's survey, had then three freemen, 41 bordars, (or copyholders,) and 54 villeins; it had one priest (or rector) and two churches, endowed with a carucate of land, and four villeins and four bordars that held two carucates more of them, valued at 15s.; there was a wood called Schieteshagh, which maintained 200 swine, and the Abbot of St. Bennet at Holm claimed part of it; the manor was then worth 15*l.*⁵

At the Conqueror's survey it belonged wholly with its soc, sac, and jurisdiction, to RALF BAINARD, when it had four carucates of land in demean, 58 bordars, 34 villeins, two mills, five working-horses 100 swine, and 186 sheep, it being worth 24*l.* 5*s.* a year, besides six cows, 20 swine, and two rams; it was four miles long and three broad, and paid 18*d.* to the geld or tax. It had 10 acres held by a freeman, which laid in Freton and Hardwick, and Forncet manor extended hither.⁶ A freeman of Alveus, or Alwine, of Thetford, had 30 acres, &c. worth ten shillings at the first survey, all which was held by TUOLD at the last.

This RALPH Lord BAINARD was a powerful baron, one of those that came in with the Conqueror, Lord of Castle-Bainard in London, and of the barony of that castle; all which WILLIAM BAINARD, his descendant,⁷ forfeited by his rebellion to Henry I.; and he gave the whole to ROBERT FITZ-RICHARD-FITZ-GILBERT, the first Earl of CLARE, and his heirs; and he gave it to Robert de Tonebridge, his 5th son, and he to Sir Walter Fitz-Robert, his son, who was to hold it of the barony of Bainard's castle; this Robert was lord of the manor of Diss, with which this passed to the FITZ-WALTERS and RATCLIFFS Earls of Sussex, as may be seen in volume i. from p. 5 to p. 11, being always held of the FITZ-WALTER'S barony.

SIR RALF'S, OR CURPLE'S MANOR IN HEMENHALE,

Took its name from Roger Curpeil,² who had one fee in Hemenhale of the gift of Walter Fitz-Robert, and it was always held of the Fitz-Walters barony of Bainard's castle, as of their manor of Hemenhale; this Roger Curpeil or Capell (as he is also called) divided the fee, one 4th part of it he kept himself, another 4th he gave to Robert Curpeil his son, and Maud his wife; another to Richard his son, and the other to Walter de Valoines, which descended to his heirs; and Robert de Capell aforesaid had the 20th part³ of a fee of the gift of the said Walter Fitz-Robert; and in 1235, Robert and Richard Capell or Curpeil, were lords of their parts. In 1256, Alice Curpeil, Katherine, Agnes, and Isabel her sisters, granted their 4th part, viz. one messuage, five acres of land, and 10s. rent in Hemenhale and Taseburgh, to William de Bumpstede. In 1305, another part was settled by John de Brisingham and Joan his wife, on Roger de Wingfield; this contained two messuages, 100 acres of land, three of meadow, five of pasture, and 8s. 2d. quitrents, here and in Flixton. The part in the Valoines family came to the family surnamed DE HEMENHALE, and

Sir RALF DE HEMENHALE, who was knighted by King Edw. I. (probably son of David de Hemenhale, and brother to Herzy de Hemenhale, clerk) was the first lord of that family, from whom it was styled Sir RALF'S manor; he was succeeded by RALF his son, who was lord of this part in 1227, and added to it, by purchasing many lands of Roger, son of William de Hemenhale in 1234;⁴ he had Walter and Ralf.

WALTER was lord in 1256, and was succeeded by his brother

RALF; in 1307, Ralf de London and Margaret his wife settled a 4th part, which belonged to them, on Sir RALF DE HEMENHALE and ALICE his wife, who had now the whole, except one 4th part. In 1308, at an inquisition, John de Hemenhale was found to be son and heir of Ralf, and in 1327, this *Sir Ralf de Hemenhale*⁵ held a messuage, 30 acres of land, and 30s. quitrents in Pulham, Hardwick, Starston, and Redenhale, of the Bishop of Ely at 6d. per annum.⁶

In 1331, *JOHN DE HEMENHALE*⁷ purchased many lands, tenements, &c. of Ralf de Burtoft and Margaret his wife, here, and in Freton, Shelton, Long-Stratton, Waketon, Moringthorp, and Hardwick. He bare, as the Hemenhales always did, the very arms of

³ This 20th part went single a long time; in 1327, Will. Bainard held it of Robert Fitz-Walter, and in 1349, Edm. Hegge of Hemenhale owned it, but in 1401, it was joined again to the capital manor.

⁵ THOMAS DE HEMENHALE elected Bishop of Norwich, and consecrated Bishop of Worcester, was younger brother to this Ralf; an account of him may be seen in vol. iii. p. 504.

⁷ William de Hemenhale Dean of Norwich city, (vol. iv. p. 64,) in 1331, was brother to this John; he exchanged for the deanery of the college in the Fields in Norwich. (See vol. iv. p. 170.)

Fitz-Walter, their chief lord, viz. or, a fess between two chevrons gul. with the addition of three escalops arg. upon the fess.

In 1365, Sir RALF DE HEMENHALE was lord;⁸ and this year Will. Pheip and Catherine his wife, John Loveyn and Ellen his wife, settled (in case they had no issue) the manors of Radwinter and Rougho in Essex, Codrede in Hertfordshire, Wilburgham-Parva, and the advowson, and Wachedon in Cambridgeshire, on Sir Ralf and his heirs; all which his son inherited; Sir Ralf died about 1366,⁹ leaving.

ROBERT his son, then three years old; in 1388,¹ this Robert inherited Wilburgham, and the rest of the entailed manors. In 1389, Sir Robert Hemenhale, Knt. of Hemenhale, (where this family always resided,) released to Sir George Felbrigge, Knt. and other trustees, his manors in Hemenhale and Poltham in Norfolk, Cotton and Wickham-Skeyth, Boleshall and Yaxley in Suffolk, and all the possessions of his father Sir Ralf; he was first husband to Joan, daughter and heiress of John de la Pole, Knt. son of Sir William de la Pole, Knt. and Joan his wife, by whom he had only one son,

WILLIAM; it appears that Sir Robert died before 1406, for in that year, William being a natural, this manor and 40s. rents in Freton, Moringthorp and Long-Stratton, were committed to the custody of John Beaver; but this William was dead some time before 1419, for in that year, his father's arms were fixed up in the window of the Austin-friars church at Norwich, among the rest of the knights that had no surviving issue,² and³

JOHN son of Robert de Hemenhale, his uncle, inherited, and died without issue.

In 1407, DAVID HEMENHALE, Esq. lived here, and had so done for 25 years past, being then 45 years of age; he was a witness in the cause between Sir Reginald Grey and Sir Edcard Hastings of Elsing, for their arms, in which he deposed, that Walter Ubbeston of Ubbeston in Suffolk was his father-in-law, and tutor to the Earl-Marshal, who died at Venice; it seems he had no issue, for the manor went to

Sir THOMAS BROOKE of Somersetshire, in right of Joan his wife, daughter and heiress of John de la Pole, by Reginald Braybrook son of Sir Cerard, her second husband, according to a settlement made on her and her heirs, by Sir Robert de Hemenhale, her first husband,⁴ in case of failure of the issue of his own family; and in 1468, Sir EDW. BROOKE of Cobham, son of Sir Thomas, died seized.

In 1490, RICHARD BLOMUYLE, or Bhudeville, Esq.⁵ had his manor

1612, Sir WILLIAM BOWYER, Knt. and THOMAS AWDELEY, Esq. conveyed it to THOMAS RICHARDSON and GEORGE ALYNGTON, Esqrs. and their heirs: and since it is manumised and divided, so that I do not find it subsisting as a manor at present.

STRATTON,

PROPERLY called STRATON, Stratum, the paved high-way, or street, it being the direct road that led to the neighbouring Roman BURGH or fortification ad Taüm, now called Taseburgh, and thence to their STATION, castrum, or camp, called Castre. In those early times, the whole of the three villages or parishes, that pass now by this name, was one only, and afterwards was often called Estratuna, the street at the eè or water, which now parts this from Taseburgh; it is commonly called Long-Stratton, the bounds being so large, and the stratum aforesaid running in a straight line such a long way through it.

It originally belonged to the East-Anglian kings, and the superiour jurisdiction over the whole remained in the Crown, till the Conqueror gave it to ALAN Earl of Richmond, who held it at the survey, and it hath ever since attended the honour of Richmond, and belongs to it at this day.⁶

The whole was then 4 miles and three furlongs in length, and 2 miles and 4 furlongs in breadth, and paid 25*d.* to the geld or tax. The Earl had 8 freemen that held 100 acres of land or pasture, one carcate or plough tilth, and one acre of meadow, which were valued with, and esteemed part of his manor of Cossey; and 17 freemen, 3 villeins, 5 bordars, 7 socmen, and the fifth part of a mill, that belonged and were subject to his jurisdiction here; the honour held two TURNS or superiour letes in every year, to which all the tenants of the other manors, were obliged to do suit and service, as well as to the three several LETES belonging to the three capital manors, of the three different parishes. And very anciently there was a weekly market held here, belonging to RICHMOND honour, but upon some disputes between the lord of Stratton-Hall, and the lessee of the honour, just before the Reformation, the market, as having no peculiar justification for holding it, was totally disused, and hath been so to this day. In 1435, JOHN Duke of Bedford, lord of Swaffham and of the honour of RICHMOND, died seized of the superiour court here, called the HONOUR'S turn, and the style of it was thus, the TURN and general COURT of the KING'S Honour of RICHMOND, held at STRATTON 30 of April 1644, when a church-warden and four men out of each parish, appeared to do the suit and service for the several parishes of Stratton, Moringthorp, Carleton, Tibeuham, Moulton, Waketon, Taseburgh, Freton, Keckleton in Forncet, and Bunwell; in all which places it appears, that the honour had letes and royalties over the commons, and superiour jurisdiction over the several lords.

SIGEBERT King of the East-Angles, on his erection of the bishoprick, gave the southern part of the town to FELIX, the first Bishop of the East-Angles, and so it became part of the bishoprick; and in the Confessor's time, Bishop AILMER held it as such,⁷ when there were 2 carucates in demean, 7 villeins, 6 bordars and an half, (that is, half the services of one bordar,) 26 socmen, and 12 freemen, whose rents and services were valued at 20s. per annum; and at the Conquest, WALTER the Deacon, and one RALF, held it of the bishoprick, in right of which they had a LETE, the half of which belonged to them, and the other half, to the King and the Earl; and the whole of the profits of this manor, was then worth 6l. per annum. The mother-church of St. Mary the Virgin, always belonged to it, which was probably founded by one of the Bishops that owned it, and that before Ailmar's time; and the successours of this RALF owned the part which afterwards was called Stratton-Hall manor, and was held of the barony of the bishoprick of NORWICH, till that was taken from the see by Henry VIII. and annexed to the Crown, and since it is held of the Crown in right of that ancient barony.

That part called STRATTON St. Miles, or St. Michael's, was held by the Confessor till he gave it one of his thanes or noblemen, who had 2 carucates in demean;⁸ this manor had 17 bordars and 7 freemen, and was worth 30*s. per annum*. It was risen to 40*s.* value at the Conquest, and a LETE belonged to it; when ROBERTSON of Corbutio, or Fitz-Corbut, held it, and infeoffed it in one HUNFRID or HUMFRY, the ancestor of the family afterwards surnamed DE STRATTON, lords of the manors here afterwards called REE'S and WELHOLME'S, which last was a part of the former, granted off by the STRATTONS; and though they extended into the other parts, laid chiefly in STRATTON ST. Michael's; the church of which, in all probability, was first founded by HUNFRID aforesaid, and the advowson attended the manor.

The third part belonged to the Crown, till the Conqueror gave it to ROGER BIGOT, who added one small part of it to his manor of Forncet, to which the advowson of Stratton St. Peter always belonged; so that it is likely, this Earl was founder of that church: but the chief part he granted off, and that had the lete of all its tenants, and was afterwards called SAYE'S, or the manor of Stratton St. Peter.

There was a small part that belonged to the Abbot of Bury's manor of Moringthorp,⁹ and another to St. Etheldred's manor of Pulham,¹ which belonged to ELY monastery and see.

The manors called STURMYN'S and SNAPEHALL, were first severed from Stratton-Hall, into which they fell again, and there continue.

And thus having fixed the origin of the several manors and parishes, I shall treat of them in their order; and first of

This fair was first granted by King John,⁶ in the year 1207, to Roger de Stratton, who gave that

King one good palfrey to have his charter for liberty to hold a fair yearly for two days, viz. on the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin, and the day after, at his manor of STRATTON; but it is to be observed, that he was lord of Saye's manor here, and that Bourne purchased the liberty from it, and added it to this manor; it was kept in a close opposite to the west part of the churchyard, which is still called the fair-land, or land, but it hath been disused many years. In 1291, there was a suit between Robert Sturmy and John Say, and Gilbert de Bourne and Elizabeth his wife, and others, about the liberties of their manors, and of a way leading to the market and mill. In 1315, Roger de Bourne was lord; and in 1325, Ralf Malherbe and Elizabeth his wife claimed the manor against Roger son of Gilbert de Bourne, and made out their title under their claim, so well, that Roger settled an annuity of 40*l.* on them during their lives, for their release. In 1331, he was a knight, and was succeeded by Sir Nic. de Bourne, Knt. who in 1348, having no sons, settled all his estate on his trustees, Sir Tho. Jenney, Sir Tho. Savage, Robert de Welholm, Robert and Thomas de Bumpstede, John Snoring, and Roger de Dersingham; it seems that Margery, one of the daughters and heiresses of Sir Nic. Bourne, was first wife to

JOHN DE HERLING,⁷ and that when the said John married Margaret, daughter of Sir Thomas Jenney, this settlement was made; for in 1366, Elizabeth daughter of Sir Nicholas Bourne released to John de Herling all her right in this manor and advowson, and in the advowson of Waketon St. Mary, and in all the Bourne's estates in Wake-ton, Taseburgh, Moringthorp, Moulton, &c. reserving an annuity of 20 marks to Robert Mortimer and Margaret his wife, who seems to have been widow of Sir Nicholas de Bourne, remarried to Mortimer. He died seized of this and *Sturmin's*⁸ and Snape-hall manors here; and from this time, it passed with the manor of East-Herling, as you may see in vol. i. p. 320, 21, till it came to the Bedingfields of Oxburgh, by the marriage of

Sir EDMUND⁹ BEDINGFIELD, with Margaret daughter of Sir Robert de Tudenham, and it continued in that family,¹ till Sir Henry Bedingfield,² sold it to

Sir EDMUND REEVE, Lord Chief Justice of the Common Pleas, who was preferred to that high station March 14, 1638, and died March 27, 1647, and having no issue, left his estate to Augustine Reeve, his brother, and he to his son, Mr. Henry Reeve of Brakendale, who sold the manors, &c. to

JOHN son of John Mallom of Booton in Norfolk, clerk, at whose death they descended to John Mallom of Wackton-Magna, who left them to John Mallom of Wackton, Esq. the present lord.

But the patronage of Stratton St. Mary, which was appendant to

The LETE is held annually, at which the constables for Stratton St. Mary are always chosen, and the lete-fee paid to the lord is 8d. The CUSTOMS of this manor, as well as those of the manors of Sturmer's, or Sturmin's, Snape-hall, Welham's or Welholme's, and Reese's, all which are now held with this manor, are the same, viz. all lands and tenements descend to the eldest son, the finés are arbitrary, and they give now dower.

The manor-house called Stratton-hall, and the demeans, were not sold with the manors but are now the estate of John Houghton of Bramerton, Esq.

The CHURCH of St. Mary, commonly in old evidences called STRATTON cum Turri, viz. Stratton with the Steeple, (by which it should seem, that anciently the other two churches had none,) was in the patronage of Gilbert de Bourne, when Norwich Domesday was wrote, the rector had a house and 40 acres of glebe, now increased to 50, and paid then as it doth now, 2s. 3d. synodals, and 7s. 7d. ob. procurations; besides 11d. Peter-pence, and 6d. carvage. In 1612, return was made, that a yearly pension of 50s. was paid on Michaelmas day by the rector here, to the rector of Stratton St. Michael, which is now duly paid. The Prior of THETFORD monks, was taxed at 12s. to each tenth, for his temporals here. The Abbot of LANGLEY for his at 6d. The Prior of NORWICH at 16d. ob. and the whole parish paid clear to each tenth, without the taxation of the religious aforesaid, 6l. 10s.

There were two GILDS here, the most ancient one was held in honour of St. John the Baptist, and their priest officiated in his chapel at the east end of the north isle, by the grave of Sir Roger de Bourne, the founder; he was daily to pray for the souls of Sir Roger de Bourne, Knt. and all his family, and for the souls of all the deceased brethren and sisters of St. John's gild, and for the welfare of all the living members of that gild; this was endowed with a house called the Gild-hall,³ and half an acre of ground thereto belonging in Stratton, (upon which a little house is built; it was gild-land, and lately purchased for a dwelling-house for a dissenting teacher,) which being copyhold of Fornct manor, was seized by the lord at the Dissolution, and granted to be held by copy of court-roll; it was given in Henry the Seventh's time by Robert Barnard.

The other was dedicated to St. Mary the Virgin and St. Thomas; the office for the members of this gild was performed at St. Thomas's altar, at the east end of the south isle,

And both held their merry-meetings and feasts, in the same gild-house or hall.

In this parish also, was an anchorage of ancient foundation, with a small chapel or oratory adjoining; ⁴ in 1256, WILLIAM DE SUFFIELD, alias CALTHORP, Bishop of Norwich, gave a legacy to the anchorage here, as in vol. iii. p. 489; and at the Dissolution the chapel was granted from the Crown into private hands.

Here is an estate of 20*l.* per annum settled on the rector of St. Edmund in NORWICH, as at vol. iv. p. 405.

STURMYN'S, OR STURMER'S MANOR,

Was so called from ROBERT LE STURMY of Stratton, who had a grant of it from the Malherbes; and William le Sturmy, Knt. his son,⁵ was lord of it in 1262, and held it at one fee of the Bishop of Norwich; and in 1285, he had a lete, and assize of bread and ale of all tenants, allowed in aire. In 1291, Will. le Sturmy had it; and after him Sir John de Sturmy, who in 1327, obtained of King Edw. II. a charter for free-warren, for all his lands here, and in Moringthorp, Fretton, and Tharston. Lady Mary Stourmy, his mother, held it some time. In 1342, John Sturmy held it by 6*d.* a year paid to the Bishop; and in 1345, Robert his son had it, by whom it was sold to the lord of Stratton-hall manor, and hath passed with it ever since; the manor-house is down, the site is enclosed with a moat, and is now called Sturmy's Yards.

SNAPE-HALL MANOR

Was another part of the capital manor, granted to the family of the SNAPES,⁶ and was in 1307, in the hands of Stephen de Brockdish; it had then a house and 60 acres of demean land, quitrents to the value of 3*l.* 8*s.* 8*d.* and was held of the honour of Richmond, at 19*d.* per ³ The barn owned by Mr. Soley is the very gild-hall, and is freehold held of Stratton manor at 1*s.* per annum free rent.

⁴ In Stratton, libera capella ruinosa, tent. per Will. Grice arm. et sacerdot. de tranerio de Lestreenwiche in socagio 8 Eliz.

⁵ In 1267, Will. son of Roger Sturmy of Bucksale in Suffolk, and the son of Robert Sturmy of Stratton, levied a fine, by which four virgates of land, and the advowson of Bucksale, and many quitrents, &c. in Southborne, Butle, Orford, Wanesdene, Tunstall, Blakeshall, Helmele, Fynesbrigg, Lilleseye, Duwlich, and Cassen-hall, were settled on William son of Roger.

⁶ In 1420, Sir John Snape, rector of St. Michael in Stratton, was a descendant from this family.

annum rent: he left it to Reginald de Brokedish, his son and heir, and in 1339, it was conveyed by John Hardele and Alice his wife, and Rob. Bokenham, parson of Hardwick, to Sir John le Sturmy and Maud his wife, and their heirs; and so it was joined to Sturmer's manor, and with that fell into Stratton-hall manor, and there continues.

The town is a small, but compact village, and hath a good publick-house or two, for the reception of travellers; its standing on the road from Ipswich to Norwich makes it pretty much frequented; the justices of the peace for this division generally meet here, and have done so very anciently, for in 1380, the justices and country gentlemen, in the time of the insurrection, met here to consult what was best to be done for the King's service and country's safety, as at p. 108, vol. iii.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH, hath a round steeple 54 feet high, with a small spire on its top, against which the clock-bell hangs, on the outside; there are now five bells, on one of which I read this,

NOB SOCIET SANCTIS SEMPER NICOLAUS IN ALTIS.

The steeple is a much older building than the church, the present fabrick⁷ of which, was built chief by Sir Rog. de Bourne, Knt. lord and patron, about 1330, and the chancel by Rich. de Bourne his brother, then rector here; and it seems as if one John or James de Bourne, glazed the clerestories or lights in the nave, for J. B. in old capitals, remains still in several windows there, as do the arms of Bourne in the east chancel window, viz.

Arg. a chevron gul. between three lions rampant sab.

And in the north window of the Baptist's chapel, at the upper end of the north isle, which Sir Roger built for his own burial-place, is this now broken inscription,

ORATE. PRO AIA. ROE. - - - ORNE. - - - TIS.
(Orate pro anima Rogeri de Borne, militis, &c.)

His stone is robbed of its inscription, circumscription, arms, and effigies, and nothing remains thereon, save two brass effigies of corses looking out of their winding sheets; at the altar here, the gild-chaplain of St. John celebrated mass for his soul, and the souls of his family; many of whom are interred in this chapel and chancel.

The south porch, two isles, nave, and north vestry, which is now used as a school-house, are all leaded, as is the east part of the chancel, the western part of which is thatched.

In the south isle I find nothing, save these words on the poors' box, which stands at the south door, The Gift of John March.

Anne Dr. of John & Ann Browne, March 22, 1716.

⁷ The nave and two isles are 56 feet long, and 14 broad, and the chancel is 36 feet long and 20 broad; the church-yard is very large, containing about an acre and a quarter.

On a brass plate at the east end of the nave,

Orate pro animabus Johannis Smith. et Margerie Uxoris eius qui Johannes Obiit xviii^o die Mensis Febru' A^o Dni: M^occcc^o lxxiiij. quorum animabus propicietur Deus Amen.

Weever, fo. 814, gives us these two, which are now lost:

Orate pro animabus Johannis Bocher et Margarete Uxoris eius quorum animabus &c.

Orate pro anima Thome Drake qui obiit A^o Dni. M^occcc^olxxxv.

At the east end of the chancel against the north wall, is erected a very sumptuous monument, on the altar part of which are the cumbent effigies of Judge Reve and his lady, in their proper proportions and habits; he in his judge's robes, with a roll in one hand, and the other under his head; she, with a book in her left hand, and her head supported by two cushions.

CREST, on a wreath O. B. two wings conjoined of the 1st.

REVE, az. a chevron between three pair of wings conjoined and elevated or, impaling sab. on a chevron between three griffins heads erased or, three stars of six points gul.

ELIZ BASPOOL gave 1*l.* 6*s.* to be given weekly in bread at the church, to the poor, for ever, and tied all her lands in Stratton for payment thereof, now the estate of Mr. Joseph Cotman of Great Yarmouth.

JOHN ROOPE gave 1*l.* 6*s.* to be paid yearly out of the ale-house called the Swan in Stratton St. Mary, which he tied for payment thereof, on condition the said premises be not rated to any tax above 13*l.* per annum, otherwise the gift to cease; it is given in bread at church, as the other.

THOMAS PUDDING gave 12*s.* yearly to the poor, till 10*l.* be paid to the church-wardens, and tied his estate, now in possession of William Booty for it, lying in Stratton St. Michael.

WILLIAM PUDDING gave 12*s.* yearly, issuing out of Will. Booty's estate, till 10*l.* be paid to the church-wardens for the use of the poor.

Half an acre of ground with four cottages thereon built, now inhabited by the poor, were given by Nic. Porter and Tho. Stanton, in James the First's time.

The CHURCH of Stratton St. Peter, always belonged to Forncet manor, and was founded by Roger Bigot, about the Conquest, in all appearance. In 1195, by fine then levied, Will. de Stratton, as trustee settled it on Gundred the Countess for life, remainder to Rog. le Bygod and his heirs for ever. It was valued at five, afterwards at six marks, and paid, as it doth now, 5*s.* procurations, 18*d.* synodals, 3*d.* ob. Peterpence, and 5*d.* carriage.

1419, with Will. Hernald of Corpusty. JOHN LANCASTER and ROBERT SOUTHWELL, Esqrs. attorneys-general to John Earl-Marshal, Nottingham, &c. he being in foreign parts.

John Gourle resigned in 1439, and John Duke of Norfolk gave it to

Ric. Feket, and in 1414, to Thomas Martin, who was the last rector here, for at his death, it was consolidated Sept. 10, 1449, to the church of Stratton St. Michael, which stands not above a bow-shot distant from it; and it was agreed, that as a recompense for this patronage, St. MARY's alias WINCHESTER college in Oxford, should present two turns, and the Duke of Norfolk every third turn, and that St. Peter's should exist as a separate parish still, and the rector should serve in each church every Sunday; and it continued so till the Dissolution, when being returned as a chapel only, it was totally demolished, and was laid to St. Michael's parish, and hath continued as part of it ever since; and nothing is to be seen of the church, but the foundations level with the ground, which show that it was a small building. The site is still called St. Peter's Churchyard.

SAYE'S MANOR

Belonged to, and laid chiefly in, this parish, and was granted from the other part of the parish, and the advowson, by the BYGODS, lords of Fornet, to WILLIAM DE SAY, whose second son Jeffery had it, and held it at a quarter of a fee; he died in 1214, and left it to Jeffery de Say, called the younger, who married Alice daughter and coheir of John de Cheyney, one of the founders of Coxford monastery; and by her had William de Say the elder, who died seized in 1271, and it went to Sibill his widow, who married Robert de Ujford, who in 1274, was in her right lord here; William de Say, junior, was the son and heir, but the younger son John de Say, had this manor, and in 1285, had a lete, view of frankpledge, and the assise of bread and ale over all his tenants in Stratton, and was returned to hold it at a quarter of a fee of the lord of Fornet, who held it of the Earl of Gloucester as of Clare Honour; I find him lord in 1291, but in 1296, Jeffery son and heir of Will. de Say, junior, owned it, and was a minor in the custody of Henry de Laybourne, who married him to Idonea, daughter of William de Leybourne, his brother. The rents of this manor were 46s. 6d. per annum, and Mary de Say, relict of his uncle John, who died without issue, had her dower in it. Jeffery died in 1321, but before his death in 1317, he confirmed an agreement made by John de Say, his uncle, as to this manor, and conveyed it by fine to

JOHN DE HOLVESTON and Joan his wife, who afterwards held it of the Lord Say, &c. In 1342, JOAN widow of John de Holveston settled it on James de Holveston and Alice his wife, remainder to Gilbert de Fraunsham and Agnes daughter of James de Holveston; and in 1401, Geffry de Fraunsham held it of the Lord Say, he of the Earl of March, &c. In 1414, William son of Balderic of Taverham, conveyed to

RICHARD PYGOT and his feoffees, all his purparty of Saye's manor in Long-Stratton, and it continued in the Pygots till it passed with Anne daughter and coheir of Thomas Pygot of Stirton, to

ROBERT BARNARD of Norwich, Esq. her husband; she settled it by will, on Sir Robert Southwell, and other feoffees, to find a priest to sing for their souls in the Black-friars church in Norwich, where they are buried, at their tomb, which is now standing, and was lately used for St. George's company to meet at; see vol. iv. p. 339. They left two daughters coheirs; Eleanor, married to Christopher Calthorp of Cockthorp, Esq. and Elizabeth, to John Legge, and this was assigned to Legge in 1511, and Calthorp had Stirton manor, and a rent charge of 1*l.* 6s. out of this, which Sir James Calthorp and his son Christopher sold to Will. Machet of Moulton, clerk, who had purchased this manor of John Legge and Eliz. his wife; and in 1539, Sir John Shelton, Knt. was lord, and settled it on Anne his wife for life, and then to John Shelton, Esq. his son, for 60 years, and after that on Ralf Shelton his cousin, who was lord in 1570; he it was that manumised the whole, sold the rents to the several tenants, and the demesns to Nicholas Porter; and so the manor and lete also, extinguished for want of tenants. The site came after to the Cullyers, and Abigail Norris, widow of Berton Tuft, sold it to the Rev. Mr. Tho. Howes, rector of Moringthorp, who now owns it, and the demesns called SAYE's.

STRATTON ST. MICHAEL.

THIS rectory was given by WALTER GIFFARD to the priory of Longeville in Normandy, with Weston and Wichingham in Eynsford hundred; the rector had then a house and 10 acres of glebe, and now there are 28 acres and an half in 31 pieces, lying about the town. The parsonage-house joins to the south-east part of the churchyard, and the east part of it (as I am informed) is copyhold of Ree's manor, and belongs to a farm adjoining to the east part of the parsonage-house, now owned by Thomas Howes, clerk. It was valued without the portion, at 8 marks, and paid 10s. 8d. tenths, and the rector paid a portion of 13s. 4d. per annum to the prior of Longeville, which is now paid to New College in Oxford, who had the patronage from William of Wickham, their founder, by grant from the King, it being vested in the Crown, as belonging to a dissolved alien priory. It stands in the present Falor by a false name, thus,

6*l.* 12*s.* 8*d.* ob. STRATTON Omnium Sanctorum R. 13*s.* 3*d.* q. tenthis, and I suppose came to be fixed so, because anciently the church is called St. Michael and All-Saints; but strange it is, that the names both of St. Peter and St. Michael (by which only, this rectory is known) should be omitted: as it is not discharged, it is incapable of augmentation. It paid 4*d.* carvage and 7*d.* Peter-pence; and as it now doth, 1*s.* 10*d.* synodals, and 6*s.* 8*d.* procurations; and for St. Peter, 5*s.* procurations, and 1*s.* 6*d.* synodals; in all 15*s.* .

The CHURCH is 25 yards long and 7 broad, it hath a square tower and two bells,¹ the south porch is tiled, the nave and chancel thatched, the last of which was built by JOHN COWALL, rector here in 1487; he lies buried in the middle of the chancel, with this on a brass plate now loose,

Orate pro anima Johannis Cowall quondam Rectoris istius
cccc^o lxxxviii^o et pro quibus tenetur. (sc. orare.)²

But though he built the chancel in 1487, he continued rector till 1509; his will is in Register Spyltime, fo. 225, in which is this; "Also my house in the street called Pepys, I wol the state ther of, with all the Lands ther of, shall remayne in the handys of feoffeys, and in the Attorneys of them, to my Parishiners beholfe, in excusing of tenths and tallage, when it fallyth, and the overplus to the reparation of the churchys of St. Michael and St. Peter in the sayd town, evermore; seen, that the constabyll and the church-wardynns, shall let it, and repare it, with the ferme of it; and the residewe of the ferme, I wol yt remayne in the handys of the said constabyll and wardeyns, and yerly they make acounte before all the parishe, and they to excuse the rent of it to the lordys of the fee." This house, with about 12 acres of land, part copy and part free, is now in feoffees hands; and is worth about 10*l.* per annum, and the churchwardens receive the rent, and apply it as it ought to be, to repair the church, since the taxes of tenths and tallages are ceased. He was also a benefactor to the GILD of St. Anne, which was kept in this church.

The nave was finished in 1440, for then Ric. Havell's legacy towards finishing the new church roof, was paid.

There was another brass plate in the chancel, now lost for Ric. VYNNE, Jan. 26, 1626, aged 76. I find that Mr. Lager Vynne was curate here some time.

There is an altar tomb in the churchyard on the south side, for Will Weddwall, Gent. 1730, and Mary his wife, who was daughter of Tho. Dixon.

¹ There were three, for in 1699, a license passed to sell a bell, under pretence to repair the church, which had lands sufficient for its reparation. ² Weever, fo. 814.

The rector of Moringthorp, pays a yearly pension of 18s. to the rector here, on Lammas day, for exchange of tithes, as mentioned in the terrier.

Sir Rob. Browning, his chaplain, who was succeeded by Will. Rownam, by lapse, who died in 1537, and John London, LL. D. master of the college, gave it to Henry Kcle, and at his death in

1541, to Robert Stevens. In

1562, Sir John Stevens was presented by THOMAS Duke of Norfolk.

1596, William Thorn, S. T. B. MARTIN CULPEPPER, M. D. custos, &c. he resigned, and in

1600, George Ryves, custos, &c. gave it to

Anthony Combe, fellow of the college, who returned answer, that here were 91 communicants. On whose resignation in 1610, John Cole, assignee of the Earl of Northampton, gave it to

Peter Rave, who had it united to Starston; he was succeeded in

1629, by John Merewether, who held it united to Taseburgh, from both which he was ejected by the Earl of Manchester's scandalous committee, and one

Cooke was put in, "being a godly man," to preach, and had 5s. a Sunday allowed him by the sequestrators, out of the tithes, and Mrs. Merewether had a fifth part of the profits to maintain herself and six children; he being also deprived of his temporal estate of 50*l.* per annum, the rest was ordered to go towards maintaining the parliament forces, &c. but it seems Cooke was not "godly" enough for those rebels, for in 1654, they put in one

Ric. Laurence,³ who held it by intrusion till Merewether's death, which happened before the Restoration, when Nic. Woodward, S. T. P. custos, &c. in 1660, presented

James Oldfield, at whose death in

1681, Charles Reve was presented by HENRY REVE, Esq. who had the turn by grant from the Duke of Norfolk, at whose death

John Cox was instituted at the presentation of the College, and resigned it in about a year's time, and the college presented

The Rev. Mr. Rice Price, who is fellow of the college, and the present rector.

WELHOLME'S, OR WELHAM'S MANOR.

WAS granted by the STRATTONS, from their manor to the Welholmes, and it belonged in 1274 to Robert de Welholme, and in 1285, to Alex. de Welholme, who had a lete or view of frankpledge, and assize of bread and ale, allowed him in erie; on condition he paid 8*d.* a year to the King's bailiff of Depwade hundred, for that liberty. In 1315, John and Richard de Welholm had it; in 1345, Rob. de Welholm and Stephen his son, held it at half a fee, and half a quarter of a fee of Sir John Inglose, he of Isabel Queen of England, and she of the King, as heir to Montealt, lord of Rising-Castle. In 1401, John Brusyard had it, and it was purchased by Sir John Herling, Knt. and ever since hath passed as Stratton-Hall manor, the customs being the same, and the court is always held at the same time.

³ Walker, Part II. fo. 310.

The demeans and site severed from the manor, were late Booty's, and are now owned by JOHN HOWSE, Esq. who also hath the demeans of

REES'S MANOR

Here, severed anciently from that manor, which is now (and for a long time hath been) joined to Welholme's, the style being, Welholme's or Welham's and Reese's in STRATTON.

This manor was infeoffed by FITZ-CORBUN, as is already observed, in one HUNFRID or HUMFRY, whose descendants assumed the name of STRATTON; and it was in Robert de Stratton; ⁴ and in 1195 William de Stratton had it. ⁵ In 1207, Roger de Stratton, ⁶ in 1239, Henry de Stratton.

In 1249, Ralf de Stratton, called also de Bosco or Bois, held it at one fee, ⁷ and was fined for not being a knight. In 1285, John de Stratton was killed by William son of Nic. de Dunston; but it being found, that he did it in his own defence, and not feloniously or maliciously, he had the King's pardon, ⁸ which he pleaded before the itinerant justices at Norwich.

In 1270, Robert son of Nicolas de Stratton, sold part of the demeans to Richard de Boyland, who joined them to his manor of Boyland-Hall in Moringthorp. In 1274, Roger de Stratton was lord. In 1315, Thomas de Staunton owned it; about 1318, Thomas Picot; and in 1323, Nicolas and Jeffry de Stratton released it to Nicholas Pycot; in 1341, Sir John Walweyn, Knt. infeoffed it in fee in John Dengayne; and in 1358, Tho. son of Rob. de Bumpstede of Norwich, and Alice his wife, conveyed it to Roger de Herdegrey of Norwich, and his heirs, and he infeoffed William de Wreningham, John de Berney, John de Bonyngham, and others. In 1362, Margaret daughter of Tho. Pygot of Long-Stratton, released all her right to Edmund son of Isabel Berry.

In 1404, it belonged to JOHN REES and MARGARET his wife, WILLIAM REES, ⁹ Esq. and Margery his wife, who sold the manor in 1407, to John Kirtling, clerk, and Rob. Park, and the heirs of John, but reserved the site and demeans; the manor was soon after conveyed to Sir ROBERT HERLING, and ever since hath attended the manor of STRATTON-HALL.

The site and demeans called REE'S messuage in 1449, were conveyed by Rich. Baxter of Stratton, Will. Norwich, Gent. and Thomas

⁶ In 1127, Robert and Henry de Stratton owned lands here.

⁸ EDWARDUS, Dei gratia, &c. Quia per inquisitionem, quam per Vicecomitem fieri fecimus, accepimus, quod WILLELMUS filius NICHOLAI DE DUNSTON

Swayn, to William Alnwyk Bishop of Norwich, Sir John Fastolf, and Sir Henry Inglose, Knts. as trustees to Thomas Ludham, clerk, and THO. HOWES, chaplain to Sir John Fastolf, and their heirs; and in 1464, Howes and Ludham having conveyed it to Sir John, JOHN PASTON, heir to Sir John Fastolf, died seized, and since, it hath passed through many conveyances, to JOHN HOWES, Esq. the present owner.

In 1285, it was returned before the justices in eire, that the King was defrauded of the service of a serjeanty, due for lands here; and on the inquisition it was found, that in the time of King JOHN, William Roscelyne held one serjeanty in Carleton, Tibcunham, Forncet, Waketon, Stratton, Melton, and Toseburgh, worth 5*l. per annum*, by the serjeanty of finding one horseman in the King's war, whenever there happens to be war in England, and that Roger Bigot Earl of Norfolk, then held it subtracted from the King; to which the Earl by his attorney, answered, that he held it of RICHMOND HONOUR in capite, and that it was in King Henry the Third's hands, who gave that honour, with all belonging to it, except Cossey manor, to Peter de Subaudia, or of Savoy; and after that Roger Bygot, ancestor of the present Earl, purchased it of Ric. de Hadesco, as held of the said honour, and that it was now held of John de Britain, lord of the honour, by the service aforesaid, but not by any serjeanty; upon which he was dismissed; and it hath ever since passed with Forncet manor.

MOULTON-MAGNA

MANOR was held of ROGER BIGOD, as of his manor of Forncet, by ALGER,¹ at the time of Conquest, and another part of it belonged to ALAN Earl of Richmond,² and was valued with his manor of Cossey. Little Moulton belonged also to the said ROGER, and ALGER held that also, of him;³ it had then a church and 15 acres of glebe, and the King had two freemen here, named Gouta and Osketel, who had the inheritance that Ascius their father held of the abbey of HOLM, to which the advowson belonged.

Both the parishes were three miles long and a mile broad, and paid 13*d.* ob. geld.

In William Rufus's time, the Earl of Norfolk infeoffed WILLIAM DE VERDON in it, along with Brisingham, as appears in vol. i. p. 49; and it attended that manor for many ages, being held by the Ferdons; one half fee of it of the Norfolk family, and one 5th part of a fee of the honour of Bainard's castle, which was purchased of Ralf de Camois, and added to the manor. It after went with Brisingham, till Isabell, daughter and heiress of Sir John Verdon, by Isabell his second wife, married

Sir IMBERT NOON of Shelfhanger, and carried it into that family, as in vol. i. p. 119, and it passed with it till 1512, and then Henry Noon of Shelfhanger, Esq. sold it to

THOMAS SPRING of Lanham, clothman, and Thomas Jermyn his feeoffee, together with the advowson; at which time it extended into Waketon and Fornet; by him it was soon after conveyed to

LEONARD SPENCER of Blofield. It after belonged to

Sir WILLIAM DRURY, Knt. after to

ROBERT WETHERBY and ELIZ. his wife; and in 1562, to

ANDREW, JOHN, and ANTHONY RIVET, and in 1570, to

Mrs. ELIZ. widow of THO. CHUTE, Esq. had it, and now it belongs to

Mrs. ANNE ELWIN of Norwich, widow, and THO. LOBB CHUTE, Esq. in joint tenancy, and a third turn of the sinecure rectory of Hac-ton-Parva is appendant to it, as also this patronage.

The CHURCH is dedicated to St. Michael, was first valued at 10, after at 12 marks; the rector had a house and 20 acres of glebe; it paid 6s. 8d. procurations, 1s. 10d. synodals, 10d. Peter-pence, and 3d. ob. carvage. The portion of the monks of Thetford was valued at 6s. 8d. and in 1612, was paid to Aslacton manor in right of Thetford priory.

There was a chapel of our Lady in this church, and an altar dedicated to her also in it, by which stood her image, with a light burning before it. In 1504, Walter Taylor gave a legacy for a new bell, and in 1674, a license passed to lessen the great bell. It stands in the King's Books at 6l. 13s. 4d. and being sworn of the clear yearly value of 30l. it is discharged of first fruits and tenths, and is capable of augmentation; and the whole parish paid 5l. clear to every tenth. In 1239, lands here and in Herdwick were settled on William prior of the Holy Trinity at Ipswich, by Richard de Mundham and Eve his wife, William Weybred and Beatrix his wife, Walter de Thorp and Eda his wife, and R. Fuger and Christian his wife; and the Prior of the monks of Thetford was taxed for divers temporal rents here, belonging to their estate in Aslacton, at 12s. 5d.

⁴ Buried by the churchyard gate by Moulton and Griston; Moulton hath his house, and gave all he had to be divided among his poor parishioners of now town lands of his gift. 1526.

The steeple is round at bottom and octangular at top, and hath five bells; the south porch, south and north isles, and nave, are leaded, and the chancel, is tiled; the arms of VERDON, VICE DE LOU, and NOON, were very often in the windows, and az. a bend arg. and arg. a less gul.

In the nave,

At the south-west corner of the churchyard is a very antique altar tomb, but no arms or inscription.

John Moulton born here, a White-friar or Carmelite in Norwich monastery, flourished about the year 1400; Pits, page 568, tells us, that he was a pious, learned, and eloquent man, and an excellent preacher; he published a book of 99 sermons.

LITTLE MOULTON,

AT the survey, was in two parts, that held of Forncet by Alger, belonged first to Ralf, and then to Rob. de Agnellis, and the whole was held of Forncet at a fee, but part of it the lord of Forncet held of the honour of Gloucester; and in 1212, Lambert Teutonicus, called also le Almain,⁶ who afterwards took the surname of Moulton, agreed with Roger Bigot Earl of Norfolk, the capital lord of the town, and purchased divers rents and lands from the manor of Great Moulton, of Bertram de Ferdon, of whom it was settled, this manor should henceforward be held; so that by this purchase the quitrents of this manor became 5l. per annum.

In 1235, Richard de Brewse and Oliver de Redham, were concerned in it, and in 1246, the said Richard, jointly with Elcanor his wife, held a court-baron; in 1306, Reginald le Gros, settled it on Oliver de Redham and Joan his wife; it had then three messuages, 113 acres of land, five acres of meadow, and 20s. 11d. quitrents. In 1309, William son of William de Walcote, settled it on Thomas de Multon and Margaret his wife, who held it in 1315, of Richard de Brewse, and in 1345, it was purchased by William del Park, and joined to his manor called PARKS in Wacton, and from that time, there hath been no court kept in this parish.

The advowson, from the Conqueror's time, belonged to the Abbot of St. Bemet at the HOLM,⁷ who was taxed at 28s. 6d. for temporals here, but had no manor, only free-rents or pensions paid out of such lands as belonged to him, which were granted to be held free.

The CHURCH was dedicated to all the Saints, and when Norwich Domesday was wrote, the rector had no house but 13 acres of glebe; it was valued at three, and after at four marks; the Abbot of Holm's portion was 4s.; it paid 12*d.* procurations, 1s. 10*d.* synodals, 18*d.* Peter-

It was held by so many with Great Moulton, that the lands titheable to this rectory, are scarce known, though they were about one third of the parishes.

T A S E B U R G H.

THE name of this town shows its original to have been the burgh or fortification on the river Taus or Tics;⁴ and according to Dr. Gale in his Commentary on Antoninus his Itinerary,⁵ tells us, this river was called Taiü, and that the station ad Taiüm, mentioned in the Pentingerian Tables, was here; and indeed the parish church stands in the fortification, the dimensions of which are still very visible; and an advantageous situation it was, to guard the pass of the river, leading to Castre: being on the very summit of a high hill, which surveys the adjacent country, and hangs over the river, which turned eastward by it, and made a commodious sinus or bay for such vessels as came up hither; and though for many years this stream hath declined through neglect, it would be an easy matter to make it navigable for lighters and such sort of vessels, up to this village, which would be an advantageous thing to all the neighbouring country; this good project hath been twice attempted, and as often miscarried, rather through want of conduct and a proper application, than ability of the undertakers.

The entrenchment or burgh here is square, and contains about 24 acres; it seems to be that incampment of the Romans, which by the Chorographical Table published by Mark Velser, is called AD TAUM. This place hath given name to the ancient family of the TASEBURGHs, who being lords of the town, had anciently their seat there; but after their removal hence, had their chief seat (and that a very pleasant one) just out of the county, on the bank of the river Waveney, which parts this county from Suffolk, not far from the abbey of Falixton, commonly called Flixton, in Suffolk: The house is a grand ancient building, and fronts the road from Bungeye or Harleston. (Atlas Norf. p. 333.)

The CHURCH is dedicated to St. MARY the Virgin, who had her GILD here; the steeple is round and hath four bells in it;⁶ there is a north porch; the nave is leaded, and the chancel tiled.⁷

⁶ The steeple was rebuilt in 1385.

THE MANOR OF UPHALL, OR BOYLAND'S

In Taseburgh, was the capital manor, and belonged to Bishop OSBERN in the time of the Confessor, and was held by Tarolf, a freeman of Bishop Stigand, at the Conqueror's survey, and then it extended into Forncet; at the first survey it was worth 20s. per annum, and 30s. at the last. All Taseburgh was a mile and quarter long, and 7 furlongs broad, and paid 9d. geld.⁵ The successours of this Tarolf, were Richard and Mathew his son, and Ralf, who lived in 1199, and afterwards assumed the name of TASEBURGH about 1239.

In 1247, Ralf son of Ralf de Taseburgh, was lord, and had infaugenthes, or liberty to try all theft committed by his tenants, in his own court barou and lete here, and to execute them and take their forfeited goods. In 1256, he was dead, for then Robert de Gissing granted to William Esturni, the custody and marriage of Roger son and heir of Ralf de Taseburgh, and William assigned them to Oliva widow of the said Ralf, and if Roger died before he came of age, then she was to have the custody of Christian and Richolda his sisters; and in 1280, this Roger had sold it to

Ric. de Boyland and Maud his wife, who in 1284 had the lete, paying 6d. yearly to the King, by the bailiff of the hundred; assise of bread and ale, a ducking-stool, pillory, and common gallows; and in 1289, William de Nerford and Petronel his wife, and their heirs, had their free way and passage, under Sir Richard de Boyland's court-yard in Taseburgh, between his said court-yard and his chapel of St. Michael,⁶ to the aldercar of the said William and Petronel; in 1295, it belonged to Sir Ric. de Boyland, and Elen his second wife,⁷ and was then sold to

Ric. de Uphall of Taseburgh, from whom it was called UPHALL manor; in 1298, he sold it to

Henry son of Henry de la Sale and Sibil his wife, when it contained 10 messuages, 140 acres of land, 24 of meadow, 10 of pasture, 8 of wood, 2 of marsh, and 6l. 2s. 3d. ob. rent, in Taseburgh, Newton-Flotman, Saxlingham, Wackton, and Hemenhale. It after came to Ralf de Bumpsted, citizen of Norwich, and then to Thomas his son,⁸ who in 1385 conveyed it to Bartholomew de Appleyerd, Tho.

⁶ This was a free-chapel belonging to the manor-house, and was for the sole use of the family; I do not find it was ever endowed, but the serving priest was supported by the lords, to pray for them, their family, and ancestors; this continued to the Dissolution, but being the sole property of the lord, the statute had nothing to do with it.

Spynk, and Will. de Eton, citizens of Norwich; and in 1400, Nichola son of William Brooke, late citizen of Norwich, released it to William Rees, Esq. and Tho. Spynk of Norwich. In 1444, it was settled on Thomas Bumpstede, senior, and Ivetta his wife, with remainder to William Bumpstede; in 1445, by the name of Thomas Bumpstede, senior, Esq. he made his will, and was buried in the collegiate church of St. Mary in the Fields in Norwich, by the tomb of Margaret his mother; ⁹ Ivetta his wife, and Thomas Crofts, Esq. were executors; he gave Taseburgh manor, with the watermill thereto belonging, to his wife for life; which manor and mill lately belonged to Richard Bodendale, citizen and merchant of Coventry, and Nic. son of William Brooke, late citizen of Norwich, and after her death Thomas his son was to have it. In 1507, a fine was levied between John Jenour and Robert Bray, querents, and John Wiseman and Isabel his wife, deforciant, of the moiety of this manor, which in 1539 was sold by Thomas Wiseman, to

CHARLES Duke of Suffolk, who in 1542, sold it to

Sir RIC. GRESHAM, who the year before had purchased the other moiety of John Branch and others, who bought it of Edward Taseburgh and Rose his wife. In 1547, Paul Gresham, Gent. settled it by fine on Thomas Gresham, Gent. and before 1570, it was sold to William Fernley or Farrowe of Cretyng in Suffolk, and by him to Sir Thomay Gawdy of Claxton,⁴ who died seized, and left it to Henry Gawdy, Esq. his son, who sold it according to an agreement made before his father's death, with the manor of HUNTS in Taseburgh,² to Gascoign Weld, who left it to Joseph Weld his son,³ serjeant at law, whose two daughters, Elizabeth and Mary, inherited; Elizabeth married to Richard Rutter ⁴ of Kingsley in Cheshire; and Mary to William Starkey, clerk, whose daughter MARY inherited the whole, and carried it to her husband,

JOHN JERMY of Bayfield in Norfolk, Esq. whose only son and heir,

WILLIAM JERMY, Esq. is the present lord.

HUNT'S MANOR

⁹ Thomas de Bumpstede, husband of Margaret, and Tho. de Bumpstede his grandson, son of this Thomas, were now living.

² The style of the court now is, TASEBURGH Uphall, Boyland's, and Hunt's.

³ About 1700, Joseph Weld, Esq. serjeant at law, brought his action against Mr. Carter, an attorney at Norwich, then lord of Ranthorp-hall, for cutting down trees on the common of Taseburgh; it went for the plaintiff, it being proved by the evidences and court rolls, that in Queen Elizabeth's time the lord of Taseburgh granted license to the lord of Ranthorp-hall, to plant trees, and to make a causeway through the common to go to church, and that all the drifts, fishing, and other royalties belonged to the lord of Taseburgh.

⁴ See p. 87, and Richardson's pedigree at vol. ii. p. 449.

John's time, of the honour of Clare, at the 8th part of a fee;⁵ and in 1235, John Wythe and Roger de Brom had it; in 1266, King Henry III. granted liberty of free-warren to Thomas Rosceline, then lord, by purchase from Ric. le Chamberlain of Hadesco; and in 1270, the said Thomas sold it to Roger son of Walter de Hales; in 1289, Will. de Nerford and Lady Petronel his wife, had it; and in 1315, I find it belonged to Dunmowe priory in Esser, at the dissolution of which, it came to the Crown, and being granted from it, in the 12th of Queen Elizabeth it belonged to Sir Thomas Gresham, Knt. lord mayor of London, and by him was joined to the manor of Uphall, with which it now remains.

The honour of RICHMOND extends hither, two parcels belonged to Alan, lord of that honour, the one was valued with his manor of Costesey,⁶ and the other belonged to the manor of Scaffham, and in 1632, Mathew Weld, Gent. was obliged by process, to pay 2*l.* 10*s.* to the King as his forfeiture, for not paying his Majesty an annual rent of 2*l.* ob. called *WAR-POUND*⁷ rent, due to his honour of Richmond.

There was a serjeanty held under Roger Bigot at the survey, by Berard and Asceline,⁸ and afterwards by the Earl-Marshal, who was found to hold it of Richmond honour; an account of which you have before at p. 204.

RANTHORP-HALL MANOR

WAS held of ROGER DE RAMIS by WILLIAM, at the survey, and and after him by Jeff. de Rainesthorp, at one fee in 1156; and it is now divided, and in that part in Taseburgh, he was succeeded by John de Rainesthorp, and he by William de Raines, or Reymes; in 1200, Robert de Reynesthorp and Sibil his wife,⁹ had it; she was his widow in 1229; in 1244, Richard de Reymes was lord, and it continued in this family a long time; in 1307, John de Reynesthorp had it, and in

MOTTO, Non Generant Aquilæ Columbas.

Under this Stone is the burying Place of Sir Peter Gleane Baronet, and his Lady Dame Penelope, Daughter to Sir Edward Rodney, Knt. he served CHARLES the 1st, in all the Civil Wars, raised and armed two Foot Companys at his own Charge : he served the Crown faithfully above 40 Years, in military Offices, from a Lieutenant to a Colonel of Foot, and in this County of Norfolk, Lieutenant Colonel of the Militia, and was Deputy Lieutenant, and likewise Colonell and Deputy Lieutenant for the City of Norwich. In his Civil Station, he bore the Character of Justice of the Peace, within this County above 20 Years, and had the Honour twice to be chosen one of the Representatives of the same, to serve in Parliament ; in which several Services for his

King and Country, he spent his Strength and Fortunes, and the Wounds which that received were not healed in this Year 1683.

This Sir Peter was lord also of

BOUTON'S, OR BOLTON'S MANOR

Here, which was held by WISTRET, a freeman, of the Conqueror, at the survey;³ and it seems to have been in the Crown sometime afterwards. In 1315, Sir John Sturmyn, Knt. had it, and in 1332, Roger de Herdwick; when it was held of Forncet as of the manor of Hemenhule at one fee; it after came to the Boises;⁴ Catherine daughter and heir of Roger Boys, carried it to her husband JENNEY, and so it passed along with INTWOOD, as you may see at p. 40, till it was sold to the GLEANES, by William Gresham of London, Esq. and ever since, these two manors and the advowson have continued together; the style of the court being, The Manor of BOUGHTON'S and BARRET'S in Hardwick.

The lord hath weyf and strey, only upon his own demaens; the eldest son is heir, and the fincs are at the lord's will.

HARDWICK was sold by Sir *Peter Gleane*⁵ to Sir John Holland of Quidenham, and given by him to his 2d son Brian for life; and in 1713, I find Waller Bacon, Esq. of Erlham, lord and patron; whose relict Mrs. Frances Bacon, now enjoys it; EDWARD BACON, Esq. of Erlham, now member of parliament for King's-Lynn, being her eldest son and heir.

SHELTON manor always did, and now doth, extend into this town, and therefore that manor is styled SHELTON cum HARDWICK.

The church hath a steeple round at bottom and octangular at top, with one bell in it, the nave is leaded, the south porch tiled, the chancel, part leaded, and part tiled; in the windows of which, are the arms of Shelton single, and again impaling Morley; and Fitz-Walter's arms single, and this on a flat stone:

⁴ The Atlas, p. 334, says that Henry Bouchier Earl of Essex had Bolton's manor here, which was bestowed upon his father William by King Edward IV. because he married Anne, one of the daughters of Richard Woodville Earl of Rivers, sister to his Queen.

⁵ The first of this family who had any estate in Norfolk, was Walter Gleane or Glenc of London, scrivener, and Alice his wife, who owned estates in Pulham and Dicleburg in 1423.

The church is dedicated to St. Margaret. William le Waleys was patron when Norwich Domesday was wrote; the rector had a house and three acres of glebe, though since the terriers have six; it was valued at eight marks and a half, paid 4s. procurations, 7d. synodals, 12d. Peter-pence, 4d. ob. carvage, and 1l. 8s. clear to each tenth. The monks of Thetford had temporals here valued at 10s. and in the register of the sacrist of Bury abbey it is said, that Robert le Gros released his right in the advowson to the Abbot of Bury, but I do not find the abbot ever presented, or had any thing to do here. It stands discharged of first-fruits and tenths in the King's Books, and is capable of augmentation.

The freemen at the first survey, (2) were worth 10l. per annum to the manor, and at the last, 22l. 2s. 9d.; a part of it was held of COLEMAN by OLF a Dane, in the Confessor's time, and Tauaton was then in two parts; OSLOC held one, as also at the Conquest; and HARDEKINC the other, and reclaimed it as given him by the King; but yet WALTER held it of ROGER BIGOT.

presence of the Archbishop of Canterbury, averred upon oath, that King Henry upon his death-bed disinherited his daughter Maud the Empress, and appointed STEPHEN his heir; for which services (as some say) he was advanced by him to the earldom of the East-Angles, for in the 6th of King Stephen, he was so styled; and in the 12th year of King Henry II. he advanced him anew to the dignity and title of EARL of Norfolk, and to the office of steward, to hold it as amply as Roger his father did in the time of Henry I. notwithstanding all which honours and great favours, conferred on him, he took part with Robert Earl of Leicester, adhering to young King Henry in his rebellious insurrection; for which disloyal practices, he was forced to make his peace with a fine of 1000 marks, a prodigious sum in those days! and going soon after with the Earl of Flanders to the Holy Land, he died in 1177, and the King seized on his treasure; but it was afterwards restored, or at least great part of it, to

ROGER BIGOD his son and heir, who upon payment of 1000 marks more to King Richard I. in the first year of his reign, viz. 1189, was restored by special grant, both to the earldom and stewardship, and the whole inheritance of his father, to hold them as freely and honourably as his father and grandfather did; and was not only a favourite of the King's, but was entrusted by him, and much employed in public affairs; for in 1190, he was ambassadour to Philip King of France, to solicit an aid towards the recovery of the Holy-Land; he attended William de Longcamp Bishop of Ely, when he went to King Richard, then made captive in Almaigne; he was one of the four knights which carried the canopy of state over that King's head at his second coronation. He was sent to require William King of Scotland to come to Lincoln and do his homage to King John, whom he attended into Poictou in 1213; but in 1215, he deserted that Prince, being one of those rebellious barons that met in a hostile manner at Stamford, and afterwards at Brackley, and by their power exacted from the King those strict covenants, whereby he insolently wrested the government out of his hands, and put it into the management of himself and his accomplices; for which violent proceedings, he and his twenty-four comrades, who had thus obtained the real government, were excommunicated by Pope Innocent III. He died in 1220, leaving

HUGH BIGOT his son and heir, who married MAUD, eldest daughter of Will. Marshal Earl of Pembrook and MARSHAL of England, who outlived him; in 1222, he was with the King's army in Wales, but dying in 1224, this manor and all his inheritance descended to

ROGER BIGOD their son and heir, who was knighted in 1232; and at a tournament between the southern and northern lords in 1236, was taken much notice of for his singular skill in those warlike exercises. Upon levying the aid to marry the King's eldest daughter, he paid 162*l.* 11*s.* for 125 knights fees of the old feofment, and 37 and an half of the new. In 1241, he was with the King in France, and behaved gallantly at the famous skirmish betwixt the French and English near Xantoigne. In 1245, he was one of those that were sent to the council of Lyons, to complain of the burthen the kingdom laid under from the see of Rome, and finding no redress, was one of those lords who subscribed a letter to the Pope, requiring a remedy from such future exactions, and unjust oppressions; and the same year obtained the office and honour of MARSHAL, in right of his mother, which that King thus conferred on him; the King gave the Marshal's rod or staff into Maud's hands, and she having delivered it to her son and heir Roger, the King accepted his homage for it, and ordered the Treasurer and Barons of the Exchequer, to let him enjoy all the privileges of that office, and admit his sufficient deputy (if occasion required) to sit in that court. In 1247, he seized the Earl of Ghisnes, on his arrival in England, and excused that fact to the King, by acquainting him, it was only a retaliation of former indignities; the said Earl having served him so, when he went ambassador into France, having detained him prisoner till he had satisfied him for his passage through his lands. In 1252, he was present when the King confirmed the two charters called, The Great Charter or Magna Carta, and Carta de Foresta; and the next year he attended his Majesty into Gascoigne. In 1254, Robert de Ross, one of the Barons, being charged with some crime committed against the King, this Earl apologized for him, till the King gave him harsh language, and called him traitour; upon which, with a stern aspect, he told him, he lied, and that he never was, nor would be so; adding, If you do nothing but what the law warranteth, you can do no harm: Yes, quoth the King, I can thrash your corn and sell it, and so humble you: to which he replied, if you do it, I will send you the heads of the thrashers. But this breach was soon made up, for in 1259, he was sent ambassador to the King of France. In 1263, he was one of those who undertook, that the King should submit to the determination of Lewis the French King, concerning the provisions of Oxford; and the King being made prisoner at the battle of Lewes, he was constituted by the Barons, governour of Oxford castle in Suffolk. In 1269, he was found to hold this manor and advowson, (the Prior of Thetford having released all right in the latter) as head and chief parcel of the barony of BYGON, and dying soon after, he was buried at Thetford, leaving his honours and estate to his nephew,

ROGER BIGON, son of his brother Hugh, who was under age when he inherited; for in 1272, John de Thorp, as guardian, had the custody of the manors of Fornet and Hanworth. In 1281, he was in the Welsh expedition. In 1288, he had a charter of free-warren to this manor. In 1293, he was licensed to embattle his castle or mansion-house at Bungeye in Suffolk; and it is plain he did not degenerate from his ancestors, for he stood up for the people's liberty, being the chief of those lords, who openly opposed Edward I. in his arbitrary impositions upon lands and wool; and not only opposed the levy demanded by the King for his expedition into Flanders, but actually refused his personal attendance thither; and he and the Earl of Hertford, with others, inhibited the payment of the assessment, and incited the Londoners so, that he obtained a confirmation of the two great charters, and the Articuli super Chartas, which explain them, together with a pardon for all offences; thus all discontents being settled, in 1299 he went in the expedition into Scotland, and having no issue, he constituted King Edward his heir, delivering to him his Marshal's rod, on condition it should be returned to his children if he had any, he to have 1000*l.* down, and 1000*l.* per annum during life. Historians aver all this to be done out of fear, because the Earl of Hertford, his old friend and ally, being dead, he thought the King would now make him suffer for conspiring against him. But soon after, he had a re-grant of the earldom, marshalship, and constableness of NORWICH castle, and all his estate in tail special, to him-self for life, and to his heirs, if he had any, by Alice his second wife, with remainder to the KING, who inherited the whole at his death in 1305; JOHN BIGOT, his brother and heir, inheriting only the manors of Stockton in Norfolk, and Seterington in Yorkshire, and a few more estates not contained in the settlement. The KING being thus possessed, enjoyed it till

THOMAS DE BROTHERTON, his fifth son, had the earldom of NORFOLK, and marshalship of England, and great part of the estate of the BYGODS, and among others, this manor and advowson, granted to him and his heirs by Edward II. his half brother, in 1312, he was constable of Norwich castle.⁸ In 1315, was returned lord of the honour of FORNCET, and of the manors of Forncet, Ditchingham, Ersham, Framlingham-Earl. Halvergate, Southfield, South-Walsham, Hanworth, &c. with the half hundred of Earsham. In 1326, having behaved well in the Scotch wars, he had a grant of confirmation of the honours, lands, and estates of the Bygods. In 1332, he was a third time in the Scotch wars, and dying in 1338, was buried in the abbey at St. Edmund's Bury; he had two wives, but left no male issue; by his first wife ALICE,⁹ daughter of Sir Roger Hales of Harwich, Knt.; he had a son named Edward, who died before him, and two daughters, named Alice,¹ and

MARGARET, who was first married to JOHN Lord SEGRAVE of Folkestone in Kent, who in her right was lord here; by him she had issue ELIZ. and ANNE, who was lady abbess at Berking; her 2d husband was Sir WALT. MANNEY, *Knt.*² by whom she had issue Thomas, who was in his youth, unfortunately drowned in a well at Deptford in Kent, and Margaret married to John Hastings Earl of Pembrook. This Sir Walter was lord and patron here in 1361 and 1368, but dying before his lady, she had the whole of the estate in her own right, and in 1397, was created DUCHESS of NORFOLK for life, by King Richard II. she died in 1399, and was buried at the Friars-Minors in London, and by inquisition taken at her death, it was found that her daughter and heiress,

ELIZABETH, married to JOHN Lord MOWBRAY, had issue JOHN, created Earl of Notingham, who dying under age issueless, was succeeded by

⁹ Her sister Joan married with Jermyn of Norfolk.

and honour in chief, as parcel or head of the barony of the Earl of Norfolk, by knight's service, and 25s. per annum paid for castle-ward to Norwich castle; and he had free-warren belonging to the manor, which was worth 20 marks a year. It had then a capital mansion-house, 178 acres of land, 23 of meadow, divers woods and atdecars, two windmills, the 2th part of the tithes and profits of Stratton market, let at 2s. per annum, &c.

THOMAS MOWBRAY, his brother, who was Duke of NORFOLK, Earl of Nottingham, Baron Mowbray, Segrave, Braose, and Gower; Knight of the Garter, and as Coke upon Littleton saith, the first Earl-Marshal that styled himself Earl-Marshal of ENGLAND;³ his christian name was Thomas, in respect to Thomas Archbishop of Canterbury. He was so much in the King's favour, as to be created with his title of EARL of Nottingham, to which honour he was advanced the very day his grandmother Margaret (the heiress of Brotherton) was created DUTCHESS; but as his greatness was founded in blood, so he soon after irrecoverably fell; for being accused by Henry of Bolinbroke, for words spoken indecently of the King, whom he said, notwithstanding his fair pretences and oaths, meant to oppress the Duke of Lancaster and others: that Prince, though he had so great a favour for him, for being active in the destruction of Richard Earl of Arundel, his father-in-law,⁴ and Thomas of Woodstock Duke of Gloucester, as to create him DUKE of Norfolk, and give him his father-in-law's forfeited estate, yet he committed him prisoner to Windsor castle, and a challenge or camp-ordeal ensued between them, when the Duke came to the place appointed for the combat, with his horse caparisoned with crimson velvet, embroidered with silver lions and mulberry-trees: but the King then prohibited the combat, banished Henry called Earl of Hereford for 10 years, and the Duke for life; and this happened on the very day twelvemonth, that he had been accessory to the murder of the Duke of Gloucester; Germany, Bohemia, and Hungary were allotted for his exile; pursuant to which sentence he departed, but never returned, for as he came from Jerusalem, he died of the plague at Venice, in the year 1400, 1st Henry IV. seized of this manor, with the court called the KNYGHTEN court, thereto belonging, and Elizabeth his widow inherited them, and afterwards remarried to Sir Gerard de Ufflete, Knt. who held them till her death in 1424.

THE KNYGHTEN COURT

Belonging to this manor was the ancient court, to which all those great men, that held their several manors, lands, and tenements, of the BYGONS honour, were obliged to do suit and service, and pay castle-ward for the guard of the Earl's castle at Norwich, every three ³ He was constituted Earl-Marshal (of England) for life, but afterwards obtained it in remainder to the heirs of his body, with an union of the office of Marshal in the courts of King's Bench and Exchequer, and Marshal Crier before the steward, and Marshal of the King's household, and for that account, he and his heirs should bear a golden gruncheon, enamelled with black at each end having the King's arms engraven at the upper, and his own at the lower end.

⁴ He had two wives, 1st Eliz. daughter of the Lord Strange, by whom no issue, 2d, Eliz. sister and one of the heirs of Tho. Fitz-Alan Earl of Arundel, by whom she had issue, Thomas Lord Mowbray, beheaded at York, with Ric. Scroop Archbishop of Canterbury, in the year 1405. John his second son, who succeeded him. Margaret his eldest daughter, married Sir Robert Howard, Knt. Isabel the second daughter, married first to Hen. Ferrers of Groby, and after to Sir James Berkeley, Knt. father of William Marquise Berkeley.

weeks; and to do their homages, pay their reliefs and aids for the several knights fees they held of the honour, at every death, alienation, or aid granted to the Earl. It appears that there were many fees held both of the old and new FEODMENT in the Bygods times; but it was greatly augmented in 1337, when the division of all the fees belonging to Tho. de Brotherton late Earl of Norfolk, was made by the King's writ, between his two daughters and heiresses, Alice married as aforesaid, to Sir Edw. de Montague, and Margaret to Sir John de Segrave, who had Forncet for his share, and above 50 knights fees, many of which he transferred from Rising castle, and other places, and added them to the Knights Court here.

This COURT was held constantly every three weeks, and had the following officers belonging to it:

1. AN AUDITOR, whose business was once in a year to audit and pass the year's accounts, receive the money, and return it to the lord; he was generally a man of some principal family in the county, and had a handsome salary for life, it being held by patent. Sir Ric. Fulmerston, Knt. and several of the Kempes, &c. were auditors.

2. The FEODARY, an office of honour and great profit; his business was to take inquisitions at the death of each tenant, that held any fees or parts of fees, by knight's service, inroll all deeds of alienations of any fees or parts thereof.

3. The COLLECTOR, whose office was to attend at the doing of all homages, and to receive all reliefs,⁵ aids,⁶ *castle-guard*⁷ money, wards,⁸ marriage money,⁹ &c.

⁵ On the death of every KNIGHT, or tenant by knight's service, a reasonable relief was paid to the chief lord of the fee, which was originally at his will; but that growing exorbitant (as in the case of copyholds) the lords often oppressing their tenants to a great degree, it was determined that a reasonable relief should be for each fee, five pounds certain, (as in copyholds, the reasonable fine, hath been fixed, at the unreasonable sum of two years rent,) which was always paid.

Besides this, the new tenant was obliged to come and do homage to the lord, or else pay a fine at the lord's will, for not doing it; and it often happened, that the lord being at a distance, they could not conveniently go to him to do their homage, and then they fined for respite of homage, some for a year others for longer time. And this was another hardship brought in by innovation; for originally, the tenant (though bound to do his homage) was not obliged to do it any where, but at some COURT held for the honour, or at the capital mansion-house or castle belonging to it. The chief seat of the old Earls being the castle at Norwich, where the homages were chiefly done, sometimes at Bungeye, or at Framlingham castle in Suffolk, and after that, at the palace at Kenninghall in Norfolk, as appears from the rolls, &c.

⁶ And AID could never be levied, without the consent of the majority of the tenants by knight's service, unless in three cases, 1st, when the KING made his eldest son knight, or married his eldest daughter; he could then demand an aid of 20s. for every fee; which was to be answered to him by the chief lords of the fees, to whom each tenant paid their proportion for the several fees or parts of fees held of them. 2d, when the lord of any honour, or chief lord of any fees, made his eldest son a knight, or married his eldest daughter, he also, could levy an aid of 20s. from each fee held of him. 3d. when the King went to the wars, every fee being obliged to find a knight or horseman, well armed, to do personal service for the fee; his Majesty summoned the chief lords of the fees to come in person, with as many knights or horsemen, as they held fees, or to fine with him in lieu of such services; and then the chief lords summoned their several tenants that held fees under them, to

4. The SERJEANT, who was the feodary's officer, to serve all processes, make enquiries, serve all summonses, return the jurors, and certify the deaths.

5. THE BAILIFF, who was to summon the under tenants, give notice of the courts, make seizures, return copies of the rolls, &c. to the evidence room.

The feodary book of this HONOUR, was last of all renewed in 1609, when the noble HENRY Earl of Northampton, Baron of Marnehill, lord guardian of the Cinque-Ports, Lord Keeper of the Privy Seal, Knight of the Garter, was lord. It had then above fifty fees held of it in the county of Norfolk only, as may be seen under the several towns and manors, to which I refer you.

At the death of Elizabeth Dutchess of Norfolk in 1424,

JOHN MOWBRAY, her second son, and heir, by the death of his eldest brother, succeeded to the honour and manor: he was one of those valiant noblemen that served King Hen. V. and King Hen. VI. in their wars with France; in which, having behaved with the greatest courage and fidelity, he was by parliament restored to the title and dignity of DUKE of NORFOLK, (being before styled Earl-Marshal and Earl of Notingham only,) in 1424. In 1414, he was at the siege of Harfleu with King Henry V. where he gat the flux by eating too much fruit, and so was forced to return before the famous battle of Agincourt; in 1416, he was at the siege of Caen in Normandy, and continued in those parts till that King's death, and was soon after retained to serve Henry VI. in his wars, by whom he was made Knight of the Garter; he died Oct. 19, 1433, at his manor of Epleworth in the isle of Axeholme, and was buried in the charter-house of the Carthusians there; by Katherine's daughter of Ralph Nevile, first Earl of Westmorland, and of Joan his wife, daughter of John of Gaunt Duke of Lancaster; he had

JOHN Lord MOWBRAY, Duke of Norfolk, Earl-Marshal and Notingham, Lord Segrave, Gower, &c. Knight of the Garter, and lord of this honour and manor, who in 1438 went ambassadour into appear in person, with as many horsemen as they held fees, or to fine with them in lieu of such their service.

⁸ Whenever any tenants of any fees died, and left their heirs MINORS, the chief lord of the fee, sold their wardships and marriage to whom he pleased, often to the great detriment of the family, else purchasers of wardships and marriages, would not have given such vast sums as was usually done, for their purchase.

¹⁰ She after married to Tho. Strange-ways, Esq. to John Viscount Beaumont, and to Sir John Wideville, brother to Anthony Earl Rivers. P.L.N.

Picardy, to make a peace between the Kings of England and France, and had then a grant of place and seat in parliament, next to the Duke of Exeter. In 1446 he went in pilgrimage to Rome, and in 1456, he had license to visit other holy places, in Ireland, Scotland, Brittanny, Piccardy, and Cogn; and to the blood of our SAVIOUR at Widdismark; as also to go a second time to Rome and Jerusalem, having vowed to do it for recovery of the King's health. In 1460, he was constituted by Edw. IV. justice itinerant of all the forests south of Trent, but died in 1461, and was buried in the abbey of Thetford,² as was Eleanor his wife, daughter of William Lord Bourchier, and sister of Henry Bourchier Earl of Essex; and was succeeded by his son,

JOHN Lord Mowbray, who during his father's lifetime, was created Earl Warren and Surrey, by King Hen. VI. and by Edw. IV. was made Knight of the Garter; in 1473, that King retained him to serve in the French wars; he married Elizabeth, daughter of John Talbot, first Earl of Shrewsbury, and had issue only one daughter; he died in 1475, and was buried by his ancestors in Thetford priory church, and this manor was assigned to Eliz. Dutchess of Norfolk his widow, who presented here in 1496; but the honour of Forncet went to

ANNE, their only daughter, who married RICHARD PLANTAGINET of Shrewsbury, Duke of YORK, second son to King Edward IV. who, because the title of DUKE of Norfolk was by the creation limited to the heirs male of the Mowbrays, he obtained a patent from his father, creating him DUKE of Norfolk, and Earl Warren; with annuities of 40*l.* a year, out of the revenues of the counties of Norfolk and Suffolk, and 20*l.* per annum out of the profits of the counties of Surrey and Sussex, to be paid by the sheriffs of those counties. In right of his wife, he was Earl-Marshal, and had the baronies of Mowbray, Segrave, and Gower, together with the vast inheritance of her family. This Richard,³ with his brother King Edw. V. was by the unnatural and cruel command of that monster Richard Duke of Gloucester, their uncle, afterwards King Rich. III. barbarously murdered in the tower of London, in 1483, and leaving no issue, the inheritance of this great house fell to two female heiresses, Isabel and Margaret, daughters of Thomas de Mowbray first Duke of Norfolk, the first of which married Sir James Berkley, and the other Sir Robert Howard, Knt. to whose family this honour, manor, and advowson, passed, and hath continued in it to this day.

I shall therefore conclude my account of the BYGODS and Mowbrays, with the following extract taken from an old manuscript called the Book of PLEAS, now remaining in the gild-hall of the city of Norwich, at fo. 1, viz.

THE HONOURABLE FAMILY OF THE

HOWARDS,

BEING not only the first of this COUNTY, but of all England, next to the ROYAL FAMILY (1), I shall treat of them at large in this place; this town being the chief or head of the HONOUR; beginning as far back as I can trace them, from the many ancient pedigrees, rolls, evidences, printed accounts, and other memorials, that I have met with concerning them; chiefly following that PEDIGREE which is in CAIUS college library in CAMBRIDGE; (2) the greatest part of it being proved by extracts out of authentick evidences and deeds, which are entered upon it.

1. FVLCHO, or FULK; he is exhibited on his knees in armour, with a plume of feathers for his crest, on the top of his helmet; the sash, on which the scabbard of his sword hangs, goes in the form of a bend, and is tied with a knot on his shoulder; he hath his drawn sword erected in his right hand; from the oval that he is drawn in, hangs his shield, made in the shape of a heart, and on it, gul. a bend between six cross-crosets fitché arg. which arms have been constantly born by the HOWARDS to this day.

2. GALFRID or JEFFERY, son of Fulk, (3) succeeded who had two sons, Humfry the younger, and

3. ALAN Fitz JEFFERY, the elder, whose son

4. WILLIAM took the sirname of WIGGENHALL, from the town of that name in Freebridge hundred in Norfolk, where he was born,

(1) The DUKE of Norfolk hath precedence of all other Dukes, not only by his creation, but likewise in respect of his office: for as EARL-MARSHAL of ENGLAND, he is to take place with the Lord Great Chamberlain, Lord Great Constable (but after them) and Lord High Admiral of England, Lord Steward, and Lord Chamberlain of the King's household, next after the Lord Privy Seal, above all other personages, being of the same estate and degree. PEERAGE of England, Vol. 1. p. 51. Edit. Lond. 1715.

(2) The title of that pedigree is, STEMMA et accurata Deductio, præclaræ Familie HOWARDORUM usque ad annum 1605.

(3) Carta Godfridi filij Ordonis de Ridune facta Roberto filio Wilfrici de Norwico et heredibus suis, de toto prato suo vocato Rubro Prato in Ridune, (juxta Rising in Com. (7) I am sensible of the the many originals this name is said, by different people, to be derived from, as hot-ward, the warden of an hall. (Spelman.) Hold-ward, the warden or keeper of any strong hold. (Verstegan.) Of HOCH, high. (Teuton.) and ward, a warden, (Camden.) or HOLD, favour, and WORD, worthy. Teut. (Kilian) or of HOLD, hospitality, and ward, (Skinner.) But all these, I believe, are little to our purpose, otherwise than the natural origin of it, the HEYWARD or HOWARD being the high or chief warden or keeper of any place or thing; and indeed I believe that this JOHN was the heyward here.

It seems he had a brother named Thomas, who was called sometimes Thomas de Wigenhale, and sometimes Thomas Howard of Wigenhale; whose son Andrew also, did the same; for in a deed of exchange, made between him and this William, he is called Andrew (13) son of Thomas Howard; in the deed, which hath on its seal an eagle volant with a bird in its claws, the circumscription being SIGILLUM ANDREE DE WIGENHALE; and by this deed it is clear, that his mother LUCY survived her husband. (14) It seems as if he had also another brother, called HUGH HOWARD, who was instituted in the vicarage of Wigenhale St. German's, 7 Cal. May, 1304, being in deacon's orders only, when the Prior of Norwich presented him; which was void again in 1307; (15) but whether by Hugh's death, or promotion to other preferment, I do not find. This William was first appointed one of the judges in the Court of Common Pleas by King Edward I. about 1280; and on the 11th of Oct. 1296, (16) 25 E. I. he was sworn chief justice of the King's Bench; was constantly summoned to parliament till 1 Edw. II. in which year he was sent into Scotland with Rob. de Waterville, on the King's affairs; (17) and on the 12th of Dec. 1307, had letters of protection from his Majesty, to answer no suits, and not to plead to any thing till his return; which patent was produced in the first, second, and third years of *Edw. Inquisicio capta post mortem Johannis Mowbray Ducis Norfolcie A° 11 H. VI. de feodis militum pertinentibus dicto Duci et manerio suo de Framlingham in comitatu Suffolcie.

JOHANNIS HOWARD, chevalier, tenet decimam partem unius feodi in Brokes quam Alicia de Holbrook quondam tenuit.

He had issue by his last wife, two sons, (42) HENRY his youngest, (43) whose only daughter ELIZ. married to Henry Wentworth of Cobham, (44) and

ROBERT HOWARD, his eldest, lord of Forncet manor and honour, in his wife's right, who died in his father's lifetime, leaving issue by

MARGARET, daughter and coheir to THOMAS DE MOWBRAY Duke of Norfolk, by Eliz. his wife, (45) daughter and coheir of RICHARD Earl of Arundel.

11, Sir JOHN HOWARD, Knt. who began very early to distinguish himself in the wars. In the latter part of the reign of Henry VI. he accompanied John Viscount Lisle to Blay with 22000 men, and soon after marched to the relief of Chatillon, with John Earl of Shrewsbury, where that valiant Earl was slain. In 1442, he was sent by King Henry VI. to appease the great riot at Norwich. (46) In 1460, the first of King Edward IV. he was sheriff of Norfolk and Suffolk, and consequently had the custody of Norwich castle, (47) then the King's prison; and was appointed one of the King's carvers, and

(42) He had also by her, two daughters, MARGARET, married to Sir William Daniel, Knt, and CATHERINE to Edward Nevile Lord Abergavenny.

(45) Thus it appears, that this Sir JOHN HOWARD, the first Duke of NORFOLK, by his mother was descended from King Edward I. Thomas de Mowbray Duke of Norfolk being son of John Lord Mowbray and Eliz. his wife, daughter and coheir of John Lord Segrave, by Margaret his wife, eldest of the two daughters and coheirs of Tho. de Brotherton Earl of Norfolk, fifth son of King Edward I. but eldest, by his second wife, Margaret daughter to Philip the Hardy King of France.

This Sir JOHN HOWARD being the first Duke of Norfolk of the family, an account of him and his successors is very judiciously drawn up by Mr. Collins, in the Peerage published at London 1741, vol. i. p. 8, so that I shall transcribe it here, inserting such additions as I have met with.

in consideration of his great services, obtained a grant of several manors, which were then in the Crown, by the attainder of John Earl of Wiltshire. In the second of Edward IV. he had the joint command (with the Lords Falconberg and Clinton) of the King's fleet, and did considerable service against France; being also at that time Treasurer of the King's household. In 1467, he was sheriff of Oxfordshire and Berkshire. (48) In 1469, bearing the title of Lord HOWARD, (49) (by which title in 1471, he was summoned to parliament as a baron of the realm) he was made captain general of the King's forces at sea, for baffling the attempts of the Lancastrians, then making a powerful head under the stout Earl of Warwick. In 1470, was made deputy gouverneur of Calais and the Marches, with the Lord Hastyns; and having behaved with singular prudence and fidelity, he obtained a grant in tail special, of divers lands and manors. In 1473, he obtained of the King, (50) the wardship and marriage of John Bourghchier, Knt. Lord Berners, then a minor, whom he afterwards married to Catherine Howard, his only issue by his second wife. In 1477, he had a grant of the office of constable of the Tower of London; and the next year was again made captain general of the King's fleet against the Scots, and was also installed Knight of the Garter in Edward the Fourth's reign, to whom he adhered faithfully during the whole course of it; (51) as he did to King Richard III. after he had got the Crown, (though without having any evil hand in the barbarous actions which were exercised thereto,) so that to oblige him the more, he was upon June 28, in the first year of that King's reign, made Earl-Marshal of England, (52) and advanced to the dignity of DUKE of NORFOLK, (THOMAS his son being then also created Earl of Surrey) and the day preceding the King's coronation, was constituted High Admiral of England for that day, also Lord Admiral of England, Ireland, and Acquitain for life; and at the same time obtained a special grant of divers manors and lordships, (53) and confirmation of his mother's inhe-

But these great honours and vast possessions were not long enjoyed, for in 1485, being placed in the front of the army at Bosworth field, (54) he was there slain, with the King, Aug. 22, and being afterwards attainted, great part of his estate was seized by Henry VII. His body was brought back and interred in the abbey church at Thetford. CATHERINE, daughter to William Lord Molins, was his first wife, (55) by whom he had one son and four daughters, ANNE, married to Sir Edmund Gorge, Knt. sions, and the northern insurrections: about this time, he shared with Maurice, brother of William Marquis of Berkley, the lands which came to them by inheritance, by reason of his descent from the coheirs to Mowbray Duke of Norfolk. In 1499, he attended the King and Queen to Calais; and the next year, was advanced to the high office of Lord Treasurer of England, and so much was he in his master's favour that he constituted him one of his executors; and immediately after Henry the Eighth's accession, that Prince nominated him one of his privy council, renewed his patent of Lord Treasurer, and the year following made him Earl-Marshal of England for life. In 1512, being sent general of the English forces against the Scots, he slew James IV. King of Scotland, and routed their army at Flodden-Field; for which great service a special grant passed by the King's order, that he and the heirs male of his body, should for ever bear, as an honourable augmentation to his arms, on the bend of the Howard's arms, the upper half of a red lion (depicted as the arms of Scotland are) pierced through the mouth with an arrow. And in 1513, Feb 1, the King advanced him to the dignity of Duke of Norfolk, which title, John his father (deriving his descent through the heirs female of Mowbray and Segrave, from Thomas of Brotherton, son to King Edward I.) did enjoy. At the same time, he had a new patent for the office of Lord Treasurer; and a grant of divers lordships and manors from the Crown, and confirmation of many others; among which, the honour and manor of Fornacet, then valued at 44*l.* per annum, and its appendages of Swanton, Sugate, and Galgrime, were included; and in 1516, he issued his letters to Sir Nicholas Appleyard, Knt. chief steward of his honour, and to other the learned council of the law, who were constantly retained by him, and to John Crane, his high bailiff, to renew the extents, rentals, and evidences of the honour and manors belonging thereto, which was done very exactly. In 1521, he performed the office of Lord High Steward, at the trial of Edward Duke of Buckingham, and gave sentence of death upon him, but not without tears; and in 1522, obtained a grant to his son Thomas Earl of Surrey of part of the said Duke's lands; and resigning to him his office of Lord Treasurer of England, he retired with the King's leave, to his castle at Framlingham in Suffolk, where he kept an honourable house to his death, and being above 80 years of age, died there on the 1st of May, 1524; (62) and when he was carried out of that castle, towards his burial in the abbey church at Thetford, "he cude nat be asked one grote for his debte," as appears from an exact account of his life, which was fixed on a table by his monument, and is printed at large vol. ii. p. 120, &c. to which I refer you.

Knt. Lord Berners, by whom he had eight sons, of which Henry,* John,¹ Charles,² Henry,³ and Richard,⁴ all died young; the other three survived him.

1, THOMAS, his eldest son, was created Earl of Surrey in his father's lifetime.

2, Sir EDW. HOWARD, Knight of the Garter, and Lord Admiral, was a man of as great account as any of his cotemporaries. In 1491, he was in an expedition then made into Flanders, in favour of the Emperor Maximilian. In 1509, he was made standard-bearer to Hen. VIII. who in 1512 constituted him Lord High Admiral of England, when he convoyed the Marquis of Dorset into Spain, to aid Ferdinand the Emperor against the French; and having scoured the seas, he landed in Britanny, did great execution in that country, and returned home laden with honour and spoils. This put the French to reinforce their navy, and that encouraged the King to do the same; upon which, to the honour of this Lord Admiral, he searched for the French, and met them coming out of Brest, and after a sharp encounter, obtained a signal victory. He was also sent after Sir Andrew Barton, the famous Scotch pirate, whom he fought and took. Afterwards the French could never dare to look out of Brest, so that resolving to attempt them in their harbour, he entered a galley, and boarding the admiral of the French galleys, the grapplings giving way, the galleys parted, and he was left in his enemies hands, where fighting courageously, in the heat of the action, he was born over board, and lost his life.⁵ He married Alice, sister and heiress to Hen. Lovel Lord Morley, and widow of Sir William Parker, Knt.; she died Apr. 1513. His brother,

3, The Lord EDMUND HOWARD, was at Flodden-Field, and with his elder brother, the Lord Thomas, led the vanguard of the army, and behaved very gallantly: he was then a knight, and marshal of the host. He married first, Joice daughter to Sir Richard Culpepper ⁶ of Holingborne in Kent, by whom he had three sons, Henry,⁷ who died an infant; Sir George Howard, knighted in Scotland by Edward Duke of Somerset in 1546; and Sir Charles slain in France, all dying without issue; and five daughters; 1, Margaret, married to Sir Thomas Arundel, Knt.⁸ grandfather to Thomas, the first Lord Arundel of Wardour. 2, Catherine Queen of England, fifth wife to King *Henry VIII.*⁹ 3, Mary, married to Edmund Trafford, Esq.¹ 4, Joice, to John Stanney, Esq.² 5, Isabel, to ——— Bainton, Esq.³ His second wife was DOROTHY, daughter of *Tho. ravaged the country thereabouts. Upon the invasion of James IV. in Scotland, he landed 5000 veterans, and joined his father the Earl of Surrey, then general of the English army, sending a message to that King to justify Sir Andrew Barton's death; at the battle of Floddonfield he behaved gallantly, when he commanded the vanguard with his younger brother Edmund, who being in great distress, was succoured by him and Sir Edw. Stanley; and in recompense of these signal services, he was soon after created Earl of Surrey, the same day that his father was made Duke of Norfolk, 5 Hen. VIII. and on a dispute in parliament concerning his place there, it was declared, that he should sit according to his creation, and not as a duke's eldest son. In 1520, being appointed lord deputy of Ireland, he suppressed the O-Neals and O-Carols, and governed so acceptably, that he gained the love of that country. Afterwards, having performed many signal services in France, he was constituted lord treasurer, and made general of the King's whole army, designed to march against the Scots, and all this in his father's lifetime; after whose death, he was again made general of the army, at that time raised to advance into Scotland, to set the young King free, whom the Duke of Albany kept then in custody at Sterling castle. He afterwards attended the King into France, and was sent chief ambassadour to the French King, to attend him to Nice, and commune with the Pope, as to his delaying King Henry's divorce. In 1536, he marched to the assistance of the Earl of Shrewsbury, when he suppressed the insurrection in Yorkshire, called the Pilgrimage of Grace, raised on account of the dissolution of the lesser monasteries, and was soon after made lieutenant-general of all the King's forces beyond the Trent. But after all these signal services, (so little gratitude reigns among the great,) by the insinuating persuasions of some of the nobility, (because on some occasion he had called them the new raised men, which they counted a dishonour to them,) the King was so far misled and incensed against him, that he not only sent him prisoner to the Tower, but gave order for seizing his goods, and gave notice to his ambassadours abroad, that he and his son had conspired to take upon them the government during his life; and after his death, to get the prince into his hands. All which jealousies (the King being in a decaying and weak condition) so far prevailed, that the Duke, and his son HENRY Earl of Surrey, were both attainted in parliament; the Earl lost his head,¹ and the Duke had fared no better, had not the death of that inexorable prince hastened him to give an account of his own actions at that bar to which he had so lately sent the son, and designed to have hurried the father also: however, though his life was spared, yet his enemies so far prevailed over him in Edward the Sixth's reign, that though a pardon was given by proclamation to all persons for what crimes soever, yet was he with five others, excepted by name; as to the particulars laid to his charge, though the act of attainder itself be not on record, the act of repeal in the 1st of Queen Mary reciteth, that there was no special matter in the act of attainder, but only general words of treason and conspiracy, and that out of their care for the preservation of the King and the prince, they passed it. And this act of repeal further sets forth, That the only thing with which he stood charged, was for bearing of arms, which he and his ancestors had born both within and without the kingdom, in the King's presence, and in sight of his progenitors, which they might lawfully bear and give, as by good and substantial matter of record it did appear. It also addeth, That the King died after the date of the commission: likewise, that he only empowered them to give his consent, but did not give it himself; and that it did not appear by any record, that they gave it: moreover, that the King did not sign the commission with his own hand; his stamp being only set to it, and that not at the upper part, but to the nether part of it, contrary to the King's custom. At the attainder, all the manors and estates of the duke were seized, and among others, the manor and honour of Forncet, of which a curious survey was then made. He afterwards retreated to his palace at Kemninghall in Norfolk, where he died in 1554,² and was buried at Framlingham in Suffolk.

He had two wives; the first was ANNE, 3d daughter to King Edward IV. by whom he had a son named Thomas, who died young on the 3d of Aug. 23d Hen. VII. and was buried at Lambhith, though she lies buried at Framlingham in Suffolk. His second wife was *Eliz. against the Kentish men, and continued in esteem all her reign, and was installed Knight of the Garter 1 Eliz. and in the 3d year of that Queen, was constituted lieutenant-general for the northern parts of the realm. In 1565, he, with Robert Earl of Leicester, was solemnly invested with the habit and ensigns of the order of St. Michael, in the chapel of the Queen's palace at Westminster, by an embassy sent from the French King; but in the 11th of Queen Eliz. being suspected to be not only a favourer, but great admirer of Mary Queen of Scots, he was cast into prison, accused of designing to marry her, tried, condemned, and beheaded June 2, 1572, 15 Eliz. on Tower Hill, to the grief of many, for he was a good man, and much beloved by his country.⁶ He married three wives; first, Mary, daughter and co-heir to Henry Fitz-Alan Earl of Arundel;⁷ by whom he had Philip Earl of Arundel, his son and heir; she died at Arundel House in the Strand, Aug. 25, 1557, and was buried in St. Clement's church near Temple Bar.

His second wife was Margaret, daughter and sole heiress to Thomas Lord *Awdley*⁸ of Walden, Chancellor of England, widow of Henry Dudley, a younger son to John Duke of Northumberland, who was slain at St. Quintin's in Picardy A° 1557, by whom he had Thomas, afterwards Lord Howard of Walden, and Duke of Suffolk, (of whose descent more hereafter;) 2dly, William Lord Howard of Naworth castle, born Dec. 19, 1563, and two daughters, Elizabeth, who died an infant, and is buried at Framlingham in Suffolk, and Margaret, born Aug. 1, 1562, afterwards married to Robert Sackville Earl of Dorset. This dutchess died at Norwich in 1563, and is buried in the church of St. John Maddermarket, as at vol. iv. p. 289. His third wife was Elizabeth daughter of Sir Francis Leibourn, Knt.⁹ widow of Thomas Lord Dacres of Gillesland, by whom he had no issue; she died in 1567, and was buried at Kenninghall, as in vol. i. p. 226.

15. PHILIP HOWARD, son and heir to the last mentioned Duke, was Earl of SURREY, Lord HOWARD, Mowbray, SEGRAVE, and BRUSE of GOWER, and Earl-Marshal of ENGLAND; also, in right of his mother, he assumed the title and honour of Earl of the earldom of ARUNDEL, with the appurtenances thereof, it having anciently been adjudged in parliament, to be a local dignity, so that the possessors thereof should enjoy that title of honour; whereupon, he sat in parliament by the title of Philip Earl of Arundel, 23d Elizabeth, in which parliament he was restored in blood from the attainder of his father, Thomas Duke of Norfolk, beheaded A° 1572. This noble peer being a most zealous papist, was much maligned, and being accused to Queen Elizabeth, by some of his potent adversaries, for holding correspondence with Cardinal Allen, Parsons the Jesuit, and others, she took a great dislike towards him; for which reason, after the strict laws made against the papists, he endeavoured to go beyond the seas without leave, but being discovered, was apprehended and committed to the Tower, A° 1584, and his estates seized; and among others, this honour and manor of Forncet, of which the Queen took immediate possession, and demised part of it to William Pennant for 21 years, namely, all that part, which, after the attainder of Thomas late Duke of Norfolk had been granted to the Lady Mary, the then King's sister, and by her, had been leased to the said William. In 1586, he was fined 10,000 pounds in the Star Chamber for his misdemeanors, and attempt to go beyond the seas; and three years after, was arraigned and condemned by his peers in Westminster-hall, for divers practices in relation to his religion, and favouring of the Spaniards: nevertheless, by the Queen's grace, he obtained her pardon for his life, but continued prisoner in the Tower; and at length died in custody there, Nov. 19, 1595, being not full 40 years of age; having, during his imprisonment, lived in the severity of his religion, a most strict and austere life. He married Anne, daughter of Thomas, and sister and coheir to George Lord *Dacres*¹ of Gillesland, by whom he had his only son,

16. THOMAS Earl of Arundel, who was born during his father's imprisonment, and was restored in blood by James I. A° 1602, in the parliament met at Westminster in the 1st year of his reign, and had livery of all estates from that Prince, and among others, of his honour and manor of Forncet. He was Earl of Arundel and Surrey, Earl-Marshal, and premier EARL of all England, Knight of the most noble order of the Garter, and one of his Majesty's most honourable privy council, and lord steward of the household; and by King Charles I. was constituted chief justice of the forests north of Trent, and general of the army, in the first expedition to Scotland, A° 1638. He sat as lord high steward of England in Westminster-hall, at the remarkable trial of Thomas Wentworth Earl of Strafford; shortly after which, foreseeing the civil wars then beginning in England, he willingly resigned his staff of lord steward of the household, resolving to travel: his lady also took the same resolution, and a fair and honourable opportunity presently offered; for the Queen-mother of France having been in England about two years, was at this time necessitated to return; and the care of conducting her to the sea-side, and waiting on her over, was committed to this Earl; who afterwards spent some time at Utrecht, but in the winter returned to England; and by reason of his special services and great merits, as also in respect of his lineal descent from Thomas de Brotherton Earl of Norfolk, (a younger son to King Edw. I.) was by letters patent dated June 6, 20 Car. I. advanced to the title of EARL of Norfolk: shortly after which, discerning the flames of war to encrease daily, his age and infirmities also rendering him unfit for any further employment, he obtained leave of the King to travel; whereupon, retiring to Padua in Italy, he died there, Sept. 14, 1646, in the 61st year of his age, and his corpse being brought over, was buried at Arundel in Sussex. He married the lady Alathea, one of the daughters and coheirs of Gilbert

*Talbot*² Earl of Shrewsbury, by whom he had issue, 1, JAMES Lord Mowbray and Lord Maltravers, who was one of the Knights of the Bath at the coronation of Car. I. and after making the tour of France and Italy, died in his return, at Gaunt in Flanders, unmarried. 2, HENRY Lord Mowbray, who succeeded him. 3, THOMAS. 4, GILBERT. 6, CHARLES, who all died infants in their father's lifetime. WILLIAM, the fifth son, married Mary, sister and sole heir to Henry Lord Stafford,³ and 16 Car. I. was created Baron of Stafford, and she at the same time Baroness of Stafford, from whom the present Earl of Stafford is descended. During this time, the manor and honour passed in the trustees of the family, along with Fersfield manor, as in vol. i. p. 89, 90.

This most noble Earl was the greatest favourer of arts, and promoter of sciences, that we have met with. He had an excellent knowledge in painting, sculpture, carving, building, and designing; his collections of designs exceeding that of any person then living; and his statues were equal in number, value, and antiquity, to those in the houses of most princes; to gain which, he had persons many years employed, both in Italy, Greece, and many parts of Europe, where rarities were to be had; all which, were by him placed in the garden, and certain rooms belonging to Arundel House in the Strand, and are accurately described in that tract of his, intitled Marmora Arundeliana; and will remain a lasting monument of his highly deserved fame to future ages; Henry Duke of Norfolk, his grandson, bestowing them on the University of Oxford, they were orderly placed in the walls, enclosing the stately Theatre, but are since removed to a room over the Bodleian Library.

His paintings likewise were numerous, and of the most excellent masters, having more of that exquisite painter Hans Holben than were in the world besides. He had the honour to be the first person of quality that set a value on them in our nation; being also the person that brought in uniformity in building, and was chief commissioner to see it performed in London; he was likewise sumptuous in his household stuff; full of state and magnificence in his entertainments, especially of strangers; at his table very free and pleasant. He was more learned in men and manners, than in books, yet understood the Latin tongue very well, and was master of the Italian: he was a great favourer and admirer of learned men, as appeared by his intimacy with Mr. Cambden, Mr. Seldon, Sir Robert Cotton, and Sir Henry Spelman, the lights of their age. He was a promoter of order and ceremony, and kept greater distance toward his SOVEREIGN, than any person at court; often complaining, that the too great affability of the King, and the French garb of the court, would bring Majesty into contempt. In council he was grave and succinct, rather discharging his conscience and honour, than complying with particular interests; and so was never at the head of business or principal in favour. He was free from covetousness, and so much above a bribe of gratuity (for favours done) as no person ever durst tempt him with one. He was in his religion no bigot or Puritan, and professed more to affect moral virtues, than nice questions and foolish controversies: if he was defective in any thing, it was that he could not bring his mind to his fortune, which though very great, was far too little for the vastness of his noble designs, which were only for the glory and ornament of his country, and may well be excused. When he was constituted EARL-MARSHAL of England, he revived that honourable court, which had anciently been held by the Constable and Marshal jointly; wherein remedy was given for such abusive provocations as might occasion no little bloodshed by duels, or other mischievous ways of revenge; and some scruple being made as to the jurisdiction of Earl-Marshal alone, he the year after obtained other letters patent, bearing date Aug. 1, 20 Jac. I. 1621, whereby the King, after mature advice had with the lords of his council, did declare, that in the vacancy of the Constable of England, the Earl-Marshal had the like jurisdiction in the court, as both Constable and Marshal jointly, ever exercised; commanding him to proceed accordingly; which he thereupon did, with much honour to himself and his authority, and to the great satisfaction of the nobility and gentry of the realm, in cases where they received such affronts and injuries; for which (by the rule of the common law) no redress could be had; until, by the votes of a predominant party, in that parliament (which destroyed monarchy and episcopacy, and brought all things into confusion) his jurisdiction in the court was questioned.

17. HENRY HOWARD Lord Mowbray and Maltravers, (as he was called in his father's lifetime, and as such, sat in parliament,) succeeded him in his honours. In 1626, he married the Lady Elizabeth Stewart, eldest daughter of Esme Stewart Lord of Aubigny, Earl of March, and afterwards Duke of Lenox; but it being without the King's consent, he and his lady were confined some time to Lambeth, with Archbishop Abbot; but after that, he was called up by writ to the house of peers, as Lord Mowbray and Maltravers. When the rebellion brake out in 1641, he faithfully adhered to the KING, and served in his army till about the end of the year 1645, when he visited his father in Italy, and was with him when he died, and returned with his corpse into England. During the tyrannick government of his native country under Cromwell, he lived retired till his death, which happened Apr. 17, 1652, when he was buried at Arundel.

He had by his lady, nine sons, and three daughters, whereof Anne died young, Catherine was married to John Digby of Gothurst in Buckinghamshire, Esq. and Elizabeth to Alexander Macdonnel, grandson to the Earl of Antrim in Ireland; his sons were, THOMAS, HENRY, Philip,⁴ Charles, Tulbot, Edward, Francis, Bernard, and Esme.

18. THOMAS HOWARD succeeded him in his titles of Earl of Arundel, Surrey, and Norfolk; and after the restoration of Charles II. in the year 1661, at the humble petition of James Howard Earl of

⁴ PHILIP HOWARD, the third son, travelling with his grandfather THOMAS Earl of Arundel into Italy, took up the habit of a Dominican or black friar at Cremona, at 15 years of age; and on the marriage of King Charles II. with Catherine the Infanta of Portugal, became lord almoner to her, and continued in her service several years; but retiring to Bornheim in Flanders, to an English convent of his own order, he had a Cardinal's cap sent to him there, by Pope Clement X. in May 1675, and made his public entry into Rome, with great magnificence.

SUFFOLK, Thomas Howard Earl of BERKSHIRE, William Howard Viscount STAFFORD, Charles Lord HOWARD of Charlton, Edward Lord HOWARD of Esrick, Charles Lord HOWARD of Naworth, all lineally descended from THOMAS the last Duke of Norfolk, and above eighty others of the nobility, he was restored by ACT of parliament, to the title of DUKE of NORFOLK, to remain to him, and the heirs male of his body,⁵ with all the privileges, precedences, and pre-eminences, thereunto belonging; by which he became the fifth DUKE of Norfolk; but dying at Padua in Italy in 1678, unmarried, the title and estate descended to his next brother,

II. was created Lord HOWARD of Castle-Rising in the county of Norfolk,⁶ and on the 29th of Dec. 1672, in consideration of the eminent services done by his noble father and grand-father, to King Charles I. and the crown of England, at home and abroad, as also for many personal services performed to King Charles II. in his exile, was created Earl of Norwich, which honour was limited to him and to the heirs male of his body; and also by the same patent, had the office and dignity, of Earl-MARSHAL of England granted, with all rights, powers, jurisdictions, precedencies, and authorities, thereto belonging, &c. to him, and the heirs male of his body; and for default of such issue, to the heirs male of the body of the Lord William Howard of Naworth in the county of Cumberland, younge t son of Thomas Duke of Norfolk, (who was beheaded 15 Eliz.) and for default of such issue, to Charles Howard Earl of Notyngham, and the heirs male of his body. He was born July 12, 1628, and died at his house in Arundel-street, Jan. 11, 1683. He married to his first wife, the Lady ANNE SOMERSET,⁷ eldest daughter to Edward Marquis of Worcester, by Eliz. Dormer his first wife, and by her he had two sons and three daughters; and by his second wife, JANE, daughter of Robert Bickerton, Esq.⁸ gentleman of the wine-cellar to King Car. II. (a lady famed for her beauty and accomplishment) he had first, Lord George Howard, who married Arrabella, daughter and sole heiress to Sir Edmund Allen of Hatfield Peverel in the county of Essex, Bart. widow of Francis Thompson of Humbleton in the county of York, Esq. and died March 6, 1720, without issue. The second son was Lord James Howard, who died a bachelor, being drowned Aug. 1702, attempting to ride over Sutton-Wash in Lincolnshire. The 3d son was Lord Frederick-Henry Howard, who married Catherine daughter to Sir Francis Blake of Oxfordshire, relict of Sir Richard Kennedy of Mount-Kennedy in Ireland, Bart. and died March 16, 1726, his lady surviving, who died Jan. 23, 1731. Lady Catherine, and Lady Anne, both nuns in Flanders; and Lady Phillippa married to William Standish of Standish-hall in the county of Lancaster, Esq. and died in Jan. 1683.

20. HENRY HOWARD, 7th Duke of NORFOLK, was born Jan. 11, 1654 and on Jan. 27, 1677, was summoned to parliament by writ, by the title of Lord MOWBRAY; and upon the death of Prince Rupert, was made constable of Windsor castle, warden of Windsor forest, and lord lieutenant and custos rotularum, for the counties of Norfolk, Surrey, and Berks; and on May 6, 1685, 1 James II. being elected Knight of the most noble Order of the Garter, he was installed the 22d of July following. This Duke obtained a commission under the great seal, dated Aug 13, 1687, 3 James II. whereby his Grace, as Earl Marshal of England, should revive and hold a court of chivalry, &c. and setting out for France the 24th of March following, constituted his brother, the Lord Thomas Howard, his lieutenant in the court of chivalry, and Sir Thomas Exton and Sir Richard Raines, surrogates. His Grace returned from Flanders July 30, 1688; and on the landing of the Prince of Orange in England, being then in Norfolk, he immediately declared for him,¹ and brought over this, and some of the adjacent counties to his interest, for which service, he was soon after sworn of his privy council, and so continued to his death; afterwards, he was made constable and governour of his Majesty's royal castle at Windsor, lord warden of Windsor forest, lord lieutenant and the counties of Norfolk, Surrey, and Berks, and of the city of Norwich, and county of the same; as also custos rotularum for the counties of Norfolk and Berks, and Fellow of the Royal Society. In 1685, he was made master of the robes to King James II. and being of the Romish religion, was in great esteem at court: so that in 1688, when King James withdrew himself into France, this lord soon after attended him into Ireland; but in his return to Brest, was unhappily cast away at sea, in Nov.

CLAVER'S OR CLAVERING'S MANOR,

Was originally part of the capital manor granted by the Bygods to John de Clavering, from whom it took its name, and was held of it at a quarter of a fee. In 1283, William le Claver or Clavering of Stirton, and Katherine his wife, and Miles le Parker of Stirton, and Christian his wife, settled it on Ralf de Creping; and in 1286, John de Vaux was lord, and had free-warren allowed to it in eire. It after belonged to John le Graunt, in 1306, to John Jermy, and in 1308, to Henry Page; in whose time an extent of it was made, and the customary perch or pole was then found to be sixteen feet and an half. It had a manor-house, and above 86 acres in demean, and 12 acres of wood, and 9 copy or customary tenants, and 65 freemen. In 1329, John Rudokin died seized, and in 1333, John Claver and Agnes his wife settled it on themselves and their heirs in tail; Walter Claver, parson of Little-Plumpstede, being deforciant in the fine; it then contained 8 messuages, and many large parcels of land in Forncet, Multon, Aslacton, Wacton, Tharston, and Tacolneston. In 1385, Christian Snoryng was lady, and in 1391, Thomas Brampton was lord, and held it in 1432, of John Mowbray Duke of Norfolk, as of his HONOUR here. In 1480, a *Tho. In Sylvanus Morgan's Sphere of Gentry, lib. 4, cap. 6, there is a neat copper-plate pedigree of The top Branches of the noble Stock of the Howards. And much of the family may be seen in Sir William Segar's Honour Military and Civil, London. 1602, more may be read of the Howards, and at fo. 63 there is an excellent copper-plate of Charles Lord Howard, Earl of Nottingham, and Lord Admiral of England, in his robes of Knight of the Garter.

⁶ The chief seats of the family are, at Arundel castle in the county of Sussex, 8 miles from Chichester, and 56 from London; and at Worksop Manor in the county of Nottingham, 116 miles from London.

William Brampton and Elizabeth his wife sold it to Thomas Reeve; and in 1559, Thomas son of Thomas Reeve was lord, and in 1570, it was sold to Edward Clere, Esq. who in 1571, sold it to William Moore, Gent.; in 1605, Thomas Lingwood died seized of a moiety of it; it after passed through the Cocks and Edwards, and now belongs to Mr. MATTHEW GOSS, a dyer in Norwich.

Here are two churches now in use, which were given by ROGER BIGOT to the monks of THETFORD,⁷ who released that gift very early; these churches were annexed very soon, for I never find them presented to separately: though Domesday makes them both parish churches, governed by one rector, who then had in their right, a house and 40 acres of glebe. They were valued as one benefice at 30 marks, and paid 4s. 9d. synodals, and procurations, besides 3s. Peter-pence, and 4d. ob. carvage; all the institutions run to Forncet only, till 1465, and then to Forncet utraque; the rectory always paying double institution fees, shows it to have been an ancient consolidation; though for many ages St. Peter's church hath been esteemed as a chapel of ease to St. Mary, the mother-church; there were anciently three gilds here, those of St. Mary the Virgin, and St. John the Baptist held in St. Mary's church, and one of St. Peter held in his church.⁸ The terriers have 85 acres of glebe, and a good parsonage-house, and it pays first-fruits and yearly tenths, it being valued at 20*l.* in the King's Books. The Prior of Bukenham's temporals were taxed at 4*d.* those of the monks of Thetford 17*s.* 6*d.* The whole town of Forncet St. Mary, or Forncet Magna, with Forncet St. Peter, or Parva Forncet, paid 3*l.* 10*s.* clear to every tenth. There is a farm belonging to the Girls Hospital at Norwich. (See vol. iv. p. 451, 2.)

THIS town in the Confessor's time, belonged to Bishop Stigand, and was held of him by ALDWIN or ATLWIN; but at the Conqueror's survey, it was in three parts; ¹ the head or principal manor, called afterwards Overhall, belonged to Roger Bigot, who infeoffed Durand in it, ² for which reason it was always held of the Earl of Norfolk's honour of Fornet, at one fee. It was then a league long, and half a league broad, paid 9*d.* geld or tax, and had a church and 16 acres of glebe; the advowson of which, then solely belonged to this manor; but when the tithes of the manor called afterwards Nether-hall, were joined to it; the lords of that manor presented to one turn, and those of this to another; but when the moieties were separated, and one of them given by the Sheltons to Langley abbey, and the other remained with Netherhall manor, till that fell into the Sheltons, then the turn that belonged to the convent, being sold to John Jenney, senior, Esq. it passed as at p. 40, and 220, till it was sold to the Gleanes, and they joined the alternate presentation to their manor at Hardwick, with which it now remains.

THE MANOR OF NETHER-HALL,

At the Conquest, was held by NIGEL of Robert Fitz-Corbun, and was then worth 20*s. per annum*; ³ it passed afterwards with Boyland's manor in Scole, as at p. 132, vol. i. till 1322, when it belonged to Sir Ralf Hemenhale, Knt. and after to John de Hemenhale, (for which family see p. 185, 6,) and before the extinction of that family, was vested in the Sheltons' trustees, and ever since, hath been joined to their

MANOR OF OVER-HALL,

Which went as the capital manor of Scole, to the SHELTONS, very early; which family, though they took their name from this village, were anciently seated at Stradbrooke in Suffolk. John de Shelton, by deed without date, tied his manor in Stradbrook, ⁴ to the Prior of Butle, to excuse that house from all suit and service to the county courts or hundred courts; and John his son and heir confirmed it. Nicholas de Shelton, in 1215, had purchased all the estate of Robert Maloyzel and Alexander his son, in Weybred, and was then, one of the rebelling Barons against King John, and upon the surrender of Framlingham castle in Suffolk, he submitted, and gave his son Robert as a pledge for his future allegiance.

In 1222, the King seized Henry de Shelton's lands, because he was not in the Welsh army, and he was forced to pay 4 marks to have them restored.

In 1225, RALF DE SHELTON was married to Catherine daughter and heiress of Henry de Illegh, with whom the manor of Burnt-Illegh in Suffolk came to this family, and attended it many generations; her inheritance was large, for he gave 18 marks to King Henry III. and did homage to that King for three whole fees, held of the honour of Will. de Helyuu; this Ralf owned an estate, and the advowson of Mundham.

In 1235, Robert de Shelton held one fee of Robert de Tateshal, and he of the Earl-Marshal, and a quarter of a fee of John de Shelton, and he of the Earl-Marshal.

In 1239, Robert son of Henry de Shelton, conveyed an estate here to Jordan de Shelton; and in 1424, Henry de Shelton held 3 fees; and in 1244, Ralf de Shelton, father of Henry, was dead. In 1257, Nic. de Schelton was lord here and of Burnt-Illegh, and in that year gave lands there to the Abbot of St. Osith in Essex. In 1270, Henry de Shelton held this manor of the fee of Arundel, and divers lands of Nic. Shelton, with the manors of Arsa sive Illeye Combusta, Brent, or Burnt-Illeye, in Suffolk, the manors of Scole and of Bedingham in Norfolk; and

ROBERT his son and heir was above 25 years old, who had livery of them all at his father's death, and in 1286, had liberty of free-warren allowed to them in aire. This Sir Robert settled lands in Illeye, to maintain divers lights in that church. In 1302, he had fees in Mundham, Shelton, Bedingham, and Scole; in 1305, he and Isabel his wife held them with Burnt-Illeye manor for life, John de Shelton being their son and heir, and of full age; with remainder to Tho. and Henry, their other sons; Sir Robert died this year, and in 1306, John de Shelton, held Shelton and the lands in Hardwiik, at one fee of Forncet manors. By his wife Maud, he had John Shelton, on whom this manor was settled for life, and on Agatha his wife, by his father, in 1308. In 1313, John Shelton settled it on himself and Joan his wife, and their heirs.

In 1315, RALF son of John Shelton held three fees in Bedingham, Shelton, and Scole. In 1316, John son of John de Shelton, Knt. and Robert his son, sold their manor of Heverlond, to Nicholas Shelton son of the said John and Alice his wife, and Thomas their son, and others, for their lives; and this John, as appears by his seal, bare a fess between three mullets; he was lord also of Illegh.

In 1323, ROBERT DE SHELTON and Maud his wife settled this manor on themselves and their heirs. In 1330, it was found that Sir Ralf Shelton, senior, Knt. held Burnt-Illeye jointly with Joan his wife, then living, and that he died Oct. 16, in that year, leaving only 3 daughters; Joan, aged 12 years, Margaret, 5 years, and Isabel, half a year old. In 1332, Margaret wife of John de Shelton deceased, having long before his death separated herself from him, of her own accord, and lived with her gallant, lost her dower in Illeye manor for so doing; so that Sir Ralf, who died, had it wholly from his father John's death. In 1333, Alice wife of John de Shelton died seized of Shelton manor, and Ralf their son was 18 years old; and Robert de Shelton, clerk, had lands here.

In 1345, Sir RALPH SHELTON was lord; in 1346, King Edward III. granted him his letters patent, signifying that he was in the King's own company in the battle of Cressy, and there received the order of knighthood, the King pardoning him the contempt and penalty which he had incurred for not taking that order upon him before, when his Majesty issued his proclamation, that all those who had 40 pounds a year in land, should take that order upon them.⁵ And the same year, on his marriage with JOAN daughter of Sir John de Plais of Wetyng, he settled this and Bedingham manors on himself, wife, and their issue; in 1355, on going beyond sea with King Edward III. he had his letters of protection, and being in the battle of Poicters, he took John Rocourt prisoner; for whom he obtained a safe conduct in 1356. This Sir Ralf was cousin and heir of Sir Ralf Burgulion of Kerdeston and Thirford; by his will proved in 1375, by the name of Sir Ralf Shelton, senior, Knt. he ordered his body to be buried in the chancel of St. Mary's church at Shelton; and accordingly he was interred there, and his gravestone lieth in the midst of it, with his effigies in complete armour, and a Saracen's head cooped for his crest; over his head,

Sir RALF SHELTON, junior, Knt. his son and heir, who was then married to Alice, daughter of Sir Tho. Uvedale of Tacolneston, Knt.; in 1385, he attended John Duke of Lancaster in his great expedition into Spain, and was at the famous battle of Nazaret. In 1398, John son of Ralf de Shelton released the manor of Geduey in Lincolnshire to the Abbot of Ramsey. In 1405, the jury present, that JOAN widow of Sir Ralf de Shelton, senior, died seized of Burnt-Illeye manor, and was buried by her husband, with this on a brass plate,

Hic iacet Ioanna Shelton nuper Uxor Radulphi Shelton, que obit ibi die Januarii A. Dni. M. cccc. cuius anime propicietur deus Amen.

She having no heirs by Sir Ralf, the manor reverted to Sir RALPH, son of Sir Ralf, who was 58 years old. He was in the voyage of St. Maloes de L'isle, and in that into Scotland with King Ric. II. and in that into Spain, where Sir Hugh Hastyns died; this Sir Ralf died 25 April 1424, as the inscription on his tomb in Great Snoryng church saith.

He had two brothers, William and Robert, who died in 1423, and was buried in the churchyard of St. Mary at Snoryng-Magna, leaving his brother

WILLIAM, executor; who in 1420, had been executor to John Tolle, rector of Snoryng. This William Shelton, Esq. died seized this year, of the manors of Over-hall and Nether-hall; by his wife CATHERINE, daughter of Simon Barret, who lies buried in Shelton chancel, with this,

Hic iacet Domina Katerina Shelton, quondam Uxor Willi: Shelton Armigeri, que obiit in^o die Mensis Augusti A^o Dni. M^occc^olxi^o. cuius anime propicietur deus Amen.

He had the manor of BARRETT's in Hardwick, (see p. 218,) and was also possessed at his death, of the manors of Snoryng-Magna, Thursford, and Burgullion's in Kerdeston, as heir of the Burgullion family, and of Burnt-Alley in Suffolk; all which he left to

JOHN, his son and heir, 17 years old, who had livery of his lands in 1427, and died in 1430, leaving

RALF his son and heir, one quarter of a year old, by Margaret his wife, who had Burnt-Alley for life, and remarried to Robert Alyngton; and her son Ralf was 46 years old at her death. In 1487, he had a grant from Henry VII. of the custody and marriage of the body and lands of Ralf, brother and heir of Robert Berney, Esq. of Gunton; he married Margaret daughter of Rob. Clere of Ormsby,⁶ and Eliz. his wife, daughter of Sir Thomas Uvedale, by whom he had John, his son and heir, Ralf, Richard, Elizabeth, and *Alice*⁷ married to John Heveningham:⁸ he was living in 1492, but dead before 1500, for then, Margaret Shelton of Shelton, late the wife of Sir Rafe Shelton, Knt. willed to be buried in Shelton chancel by her husband, in "a tumber which is ordeyned to that intent;"⁹ she gave the tenements in Moringthorp called Roper's, with the appurtenances, to pay the *fifteenth*s, for the towns of Shelton and Freton.

⁷ This family was so numerous from their original, that an exact account of them in a regular pedigree, cannot be fixed. 1484, Cecily Shelton, widow of Thomas Shelton, Gent. was buried by her husband in the Minors church at Norwich. In 1479, Joan Shelton of Norwich, widow, buried in St. Peter's church there, had two sons, Nic. and Augustine a monk at Eye, and Margaret and Isabel her daughters.

The CHURCH is dedicated to St. Mary, was first valued at 14, and after at 15 marks; it paid 17*d.* synodals and procurations, 10*d.* Peterpence, and 3*d.* carvage, and was in medieties; the Abbot of Langley was patron of one, and that rector had 16 acres of land, but no house; and Sir Richard de Boyland was patron of the other, having purchased it in 1277, of Roger de Taseburgh, and the Rector of that had a house and 18 acres of land. The whole now lies as one rectory in the King's Books, valued at 8*l.* and the village used to pay 2*l.* 17*s.* to every tith. The present fabrick was built by Sir Ralf Shelton, Knt.¹ and is a fine uniform brick building, having a nave, two isles, and chancel leaded, a square tower, and one bell. There was a grand antique mansion or MANOR-house here, built by Sir Ralf Shelton, in a square form, with an outside wall imbattled, and a turret at each corner, moated in, with a grand gate space at the entrance, and a turret at each corner of it. In the windows and ceilings were many coats of the matches of the Sheltons, &c. but the whole is now ruined. The demesns and the park, &c. were sold by the Sheltons from the manors, as I am informed, to Sir Rob. Houghton, Knt. serjeat at law, and one of the justices of the King's Bench; who died seized of the manors of Leffley, Buxhall, Bretenham, and Hecham, in Suffolk, and their letes; leaving Francis his son and heir, 30 years old; who died in 1629, leaving Robert his son and heir 6 years old, who inherited the said manors.³

This judge was born at Gunthorp in Norfolk, Aug. 3, 1548, and was buried 6 Feb. 1623, in the church of St. Dunstan in the West, London, for whom there is a noble canotaph in this chancel, with his effigies in his judge's robes, and those of his wife, and son and his wife, kneeling on the top of it, and this inscription,

In the windows of this church and chancel were all the matches of the Shelton family put up, many of which still remain; and the same were in the windows, and on the ceilings in SHELTON-HALL, and are the same exactly, as those in Carrow abbey, which see at p. 529, vol. iv. only the impalement of Burgulion is there omitted, it being lost.

There are in the church also, the following arms besides:

Sab. a chevron between three trefoils arg. Wytchyngham, Howe, Scutunbre, Heydon, and Boleyn. Calthorp quartering Burgullion. Dovedale impaling gul. a chevron erm. between three de-lises or. Fitz-walter and Shelton. Stapleton and Hingham. Clere and Dovedale. Clere and Haukforth, Howard, Bedingfield, and Shelton. Boleyn, Butler, and Ormond. Boleyn, Howe, and Wichingham, and az. a fess between six cross crozlets or. Vere quartering Howard and Plays. Shelton and Plais. Shelton quartering Clere and Dovedale. Yelverton and Brewse. Braunch and Bardolf. Lowdham and Shelton. Brewse and Shardelowe. Mundeford and Barrett. Knevet and Shelton.

And many of the arms were in the CHAPEL in SHELTON-HALL, where the several lodging rooms were called after the names of those families whose arms were placed in them, as Morley's chamber, Howard's chamber, &c.

And formerly, there was a MSS. kept at the hall, which had a drawing of the house in it, a copy of which I have by me, and the arms of such families as the SHELTONS married into, and many of the quarterings of those families. The grand coat of SHELTON there, was,

SHELTON, az. a cross or, the present arms of the family, quartering the old coat of SHELTON, sab. three escallops arg.

CREST, a Moor's (or Saracen's) head, cooped at the shoulders proper.

SUPPORTERS, two TALBOT's arg. collared or, their strings on their backs gul.

The impalements are 47:

Other matches of SHELTON in the same book, are,

1, Bernardiston impaling Shelton. 2, Lowdham impales Shelton, as do the following names, viz. Wentworth, Fitz-walter, Ufford, Heveningham, Bedingfield, Bullen, Knyvet, Danny,⁶ Godsalve, Scudamore, Walsingham, Hunt, Lewes, Josceline, Aske,⁷ Woodhouse of Kimberley, Stanton, Nappier, Bacon,⁸ Southwell, and Fernley.⁹

So that hence it appears, that gentlemen of all these families have married into this family.

There are also the arms of SHELTON, with a crescent, and other differences for younger brothers, impaling 24 coats, which show that the younger brothers of the family matched into those families.

SHELTON impaling; 1, Dusing, sab. three swords arg. hilted and pomelled or, their points downwards. 2, Batteld, gul. a griffin sejant or. 3, Ferne, per bend arg. and gul. indented. 4, gul. a leopard saliant in a bordure indented arg. 5, Walden, sab. two bars and three cinquefoils in chief arg. 6, arg. three hurts between two bendlets gul. 7, St. John. 8, Le Port, barry of six *A. I find two small manors in this and the adjoining towns of Hemenhale, Fritton, &c. called Blomefield's and Seaman's, as the abutals of the lands in Shelton Court Books mention; and the estate late the Houghtons being the Park, &c. which Charles Houghton owned in 1665, belongs now (as I am informed) to Sir Edmund Bacon of Garboldesham, Bart.

Here was a chapel dedicated to the Virgin Mary, standing by itself in the churchyard, at the east end of the chancel, the ruins of which may still be seen. WILLIAM LYNSTER, alias BOCHER, by his will proved May 7, 1493, ordered his body to be buried in the chapel of the blessed Virgin Mary at Tibenham; he gave a messuage and lands to the parish church of All-Saints here, ordering the church-wardens to apply the neat profit to repair and adorn the church for ever; he gave also, nine acres of frehold, lying at Mil-hill and Rowce-Bushes, for the constables to receive the rent, and with the neat yearly profit thereof, to pay the King's fifteenths for the poorer sort of people; and when there are no fifteenths, then the church-wardens are to receive it, and repair and beautify the church with it. His house and land, which he bought of William Wothorpe, if the brothers and sisters of the gilds of St. Thomas and St. Mary will buy them, they to have them 10*l.* cheaper than any one else, and their own time of payment; if they settle it on a priest to pray for the brethren and sisters of the gilds. (Reg. Hyrning, fo. 136.)

There were three GILDS here, the brethren and sisters of which, had one common gild-hall,⁴ since turned into a school-house; viz. the GILD of All-Saints, held in the nave of the church; that of St. Thomas the Martyr, held in St. Nicholas's chapel at the east end of the south isle; and that of the Virgin Mary, held in her chapel in the churchyard. These gilds had divers lands here, which at their dissolution were seized by the Crown, where they continued till 1600, and then King James I. granted them to John Eldred, Esq; and Joan Verdon, gentlewoman, and their heirs. The furniture of the gild-hall remained till 1650, when the hall was ruined; for then the officers sold 30*lb.* of pewter, 92*lb.* of lead, four spits that weighed 169*lb.* a metal pot that weighed 44*lb.* two pots of brass of 89*lb.* and a brass pan of 9*lb.* A plain proof of the jolly doings at these gilds! But, as the poor of the parish always were partakers with them, I much question whether their revenues were not better spent then, than they have been, since they were rapaciously seized from the parishes, to which they of right belonged.

In 1652, the town lands to beautify and repair the church, were let at above 2*8l.* per annum.

In 1506, John Blomefield of Norwich, Gent. bequeathed to the paving of St. Nicholas's chapel in Tibenham church, a thousand paving tiles, or money to the value. (Regr. Rix, fo. 449.)

⁵ This and the former vicar are supposed to be buried in the churchyard under the two old stones with crosses on them, which remain at this day.

⁶ In 1393, the advowson of Tibenham was aliened by Miles Stapleton and others, to Norton-Subcross chantry; but they having no other right in it, only a grant from the King, as part of the possessions of an alien priory; when that was made a denizon, the grant ceased.

Peter Paine succeeded him, at whose death in 1535, George Plate was the last presented by the Prior of Horsham. In 1554, Plate being deprived, and a pension assigned him, Sir Ric. Southwell, Kut. by lease from the Crown, of the impropriation and advowson of the vicarage, gave it to 1641, Abel Hodges, who held it united to Thairston.

1720, Will. Herring, LL. B. united to Intwood, at whose resignation,

The Rev. Mr. Philip Carver, the present vicar, had it of the gift of the Bishop of Ely, and holds it united to Besthorp, as at vol. i. p. 492.

In 1227, it was a rectory, for Ric. le Chaum then granted two parts of the advowson, to Augustine, Prior of St. Faith at Horsham, who had the other third part before, in right of their lands here;⁸ and the church was appropriated and confirmed to them by John of Oxford Bishop of Norwich, according to an agreement made in the time of William his predecessor, saving a sufficient maintenance to the vicar: And in 1428, the prior was taxed for his spiritualities at 23 marks, and his temporals paid 12*d.* to each tenth. At the Dissolution, their temporals as well as spirituals, vested in the Crown, and in 1610, were granted by James I. to George Salter and John Williams, by the name of the revenues and lands late of St. Faith's Priory; viz. the tenement called the Priory-house, and yard, and 32 acres of land; and a tenement and 11 acres of land called Annables; and the tithe wood and hay,⁹ of the rectory of Tibenham aforesaid, late in the tenure of Thomas Baker, and now in the tenure of Nic. Herne, Esq. of the yearly value of 44*s.*

As the impropriation consists of all the great, so doth the vicarage of all the small, tithes, except the tithe wood and hay aforesaid.¹ It now stands in the King's Books at 7*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* When Domesday was made,

⁷ Dna. Regina habet presentationem vicarie de Tibenham, rectoria est in manu Ricⁱ Southwell, militis pro termino annorum futurorum, pro redditu 8*l.* 1*5s.* 6*d.* They were after granted by Queen Eliz. in exchange to the bishoprick of Ely; and ever since, the Bishop of Ely hath been patron of the vicarage, and leases out the impropriation. In 1603, he returned 210 communicants here, that he was also rector of Swainesthorp, (see p. 63.) that the Bishop of Ely was patron of the vicarage, and had the impropriate rectory, which had formerly been endowed with part of the vicarage, viz. the tithe hay.

⁸ In 1285, Rouland Targ sold a messuage, two acres, and a mill here, to the convent.

⁹ I find 2*d.* an acre is now paid to Francis Herne, Esq; for every acre mowed in the parish, as a modus for the tithe hay.

(Tanner, vol. i. fo. 550. mss.)

the vicar had a house and half an acre of land, and the vicarage was valued at five, and after at six marks, but was not taxed; it paid 3s. 8d. synodals and procurations, 22d. Peter-pence, and 2d. ob. carvage; and the village paid 4l. 15s. 11d. clear to every tenth. The Prior of West-acre was taxed at 6l. 13s. 5d. for his temporals here. The Prior of Castle-Acre at half a mark for his spirituals, which were two parts out of three, of the tithes of the demean lands of the manors of Robert de Bosevile here, which the said Robert confirmed to the monastery, as his ancestors had formerly granted them.² The portion of the monastery of Sees (in Mendham) was 6s. The portion of the Prior of St. Olave in spirituals (being taxed at half a mark) was for two parts of the tithes of their demean here, valued at two marks; and the portion of the Abbot of St. Bennet in the Holm was one mark, and was for two parts of the tithes of his demean here. The Prior of Bukenham had temporals also in this parish taxed at 25s. And it is said, there was a chapel at Tibenham Old-hall, which belonged to, and was served by, the canons of that house; but I have not met with any certain account of it.

TIBENHAM-HALL,

ALIAS ORREBYS, TATERSALES, &c. CUM CARLETON, &c.

(For it hath gone by the several names of its owners,) is the capital manor, and belonged to ALRIC, a thane of King Edward the Confessor, and had then three carucates of land belonging to it, two in demean, and one in the tenants hands; who had liberty to sell their lands, if they first offered them to sale to their lord, and he refused them. The King and Earl had then the lete, and all superiour jurisdiction;³ and at the Conqueror's survey, it was owned by EUDO son of Spiruwin,⁴ the founder of the Tateshale family; in which it continued, till it was joined to Bukenham-castle, and passed exactly as that castle did,⁵ through the Tateshales, Orrebys, Cliftons, Knevetts, &c. till it was sold by the Harveys, to Mr. SHAW of Besthorp,⁶ whose daughter and heiress married to the Lord Biron, who now owns it.

In 1257, Sir Rob. de Tateshale had a charter for free-warren in this manor, from K. Hen. III. which was afterwards confirmed to Constantine de Clifton, his heir, by King Ric. II. in 1274, assise of bread and ale over all his tenants in Tibenham and Carleton, was allowed him by Edw. I. In 1285, all these privileges were allowed in eire, with weyf, and a timberel.

In 1272, it was found that this manor was held in capite of the King by barony, of which John de Ingham held a fee in Ingham and Worsted, and Margery de Creik half a fee in Westhorp, and another half fee in Hillington. He also held Shelly manor in Suffolk, of this barony of Tibenham.

ABBOT'S MANOR,

Was given before the Conquest by LEFWALD, a Saxon, to the abbey of St. Bennet at the Holm in Norfolk; and at the Conquest was worth 25*s.* a year.⁷ In 1218, the abbot, by fine in the King's court, conveyed to Osbert de Dagworth, a messuage and 140 acres of land, and divers rents in Tibenham; and in 1249, Adam Fitzwalter released to the Abbot of Holm, a messuage and carucate of land in Tibenham for ever; and in 1326, Roland, then parson of East-Bradtenham, gave to the abbot 13 acres of land and 20 acres of wood, parcel of the manor of Tibenham, and then the rents of assise were 22*s.* 4*d.* ob. a year; and there was a manor-house, and 136 acres of arable land worth 3*d.* an acre; two acres of meadow worth 2*s.* and 20 acres of wood; for all which temporals, the abbot was taxed in 1428, at 4*l.* 7*s.* 4*d.* ob. The whole revenues went with the abbey of HOLM, to the Bishop of NORWICH, whose lessee now hath it, and is valued as at p. 540, vol. iv.

DAGWORTH'S MANOR

Was part of the Abbot's manor granted as above, to Osbert de Dagworth, who recovered it in the King's court against the abbot, by proving that his father, and Osbert son of Hervi de Dagworth, his grand-father, was seized thereof by grant of Abbot Thomas; and then the said Osbert gave it to the monastery of St. Olave's at Herringfleet in Suffolk; and the prior of that house paid 7*s.* 1*d.* tax for it in 1428. In 1392, Ric. II. licensed Rog. Rogers to grant 50 acres of land here, to Herringfleet convent. At the Dissolution, this manor of Tibenham was given by King Hen. VIII. to Henry Jerningham, and it after came to the Lord Burgavenny.

THE MANOR OF TIBENHAM, HASTYNGS, OR LONGROWE,

Belonged to the Abbot of St. Edmund's Bury, and was held of him by Ricnard,⁸ being raised from 40, to 60*s.* value. At the Conqueror's survey, the village was a league and an half long, and one league broad, and paid 18*d.* geld or tax;⁹ and it passed as Hastyngs's manor in

In 1374, John Hastynys Earl of Pembrook died seized of Tibenham-Rowes and Winfarthing, of which manor it was held, and constantly attended it, as at p. 187, 8, vol. i. &c. for some time. In 1401, Will. Beauchamp had it; and in 1445, Joan, widow of Will. Beauchamp, Knt. Lord of Bergavenny, died seized thereof, having held it in dower of the inheritance of Elizabeth her granddaughter; wife of Sir Edward Nevile, Knt. Lord Abergavenny, as parcel of the inheritance of Hastynys Earl of Pembrook. In 1475, Edward Nevile Lord Bergavenny died seized; and in 1570, it was in the hands of the Lord Bergavenny.

CHANNONS, OR CHANEUX'S MANOR,

Was so called from the CHAUNS or CHAINS, the ancient lords thereof. In the Conqueror's time it was parcel of Forncet manor, and belonged to Roger Bigot, as at p. 187, 214, &c. and in 1198, it was Adam Fitz-Robert's afterwards the Fitz-Walters,² of whom Henry de Crostweyt held it at one fee. In 1200, Ralf de Chaun, Cham, or Caam, held it at one fee; in 1227, Ric. le Cham, who sold two parts of the advowson, as before mentioned. In 1303, it was found that William de Morbum and John le Wales or Wallis, had the manor late Tho. de Chaun's, which then contained 30 messuages, four carucates of land, two acres of meadow, 20 acres of pasture, 80 acres of wood, a windmill, and 60s. per annum rent, in Tibenham, Aslacton, Multon, and the towns adjacent. In 1312, the heirs of Robert de Chaun had it, and William de Morburne, parson of Suffield, settled it on Tho. Bacon of Baconesthorp, and Elizabeth his wife, it being then held by Elizabeth, widow of William de Colney, for life, remainder to Eliz. wife of Tho. Bacon, and her heirs. In 1319 Roger son of Tho. Bacon of Baconesthorp, settled it on Godfry de Rokele and Eliz. his wife for their lives, with remainder to his right heirs; and in 1334, it was settled after the death of Eliz. widow of Will. de Colney, by Roger de Bacon, on Thomas Bacon, his son, and Joan his wife, in tail; in 1401, John Bacon had it, who died at Baconesthorp in 1460, being son of Sir Roger Bacon, Knt. In 1426, John Bacon of Lodne, Esq. son of the said John Bacon, on his marriage with Margaret daughter of Robert Banyard of Spectishale in Suffolk, if he survived his father, had the united manors of HACKFORD, CHAUN'S or CHANEUX, and WESTHALL in Tibenham, settled on them and their heirs; and he inherited them; and dying in 1462, gave them to his wife Margaret for life, with view of frankpledge, &c. belonging to them. In 1477, John Bacon of Baconesthorp, Esq; was lord of Chanour, Westhall, and Huckford, alias Tibenham-Bacons: It descended to the coheirs of Thomas Bacon, and the last of that family, Anne, married to Robert Garnish of Kenton in Suffolk; and Elizabeth, to Sir John Glenham, Knt. who inherited the whole, by release from Anne and Rob. Garnish; and in 1513, John Glenham, Esq. and Eliz. his wife, settled them in trust, on Charles Brandon Viscount Lisle, Sir Rob. Brandon, Knt. *Chris. In 1537, Sir John Glenham, Knt. died seized, and left Christopher his son and heir 26 years old; he died 18 Oct. 1549, and left them all to Tho. Glenham, E-q. his son and heir, who was also cousin and heir to Charles Brandon Duke of Suffolk. After this I find, Christiana Glenham had these manors of Chanons, Westhall, Hackford, and Seckford in Tibenham, and paid for Ward to Norwich castle every 30 weeks, 2*s.* 4*d.* and before the year 1567, I find them in the hands of

ROBERT BUXTON, Gent. who died seized of them, and North or Great Glenham manor in Suffolk, June 5, 1621, leaving, Robert his son and heir, 19 years old: this Robert, was grandson to Robert Buxton who was buried in the church of Tibenham in 1528, being son of John Buxton, Gent. by Margaret Warner his wife, who was buried here in 1572. In 1655, John Buxton of Chanons was lord, and was buried here in 1660, leaving by Margaret Pert his wife, one of the heiresses of Thomas Conyers of East-Barnet in Hertfordshire, Esq. four sons, ROBERT, JOHN, WILLIAM, and HENRY, and ISABELL, who married to Mr. Acton of Bramford in Suffolk; and Eliz. to Mr. Thruston of Hoxne; John Buxton, the second son, lived at St. Margaret's in Suffolk, and by his wife, who was heiress to Mr. Proctor of Burston, he had three sons, ROBERT, JOHN, and THOMAS, who was educated at Cambridge. (See vol. i. p. 158.)

WILLIAM, the third son, married Bridget, daughter of Robert Jeremy of Bayfield, Esq. and had John Buxton, who died at Dereham in 1699; and Will. Buxton.

HENRY BUXTON, the fourth son, was unmarried in 1699.

ROBERT BUXTON of Chanons, the eldest son, married Hannah daughter of Robert Wilton, Esq. of Topcroft and Wilby, (see p. 364, 5, vol. i.) and was buried at Tibenham; John Buxton, his eldest son, dying unmarried at Orleans in France, where he was buried, ROBERT BUXTON, his second son, succeeded him, and married Eliz. daughter of Leonard Gooch of Earsham in Norfolk; he was buried at Rushford in 1691, and Eliz. Buxton was buried by him in 1730. (See vol. i. p. 295.) His brother Charles was A. B. and fellow of Clare-hall in Cambridge, and died in 1682, and was buried in St. Edward's church there, being 22 years old. Margaret his sister married to Henry Kid-dington of Hockham, as at p. 367, vol. i. and Hannah her sister was then unmarried.

JOHN BUXTON, son of Robert Buxton and Eliz. Gooch, succeeded, and was buried at Rushworth in 1731, as at p. 295, vol. i. leaving these manors to Anne his wife, who is now owner of them for life, and

ROBERT BUXTON, Esq. his son, who is now unmarried, is heir.

In 1570, Knevct and Buxton, in right of their manors here, were chief lords of the commons. In 1742, the total of the quitrents of the manors of Chanons, Westhall, Hackford, and Seckford, were 7*l.* 6*s.* 11*d.* ob. per annum. The site of the manor of Chanons is now called CHANONS HALL, and is the seat of the BUXTONS; it stands about a mile south-east of the church, and is a good old regular building, moated in.

THE MANORS OF WEST-HALL, HACKFORD, AND SECKFORD,

Called afterwards BACON'S manor, belonged to Roger Bigod's manor of Fornet at the Conquest, as may be seen under Fornet at p. 223, 4; and the several parts before their union belonged to different families; WEST-HALL was held by Ric. de Hadesco, by the 4th part of a fee, in Ric. the First's time; and after that, was joined to Hackford's manor, which passed as Hackford's manor in West-Herling, as you may see in vol. i. p. 300, and from thence to the Seckfords, as at p. 301, and was by one of them sold to the BACONS, and joined to Chunons manor as before mentioned.

THE MANORS OF SKEYTON-HALL, ALIAS WHITWELL'S AND LAUNDE'S,

Are now joined to the manors of Bunwell, Carleton, and Tibenham cum membris, the members of it being these two manors, as at p. 128 and 140.

SKEYTON-HALL manor, alias Whitwell's, took its name from Sir John de Skepton, lord of it in Edward the First's time, as also of Skeyton-hall in Skeyton, from which village he took his name. In 1303, Ralf de Skepton was under age, and a ward of Sir Fulk Baynard, Knt. of whom this manor was held, and Richer de Whitwell had it in 1261.

LAUNDE'S manor, in 1264, belonged to Richard Lemming of Tibenham, who forfeited it for rebelling against Hen. III. In 1278, Robert de Buknham had it, and in 1283, Will. de Cruce, de la Croyz, or at Cross, owned it. In 1287, John de Tibenham had assise of bread and ale, and weyf, allowed him here. In 1478, John H. gaon of Buconesthorp, died seized, and from that time to this, they have passed as at p. 140, ROBERT BUNTON, Esq; being now lord.

For TIBENHAM commons see vol. i. p. 350, 51. Fox's Martyrs, fo. 2073, and COLE'S Collections, vol. i. p. 192, 4.

Tibenham vicarage is valued in the King's Books at 6*l.* 16*s.* 8*d.* and being sworn of the clear yearly value of 46*l.* it pays no first-fruits nor tenths, and is capable of augmentation.

MORINGTHORP,

COMMONLY called MOURNING-THORP, was known by the name of THORP only in the Confessor's time; and to distinguish it from the many villages of that name, it began to be called Moring-thorp about the Conqueror's time, from the mere, mare, or more, it was situated by.

It was given before the Confessor's survey, to the ABBEY of St. EDMUND at Bury in Suffolk, by THURKETEL, a Danish THANE or nobleman, along with the town of Castre by Norwich;† and the abbot held it as a manor, having one carucate in demean, of 20s. a year value, to which belonged a church and 20 acres of glebe; but before the Conqueror's survey, the whole, (except the advowson, lete, and some small parcels which always attended the abbey to its dissolution) was infeoffed by Abbot Baldwin, in ROBERT DE VALS⁵ or Vaux, who held it of the abbey by knight's service; it was then risen to 30s. value, and the town was a mile long, and three furlongs broad, and paid 1d. ob. q. to the geld or tax.

MORINGTHORP, OR THORP-HALL MANOR,

Passed in the VAUXES, who held it of the Abbot of Bury at one fee; the Abbot always being superiour lord, held a lete, which at the Dissolution vested in the Crown, and was granted to the Sheltons, and added to the manor, which, as I read in the Register of the Sacrist of Bury abbey (fo. 49,) was settled by fine levied in 1186, on Henry son of Joceline, who had it of the Fauxes by the Abbot's consent; and in 1198, Henry settled it on Wido son of Roger, and nephew of Robert de Shimpling, in which family it continued long, all of them releasing to the Abbots all right in the advowson; Seman the priest being then rector; in 1202, this Wido, Guido, or Guy, had assumed the surname of THORP,¹ from this his manor. In 1274, the heir of Roger de Shimpling had it, and was in the custody of Richard de Boyland, and had assise of bread and ale, and free-warren allowed to the manor. In 1286, William de Shimpling had view of frankpledge of all his tenants in Moringthorp, to be held in the presence of the bailiff of the hundred, paying the King by him 12d. a year, and also assise of bread and ale, and weyf; and in 1287, he held it at one fee, of John de Vallibus or Faux of Tharston, which, at his death was assigned to Petronel his daughter and coheir, wife of William de Ros, and they held it of the Abbot of Bury. In 1363, Isabel Shimpling held the third part in dower, and conveyed it to John de Esthall, on condition to marry her,² but he not performing his promise, she was forced to sue for her lands again; and in an action brought in 1401, it appeared, that Roger Shimpling died seized of this, and Shimpling and left three daughters and heires; Isabel, married to John Kirtling, Katherine, to Will. Elingham;³ and Joan, to whom this manor was allotted in 1412.

And soon after, it was purchased by the SHELTONS,⁴ and continued in that family, till Sir RALF SHELTON, Knt. sold it to the Garneyses of

BOYLAND-HALL

In this parish, and ever since, it hath been united to Boyland-Hall in Mourning-thorp, for at the Conqueror's survey,

BOIELUND,⁵ was a separate vill, and afterwards was united, part of it to Freton,⁶ and the greater part to this town; TORN the Dane owned it in the time of Edward the Confessor, when the demesns and manor were worth 20s. and Ralf Bainard had it at the Conqueror's survey, when it was worth 40s. a year, and had the soc and sac belonging to it, with lete,⁷ and all other jurisdictions; and it passed in this family as Merton and Bunwell,⁸ till they sold it about 1190, to Ralf, who settled here, and took the name of Boyland from this place: in 1218, Richard son of Ralf de Boyland owned it; and in 1250, Roger de Boyland and Alice his wife had it, and Sir Richard de Boyland, their son, succeeded them; he built BOYLAND-HALL in Bresingham, and settled there, as at p. 57, vol. i. and from his time it passed in that family, and continued with Boyland-Hall in Bresingham, till about 1524,⁹ and then it was purchased by JOHN GARNISH, late of Mendlesham in Suffolk, and joined to Mourning-thorp manor, which he purchased as before.

W A C T O N,

OR WATCH town, might probably take its name from the watch that used constantly to be kept upon the Roman highway, at the entrance of Stratton, in order to guard the passage to their fortification at Taseboro.

At the Confessor's and Conqueror's surveys, the whole belonged to, and was included in, the manor of Forncet,⁷ except one part, which belonged to the honour of Richmond, and afterwards became Park's manor here.⁸

There was a fourth part of a fee held by Durand at the Conqueror's survey, and this was the manor of

WACTON-PARVA, OR LITTLE-WACTON,

Which always attended the manor of Great-Moulton from that time to this, (as at p. 205,) in right of which, the third turn of the sinecure RECTORY here is still appendant to it. The other 3d part of the village of Wacton-Parva always belonged to Forncet, and a 3d part of the advowson, till it was lately purchased of the Duke of NORFOLK, by the Rev. Mr. John Soley, rector of Stratton St. Mary, who hath also the other 3d part of the gift of Thomas-Bokenham Tirrel, lord of the manor of Park's in Great Wacton, to which it lately belonged, though formerly it was appendant to the manor of Stratton-hall, according to an agreement made in 1288, between Roger le Bigot Earl of Norfolk, and Gilbert de Borne and Eliz. his wife, owners of Stratton-hall, by which this turn was settled on them and their heirs.

The Rev. Mr. William Baker, A. M. the present rector, who holds it with Hedenham.

The CHURCH was dedicated to St. MARY the Virgin, and when NORWICH Domesday was made, the rector had a house and 16 acres of glebe; the revenues were so small, that it was not valued in the first taxation, but at the second it was valued at 40s. though not taxed. It then paid 12*d.* procurations, 9*d.* synodals, 5*d.* ob. Peterpence, and 2*d.* ob. carvage; it now stands in the King's Books thus:

2*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* WACTON-Parva RECTORY 30*l.* clear yearly value.⁹ so that being discharged, it pays no first fruits nor tenths, and is capable of augmentation.

In 1606, this parish was valued by itself, at 233*l.* 13*s.* 8*d.* per annum to the taske or tax. The church was in constant use till about 1500, and then it began to be called a chapel, and in 1510, was returned to be in decay, and in 1520, it was so bad that service began to be omitted; and then there was a design of rebuilding it, though it never took place, for in 1522, William Cullyng of Wacton St. Mary, was buried there, and willed, "That when it shall please the Parishesners of the seid Wakton, to go about the halowynge of their church, yf that they will doo geve the Bishop his Dener that Day, then I will that mine Executors shall soo geve the Bishop his sty-pende, as he and they may agree."¹ But notwithstanding this, it fell down and was never repaired. It stood on the piece of glebe now called Dove-house-Acre or Chappel-yard; but the foundations are ploughed over, though the rector, upon every institution, reads prayers there forenoon and afternoon, as in other rectories; the silver cup which belonged here is now the only cup in Great-Wacton church, as the inscription on it shows.

The parish is now so far swallowed up in Great-Wacton, that the bounds are not commonly known,² so that all the tithes are received by the rector of Great-Wacton,³ there being no house, church, or parishioner, it is an absolute sinecure. The rector at this day being possessed of nothing but about 16 acres of glebe, and even that, pays all taxes, tithes, and rates, to Wacton-Magna, being rated at 5*l.* 10*s.* per annum, besides 4*d.* ob. synodals to the Bishop, and 1*s.* procurations to the archdeacon.

Twelve small pieces of this glebe laid intermixed in 10 or 12 enclosures of land belonging to Mrs. Martina Robe, widow, but are newly exchanged for the like quantity of land in two enclosures, containing about 8 or 9 acres, by consent of the Bishop, rector, and patrons.

² In the first book (N^o I.) of DEPOSITIONS in the Bishop's office, under the year 1532, there is much concerning the division of both these parishes. After the battle of Bosworth, the tithes of the meadow in the tenure of John Seaman, called Haptons, were equally divided between the two rectors, and all tithe pigs, were paid to that rector in whose parish the owner dwelt.

³ About tithe herbage, cow, calf, wood, &c. see Depos. l. 121, and formerly there were tithing books kept, to separate the church and chapel tithes one from the other.

WACTON-MAGNA.

THE CHURCH is dedicated to All the Saints; the advowson belonged to Forncet manor, till sold from it lately. When Norwich Domesday was made, the rector had a house and 16 acres of glebe;⁴ the house is situate against the churchyard, and much the same quantity of glebe now remains. It was first valued at five, after at eight marks, and the monks of Thetford had a portion of tithes valued at 6s. 8d. It pays 4d. ob. synodals, and 1s. procurations, the old carvage was 3d. and Peter-pence 5d. ob. and the whole village paid 2l. 6s. 8d. clear to every tenth.

Eliz. Baspoole, widow, tied her estate in Wacton, now Mr. Joseph Cotman's of Great Yarmouth, for ever to pay 2l. 12s. yearly, to be given weekly at church, by 1s. a week in bread, to such poor people of the parish as constantly attend there.

1702, William Rant was presented by Claudius Grey, Gent. patron in full right, and held it united to Burwell, and when he took Carleton-Rode he resigned it, and in 1715, The Rev. John Soley, senior, A. M. the present rector, and PATRON in full right, was presented by WILL. STAFFE of Willingham in Suffolk, and now holds it united to Stratton St. Mary.

WACTON PARK'S,

Is the only manor in this parish, except the parts belonging to Fornet, and to the honour of Richmond,⁵ (of which this manor is held,) and to the honour of Eye,⁶ both which extended hither; and the Duke of Norfolk, as lord of Fornet, and the lord of the honour of Richmond, are superiour lords of the commons and wastes, and had their letes here, though there is a lete belonging to this manor, the jurisdiction of which, extends to the tenants of the manor only, as the other letes do over the several tenants of the honours.

It was first held by the family of the Wactons, and Stephen de Wacton, who had it in 1230, was the last lord of that name here.

In 1235, Walter de Walys owned it, who was succeeded by Thomas de Camera or Chambers of Buketon, who in 1285, had lete or view of frankpledge, and assize of bread and ale of all his tenants here, by the King's grant;⁷ this lete belonged to the King's hundred, and therefore the lord was obliged to pay 6d. per annum fee-farm for it, to the bailiff of the hundred. In 1298, Thomas son of Will. de la Chambre settled it on William Carleton, who resettled it on the said Thomas and Isabell his wife, in tail: it had then 130 acres, one mill, and 16 messuages belonging to it, and extended into Aslacton, Stratton, and Fornet. In 1315 the said Thomas was lord, and after him it came to the PARKS, and passed with the manor of Park's in Aslacton, as at p. 177, 8, and so to the DUKES of Benhale in Suffolk, and after the death of that Sir Edward Duke who sold Aslacton, it went to

Sir JOHN DUKE, his son, who served as member of parliament for Orford in Suffolk. He married Eliz. daughter and coheir of Edward

And anciently belonged to Richard la Vile; and in 1306, to Margery, widow of Walter le Waleys, and soon after to John de Dunkholde and Isabel de Haggele; in 1345, Thomas Grey, chaplain, and his parceners, had it; in 1370, Robert Bacon of Dickleburgh, lord of it, was outlawed for felony, and it was seized by the King, but Joan his wife recovered it, and held it in 1391, and at her death it went to the Crown, and was purchased by the lord of Park's manor, and joined to it, and so continues.

Stay hasty Traveller who 'ere you be,
Tell if you can, what is become of me;
Conscious of Guilt, my Soul, as one afraid,
Fled from that Body, which now here is laid;
Thoughtfull in Life, make it your chiefest Care,
What you must be, as well as what you are;
Death makes the stoutest hearts and hands to yield,
Cease to dispute, and tamely quit the Field;
And when approaching, makes all Living fear,
To be they know not what, they know not where.

MARGARET his wife died Aug. 20, 1730, æt. 81.

There are three stones by the font for John Gilbert and his two wives, he died in 1680, Susan in 1659, and Eliz. in 1675. By the north door lies Stephen Hartley, 1664, and Joan his wife, 1671.

Over this door (the usual place for St. CHRISTOPHER) is an ancient picture of that Saint, painted on the wall with "a terryble and fereful countenance," according to the description of him in the Legend,² and of as prodigious size, as the height of the wall would permit, though not so monstrous as the Legend makes him, for that says, "he was xii cubytes of length." At the uppermost corner towards the west, are the two tables of the Commandments, on the upper part of the one is Moses, and on the other Aaron, and by them Solomon's temple at Jerusalem; at the lower corner, on the same side, is a shield, and on it, the golden pot that had MANNA,³ and AARON'S rod that budded,⁴ types (I suppose) of the Aaronical priesthood; in the midst is a river, and the huge saint with "a grete pole in his hand in stede of a staffe, by which he susteyned hym in the water;" and on his shoulders is our SAVIOR represented as a child, "which prayed hym goodly to bere him over the water;" and when Christopher "lyfte the Chylde on his Sholdres, and toke his Staffe, and entred the Ryver for to passe, the Water of the Ryuer arose, and swelled more and more, and the Chylde was heuy as Leed, and alway as he went ferder the Water incresed, and grewe more, and the Chylde more & more wexed heuy, in so moche that Christofer had grete Anguysse, & was aferde to be drowned, and when he was escaped with grete Payne, and passed the Water, & set the Chylde a Grounde, he sayd to the Chylde; Chylde, you hast put me in grete Peryll, you weyst almost as I had had all the World upon me, I myght bere no greter Burden. And the Chylde answered; Christofer, marvayle the nothyng, for you hast not only borne all the Worlde upon the, but you hast borne hym that created & made all the Worlde, upon thy Sholdres: I am JESU CHRYSY the Kyng to whome you servest in this Werke, and bycause that you know, that I saye to the Trough, set thy Staffe in the Erth by thy Houys, & thou shalt se to Morrow that it shall bere Floures and Fruyte. And anon he vanyshed from his eyen. And than Christofer set his Staffe in the Erth, & whan he arose on the Morowe, he found his Staffe like a Palmyr, beryng Floures Leues, and Dates."⁵ And after this he was baptized, for when the King enquired his name and country, he answered thus, "tofore I was baptyesed, I was named Reprobus, and now am named Christofer, tofore Baptysem a Canaanite, now a Chrysten Man." And at the upper corner towards the east, is Noah's ark, the figure of Christian baptism,⁶ by which we enter into the church, which is represented at the lower corner of the same painting, to which the Saint directs his steps: all this confirms my former observation at p. 209, vol. iv. that this Saint is always placed here (opposite to the font, which anciently stood always between the two doors) "in allusion to the water in baptism," notwithstanding what is said in the Palaeographia Britannica, &c. Number II. page 65, against the truth of it.⁷

THARSTON.

THIS village is called by various names in old evidence, as STERS-TUNA, or Steres-Town,⁸ Therstun, Testun,⁹ Thurston, and Tharston; and was in divers parts at the Conquest, several of them belonging to the manor of Forncet,¹ of which the capital manor was always held at one fee. ULURIC held it of Bishop Stigand at the Confessor's survey, and ROBERT DE ¹⁷*ALLIBUS*, Fals, or Fauz, of ROGER BIGOT at the Conqueror's.² The church had 40 acres of glebe valued at 3*s. per annum*, the manor was worth 5*l. 6s.* and the town was a league and a half

“baptism; 'TIS FALSE, that children to be baptized were usually brought in by that door, and nothing at all to the purpose, was it true.”

Now as the author seems to have such an excellent knowledge in antique imagery as to fix exactly the time of a carving by the look of its phys,* and such sagacity in explaining figures of many centuries duration, “as easily as if their names were wrote over their heads,”† as is evident from his own words in the account he has given of his Roisian family;‡ I should be very glad to know the age of these figures, or what other interpretation the learned Doctor would please to put upon such an old painting as this; for as what I have formerly mentioned in relation to this saint, he says is FALSE, (being no advocate for infallibility, though I have quoted the Golden Legend,) if any other explication of his, would come as near the point, as the relation he hath made out between his Lady ROISIA and Robin Hood; I could not but acknowledge his great judgment, and re-urn him the thanks due for such information.

MANOR OF THARSTON'S, OR ST. OMER'S,

Taking both its names from the lords of it; in 1236, Richard de Tharston was lord, and held it at a quarter of a fee of Robert de Shelton, of whom he purchased it; and Shelton held it of Robert de Tateshale, lord of Bukenham-Castle, from which it had been formerly sold by the Albanys.

In 1317, Richard de Therston and Cecily his wife, settled it on themselves for life, and then on Ralf de St. Omer; and it soon after divided into two parts, for in 1329, Richard and Cecily held one part of Bukenham-Castle at a quarter of a fee, and William Jermy and Ellen his wife, held the other of the said castle, at the other quarter of a fee;† but before 1401, St. Omer's part was joined in *Will. JERMY'S manor continued in that family, and in 1514, Sir Robert Clere, John Shelton, and Sir Philip Boothe, Knt. purchased the wardship and marriage of John Jermy, of Thomas Duke of Norfolk, for 100*l.* which John, in 1526, was a knight, and lord here; in 1561, Francis Jermy had livery of it, and in 1609, Robert Cocke, junior, had it, and held it of Forncet manor, and soon after it seems to be purchased of George and Francis Cocke, Gents. by Sir Edw. the Nerfords; for after the death of William and Petronel, John de Nerford and Agnes his wife, in 1328, settled this, Shotesham Nerford's, the advowson of Pentney priory, the church of Holt, &c. in Norfolk, the advowson of Rumburgh priory, Wisete manor, &c. in Suffolk, on themselves and their heirs, in tail. This AGNES was daughter of William de Bereford, sister and heir of Edm. de Bereford, widow to John Argenteyn, and married after Nerford's death, to John Mau-travers, senior; she died seized in 1375, of this and Shotisham,⁷ and they went to John de Brewse son of Peter de Brewse, Knt. and Margery his wife, who was a Nerford; and Kat. de Brewse, his sister, a nun at Dertford, released her right in it. In 1383, Sir John settled it on William de Cobham and William de Bergh, his trustees.

Sir Thomas Roos of Hamlake, Knt. and Beatrix his wife, who descended from Maul, the other daughter and coheir of Fauv, had it; and in 1394, Margery de Nerford released and conveyed all right in it, to

William Roos or Rees, Esq. and his heirs, who held it in 1403, of Thomas Mowbray's manor of Fornect, at one fee. In 1410, this William Rees, Esq. by will gave his two manors in Therston, the one called Nerford's, and the other St. Omer's, to be sold by his executors, with his manors of Caxton and Wrotting in Cambridgeshire, to found a chantry in the college of St. Mary in the Fields in NORWICH, and to pay Sir Thomas the anchorite near that college,⁸ 2s. a week for life;⁹ and soon after it was sold to William Lovency, and after purchased by

Sir Robert Clere, Knt. who held it in 1432, and it passed in that family as Keswick, at p. 44. In 1549, Sir John Clere was lord, and the manors were valued at 30*l.* but he manumised much, and died Aug. 21, 1557, leaving Sir Edward his son and heir, then 25 years old, who was to permit Sir Richard Fulmerstone, and his other executors, to take the profits for 5 years, to pay a legacy to Walter Haddon his son. He made a long lease of the demcans, to John Woolmer,¹ and settled the manor as at p. 166. He left it to Sir Edward Clere of Ormesby his son and heir, who sold it to John Smith, Esq.² of Ameringhall, and he in 1617, to Sir Thomas Knyvet of Ashwelthorp, Knt. when there were 319 acres 3 roods and an half of copy-hold, which paid 10*l.* 2*s.* 3*d.* quitrents, besides 6 capons, 2 hens, 3 geese, 10 eggs, 2 bushels of oats, 7 days work and an half in harvest, 7 days work in winter, half a day's work in hay-seele, and half a day's work in weeding; which were even now paid in kind. WELHOLME'S OR WELHAM'S MANOR

Laid in Stratton St. Michael, and this town, for which see p. 202. Before the Welholmes removed to their new made manor-house at Stratton, they dwelt in the old site of their manor by Holm-hill in this parish, to which belonged an ancient free-chapel dedicated to St. Giles, called Holme or Welholme's chapel; the site of which now belongs to the manor of Tharston: and on account of this it is, that we often meet with the churches of Tharston mentioned, but the manor united to STRATTON-HALL.

The advowson of the rectory of the church of St. Mary the Virgin at Tharston was given in King Stephen's time, to the priory of PENTNEY in Norfolk, by Rob. de Vaux, founder of that house, to which it was appropriated before 1273;³ it was first valued at 15, after at 18 marks, and had a house and 40 acres of glebe. The vicarage is valued in the King's Books, by the name of THURSTON, at 5l. 1s. 8d. and being sworn of the clear yearly value of 45*l.* it is discharged of first-fruits and tithes, and is capable of augmentation. It paid 7s. 8d. procurations, 16d. synodals, 16d. Peter-pence, and 7d. carvage; and in 1571, the Queen's receiver general paid to the vicar out of the impropriate tithes, a yearly pension of 3l. 6s. 8d. There was a GILD held in honour of the Blessed Virgin, and the following religious persons had temporalities valued as follow; the Prior of Thetford monks at 2*s.*; the Abbot of Creke 6d.; the Prior of Bukenham 2*s.*; the Prior of Norwich 4*s. 6d.*; and it paid clear to every tenth 4*l. 12s.*

The CHURCH hath a square steeple and four bells, the nave is leaded, the chancel and north porch are tiled.

There are two monuments of black marble thus inscribed,

FRITTON.

THE chief part of FRITTON, or Free Town, to which the advowson belonged, was part of the honour and manor of Forncet,⁷ and from its enjoying the liberties of the honours that extended hither, it might take its name, as being free from many things that other villages were subject to.

There was another small part held of the manor of Hemenhale,⁸ by Thomas Trot and Alice his wife, in 1384. (See p. 183.)

ROBERT MALET, lord of the honour of EYE, which extends hither,⁹ had two freemen here and their services.

And the honour of RICHMOND also extends into this village; for in 1636, it appears by the rolls of that honour, that Roger Waide, Gent. was amerced 20s. for detaining from the King, as lord of the honour, 1d. a year of ware-pound rent for his lands in Fretton.

The Abbot of St. Edmund had lands here belonging to his manor of Moringthorp,¹ which he assigned with that manor to Robert de Vals, and it hath passed to this day with Moringthorp, or Thorp-hall manor, to which I refer you. To this also was joined one freeman and two bordars under him, and their services, which belonged till then to the King's hundred of DEPWADE.

Besides these parts, there was a considerable share of the parish, which in the Conqueror's time was held by OLKETEL a Dane, and freeman of Ederic de Laxfield's, the antecessor of Robert Malet, lord of Eye; and by Gifart, under Robert Fitz-Corban at the Conquest:²

and there were then 7 tenants of this manor that had power to sell their land, if their lord refused to purchase it of them; it was always worth 25s. and had the liberty of faldage; and the town was a mile long and half a mile broad, and paid 9d. to the geld. This was afterwards called Boyland manor, and hath passed ever since, as Boyland-Hall in Moringthorp, to which I refer you.

Another part of this village extended into Henstede hundred,³ and was held of Roger Bigot's manor, at the 20th part of a fee, by Rainulf or Ralf, and belonged to Ulf the Dane in the Confessor's time. In 1264, Roger le Hayre, Eyre, or Ayer, was found to be a rebel against King Henry III. and to hold a manor in Freton of 100s. value, which the King seized; but in 1276, it was restored to William le Ayer; in 1306, Roger Rivet had it, and in 1432, John Storer, and after Roger Bennet, by whom it was sold to the lord of Boyland, and so became joined to it.

THE MANOR OF BAVENT'S BURTOFT'S AND HEMENHALE'S,

Was infeoffed by the lord of Fornect, in Peter Fitz-Nicholas, to be held of Fornect at the 4th part of a fee; and in 1198, he settled it by fine on Eustace de Bavent and his heirs; and about 1210, Ralf de Fretou and John his son, were lords; and in 1245, John de Burtoft, who in 1264 was found to be one of the rebels against Henry III. but having obtained his pardon in 1285, Ralf de Burtoft and Margaret his wife possessed it. In 1307, a Ralf de Burtofts was lord, and in 1315, Sir John de Sturmyn, Knt. who in 1327, had a charter for a weekly market and yearly fair here, and for free-warren, in this town, Stratton, and Moringthorp.⁴ In 1329, Ralf de Burtoft, and Margaret his wife sold it to John de Hemenhale, and in 1331, the rest of their lands here;⁵ in 1345, Sir Thomas de Hemenhale had it, and it continued in that family till about 1400, and then James Rees and Edmund Younghusband, held the lands and site of HEMENHALE'S alias BURTOFT'S manor in Fretou; but the manor continued with Hemenhale, and Lady Lukyn now hath it.⁶

The CHURCH is dedicated to St. Catherine, was valued in the old taxation at 16 marks, and had a house and 11 acres of glebe; it paid 2s. 2d. synodals, 6s. 8d. archdeacon's procurations, 10d. Peter-pence, and 5d. carvage. And the whole village paid 3l. 10s. clear to every 4th.

It stands thus in the King's Books,

9l. FRITTON Rectory. 40l. clear yearly value.

It is discharged of first-fruits and tithes, and is capable of augmentation.

There is a messuage and 10 acres of town-land, and the following religious houses had temporals here taxed as follow:

HUNDRED OF EARSHAM.

THIS hundred or rather half hundred, is wholly in the LIBERTY of the Duke of Norfolk, and joins to Diss hundred on the west, Depwade and Lodne on the north, and Wazney river (which divides Norfolk and Suffolk) on the south; the east end of it terminating upon the town of Bongeye in Suffolk, which island,¹ by the winding of the river northward, juts out as it were into Norfolk.

The fee of it is appendant to the manor of Earsham, and was first granted with it, to ROGER BIGOT Earl of Norfolk, by King Ric. I. and was confirmed to Hugh Bigot by Henry II. when he made him Earl of Norfolk.² In 1209, Roger Bigot, then Earl, held it as parcel of his barony. In 1285, Robert de Tateshale, lord of Bukenham-castle, sued Roger le Bigot Earl of Norfolk, and John Grenecartel, his warrener, or game-keeper,³ for this half hundred, for taking away his dogs, and two hares, from the game-keeper of his manor of Denton, in the half hundred; upon which, the Earl sets forth his liberties, and shows, that in the Confessor's time, Bishop Stigand had the soc and sac of all the half hundred, except Thorp, which belonged to St. Edmund's at Bury, Pulhams, to St. Etheldred of Ely, and such parts of Redenhall and Denton, as belonged to Earl Ralf who had the soc, sac, and all jurisdiction of his own men or tenants there, when he forfeited; and when the grant of the hundred passed to his ancestors, they then had, as he now hath, free-warren through the whole hundred; and the letes, or superior jurisdiction and paramountship, in his own, and all other persons fees, except those before mentioned; with view of frankpledge, assise of bread and ale, a common gallows, infangthef, weyf,⁴ and all other liberties belonging to a hundred.⁵ The whole, with

² ROG. BIGOT Earl of Norfolk, gave Ric. I. 1000 marks, to have seizen of his county of NORFOLK, this town, and half hundred, with that of Pirrho, &c. Rot. Pip. 1 R. I. Norf.

³ WARENER, the keeper of the liberty of free-warren, or game-keeper of a manor; for the liberty of free-warren or gaming, every where belonged to the Crown, till granted thence, by the several charters of free-warren.

⁴ Catalla vocata WEYFS, adjudicantur VOL. V.

⁵ A hundred court, to be held at Harleston on the market day, every three weeks, &c. with the tolls of the market and fairs at Harleston, paying 3s. 4d. to the King, as to the castle of Norwich, felon's goods, &c.

Earsham manor, being valued at 30*l.* and held of the Crown by a fee-farm of 40*l.*⁶ to which Robert answered, that he had free-warren also to his manor of Deuton, and it appearing that it was that part which belonged to Earl Ralf, it was agreed between the parties, at the instance of R. de Ingham, and his fellow justices itinerants at Norwich, that both should have free-warren in Deuton. In 1352, the jury for the hundred presented, that the inhabitants of BONGEYE used, time out of mind, to repair the bridges between Bongeys, and Suffolk, and those between Bongeys, Ditchingham, and Earsham in Norfolk.⁷

In 1374, there were free-rents paid to the hundred from Brockdish, Lyncroft, Prilleston, Reveshale, Sterston, Redenhale, Aldebergh, and Deuton. The perquisites of eleven hundred-courts held at Harleston, were 5*l.* 9*s.* 6*d.* The profits of the nine LETES belonging to the hundred 5*l.* 8*s.* 7*d.* and of the eight views of frankpledge 3*l.* 17*s.* The profit of Harleston market and fairs, 3*l.* 10*s.* &c. The whole received this year from the hundred and accounted for to the head manor of Fornect, was 46*l.* 15*s.* 5*d.* 3*q.* and in 1537, ROB. APPEYARD, steward, accounted for the profits received of the bailiff of the hundred, to JOHN ROBSART, receiver-general, much the same as before.

This is often written anciently Ertlesham, and was thought to take its name from the Earls of Norfolk, the lords of it; but it is not so, for it was called by this name long before it belonged to the Earls: HERSAM, as spelt in Domesday, seems to signify the station of the army; and accordingly there is an encampment by the church; this hundred (with that of Diss) makes up the deanery of REDENHALL in the archdeaconry of Norwich, and paid clear to every tenth, 49*l.* 18*s.* 4*d.*

The annual payment of each town in this HUNDRED to the land tax, at 4*s.* in the pound.

The quarterly payment for each town to the justices of the sessions, &c. for quarterage vagrant-money, bridge money, &c. for a 600*l.* levy each quarter.

all liberties, as the Earl of Norfolk had, to his half hundred of Earsham; this being that part of Farsham hundred, then and now joined to Diss hundred. See vol. i. p. 1, 6.

THE MANOR OF EARSHAM

Was the chief manor of the hundred, and belonged to Stigand the Archbishop at the Confessor's survey,⁸ when there were 3 carucates in demean, 2 mills, wood sufficient to maintain 300 swine, 3 saddle horses, 30 goats, &c. and was worth 11*l.* being then a mile and an half long, and a mile broad, and paid 6*d.* to the geld or tax. At the Conquest it belonged to the Conqueror, who committed the management of it to William de Noiers. The soc and sac belonged to it, and the whole was risen to 40*l.* value. There were then belonging to this manor, 12 socmen in Denton; Stigand had the soc of nine of them in ERSHAM, and the Abbot of St. Edmund had the soc of three of them, who held 40 acres, which they could neither give nor sell, without license from that church.

From the time it was granted to the Norfolk family along with the half hundred from the Crown, it passed with Forncet manor, to which I refer you; the Duke of NORFOLK being lord of the manor and hundred, and owner of the park here, which is now disparked, though in 35 Edw. I. it was well stocked, and belonged to the lodge or manor house, which had 286 acres in demean, 16 acres of meadow, and the hall dykes or fishery, a watermill, and many woods and feus;⁹ all which were kept for the use of the family of Roger Bigot, then lord, who chiefly resided at his adjacent castle of Bongeye.

There was a manor here, which formerly belonged to William de Fraxineto, or Freney, who gave the tithes of the demean of it to the monks at Castleacre;¹ it after came to Rog. de Glanvile, who confirmed that donation, as did Simon Bishop of Norwich in 1265; but it

The church is dedicated to All the Saints; NORWICH Domesday tells us, the rector had then a house and 40 acres of land, and now hath about 37 acres; it was first valued at 24, and after at 30 marks, and paid 2s. synodals, 7d. Peter-pence, and the village 4l. 8s. clear to every tenth. It is incapable of augmentation, and so consequently pays first-fruits and yearly tenths, and stands thus in the King's Books:

I do not find that the Abbot of Sibton had any thing to do here, though it is said that he had, in the Atlas, p. 332.

BILLINGFORD.

THE original name of this place, is PRELESTON, or the Town of the Battle, in all probability so called from some remarkable battle fought here, when the Romans possessed the land: and by this name only it is mentioned in Domesday: its present name first occurring in Henry the Third's time, when the inhabitants began to fix themselves by the ford, or pass over the river into Suffolk, for BILLINGFORD, signifies the dwelling at the ford by the low meadows; and such is the situation of the village at present.

* Lambert, page 417.

STIGAND the Bishop was superiour lord here at the Confessor's time, and ROGER DE RAMIS at the Conquest.⁹ One part of the of the town formerly belonged to the Abbot of Bury, and another to the Abbot of ELY;¹ all which WARENGER held under the said Roger, and retained the superiour jurisdiction to himself, in those lands which formerly belonged to Bury; the one part was given to Bury along with Thorp, and the other to Ely with Pulham, to which manors they then belonged.

Soon after, they were divided, and one moiety continued in Roger's family, till 1249, and then Richer de Remes sold it to Roger de Herdebarow, or Herleburgh, who by this purchase became lord of the whole; for the other moiety went to the Bigots, and in 1211, was sold by William Bigot to Hugh de Hurleburgh; the whole was held always of Fornet manor at one fee, and 2*d. ob. per annum* castleward; Isabell de Bosco, widow of Hugh, held it, at whose death it went to their son Roger, and in 1238, it was settled on Ida, widow of Roger, for life, with remainder to Ela and Isabel their daughters, in tail; but, in 1285, Isabel was alive; for then she impleaded Ida, widow of Roger, and her daughter's guardians, for her dower here and in Great Harborow manor in Warwickshire;² and this year, Roger Bigot claimed liberty of free-warren, as superiour lord of the fee; after this, it divided again into moieties: ELA, one of Herleburgh's heiresses, married Walter de Hopton, and presented here in 1300, and John de Peyto married the other; whose son, by the name of John de Petto, junior, presented in 1337, it having been settled on him and Alice his wife in 1326, by John de Watevile, who was to have an annuity of 20 marks for life, but in 1338, they all joined and sold the whole to Sir Walter de Hopton, Knt. who in 1345, settled it on Joan his wife. In 1360, John de Clinton was lord for life, jointly with Sir Walter de Hopton; and in 1375, Agnes, relict of John Brown, and Ric. Brown, clerk, their son, sold it to profit;⁴ he being Knight of the Garter, one of his privy council, chamberlain of the household, governour of Windsor castle, constable of Dover castle, and lord warden of the Cinqueports: in 1378, he obtained a grant from the King, of the castle and lordship of Llan Stephan in Pembrokeshire, late Rob. de Penes; and in 1382, another, to be master of the King's falcons and game kept at Charing, with the manor of Barrock by Gravesend; and many other lands, &c. in consideration of his great services done to him from his infancy, before he was made a knight, and at that time, and after, when prince of Wales, and since, when King of England;⁵ but being so great in his master's favour, it raised him to such an intolerable degree of pride, and its consequence, oppression, that he incurred the displeasure of the whole nation, and being attainted in parliament, was beheaded on Tower-hill in 1388; but this manor was not forfeited thereby; for in 1375, Sir Simon conveyed it, after his decease, to Sir John Burley, his brother, and he settled it (or rather a moiety of it) on Sir John Hopton of Shropshire, Knt. who married Isabel Burley, his daughter, and their heirs; and the other moiety, afterwards called

CORBET'S MANOR,

Belonged to Sir Nic. Dagworth, Knt. and in 1401, to Tho. Young, Esq. of Sibton, and after to John Corbet, Esq. in whom the whole united again.

Sir JOHN DE HOPTON left Sir John his son and heir, whose son Walter, was dead before 1423, for then Joan his widow presented. Their son Tho. de Hopton, in 1444, was found heir to Will. Burley, who then died without issue, being son of John Burley, lord of Elmyr castle in Caermarthenshire, son to Sir Roger Burley, Knt. brother to Isabel Burley, great grandmother to Thomas de Hopton, by his first wife, Lucy, daughter of William Guildford, relict of Sir Aymer Browne, Knt.; and at the death of Walter Hopton in 1460, John Corbet, Esq. was found his heir, in right of his wife KATHERINE, only daughter and heiress of the said Walter; Sir Roger Corbet, Kat. his father, being now infeoffed in trust; and it continued in the Corbets a long time; Roger Corbet, Esq. was lord in 1531, and died in 1539, leaving

ANDREW his son and heir, who sold it, jointly with Joan his wife, in 1544, to

Sir ROBERT SOUTHWELL, of whom it was purchased by

CHRISTOPHER GRICE, Gent. who died in 1558, and was buried in this church, leaving the manor and advowson to Anne his wife for life, and then to Robert their son and heir, who married Susanna, daughter and coheir to Thomas Ayre of Bury, Esq.; he died in 1583, and CHRISTOPHER LE GRICE, their only child, inherited; he married Margaret, daughter and heir to Thomas Whipple of Dickburgh, Gent. and dying in 1601, lies buried here, leaving only one daughter,

⁴ He could dispend but 20 marks a year of his own inheritance, but by his Prince's favour attained to 3000 marks of yearly revenue; he gave sometimes 220 liveries in a year, of scarlet, &c. (Erdswick, fo. 136.)

9l. BILLINGFORD rectory. 45l. clear yearly value.

This rectory being discharged, pays neither first-fruits nor tithes, and is capable of augmentation. When NORWICH Domesday was made, the rector had a house and 10 acres of land; the house stood near the summer-house at the hall, and was long since burnt down, and never rebuilt; the terrier hath 37 pieces of glebe; it was valued at 16 marks, and paid 22d. synodals, and 10d. Peter-pence; and the village paid 46s. clear to every tenth. It is in the liberty of the Duke of Norfolk, who in right of his hundred of Earsham, is lord paramount here. There was a family surnamed of the town; in 1260, Mat. of Preleston, and in 1316, John of Prilleston and Margaret his wife lived here.

The CHURCH is dedicated to St. Leonard; the nave and south porch are tiled, the chancel is thatched; there was a large square tower, which is fallen down, so that it is no higher than the church, is covered in, and hath one bell in it.

There were formerly many arms of the Grices, with their impalements and quarterings, both in the hall and church windows, but are now some of them removed, and the rest so broken and defaced, that there is no depending on them for the exactness of the several coats.

East of this town, on the great road from Yarmouth to London, which passes here, is the village of ⁷ 1713, he was appointed perpetual whose chaplain he was.

curate of Wingfield by Bishop Trimmel,

THORP - ABBOTS,

So called to distinguish it from other villages of this name,⁸ it being for many ages, part of the possessions of the Abbot of Bury, and of those manors that were appropriated to the Abbot's own use; and from its being much larger than the other neighbouring vill called Thorp-Parva in Diss hundred, it is often named Thorp-Magna; and of late years, Thorp-Cornwaleis, from its lords.

This town belonged to AILFRIC Bishop of Elmham in King Edgar's time, (for whom see vol. iii. p. 460.) who gave it to Bury abbey,⁹ to which it belonged ever since, to its dissolution; the abbots of that house being always lords and patrons. At the survey, the manor had two carucates in demean, and was seven furlongs long, and six broad, and paid 4*d.* geld or tax.¹ The church had 12 acres of glebe, then worth 2*s.* a year; and the Abbot had the soke or superiour jurisdiction here exempt from the hundred, except the services of two freemen which belonged to Hersam; and in all returns made to the King, the Abbot is said to hold this town as part of his barony.

In 1285, Roger Bigod Earl of Norfolk, as Lord of ERSHAM hundred, claimed freewarren here, but it was not allowed him, the Abbot recovering it against him, proving by Domesday, that he was sole lord, and had the paramountship of Thorp in right of his church, exempt from the hundred: about this time, Robert of Thorp held it by lease for life from the Abbot; and it appears, that he had a good estate in the town, for in 1271, he purchased of Arnold de Bedingfield and Orfrannia his wife, two messuages, a mill, 120 acres of land, 4 acres of meadow, 10 acres of wood, here and in Preleston.

In 1425, Will. Curteys, then abbot, leased it to Will. Grice of Brockdish for 10 years, at 22 marks a year. At the Dissolution, it was

And being discharged of first-fruits and tenths, it is capable of augmentation.

In Domesday we find, that the church is dedicated to All the Saints, and the rector had a house and nine acres of land, that it was valued at 15 marks,³ paid 2*s.* synodals, 7*s.* 7*d.* ob. procurations, and 7*d.* ob. Peter-pence. The vicarage was dissolved and fallen into the rectory. The Abbot of Bury was taxed for his temporals here, viz. the manor, demeans, mill, silva cedua, &c. at 20*l.* 4*s.* 1*d.* and the village paid 36*s.* clear to every tenth.

The steeple is round at bottom and octangular at top, having a clock and two bells; the chancel, church, and south porch are tiled. There was a brass by the pulpit, with this on it:

Orate pro anima Rogeri Harvey, cuius anime propicietur Deus.

The arms of the East-Angles and Bury-Abbey are in the windows, but no other memorials, save a piece of black marble fixed into the south side of the wall in the churchyard, with this:

Near this Place lyeth the Body of Susan late wife of Henry Chamberlain late of Flordon-hall, who died March 1, 1707, aged 71 years.

* See for him, vol. iv. p. 171.

BROCKDISH

Is the next adjoining town eastward, through which the great road passes to Yarmouth; on the left hand of which, stands the church, on a hill by itself, there being no house near it but the parsonage, which joins to the east side of the churchyard. The advowson always belonged to the EARL's manor here, with which it now continues.

In NORWICH Domesday we read, that the rector had a house and 30 acres of land, that it was then valued at 15 marks, and paid as it now doth for synodals 1s. 9d. procurations 6s. 8d. and 12d. Peter-pence. It stands in the KING's Books thus:

10l. BROCKEDISH rectory. 1l. yearly tenths.

And consequently pays first-fruits, and is incapable of augmentation. The church stands included in the glebe, which is much the same in quantity as it was when the aforesaid survey was taken. It is in NORFOLK archdeaconry, REDENHALL deanery, and Duke of NORFOLK's liberty, though he hath no lete, warren, paramountship, or superiour jurisdiction at all in this town, the whole being sold by the family along with the manors of the town.

In 1603, there were 103 communicants here, and now there are 50 families, and about 300 inhabitants; it was laid to the ancient tenths at 4l. but had a constant deduction of 14s. on account of lands belonging to the religious, so that the certain payment to each tenth, was 3l. 6s.

The Prior of St. Faith at Horsham owned lands here, which were taxed at 2s. 6d. in 1428.

The Prior of Thetford monks had lands here of the gift of Richard de Cadomo or Caam,⁵ who gave them his land in Brockedis, and a wood sufficient to maintain 20 swine, in the time of King Henry I. when WILLIAM BIGOT, sewer to that King, gave to this priory all the land of Sileham, which from those monks is now called Monks-hall manor, and the water-mill there; all which Herbert Bishop of Norwich conveyed to his father, in exchange for other lands, he being to hold it in as ample a manner as ever Herbert the chaplain did; and in Ric. the Second's time, the monks bought a piece of marsh ground in Brockedis, to make a way to their mill, which being not contained in the grant of Monks-hall manor from Hen. VIII. to the Duke of Norfolk, William Grice, Esq. and Charles Newcomen, who had a grant of such lands as they could find concealed from the Crown, seized on this as such; and upon their so doing, the owner of the mill was obliged to purchase it of them, by the name of Thetford-Mill-Way, and it hath ever since belonged to, and is constantly repaired by the owner thereof.

1738, and was succeeded by Robert Laurence, A. B. of Caius college, who lies buried at the south-east corner of the chancel, and was succeeded in 1739, by Francis Blomefield, clerk, the present rector, who holds it united to Fersfield rectory, being presented by Mrs. ELLEN LAURENCE aforesaid.

The CHURCH is dedicated to the honour of the apostles St. Peter and Paul, and hath a square tower about 16 yards high, part of which was rebuilt with brick in 1714; there are five bells; the third, which is said to have been brought from Pulham in exchange, hath this on it;

Virgo Coronata duc nos ad Regna beata.

The nave, chancel, and south isle are leaded, the south porch tiled, and the north porch is ruined. The roof of this chancel is remarkable for its principals, which are whole trees without any joint, from side to side, and bent in such a rising manner, as to be agreeable to the roof. The chancel is 30 feet long and 20 broad, the nave is 54 feet long and 32 broad, and the south isle is of the same length, and 10 feet broad.

At the west end of the nave is a black marble thus inscribed,

Here lyeth buried the Body of Richard Wythe Gent. who departed this Life the 6 of Sept. 1671, who lived 64 Years and 4 Months and 9 Days.

This family have resided here till lately, ever since Edw. the Third's time, and had a considerable estate here, and the adjacent villages. See their arms, vol. iv. p. 135.

Another marble near the desk hath this,

Near this Place lays Elizabeth Wife of John Moulton Gent. who died Oct. 31, 1716, aged 32 Years. And here lieth Mary the late Wife of John Moulton, who died March 20, 1717, aged 27 Years. And also here lyeth the Body of JOHN MOULTON Gent. who died June 12, 1718, aged 38 Years.

Moulton's arms and crest as at vol. iv. p. 501.

In a north window are the arms of De la Pole quartering Wingfield. In 1465, Jeffrey Wurliche of Brockdish was buried here, and in 1469 John Wurliche was interred in the nave, and left a legacy to pave the bottom of the steeple. In 1518, Henry Bokenham of Brockdish was buried in the church, as were many of the Spaldings,⁶ Withes, Howards, Grices, Tendrings, and Laurences; who were all considerable owners and families of distinction in this town.

The chapel at the east end of the south isle was made by Sir Ralf Tendring of Brockdish, Knt. whose arms remain in its east window at this day, once with, and once without, a crescent az. on the fess, viz. az. a fess between two chevrons arg.

His altar monument stands against the east wall, north and south, and hath a sort of cupola over it, with a holy-water stope by it, and a pedestal for the image of the saint to which it was dedicated, to stand on, so that it served both for a tomb and an altar; the brass plates of arms and circumscription are lost.

On the north side, between the chapel and nave, stands another altar tomb, covered with a most curious marble disrobed of many brass plates of arms and its circumscription, as are several other stones in the nave, isle, and chancel. This is the tomb of John Tendring of Brockdish-hall, Esq. who lived there in 1403, and died in 1436, leaving five daughters his heirs, so that he was the last male of this branch of the Tendrings. Cecily his wife is buried by him.

On the east chancel wall, on the south side of the altar, is a white marble monument with this,

On a flat stone under this monument, is a brass plate thus inscribed, Armigeri posuit.

Arms on a brass plate are,

There is a picture of this Robert drawn in 1629, æt. 36. He built the HALL in 1634; it stands near half a mile north-east of the church, and was placed near the old site of Brockdishe's-hall; the seat of the Tendrings, whose arms, taken out of the old hall when this was built, were fixed in the windows. The arms of this man and his wife, and several of their quarterings, are carved on the wainscot in the rooms.

On the south side of the churchyard is an altar tomb covered with a black marble, with the crest and arms of

And adjoining is another altar tomb,

In Memory of RICHARD TUBBY Esq.⁷ who died Dec. 10th. 1741, in the 80th Year of his Age.

⁷ He was high-sheriff of Norfolk in 1729, and his wife was niece and coheir-ess to Thomas Tension Archbishop of Canterbury, who died Dec. 14, 1715, and is buried at Lambeth. They had many children, who all died single, and are interred by them, except Anne, who married the Rev. Mr. Holmes, rector of

Fritton, whose widow she now is, and hath issue, Eliz. married the Rev. Mr. Pepin, who are both dead, but left issue; Mary, married in 1723, to Mr. Joshua Grigby, attorney at law in Bury, who are both living, and have issue. Frances married Mr. John Simpson of Pulham, and is since dead, but left issue. Sarah

There are two other altar tombs in the churchyard, one for Mr. Rich. Chatton, and another for Eliz. daughter of Robert and Eliz. Harper, who died in 1719, aged 8 years.

The town takes its name from its situation on the Waveney or Wagheneye, which divides this county from that of Suffolk; the channel of which is now deep and broad, though nothing to what it was at that time, as is evident from the names of places upon this river, as the opposite vill, now called Sileham, (oftentimes wrote Sayl-holm, even to Edw. the Third's time) shows; for I make no doubt, but it was then navigable for large boats and barges to sail up hither, and continued so, till the sea by retiring at Yarmouth, and its course being stopt near Lowestoft, had not that influence on the river so far up, as it had before; which occasioned the water to retire, and leave much land dry on either side of the channel; though it is so good a stream, that it might with ease, even now, be made navigable hither; and it would be a good work, and very advantageous to all the adjacent country. That Broo-dic signifies no more than the broad-ditch, is very plain, and that the termination of ð, cau, or water, added to it, makes it the broad ditch of water, is as evident.

Before the Confessor's time, this town was in two parts; Bishop Stigand owned one, and the Abbot of Bury the other; the former afterwards was called the Earl's Manor, from the Earls of Norfolk; and the other Brockdishe's-hall, from its ancient lords, who were surnamed from the town.

The superiour jurisdiction, lete, and all royalties, belonged to the Earl's manor, which was always held of the hundred of Earsham, except that part of it which belonged to Bury abbey, and that belonged to the lords of Brockdishe's-hall; but when the Earl's manor was sold by the Duke of Norfolk, with all royalties of gaming, fishing, &c. together with the letes, view of frankpledge, &c. free and exempt from his hundred of Earsham, and the two manors became joined as they now are, the whole centered in the lord of the town, who hath now the sole jurisdiction with the lete, belonging to it; and the whole parish being freehold, on every death or alienation, the new tenant pays a relief of a year's freehold rent, added to the current year: The annual free-rent, without such reliefs, amounting to above 3l. per annum. At the Conqueror's survey the town was seven furlongs long, and five furlongs and four perches broad, and paid 6d. to the geld or tax. At the Confessor's survey, there were 28 freemen here, six of which held half a carucate of land of Bishop Stigand, and the others held 143 acres under the Abbot of Bury, and the Abbot held the whole of Stigand, without whose consent the freemen could neither give away, nor sell their land, but were obliged to pay him 40s. a year free-rent;⁸ and married in 1730, to Thomas Seaman of Brook, Esq. who are both dead, but left issue. Hannah married in 1739 to Denison Suckling of Woodton, Esq. who is dead, but she survives and hath issue.

if they omitted paying at the year's end, they forfeited their lands, or paid their rent double; but in the Conqueror's time they paid 16*l.* per annum by tale. There were two socmen with a carucate of land, two villeins and two bordars here, which were given to Bury abbey along with the adjacent manor of Thorp-Abbots, but were after severed from that manor, and infeoffed by the Abbot of Bury in the lord of Brockdishe's-hall manor, with which it passed ever after.⁹

BROCKDISH-EARL'S MANOR, OR BROCKDISH COMITIS.

This manor always attended the manor of Fornet after it was granted from the Crown to the BYGONS, along with the half hundred of Ears-ham, for which reason I shall refer you to my account of that manor at p. 223, 4. It was mostly part of the dower of the ladies of the several noble families that it passed through, and the living was generally given to their domestick chaplains. In 3 Edward I. the Abbot of Bury tried an action with Roger Bigod, then lord and patron, for the patronage; pleading that a part of the town belonged to his house, and though they had infeoffed their manor here in the family of the Brockdishes, yet the right in the advowson remained in him; but it appearing that the advowson never belonged to the Abbot's manor, before the feofment was made, but that it wholly was appendant ever since the Confessor's time, to the Earl's manor, the Abbot was cast: notwithstanding which in 1335, Sir John Wingfield, Knt. and Thomas his brother, William de Lanpet and Alice his wife, and Catherine her sister, owners of Brockdishe's manor, revived the claim to the advowson; and Thomas de Wingfield, and lady Eleanor wife of Sir John Wingfield, presented here, and put up their arms in the church windows, as patrons, which still remain; but Mary Countess Marshal, who then held this manor in dower, brought her quare impedit, and ejected their clerk; since which time, it constantly attended this manor, being always appendant thereto. In 15 Edw. I. Roger Bigot, then lord, had free-warren in all this town, as belonging to this manor, having not only all the royalties of the town, but also the assise of bread and ale, and amerciements of all the tenants of his own manor, and of the tenants of Reginald de Brockdish, who were all obliged to do suit once a year at the Earl's view of frankpledge and lete in Brockdish; and it continued in the Norfolk family till 1570, and then Thomas Howard Duke of Norfolk, obtained license from Queen Elizabeth to sell it; it being held in capite or in chief of the Crown, as part of the barony and honour of the said Duke, who accordingly sold the

I. and Oliva his wife, whose son, Sir *Simon le Gry*s, Knt. of Thurveton, was alive in 1238, and married Agnes daughter and coheir to Augustine son of Richard de Waxtenesham or Waxham, of Waxham in Norfolk, by whom he had *Roger le Gry*s of Thurton, Esq. who lived in the time of Edward I. whose son Thomas le Grice of Thurton, had Roger le Grice of Brockdish, who lived here in 1392; whose son Thomas left John le Grice his eldest son and heir, who married a Bateman, and lies buried in St. John Baptist's church in Norwich; (see vol. iv. p. 127;) but having no male issue, William le Grice of Brockdish, Esq. son of Robert le Grice of Brockdish, his uncle, inherited: he married Sibill, daughter and sole heir of Edmund Singleton of Wingfield in Suffolk, and had

ANTHONY LE GRICE of Brockdish, Esq.² who married Margaret, daughter of John Wingfield, Esq. of Dunham, who lived in the PLACE, and died there in 1553, and lies buried in the church, by whom his wife also was interred in 1562. His brother Gilbert Grice of Yarmouth, Gent.³ first agreed with the Duke for Brockdish, but died before it was completed; so that Anthony, who was bound with him for performance of the covenants, went on with the purchase for his son,

CHARLES LE GRICE aforesaid,⁴ to whom it was conveyed: he married two wives; the first was Susan, daughter and heir of Andrew Manfield, Gent. and Jane his wife, who was buried here in 1564; the second was Hester, daughter of Sir George Blagge, Knt. who held the manor for life; and from these two wives descended the numerous branches of the GRICES of Brockdish, Norwich, Wakefield in Yorkshire, &c. He was buried in this church April 12, 1575, and was found to hold his manor of the hundred of Earsham, in free soccage, without any rent or service, and not in capite; and Brockdish's-hall manor of the King, as of his barony of Bury St. Edmund in Suffolk, which lately

WILLIAM LE GRICE, Esq. was his eldest son and heir, who at the death of his mother-in-law, was possessed of the whole estate; for in 1585, William Howard, then lord of Brockdishe's-hall manor, agreed and sold it to this William, and Henry le Grice his brother, and their heirs; but Howard dying the next year, the purchase was not completed till 1598, when Edw. Coppledick, Gent. and other trustees, brought a writ of entry against John son of the said William Howard, Gent. and had it settled absolutely in the GRICES, from which time the two manors have continued joined as they are at this day; by Alice, daughter and heiress of Mr. Eyre of Yarmouth; he left

BROCKDISHE'S-HALL MANOR,

Belonged to Bury abbey as aforesaid, till the time of Henry I. and then the Abbot infeoffed

Sir STEPHEN DE BROCKDISH in it, from whom it took its present name; he was to hold it at the 4th part of a knight's fee of that abbey: it contained a capital messuage or manor-house, called now Brockdishe's-hall; 105 acres of land in demean, 12 acres of wood, 8 of meadow, and 4l. 13s. 10d. rents of assise; he left it to

JEFFERY DE BROCKDISH his son, and he to

WILLIAM, his son and heir, who in 1267, by the name of William de Hallehe de Brokedis, or Will. of Brockdish-hall, was found to owe suit and service once in a year with all his tenants, to the lete of the Earl of Norfolk, held here. He left this manor, and the greatest part of his estate in Norwich-Carleton (which he had with Alice Curson his wife) to

THOMAS, his son and heir, and the rest of it to Nigel de Brockdish, his younger son; (see p. 102;) Thomas left it to

REGINALD, his eldest son and heir, and he to

Sir STEPHEN DE BROCKDISH, Knt. his son and heir, who was capital bailiff of all the Earl of Norfolk's manors in this county; he was lord about 1329, being succeeded by his son,

STEPHEN, who by Mary Wingfield his wife, had

REGINALD DE BROCKDISH, his son and heir,⁶ to whom he gave Brockdish-hall manor in Burston, (see vol. i. p. 127, vol. ii. p. 506,) but he dying before his father, was never lord here; his two daughters and heiresses inheriting at his father's death, viz.

ALICE, married to William de Lampet about 1355, and Catherine some time after, to William son of John de Herdeshull, lord of North Kellesey and Saleby in Lincolnshire, who inherited each a moiety, according to the settlement made by their grandfather, who infeoffed Sir John de Wingfield, Knt. and Eleanor his wife, and Thomas his brother, in trust for them;⁷ soon after, one moiety was settled on Robert Mortimer and Catherine his wife, by John Hemenhale, clerk, and John de Lantony, their trustees; and not long after the whole was united, and belonged to

Sir WILLIAM TENDRING of Stokeneyland, Knt. and Margaret his wife, daughter and coheir of Sir Will. Kerdeston of Claxton in Norfolk, Knt. who were succeeded by their son and heir

Sir JOHN TENDRING of Stokeneyland, Knt. who jointly with Agnes his wife, settled it on

Sir RALF TENDRING of Brockdish, Knt. one of their younger sons, who built the old hall (which was pulled down by Robert Lawrence, Esq. when he erected the present house) and the south isle chapel, in which he and Alice his wife are interred; his son, JOHN TENDRING of Brockdish, Esq. who was lord here and of West-hall in Colney, (see p. 5,) and was buried in the said chapel, with Cecily his wife, died in 1436, and left five daughters, coheiresses, viz.

cutors, mentioned by Mr. Fox, vol. ii. fo. 1913.

CECILY, married to Robert Ashfield of Stowlangtet in Suffolk, Esq.

ELIZABETH, to Simeon Fincham of Fincham in Norfolk, Esq.

ALICE, to Robert Morton.

JOAN, to Henry Hall of Helwinton.

ANNE, to John Braham of Colney.

Who joined and levied a fine and sold it to

THOMAS FASTOLFF, Esq. and his heirs; and the year following, they conveyed all their lands, &c. in Wigenhall, Tilney, and Islington, to

Sir JOHN HOWARD, Knt. and his heirs; and vested them in his trustees, who, the year following, purchased the manor of FASTOLFF to himself and heirs; this Sir John left Brockdish to a younger son,

ROBERT HOWARD, Esq. who settled here, and by Isabel his wife had

WILLIAM HOWARD of Brockdish, Esq. who was lord in 1469; he had two wives, Alice and Margaret, from whom came a very numerous issue, but

ROBERT, his son and heir, had this manor, who by Joan his wife had

WILLIAM HOWARD, his eldest son and heir, who died in 1566, seized of many lands in Cratfield, Huntingfield, Ubbeston, and Bradfield in Suffolk; and of many lands and tenements here, and in Sileham, &c. having sold this manor the year before his death, to the GRICES as aforesaid; but upon the sale, he reserved, all other his estate in Brockdish, in which he dwelt, called HOWARD'S PLACE, situate on the south side of the entrance of Brockdish-street; which house and farm went to

JOHN HOWARD, his son and heir, the issue of whose three daughters, Grace, Margaret, and Elizabeth, failing, it reverted to

MATHEW, son of William Howard, second brother to the said John Howard their father, whose second son,

MATHEW HOWARD, afterwards owned it; and in 1711, it was owned by a Mathew Howard, and now by

Mr. BUCKNALL HOWARD of London, his kinsman (as I am informed.)

The site and demans of the EARL'S manor, now called the PLACE, was sold from the manor by the Grices some time since, and after belonged to Sir Isaac Pennington, alderman of London, (see vol. i. p. 159,) and one of those who sat in judgment on the royal MARTYR, for which his estate was forfeited at the Restoration, and was given by Car. II. to the Duke of Grafton; and his Grace the present Duke of GRAFTON, now owns it.

THE BENEFACTIONS TO THIS PARISH ARE,

One close called Algorshegg, containing three acres,⁸ and a grove and dove-house formerly built thereon containing about one acre, at the east end thereof; the whole abutting on the King's highway north, and the glebe of Brockdish rectory west: and one tenement abutting on Brockdish-street south, called Seriches,⁹ with a yard on the north side thereof, were given by JOHN BAKON the younger, of Brockdish, ⁸ It pays a free-rent of 4d. ob.

⁹ This tenement with a town-clock fixed therein, was rebuilt in 1583, in the son of John Bakon the elder, of Thorp-Abbots; the clear profits to go yearly to pay the tenths and fifteenths for the parish of Brockdish when laid, and when they are not laid, to repair and adorn the parish church there for ever: his will is proved in 1433. There are always to be 12 feoffees, of such as dwell, or are owners in the parish, and when the majority of them are dead, the survivors are to fill up the vacancies.

In 1590, 1 Jan. John Howard, Gent. John Wythe, Gent. William Crickmere and Daniel Spalding, yeomen, officers of Brockdish, with a legacy left to their parish in 1572, by John Sherwood, late of Brokdish, deceased, purchased of John Thruston of Hoxne, Gent. John Thruston his nephew, Thomas Barker, and the inhabitants of Hoxne in Suffolk, one annuity or clear yearly rent-charge of 6s. 8d. issuing out of six acres of land and pasture in Hoxne, in a close called Calston's-close, one head abutting on a way leading from Heckfield-Green to Moles-Cross, towards the east; to the only use and behoof of the poor of Brockdish, to be paid on the first of November in Hoxne church-porch, between 12 and 4 in the afternoon of the same day, with power to distrain and enter immediately for non-payment; the said six acres are warranted to be freehold, and clear of all incumbrances, except another rent-charge of 13s. 4d. granted to Hoxne poor, to be paid at the same day and place

In 1592, John Howard of Brockdish sold to the inhabitants there, a cottage called Laune's, lying between the glebes on all parts; this hath been dilapidated many years, but the site still belongs to the parish.

In 1618, the church was wholly new paved and repaired; and in 1619, the pulpit and desk new made, new books, pulpit-cloth, altar-cloth, &c. bought.

RUSHALL,

OR REEVE'S-HALL, was in three parts ;¹ the first (which belonged to Bishop Stigand)² was seized by the Conqueror, and was afterwards granted to the BIGODS, and hath attended the manor and hundred of Earsham to this time : his Grace the Duke of Norfolk keeping lete here, is lord paramount in right of the hundred. In 1285, Roger Bigot Earl of Norfolk had free-warren allowed him here. The second was

RUSHALL MANOR,

Which before the Confessor's time belonged to BURY abbey, who infeofed Henry in it ; but at the Conquest it was given to Ralf Pevel, of whom Warincus held it, it being then of 3*l. per annum* value. The town was then half a mile long and five furlongs broad, and paid 8*d. geld*.³ The third part belonged to Stigand, of whom Brictric a Dane held it : the Conqueror gave it to Robert Fitz-Corban, of whom Gunfrid held it at the survey ;⁴ this was afterwards divided into many parts, and constituted the manors called Vauce's, Sturmer's, Branche's, St. Faith's, and LANGLEY, or the RECTORY manor.

RUSHALL-HALL, OR THE CAPITAL MANOR,

Was held of the honour of *Pevel*⁵ at one fee, by Warincus, whose successour, Alan, assumed the name of Riveshale, or Rushale, from this his lordship; his son, Miles de Riveshale, lord here, gave in free alms to the monks at Norwich,⁶ 10 acres of land,⁷ and a ploughed field, which were appropriated to the office of sacrist in that church: he was succeeded by Sir Hen. de Riveshale, Knt. and he by a son of his own name, a knight also, who had two wives, the first was Helen, daughter and coheir of William son of Walter de Hepworth, with whom he had a part of Hepworth manor in Suffolk; and after her death, he married Amy, who in 1284 was his widow, and had her dower, viz. the third part of the manor. In 1263, he obtained a charter of free-warren for this manor, and that of Semere in Suffolk, of King Henry III. John de Riveshale, Knt. his son and heir, about 1285, married Winesia, daughter of Ralf son of William de Pevense, who was a widow, and lady here and at Hepworth. In 1290, their son and heir, John de Riveshale, was in custody of the Abbot of Bury, of whom this manor was said to be originally held, the Pevels holding it of the ABBOT. He was lord here in 1315, and sealed with his arms on a shield, and his name round it, viz. a cross and label of five.⁸ He left Winesia his daughter his sole heiress, who held it at one fee in 1345; and by her marriage with Sir Oliver Withe, carried it out of the Riveshall family, which continued here some time after this, for Ric. de Riveshall, her uncle, in 1338, married Maud, daughter and heiress of Ric. Buishe, and left issue; and William de Riveshall, her other uncle, left issue also, Alice, a daughter and heiress, to whom Henry de Riveshall was guardian and heir.

Sir Oliver Withe being thus possessed of this, purchased the other manors of Fauce's, Branche's, and Sturmyn's,⁹ in this town and Pulham, and joined them to Rushall-hall; the demans of them being excepted, having passed separate to this day: the demans of Branche's in Rushall making one farm, and those in Pulham another; both which are now known by their ancient names.

From the WYTHES they came to the Carbonels; Sir Robert Carbonel being the first lord of that family, whose son Sir John Carbonel, Knt. and Margery his wife, possessed them in 1421; and in 1425, Sir John Heveningham, senior, Knt. owned them, and settled them on Sir John Heveningham, Knt. his son and heir. It after passed through the Grooses, and Calthorps; and in 1565, Thomas Beaumont and Thomas Gooch, sold the manors of Rushall-hall, Fauce's or Vauce's, Sturmyn's and Branche's, in Rusall, Pulham, Dickleburgh, Harleston, Redenhall, and Diss, to Thomas Crane and his heirs. In 1571,

⁹ They took their several names from their owners. In 1272, Will. de VAUX held a quarter of a fee here, of Robert de Tateshale; this was Vauce's manor. In 1364, William Bernak had it. In 1398, Gilbert Talbot. In 1401, John Brusyerd. In 1470, John Branche was lord of Branche's manor, and that family continued long here, after they parted from the manor.

Anthony Tebold had it: it afterwards was purchased by the Pettus family, and hath continued in it some time, Sir Horace Pettus, Bart. of Rackhithe being the present owner, but holds no court, the whole being either purchased in, or manumised, and the demesns are about 50*l. per annum.*

THE PRIORY

Is a farm-house, owned by the Ballards of Metingham; it is so called as belonging anciently to the priory of Bukenham, to which it was given by Richard son of Robert de Sengles, with his whole tenement in Rusall, and Lincroft a hamlet thereto; as may be seen in vol. i. p. 385, 9; Sir Henry de Riveshale and Sir John his son, Knts. being witnesses to the gift. In 1401, the Prior of Bukenham held it at the 4th part of a fee, of the heirs of Robert Fitz-Roger, and he of the King; and was taxed for his temporals at 3*l. 2s.* In 1402, he held it of the manor of Horsford, then belonging to Henry Lord Dacres;† at the Dissolution it went to the Crown, and was granted by Philip and Mary, to Thomas, son and heir of Thomas Gawdye, and was held by Anthony Gawdye and Anne his wife, who conveyed it to Sir Bassingbourn Gawdye, Knt.

THE RECTORY, OR LANGLEY MANOR,

Consisted of two parts, the first was the manor originally belonging to the rectory, before its appropriation; the other was a manor owned by Wulward Betekarl, and after by Warner, and then by Eustace de Ho his heir, whose daughter Imbria, before 1195, was married to Baldwin de Bures, the then lord: this was after given to the Abbot of Langley, and joined to the impropriation; but now, the whole hath been long since manumised, and no court kept for these manors. The Abbot held it at half a fee of Robert Fitz-Roger, as of Horseford, and so of Eye honour, and was taxed for his temporals at 3*l. 6s.* This was given in divers parcels to this abbey. In 1202, Roesia, daughter of Reginald de Riveshale, gave to Gilbert Abbot of Langley, many lands and rents in this parish. In 1223, Agatha, widow of Miles de Riveshale, settled 40 acres and rents, on Hugh Abbot of Langley. In 1246, Stephen de Brokedish settled lands here, on Abbot Hugh; and in 1427, the Abbot of Langley was prosecuted for purchasing and holding 200 acres of land in Rushall of lay-fee; but upon proving that all his lay-fees here, were joined to his spiritual impropriate rectory, and taxed with it as spirituals, and that he was cessed for it with the clergy, he was acquitted.

The Prior of St. FAITH at HORSHAM had a quarter of a fee of the founder's gift in this parish: in 1272, it was returned as held of that house by Robert Fitz-Roger, as of Eye honour; it was afterwards found to be held of the Lord Dacres, as of his manor of Horseford; was first taxed at 30*s.* after as spirituals at 40*s.* and so paid 4*s.* tenths; all the tithes belonging to it being paid to St. Faith's, and not to the rector or vicar. This house was taxed at 25s. 5d. for their temporals in Rushall; being vested in the Crown, King Henry VIII. in the 36th year of his reign, granted all the lands, rents, and possessions, belonging to the priory of Horsham, late in the tenure of Catherine Branche, to John Carryll and his heirs.

The RECTORY was given to the abbey of Langley in Norfolk, and was appropriated to that house; Will. the priest being the only rector of it that I have found mentioned. In the old taxation, the Abbot of Langley was taxed for his manor and lands at 6 marks; the rectory was valued at 15, and in the new valuation at 26 marks; there was a house, manor, and carucate of land before the impropriation; the vicarage endowed was valued at five marks, but was not taxed; it paid 2s. synodals, and 12d. Peter-pence, and the vill paid 40s. a year clear to each tenth. The vicarage is discharged of first-fruits and tenths, and is capable of augmentation; it stands thus in the King's Books, 4l. RUSHALL vicarage. - - - 30l. clear yearly value.

In 1548, King Edw. VI. granted to John Pykarel and John Barnard, the tithes, glebes, &c. with the appurtenances of RUSHALL rectory, late parcel of Langley monastery, paying 20s. per annum to the vicar, and 7s. per annum for procurations to the Archdeacon of Norfolk: in Queen Elizabeth's time, a confirmation of it passed to the Cleres, and in 1603, Sir Edward presented to the vicarage, as an appurtenant to the rectory; it was afterwards conveyed to Tho. Sherwood, who in James the First's time sold about 70 acres with the parsonage-house, to one Ket, but excepted the tithes, &c. and fixed 6s. 8d. per annum to the vicar for his dividend of the 20s. a year; it belonged after that, to the Redes, and then to William Long, in right of his wife; and he sold it to the Bransbys, and being sold by Mr. James Bransby of Shotesham, to IMMANUEL college in Cambridge, they are now rented of that society at 85l. 10s. per annum. The small tithes belong to the vicar.

The advowson of the vicarage now belongs to Immanuel college, as appendant to the impropriate rectory.

The CHURCH is dedicated to the Virgin Mary, hath a steeple round at bottom and octangular at top, and only one bell, two being lately sold, with the lead that covered the church, towards repairing it; so that the nave, chancel, and south porch, are tiled. There was a small chapel on the north side of the nave, which is now demolished; in which there was an altar, image, and gild, held; all in the honour of the Holy Trinity; to sustain which, there was a close given at Bonwell-Croft.³ Grimes Meadow was given in 1473, by John Braunch, to find a light always burning before the image of the VIRGIN in the chancel, where he is buried; his stone lies in the middle of it, but hath lost an effigies in armour standing on a lion, and four shields; Marion his wife, and Richard and John his sons, had good estates in the town.

There are no copyholds but such as are held of the manors that are in other places and extend hither, as Semere's in Mendham, Gunshaw's in Starston, Mancker's in Dickleburgh, &c.

OR STERES-TOWN, was anciently in many parts; the head manor belonged to Bury abbey,⁴ and was infeoffed by Baldwyne, abbot there,⁵ in ROGER BIGOT; who obtained of the King, a freeman and his services here, which belonged to St. Audry's monastery at ELY;⁶ and another part which was Stigand's, he had, as belonging to his manor of Earsham: all which he left to his successours, and they continued in his family, till one of them granted off 2 fees, which made 2 manors, to be held of the manor of Formcet, and reserved the superiour jurisdiction, lete, and advowson, with liberty of warren, &c. to his heirs; all which have passed, and now continue (except the advowson) with the manor and hundred of Earsham, in the Duke of Norfolk, lord thereof; the chief part of the town being free suitors to the hundred-court at Harleston.⁷ The town at the Conqueror's survey was a mile and five furlongs long, and five furlongs broad, and paid 13*d.* geld.

STARSTON-HALL MANOR,

Being granted from the BIGODS to be held of Forncet at one fee, was owned by Bartholomew Evereus, or Devereux, lord also of Hardwick;⁸ and after by Roger Devereux, and in 1308, by Ralf Devereux and Dionise his wife; and was soon after sold to James Herwardstoke, and Jeffery de Waterbeche, son of Sir Jeffery de Stoke, Knt. in 1332, released it to Sir John de Herwardestok, rector of Pulham, who in 1341 confirmed it to John de Herwardestoke, his brother, citizen of London, who sealed with gnl. an eagle displayed or, on his shield, and his name round it; he sold it to Robert de Bumpstede, citizen of Norwich, and Robert and Thomas his sons; and they to William and Roger Pycot, Stephen Horn, vicar of Ilketshall St. Andrew, and Richard Dantris, feoffees to Roger Pycot, whose son, Sir Barth. Pycot, Knt. was lord in 1373; in 1387, Richard Picot sold it to Ric. le Haukere and John Caryolf of Redenhall, who reconveyed it, in 1395, to the said Ric. Picot of Starston, John Caltoft, and Robert Rous of Dynington, his feoffees; and in 1406, it was vested in Sir Rob. Berney, Knt. and others, conditionally, that if Anne wife of Richard Picot should claim any dower out of Blickling manor, that then the feoffees should enter upon this. Cotton* by Audry, daughter and heiress of John Cotton, second brother to Sir Rob. Cotton of Lanwade in Cambridgeshire, Knt. BECKHALL MANOR

Is so called from the site of it, (long since demolished,) being near the beck or rivulet that runs through this village. It was very anciently in William de Bozile's hands, who held it at one fee of Forncet manor. In 1296, William de Ingham had it; in 1306, Eliz. de Ingham; in 1309, John de Ingham died lord, and Oliver de Ingham, his son, succeeded; in 1330, being then a knight, he settled it on John de Ingham, his son, and Katherine his wife, and their heirs, reserving five marks per annum for life; in 1342, Sir Oliver was returned lord, and in 1358, Isabel de Ingham was lady; and it passed with Ingham in Norfolk to the Stapletons, and was settled by Sir Miles Stapleton, Knt. and Dame Joan his wife, on John his son, and Isolda his wife, and their heirs; in 1418, Sir Miles Stapleton, Knt. was lord, and Sir Brian his son and heir was 40 years old; he died seized in 1438, leaving it to Sir Miles

Calthorp*, and after of Sir John Fortescue, Lord Chief Justice, and lastly of Sir Edward Howard, (while Fortescue's widow,) settled it on the heirs of her body, and so it came to the Calthorps, and afterwards to the Gawdies, and was joined by the Coltons to Bresingham's manor.

BOUTON'S, OR BOLTON'S MANOR,

Passed in a great measure like the manor of the same name in Hardwick, which see at p. 220. In 1285, William le Claver and *Katherine*³ his wife had it; in 1318, William his son and heir, whose daughter and heiress, Maud, married to Walter de Burwood, whose widow she was in 1362. It was sold by Will. Gresham, Esq. to Peter Gleane of Norwich, at which time it had no house, but several copyhold tenants belonging to it.

GUNSHAW'S MANOR IN STARSTON, NEDHAM, &c.

Was anciently held by William de Arches of John de Mendham, at half a fee; it formerly belonged to the Hoylocks, and was purchased of the Wisemans about Charles the First's time, by one Mr. Stiles of Codenham, whose wife married a second husband, and held it for life.

It hath a farm-house and about 50*l.* per annum besides the royalty and many copyhold tenants. It is now owned by Mr. Nun of Southwold in Suffolk.

The CHURCH is dedicated to St. MARGARET; the rector hath a good house and about 43 acres of glebe; there are no customs, all tithes being due in their proper kind. It is undischarged of tenths and first-fruits, and stands thus in the King's Books,

ALDEBURGH,

COMMONLY called ARBOROUGH; ⁴ its name signifies the old burgh, it is often written in evidences Akenberwe, or the Burgh of Oaks.

There are three manors; the superiour manor and jurisdiction, with the lete and advowson, belonged to Bishop Stigand, after to Ralf Earl of Norfolk, who forfeited it by his rebellion to the Conqueror, and he assigned it to the care of Will. de Noiers. The town was then a mile long, and five furlongs broad, and paid 10*d.* to the geld.⁵ It was after granted to the Bigods Earls of Norfolk, with Earsham, and hath passed always with it to this day; his Grace the Duke of Norfolk being now lord.

In 1285, Roger Bigod claimed free-warren here, and a prison for his tenants.

The second is

HOLEBROOK, OR ALBURGH-HALL,

Which was in two parts; ALFRIC held one as a berewic to Tibenham, in the Confessor's time; and MORVAN after him;⁶ and a freeman of St. Audry of ELY held the other, which Herfrind had afterwards, and his successor Eudo son of Spirwin had the whole of the Conqueror's gift.⁷ It came afterwards to Nicholas de Lenham, who occurs

Friend ! I am gone, and you must follow
Perhaps, to Day, perhaps, to Morrow,
Your Time is short, improve it well,
Prepare for Heaven, and think on Hell.

Here is an estate belonging to the Boys-Hospital in Norwich, (see vol. iv. p. 412.)

There are four town-houses, two commons, containing about 100 acres, on which, Wortwell and Alburgh intercommon.

There is also an estate of 57*l. per annum* given by Richard Wright of this parish, appropriated to the church and poor, by a decree in chancery made A^o 14 Jac. I.

The description of the penance of Thomas Pye, and John Mendham, in 1428, may be read in Master Fox's Acts and Monuments, at fo. 563.

HARLESTON,

ANCIENTLY called HEROLF'STON and Herolveston, from HEROLF, one of the Danish leaders that came with Swain King of Denmark, into these parts, about the year 1010, in order to subdue the East-Angles, and bring them under their power ; which they did so effectually, as to seize their possessions : and most likely it is, that HEROLF settled here, and gave name to the place,¹ which is, and always was, of small extent ; for it never contained more than 25 acres of land in its bounds, which at the Conqueror's survey, was divided (as it now continues) into two parts ; 13 acres of it held by FRODO,² being added to Mendham, to which it now belongs, as the other 12 acres do to the hundred of Earsham, on which the chapel and the town now stand, being the middle-row only: the rest, (though commonly called HARLESTON) being in the parish of REDENHALL, to which parish this is a chapel of ease,³ and hamlet.

The manor always attended the hundred of Earsham, and still continues with it, in the Norfolk family; and the houses are all copyhold, except those called the Stone-Houses, which are free. On this spot of ground formerly stood HEROLF's stone, or cross, (as I take it,) where RICHARD DE HEROLVESTON, about 1109, settled, and took his surname from hence; from whom descended the famous Sir JOHN HEROLVESTON, so often mentioned in our English chronicles for his valiant prowess in martial exploits, and particularly for being a great instrument in quelling the grand rebellion in these counties in Richard the Second's time;⁴ of whom much may be seen in Froissart,⁵ Hollingshed,⁶ and Stow's Chronicles;⁷ from him descended the family of the HARLESTONS, of good account in both counties:⁸ they had estates in Shimpling in Suffolk, settled at Norwich, and afterwards at Mateshall in Norfolk; and Archbishop Parker married one of them, as at vol. iii. p. 306, 13, 14.

This town hath a weekly market on Wednesday;⁹ and two fairs in a year; one is held on Midsummer day, being the nativity of St. JOHN the Baptist, to whom the chapel is dedicated; so that this is the feast, wake, or dedication day; and the other was granted by King Henry III. in the year 1259, to Roger le Bigod Earl of Norfolk, and Marshal of England, to last eight days, namely, the vigil, and day of the decollation of St. JOHN the Baptist,¹ and six days after:² and the said Earl had a hundred court held here every three weeks, and the toll of the market and fairs, assise of bread and ale, free-warren and weyf. In 1570, there was a rebellion intended to have begun here, as you may see in vol. i. p. 344, pedigree; and vol. iii. p. 281.

The CHAPEL of St. John the Baptist, was a free chapel, founded in all probability by Sir John de Heroljston, for his own use; it never had any institution, but was always dependent upon its mother-church at Redenhall; the rector of which, serves here one part of the day every Sunday; it hath administration of both sacraments belonging to it, but not burial; the street surrounds it, so that there is no convenience for that purpose: at the east end is the market-cross, which with the chapel, was rebuilt about 1726:³ it is tiled, hath one bell, and a good clock in a sort of a cupola, for there is no tower. In 1688, being almost useless and deserted for want of fit endowment, that pious and charitable prelate, William Sandcroft Archbishop of Canterbury settled on the MASTER, fellows, and scholars of Emanuel College in Cambridge, 5*l.* per annum, payable quarterly out of the hereditary revenues of the excise; in trust and special confidence, that they will receive it, and constantly nominate a chaplain and schoolmaster, and pay it so received to him;

“ Upon condition, and so long as he the said chaplain and chaplains, “ or schoolmaster and schoolmasters, for the time being, shall perform “ and celebrate publickly in the said chapel at HARLESTON aforesaid, “ the daily office of divine service, morning and evening, on every “ day of the week throughout the year, (except only the LORD’S “ days, when the inhabitants of Harleston are bound to repair to the “ mother-church of Redenhall aforesaid,) according to the Liturgy of “ the Church of ENGLAND by law established; and also, to hold and “ keep a publick school there, for the education of youth, in some “ convenient place near the said chapel, which the inhabitants of “ Harleston aforesaid, in consideration of the great benefit which by “ this donation may accrue to them and their children, are desired “ from time to time to provide:⁴ and particularly besides the common “ grounds of learning, shall teach and instruct all his scholars in that “ excellent Catechism of the church of England, and cause them to “ get the same perfectly by heart, together with the Nicene and “ Athanasian Creeds; the Te Deum, and such other prayers, psalms, “ and hymns, as are contained in the Primmer and Common-Prayer “ Book, and are fit for every good Christian to learn and use; and “ also to take care, that all the scholars whom he shall undertake to “ teach, be constantly present with himself, at the prayers of the “ church, whenever they shall be publickly performed in the said “ chapel, and behave themselves soberly and piously there, and be “ taught to use such gestures, and make such answers as the church “ prescribes.”⁵ The master and fellows under their college seal, are for ever to nominate some able and competent person in holy orders, to be licensed by the Bishop to read prayers and teach school here.

The Rev. Mr. Smith, rector of Homersfield, the present chaplain and schoolmaster, was nominated by the master and fellows, receives the annual salary, and keeps school in a house provided for that purpose by the inhabitants.

Other Benefactions here are,

A rent charge of 40*s.* per annum, payable out of the profits of the bullock-fair held here, and the annual interest of 200*l.* given by Mr.

³ Being a free-chapel, it was dissolved by the statute of Edw. VI. and became afterwards vested in the inhabitants, and was by them settled on seoffees to their use: in 1726, it was repaired at the expense of 1100*l.* as I am informed, 700 of which were raised in the parish by contribution only, and the rest by the neighbouring gentlemen; part of it was formerly made a market-cross and chambers over it, but the whole is now laid into the chapel as at first, and a cross built at its east end.

⁴ 1433, the Bishop collated Mr. William Kyng, priest, to the grammar-school in this place.

⁵ From the deed of settlement.

COLLATED BY THE BISHOP.

Jeffery de Stoctone, resigned in 1326.†

William King of Repham, priest; he resigned to John de Wullertone, and he in 1337, to Master Tho. Hiltoft, who resigned in 1338, to William de Hiltoft, and he in 1339, to John Tamworth.

1392, John Budham, clerk, and from this time to 1501, I have not their succession, but then

John Hole had it, who was succeeded by Robert Hendry, who married, and was for that reason deprived in 1524, and

Edward Calthorp had it; in 1534, the Bishop collated

Francis Pandyn, his servant, to hold it, and exercise his office, by his sufficient deputy.

1264, Sir Ric. de Argentein.

1300, William de la Doune. MARGARET, relict of Sir Hugh de Branteston, Knt.

1309, Robert de Ponterell. WILLIAM DE BERGIS, Knt. lord of Redenhale.

1311, Will. de Dyntynshall, priest, Ditto.

1311, William de Neuport, priest, was presented by THOMAS DE BROTHERTON Earl of Norfolk. He lies buried in the chancel under a stone robbed of an effigies in brass in his proper habit; the brasses of the circumscription are picked out, but the remaining impression shows that they were ancient capitals; much may be read now, from which, and a copy taken long since, I have made out this:

In 1326, he resigned this rectory in exchange for Framlingham-Castle, with

Will de Shotesham. THOMAS DE BROTHERTON, &c.

1338, Reginald de Donyngton, priest. The KING, in right of the lands of Tho. de Brotherton Earl of Norfolk, now in his hands, by his death, they being held in capite of the Crown.

This advowson fell to the share of Margaret, one of the daughters and heiresses of Thomas de Brotherton Earl of Norfolk, and was settled by the King's license and the Pope's bull, on the prioress and nuns at Bungeye, and was afterwards confirmed by Alice her sister, and Sir Edw. de Montacute, or Montague, her husband;⁶ and in 1349, it was appropriated by the Bishop, to pay 10s. to each nun, towards finding her clothes.⁷ The Bishop had a pension of 3 marks and a half, and the new erected vicarage was taxed at 13 marks. The Bishop of Norwich and his successors for ever, were to nominate a vicar every vacancy and the prioress was obliged to present him. The rectory-house, which was very large, and moated in, with a great portal at the entrance, was then parted, and the south half assigned to the vicar, who was to have the manor and rents of assise, 4 acres by the house, and 30 acres of the demans of the church; being all that, on the south side of the beck; and also to have right of commonage on all the commons in Redenhall, with the alterage, &c. and a vicar was nominated by the Bishop.

VICARS,

NOMINATED BY THE BISHOPS, AND PRESENTED BY THE PRIORESSES.

1375, John de Sloleye.

1378, Adam Makel.

1389, John Clerk of Gresseuhall.

1402, Sir Oliver Shelton, deacon.

1408, Tho. Bolton. In 1409, he changed for Hardwick in Cambridgeshire, with

Mr. Edm. Beylham.

1410, Mr. John de Aylesham, A. M.; he changed for Couteshall in 1420, with John de Frydecock; he was succeeded by John Swarby, who resigned in 1429, to Mr. Roger Blakenham, alias Brightmey, S. T. P.

1430, Master Tho. Ingham, S. T. B. In 1441, at the complaint of this vicar, the church was disappropriated, and became a RECTORY again, on condition, that the rector should pay a yearly pension of 40s. to the Prioress;⁸ which is still paid to the Duke of Norfolk, in right of Bungeye priory, by the rector;⁹ and that the Bishop should for ever nominate to the Prioress, and if she did not immediately pre-

RECTORS OF REDENHALL,

NOMINATED BY THE BISHOPS, AND PRESENTED BY THE PRIORESSES AND THE NORFOLK FAMILY, WHO HAD THAT PRIORY AND ITS REVENUES, BY GRANT FROM THE KING AT ITS DISSOLUTION.

1441, Thomas de Ingham, S. T. B. changed it for Toft's rectory in Cambridgeshire, with

Nicholas Stanton, LL. B.; he exchanged this for Blickling in 1462, with

Tho. Beccles, A. M. In

1500, Ric. Stokes,² bachelor in decrees, had it; he resigned in 1518, to Mr. Ric. Shelton, who was the last presented by the Prioress; he was succeeded by

Miles Spencer, LL. D. (see vol. i. p. 366, and vol. iii. p. 633,) who resigned in 1548, to Sir Ric. Wheatly chaplain to the Bishop, who was nominated by Sir JOHN GODSALVE, Knt. to whom the Bishop had granted the nomination of this turn; he was deprived of this and Alburgh, by Queen Mary, for being a married man, and no favourer of the mass; and the Duke of Norfolk presented

John Whitby, S. T. B. but he not being nominated to the Duke by the Bishop, his presentation was void, and the Bishop nominated

John Salisbury, dean of Norwich, &c. (for whom see vol. iii. p. 617,) he resigned in 1555, and the Duke, at the Bishop's nomination, presented his suffragan bishop,

Thomas,³ who resigned in 1557, to Ric. Blanch, A. M.

1563, Thomas Lancaster, A. M.; he died, and in 1584, Arthur Purefaye, Gent. assignee of Edmund Freke, late Bishop of Norwich, who granted off the turn to

Will. Mapliden, S. T. B. Archdeacon of Suffolk; nominated

John Hutchinson, S. T. B. to Philip Earl of Arundel, who presented him.

1594, Edward Yardley.

1597, Ric. Moorre, M. B. and S. T. B. was nominated by the Bishop to the Queen; he held it united to Alburgh, and returned answer that there were 600 communicants in this parish. In 1628, upon the consecration of Bishop White, Archbishop Abbot chose the next nomination for his option; and in 1629, Peter de Læwne, S. T. P.² was nominated in that right.

1636, Henry Bridon, succeeded by

1642, Henry Mingay, A. M.; he died rector.

Ric. Fiddes, D. D. was presented by Lord FREDERICK HOWARD, younger son of Henry late Duke of Norfolk; but the Bishop voided it, as not being at his nomination, and then he nominated

William Tanner, A. M.,⁷ to the said Lord, and he held it with Topcroft to his death, when

Matthew Postlethwait succeeded him. (See vol. iii. p. 641.) At whose death, in 1745, Dec. 26, the Rev. Mr. John Nicolls, the present rector, was nominated by the Bishop to Francis Loggan, Gent. who presented him. He is resident chaplain to the merchants at Oporto in Portugal.

201. REDENHALL rectory. Yearly tenths 21.

So that being not discharged of first fruits and tenths, it is incapable of augmentation. It was valued in the old taxation at 35 marks; NORWICH Domesday says, that the Archdeacon (Jakendensis) was patron; that the rector had a house and carucate of land, that it was after valued at 40 marks, and paid 12*d. ob.* Peter-pence, 2*s.* synodals, 5*s.* Bishop's procurations, and 7*s. 7d. ob.* Archdeacon's procurations. The religious concerned here, were, the Prioress of Carroze, whose temporals were taxed at 6*s. 8d.* the Prior of Mendham at 36*s. 9d. ob.* the Prior of Weybrede for meadows at 23*s. 6d.* the Abbot of Langley at 8*s. 6d.* In 1290, Roger de Bois, Knt. and others, aliened divers tenements in Harleston, to the Abbess of Brusgerd. Hamon de Peccatum, or Pecche,⁸ gave 10*s.* yearly in rents in Herolfstone to Bury abbey; Geffry Pecche 20*s.* and Gilbert Pecche other rents. In 1307, Stephen de Brockdish and Reginald his son, held 8 acres of the Prior of the Holy Trinity at Ipswich, by 6*d. per annum* rent. In 1336, the rector took toll of all that passed through part of his church-yard.⁹ This town paid clear to every tenth, 11*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.*

The CHURCH is dedicated in honour of the Assumption of the blessed Virgin MARY, and is a good regular building; having its north porch, nave, and two isles, leaded, and chancel tiled. It was rebuilt of freestone, by Thomas of Brotherton Earl of Norfolk; and the chancel by Will. Newport, rector: but the noble square tower which is very large and lofty, is of a much later foundation, it being a long time from its beginning to its finishing; it hath neat battlements, and four freestone spires on its top, and is the finest tower of any country parish church in the whole county. It was begun about 1460, and was carried on as the legacies and benefactions came in. John de la Pole, lord of Wingfield Castle, who was buried at Wingfield in 1491, was a principal benefactor. Joan Bunning gave 3*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* in 1469.

⁵ See vol. iv. p. 552.

⁶ Henry late Duke of Norfolk, by the name of Henry Lord Howard, Baron of Castle-Rising, by deed dated 4 Sept. 1672, granted to Ric. Slowe, Gent. the next turn of this rectory; and in 1685, Margaret his widow assigned it to Charles Mawson, Gent. and he the same year to Francis Jessop, who 22 Nov. 1690, presented Edward Mansell, who being not nominated by the Bishop, the presentation was voided, and this Bishop collated by lapse.

In 1492, Thomas Bacon gave a legacy; in 1511, John Bacon; and it was finished about 1520, by Master Ric. Shelton, then rector; and on the south-east spire, there is an escallop shel and a tun, carved on the stone, as a rebus or device for his name; Sir John Shelton, Knt. was also a contributor to the work. In 1616, it was split from top to bottom by a tempest,¹ so as to be obliged to be anchored up as it now remains; though it was done so effectually, that it is scarce any damage to its beauty or strength: there was this carved on the north-west spire,

This Spire was demolished in the Year 1680, and rebuilt in the Year 1681, by Hen. Fenn and John Dove, Church-Wardens, John Fenton and Edmund Knights, Masons.

The arms of Brotherton and Mowbray, and the rose, the badge of Brotherton, and the leopard's face, the badge of De la Pole, are often on the stones. On the west doors are carved a hammer and horseshoe, and a shoe and pincers, as *rebus*es for the names of Smith and Hammersmith, probably the donors of them. Here are 8 melodious bells, on three of which, are these verses:

- 2d bell. Petrus ad Eterne ducat nos pasqua vite.
4. Celi Solamen nobis det Deus. Amen. 1588.
6. Stella Maria Maris succurre piissima nobis.

The church is new seated throughout, and kept as neat and decent, as I have any where seen. In the east chancel window, De la Pole quarters Wingfield in the garter. Erpingham in a garter. Brandon quartering Bourchier in a garter. In the south window gul. an eagle displayed or; and Brewse.

In 1504, Thomas Pyers of Harleston gave 20 marks to make the funte new. The roode or principal image of our SAVIOUR on the cross, which stood on the rood-loft between the chancel, was a remarkable one in those days; in 1506, Agnes Stanforth of Wortwale, hath this in her will, "Item, my marrying Ring to the Goode Rode of Redenhale."

In 1464, Ric. Totyl or Tuthill was buried in the church; and in 1469, John Baker in the nave; and Joan widow of Robert Bunning, by the north door, and was a benefactrix to the steeple, church, and Harleston chapel; to all which she left legacies.

Here lieth the Body of Mrs. PENELOPE DOYLY, Wife of the Rev. Mr. James Doyly, who died the 8th. of Oct. 1721. ² I find in the old church-wardens book, that in 1577, a bell was bought for the chapel. Mr. Bacon paid for burying his two children in the church and John Cook for burying his brother Thomas Cook 6s. 8d. each, to the church-wardens.

1588, received for Sir Thomas Gawdy's grave 6s. 8d.; the farm of the town-house of Redenhale 16s. 1594, two deeds of the house called the chapel, to be kept to the use of the town; the late chapel and cross-chambers. 1612, Mr. Holland buried in the church. 1632, Nic. 1693, a feofment made of the chapel and chambers, and town-close, which contained about three acres, and was let at 4l. per annum, said to be given by the Gawdies, the profits to be given to the poor every Christmas. The hamlet of Wortwale was answerable for a fourth part of all charges, and it inter-commons with Alburgh, and hath each a drift. But there are no commons to Redenhall. In 1641, the chancel was levelled, and the organ case pulled down. In 1644, the crosses at the end of the chapels were taken down, and the pictures in the chancel defaced. 1671, paid the ringers for ringing when the King passed by.

The church is situate near the midst of the parish, so that it might be equal to the tenants of the several manors, being equidistant also from its two principal hamlets of Harleston and Wortwale, near a mile from each.

REDENHAL takes its name from RADA the Dane, who was lord in the time of EDWARD the Confessor, and held it of EDRIC, the antecessor of Robert Malet, lord of the honour of Eye. It was then 3*l.* per annum, but rose to 8*l.* value, and was a mile and half long, and half a mile and three perches broad, and paid 10*d.* to the Dane geld. It extended into Alburgh and Starston; in the former, there were 15 freemen, and 9 in the latter, and 20 in this town; whose rents were 4*l.* per annum, but they were after separated from this manor, and added to Earl RALF's hundred of Earsham: Ivo Tallebois, after the Earl's forfeiture, got them for some time; but being restored, they have continued ever since with the hundred.³ Bishop William claimed 20 acres as held of him by a freeman; and Agneli held 80 acres: a freeman of Edric's had a part of the town, which the fulconer to the Earl afterwards held, and his manor called HAWKER'S,⁴ was free from all services to the capital hall or manor, and afterwards held of the King under Godric: as for the freemen and superiour jurisdiction of the whole town, they all belonged to Bishop Stigaud, by him were forfeited to the King, who committed the care of them to William de Noiers, and they have ever since passed with the hundred.

There are now only two lords here; Redenhall cum Harleston, the lete, hundred court, market, fairs, tolls, free-warren, and all superiour jurisdiction of the whole town, belong to his Grace the Duke of Norfolk, and have passed with the Earls and Dukes of Norfolk, along with Fornet manor; to which I refer you.

The other manors are now joined and belong to JOHN WOGAN of Gawdy-hall, Esq. viz. the manors of Redenhall, Coldham-hall, Holbrook-hall, Merks, and Hawkers.

They were all in the BYGONS as one manor, and by them parted and sold to different persons.

REDENHALL MANOR,

And half the advowson, was owned by Henry de Agneux, or Anews; and half by Richard de Argentine in Henry the Second's time.

This Henry was son of Walter, son of that AGNELI, who held 80 acres here at the Conqueror's survey; in 1196, being a rebel to King Richard I. that King seized all his lands, and granted them for 200 marks, to Ralf de Lenham, saving to Mabel de Agnis, her dower, and to Peter de Leonibus his goods, and corn sown on the land; and in 1199, Walter himself confirmed the grant. In 1200, Roger de Lenham owned one moiety, and Henry de Agnells, son of Walter, settled it on him by fine; in 1211, Petronel his widow, settled it for her life, on Roger Butvant; at her death, Roger de Lenham her son had it, whose widow Joan, in 1225, had her dower assigned, and remarried to Reginald de Argentine. In 1247, Sir Nic. de Lenham was lord, and in 1256, had a charter for free-warren here, and at Terling in Essex; upon which, Roger le Bigot Earl of Norfolk, lord of the hundred, and superior lord of the fee of the whole town, sued him, and seized on this manor, because he had leased it for 16 years to the Queen, whose attorneys the Earl ejected. The manor being held of him by 5*l.* yearly rent, and other services; and though the lease was made to the Queen, it was in effect the same, as if it had been to the King; so that no distress could be taken, but upon the King's granting him letters patent, that the lease should not be to the disherison of him or his heirs, but that he might distrain for the rents and services, the Earl confirmed it. In 1257, this Nicholas, and Isolda de Lenham his wife, sold all his possessions here to Peter de Subaudia or Savoy, who the same year settled them on Ingram de Feynes and Isabel his wife, with nine score pounds per annum in Netlested, Kettleburgh, &c. and in 1258, they reconveyed them to Peter, with 250 marks, land, and the advowson of Geyton, Thorp, &c.

In 1261, Henry III. says, that his beloved uncle, Master Peter de Savoy, surrendered into his hands, to the use of Prince Edward his eldest son, the manors of Redenhall, Wisete, Kettleburgh, Nettlestede, and Wyke, by Ipswich in Suffolk; with the fees of 4*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* rent in Ipswich, and the King confirmed them to the Prince and his heirs, and so to the Kings of England for ever; but the Prince granted it with his father's consent, to Nic. de Yatingdon, and Alice de Bathonin his wife, and their heirs, to be held by the service of two fees. Bartholomew de Yatingdon, his brother, inherited, who in 1280, settled his moiety on Master Henry de Branteston and Beatrice his wife, with remainder to Hugh de Branteston and Margaret his wife, and their heirs; and in 1284, John de Agneus sued them as heir of that family, but did not recover it.

The other moiety continued in the Argentein family, though in 1206, William de Curem gave 20 marks to King John to have it: in 1281, Giles de Argentein held here and in Thirning, four fees of Richmond honour; his grandfather Richard having married Joan, widow of Roger de Lenham; and this Giles conveyed it to Master Henry de Branteston, who had the whole manor and moiety of the advowson, and this part was held of the honour of Richmond.⁵ In 1298, Hugh de Branteston, brother of Henry, died seized, and left it to Margaret, daughter and heiress of Bartholomew de Yatingdon, his widow, who held one moiety of the Earl of Norfolk, and the other of the Earl of Richmond; and in 1300, Henry de Branteston and Margery his wife had it, who was a widow this year. Osbert de Clinton, lord here in 1317, and Joan his wife, conveyed it from Joan and her heirs, (who I suppose was a Branteston,) to Thomas de Brotherton Earl of Norfolk, Marshal of England, and his heirs; who in 1325, jointly with Alice his wife, settled it on Will. de Newport, rector here, and Richard de Bursted, rector of Stonham, as trustees for the heirs of Alice; and Alice, one of her daughters and coheirs, married to Sir Edw. de Montacute, or Montague, who owned it in 1344, and mortgaged it to John de Coloigne and Thomas de Holbeck, merchants of London, by the King's patent and license; and in 1360, Edward son of Edward Montague, and Alice his wife, one of the daughters and heiresses of Thomas de Brotherton Earl of Norfolk, held it; and Etheldred his sister was found his heir by one inquisition, and Joan the wife of William de Ujford Earl of Suffolk, daughter and one of the heiresses of the said Edward and Alice, by another; but she did not inherit it; for in 1365, at the death of Edward, son and heir of Edward Montague, Etheldred his sister had it; and in 1390, she was married to Hugh de Stranley, Knt. and John was their son and heir: the capital messuage or hall, had 584 acres of land, 8 acres of meadow, 8 of pasture, 62 acres of wood and a water-mill belonging to it; and in 1414, Sir John son of Sir Hugh was lord; it after belonged to William de la Pole Earl of Suffolk, and lord of Wingfield eastle, and in 1485, Will. Catesbie owned it, who was attainted in 1 H. VII. and that King granted it to Sir William Norreys, Knt. and his heirs male. In 1558, it was granted to Tipper and Dawe, and soon after belonged to the Gawdies, and so it came joined to

Hon. Richmond. fo. 45. The BRANTESTONS had manors in Warwickshire Leicestershire, and Berkshire.

THE MANOR OF HOLEBROOK, OR GAWDY-HALL,

WHICH was held of the honour of Richmond at half a fee; this anciently belonged to the Turbeviles of Devonshire, and Henry de Turbevile was lord in 1223; it took its name from the situation of the manor-house, being in a hole by the brook side; the hills adjoining still retain the name of Holebrook-Hills, and are on the left hand of the road leading from Harleston to Yarmouth, near to Wortwale dove, but this was pulled down by the Gawdies, when the house called Gawdy-hall was built, in which John Wogan, Esq. the present lord, now dwells.

In 1226, Ralf, and in 1230, Walter de Turbevile were lords; this Walter served King Henry III. with three knights, for one whole year, to Poictou, to be released of 150 marks due to that King. In 1259, Roger de Thirkelby, one of the justices itinerants, lords here, was dead, and left Simon Abbot of Langley, and Hugh Bigod, his executors; and this manor, and houses in Castre in Norfolk, to Walter de Thirkelby, his brother and heir. In 1313, Robert Tende vile of Harleston, and Julian his wife, seem to have it; and probably it continued in this family a whole century, for in 1414, Richard Tyndale of Dean in Northamptonshire, son and heir of John Tyndale, owned it;⁶ and William was his brother and heir; which Will. in 1420, settled it in trust on Henry Bishop of Winchester, Sir Lewes Robesart, and others; and it continued in the family till 1542, and then Tho. Tyndale and Osbert Mundeford, Esqrs. conveyed it to Robert Bacon of Specteshall, Esq.⁷ and in 1551, the title was completed: in 1570, his son and heir, Edward Bacon, Esq. had it, and sold it to Thomas Gawdy, Esq. and so it became joined to

THE MANOR OF COLDHAM-HALL,

WHICH was held of the Earls of Norfolk, and to which the moiety of the advowson belonged, till sold from it. In 1239, Warine de Redenhall, lord of it, impleaded ROGER BIGOT Earl of Norfolk, to permit him to enjoy certain liberties belonging to this manor, which he held of him. In 1303, Simon de Coldham of Redenhall, and Emma his wife, (from whom it took its present name,) sold the moiety of the advowson which belonged to it, and the manor (except an hundred shillings, land, and some rents, afterwards called Merks manor,) to Sir William de Burgis, Knt. and his heirs; and in 1309, the said William, and Master Thomas de Burgis, sold the moiety of the advowson to Thomas de Brotherton Earl of Norfolk, (patron of the other moiety,) and the manor to John de Riveshale, or Rushall, and his heirs. It afterwards belonged to the De la Poles, and continued in the Earls of Suffolk, till the attainder of Charles Duke of Suffolk; and in 1551, was granted by Philip and Mary, to Edward Lord North; and afterwards it was purchased by the Gawdies.

In 1510, John Gawdie of Harleston was buried in Redenhall church, and gave his estate to Thomas Gawdye the younger. In 1523, Tho. Gawdy of Wortwell, Gent. obtained a manumission of all his lands in Mendham, Metfield, and Withersdale, held of the manors of Metfield priory and Kingshall, of Simon Prior of Mendham. In 1545, Thomas Gawdy of Redenhall, senior, was buried, leaving Agnes his wife, James Marsham of Norwich, merchant, and John Calle of Bale, his executors. In 1556, Thomas Gawdy, junior, Esq. of Harleston, was buried in Redenhall church by his first wife, and Elizabeth his relict was buried by him in 1563; he left Thomas and Francis, and three daughters, Eliz. Southall, Margaret Aldrich, and Catherine. In 1570, Thomas their eldest son purchased Weybrede manor of William Calthorp, Esq. and in 1582, he sold this manor to Sir Tho. Gawdye, Knt. and he settled it on William Brend, trustee to Eliz. daughter of Helwise his first wife, and her heirs: he married Frances, his second wife, and was one of the King's judges, but dying in 1588, was buried here, being seized of Claxton, Hillington, Rockland, Poringland, &c. leaving

Henry Gawdy, Esq. his son and heir, then 26 years of age; and in 1615, Sir Henry and Clipesby Gawdy, Knts. were lords. In 1633, Sir Tho. Gawdie, Knt.; and it was mortgaged by Charles Gawdie, Esq. to Tobias Frere, who afterwards purchased it; in 1654, he was one of the justices of peace for Norfolk, a sequestrator, and member in parliament, and was buried here in 1655, leaving Susanna his widow, and Tobias his son and heir; his widow (as I am informed) married John Wogan, Esq. who was lord here in 1688, and now John Wogan, Esq.^s is lord of all the aforesaid manors, which are now joined with

THE MANOR OF MERKS,

Which was part of Coldham-hall manor, that continued in the Redenhall family as aforesaid, and was sold to John de Marleburgh, of whom John de Redenhall purchased it in 1313, and held it of the Earl of Norfolk at the 8th part of a fee; in 1344, Henry de Redenhall and Margaret his wife conveyed great part of it to Thomas son of Peter del Brok, and others, with remainder to their heirs; and in 1358, Robert de Redenhall, rector of Eike in Suffolk had it; it came after that, to James Ormond Earl of Wilts, and at his attainder, to the Crown; and was granted by Edward IV. with the manors of Moreffes in Waldingfield, and those of Overhall and Silvesters in Bures in Suffolk, to Sir Tho. Waldegrave; and passing through divers hands, in the year 1551, it was purchased by Rob. Bacon, and joined as aforesaid.

HAWKER'S MANOR

First belonged to EDRIC, of whom it was held in the Confessor's time by one of his freemen, when it was worth 20s. per annum. After the Conquest, Ralf Gwader or Wayet Earl of Norfolk, had it, and gave it to be held free of his capital manor, to Roger his hawk or falconer; who held it free from all service but that of falconer, when the King had the capital manor by Earl Ralf's forfeiture, and when Godric, to whom he had intrusted the care of it, claimed services of him, he appealed to the King (of whom he held it freely) as his protector, and was discharged accordingly; and from this tenure, the manor and lords also, took their names. The record called Testa de Nevil tells us, that Warine le Ostricer, or hawk, son of the said Roger, held it by the grand serjeanty of keeping a goshawk for the King's use, and carrying it every year to the King at his Majesty's cost.⁹ This Warine added much to the manor, by purchase from Maud de Beauchamp in 1289, and was succeeded by Robert his son;¹ and he in 1285, by Peter le Ostricer or Hawkere, his son and heir; whose tenure was found to be grand serjeanty, being obliged to keep a goshawk from Michaelmas to lent, and to mute it, and carry it to the King, of whom he was to receive 10*l.* per annum for so doing: he died seized in 1337, leaving it to Robert le Hawker, his son, and Alice his wife; he died in 1373, leaving Richard his son under age, who had livery of his estate in 1380, when the manor-house had 144 acres of demean, and the manor was found to extend into Alburgh, and other adjacent towns; he was succeeded by John his son and heir, and he by Richard, whose son Rog. died about 1436; and soon after it passed to Robert Clifton, cousin to Sir John Clifton of Bukenham castle; for in 1447, Sir John willed, that Robert his cousin should have his manors of Topcroft and Denton, on condition he made an estate to Sir John's executors, of his manors of Hawkere's and Shelly, which the said Robert had, in exchange for the manors of Topcroft and Denton;² and from that time it passed with Topcroft and Denton, all which, in 1481, Thomas Brewse, in right of Elizabeth his wife, had assigned to him as parcel of the lands of Robert de Clifton; and it continued with the said manors (to which I refer you) till 1621, and in that year, John Brewse, Gent. sold his manor of Hawker's cum Shucklock's, to Tobias Frere, Esq. and his heir; and in 1627, John Brewse and Tobias Frere, conveyed it to Sir Clipesby Gawdy, Knt. and Mary his wife, and their heirs; and so it became joined to the other manors.

WORTWELL MANOR

Was, soon after the Conquest, in a family called Peccatum or Pecche: in 1196, Gilbert Pecche, a benefactor to Bury abbey, held two fees of that house in Wortwell, Harleston, and Drenkeston in Suffolk. The next owner that I find, was in 1298, when it belonged to William

In 1401, Richard Carlol held it at the fourth part of a fee, as parcel of the barony of Tateshale. In 1428, Robert Warner was lord; in which family it continued till 1546, when John, third son to Brian Holland of Wortwell, married Anne, daughter and heiress of Robert Warner of Wingfield, with whom he had this manor; this John came and settled at Wortwell-hall, and purchased the greatest part (if not the whole) of the copyhold; and it hath continued in his family to this day, it being now owned by Isabella-Diana and Charlotte Holland, sole heiresses of Sir William Holland, Bart. deceased; the account and pedigree of which family may be seen at large in vol. i. p. 344.

NEDHAM, adjoins east to Brockdish, on the great road; and is originally a HAMLET and chapelry to MENDHAM, which is a very extensive place; the parish church stands just over the river, and so is in Suffolk; but this hamlet and the adjacent part between it and the parish church, on the Norfolk side, were no less than two miles and five furlongs long, and seven furlongs broad, at the Conqueror's survey, and paid 7*d.* to the geld or tax; and the part on the Norfolk side (exclusive of the bounds of this ancient hamlet) was called SCOTFORD, or the part at the ford, (over which there is a good brick bridge built, called SHOTFORD bridge at this day,) and for many ages had a rector presented to it, who served in the church of Mendham, by the name of the rector of SHOTFORD portion in Mendham.

Part of Herolveston or Harleston then belonged to Mendham also; and now, that part of the town opposite to the south side of the chapel, on which the publick-house called the Pye stands, is in Mendham.

Mendham parish church is dedicated to All the Saints, and was originally a rectory, one turn of which, was in Sir William de Huntingfield, founder of the PRIORY here, to which he gave it, and the other in Sir Thomas de Nedham, who gave it to William Prior of the Holy Trinity at Ipswich, and the convent there, to which it was appropriated by Thomas de Blundeville Bishop of Norwich, in 1227, when the vicarage was settled to consist of a messuage and 24 acres of land, 6 acres of meadow and marsh, with all the alterage belonging to the church, and the tithes of the mills, hay, turf, and fish, and all sorts of pulse, and 10s. per annum rent; viz. from the Lady Eve de Arches half a mark, &c.³ and the said Prior was to pay all dues to the bishop and arch-deacon, except synodals;⁴ and Henry de Diss, chaplain, the first vicar here, was presented by the Prior of Ipswich. The account of this church in Norwich Domesday is thus; the Prior of the Holy Trinity of Ipswich hath the moiety of the church of Mendham, appropriated to his convent, and hath a house and two carucates of land, and receives the tithes of the demans of Sir Thomas de Nedham; this was valued formerly at 15 marks. The Prior of Mendham hath the other moiety, and receives the tithes of Sir William de Huntingfield, and his moiety is valued at ten marks. Sir Thomas de Clare is patron of the third part, which the vicar holds of the fee of Cockfield, and is valued at five marks.

The chapel of St. Peter at Nedham was in all probability founded by the Nedham family, and most likely, by Sir Thomas de Nedham himself, for his own tenants; and being so far from the mother-church of Mendham, was made parochial, and hath separate bounds, officers, administration of sacraments, and burial; it is under the episcopal, but exempt from the archidiaconal jurisdiction; for it pays neither synodals, procurations, nor Peter-pence: and in 1329, a perpetual composition and agreement was made between the parishioners of the mother-church of Mendham, and those of the chapel of Nedham; by which, in lieu of all reparations and dues to the parish of Mendham, they agreed to pay 18*d.* every Easter-day, towards the repairs of Mendham church, as an acknowledgment that they were members of it. In 1411, the parishioners of Nedham, complained to Pope JOHN XXIII. that their chapel was not well served, though the Prior of Mendham was well paid his tithes; upon which, a bull directed to Alexander de Totington Bishop of Norwich, issued;⁵ commanding him to oblige the Prior of Mendham to find, and give security to him, that that convent would always find a parochial chaplain resident in Nedham, well and duly to serve the chapel there: and ever since, the impropiator of Mendham nominates the parish chaplain. In 1603, it was returned that

Mr. Andrew Wily, clerk, was curate, that there were 220 communicants, and that it was an impropriation; the herbages being reserved for the maintenance of the minister, who hath now the vicarial tithes, amounting to about 14*l.* per annum, for which it is served once every fortnight;

The Rev. Mr. John Tracey being the present curate.

The steeple is round at bottom and octangular at top, and hath four bells in it; the south porch and nave are tiled; there are several

This chapelry hath a lete held in it by the Duke of Norfolk's steward, it being in his Grace's liberty, who is lord paramount in right of his hundred of Earsham, over all the Norfolk part of Mendham; and in 1285, Roger Bigot, then lord of the hundred, had free-warren allowed him here.

The abbot and convent of Sibton in Suffolk had a fishery, and water-mill called Fryer's Mill, in this place;⁷ which was let with their grange and manor of Weybrede in Suffolk; which in 1611, belonged to George Hering of Norwich.

This hamlet originally belonged to the Abbot of Bury,⁸ and was infeoffed by one Frodo at the Conquest, whose descendants took the surname of NEDHAM, and contrary to the common rule, gave their name to this place; it should seem that the family extinguished in several heiresses, by the many parts or manors it was divided into; and now there are four manors still subsisting here.

The first is a very small one, called SILEHAM COMITIS, ex Parte Norfolk; and was originally part of the Earl's manor of Sileham, from which it was separated, and now belongs to Mr. James Bransby of Shotesham.

The second is called DENISON's, or DENSTON's manor: this was given to the priory of Mendham, to which it belonged till its Dissolution.

This monastery was founded in King Stephen's time, by Will. son of Rog. de Huntingfield, with the approbation of Roger his son and heir, who gave the whole isle of Mendham, called Medenham, or the village of meadows, to the monks of Castleacre, on condition they should erect a church of stone, and build a convent by it, and place at least eight of their monks there: in the place called HURST, or Bruningsherst, being then a wooly isle on the Suffolk side of the river; accordingly, monks being placed there, the founder ordered that they should be subject to Castleacre monks, as a cell to that house, in the same manner as Castleacre itself was, to the monastery of St. Pancras at Lewes in Suffolk; and that to the church of Cluni or Clugny in France: but after the death of the founder, the Prior of Castleacre covenanted with Roger de Huntingfield his son, (who was also a great benefactor,) to maintain at least eight monks at Mendham, and not to depose the Prior there, unless for disobedience, incontinence, or dilapidations of the house.

Their founder gave the whole island of St. Mary of Mendham, with Uveshage and the Granges there; and many other lands, rents, and homages; and all his lands in Crochestune, and his homagers there, which were all to be employed by the Prior, to the maintenance of Mendham monks, except half a mark of silver to be paid yearly to the priory of Castleacre, as an acknowledgment of their depending as a cell to that monastery: ⁹ he gave them also, St. Margaret's church at Linstede, and St. Peter's there; the moiety of the church of Trideling; an aldercarr and 11 acres by the mill, of Thomas de Mendham; and the third part of the tithes of his demesns in Suttorp; and 5s. rent in Bradendam; together with all his right in the church of Mendham: to all which, WILLIAM the Dean of REDENHALL, and others, were witnesses. And Stephen de Saukeville released all his right in Hurst. In 1239, Richard son of Benedict, after his decease, settled a messuage and 60 acres of land on this priory. In 1386, Sir Robert de Swillington, Knt. Sir Roger Bois, Knt. John Pyeshale, clerk, and Robert de Ashfield, settled the patronage of this monastery, on Isabel Countess of Suffolk. This house and all its revenues, were given by King Henry VIII. together with the lands of the dissolved priories of Ankerwick in Lincolnshire, and Little Marlow in Buckinghamshire, to the then newly restored monastery at Bisham or Buttlesham in Berkshire, in 1537; by way of augmentation to the value of 661l. 14s. 9d. per annum for the maintenance of an abbot and 13 monks of the Benedictine order. But that monastery was short-lived and soon fell; and this house, &c. in 1539, was granted to Charles Duke of Suffolk, and with it, this manor of Dcnston's, which, 2d 3d Philip and Mary, was conveyed to Richard Freston Esq. and Anne his wife, and he was lord of it in 1567; and it continued

From the rolls of this manor, I find the following Priors of Mendham, to have kept courts here.

1239, JOHN. 1250, Simon. 1336, Nic. Cressi; he died this year, and Sir Rog. de Huntingfield, patron of the priory, kept a court during the vacancy.

1340, John de Waltun; succeeded in 1342, by Henry de Berlegh. 1353, William. 1382, John de Tomston. 1400, Robert. 1420, John Betelee succeeded. 1449, Sir Tho. Rede. 1487, Sir Tho. Pytte. 1501, Sir Tho. Bullock. 1523, Simon. Robert Howton, sub-prior, and Sir Ric. Pain, monk.

The third manor is called BOURT's and was owned by Daniel Bourt in 1345, and after by John le Straunge and Thomas de Hales, who held it at half a fee of the heirs of Roger de Huntingfield; it after belonged to the Grices of Brockdish, for which family I refer you thither. In 1600, Thomas Pawlet, Esq. conveyed it to Thomas Leigh and John Godfrey; and it now belongs to Sir Edmund Bacon of Gillingham, Bart.

The fourth manor is called GUNSHAW's, which see at p. 348.

To this hamlet, joins the aforesaid portion of Mendham, called

SHOTFORD IN MENDHAM,

WHICH contains two manors, called WHITENDONS, or the White-hills, and SEAMEARES, each of which originally presented alternately to the portion of Shotford in Mendham church.

1349, Giles Arches of Mendham, to the rectory of the third part of the church of Mendham, called Shotford portion in Norfolk. Sir Roger Lord Strange of Knokyn, Knt. He resigned in 1350, and the Lady Joan le Strange gave it to

Robert de Harwoode; afterwards the noble Sir Miles Stapleton, Knt. having the whole advowson, gave it to Mendham priory; and on the 3d of July, 1385, it was appropriated to the monastery of the blessed Virgin Mary at Mendham, and no vicarage ordained, so that the Prior received all tithes whatever of the whole portion, paying a pension of 6s. 8d. yearly to the Bishop, and finding a chaplain to perform a third part of the service in Mendham church: which service was after turned into that of a chantry priest, who was to officiate in St. Mary's chapel on the east side of Mendham churchyard; and that service ceased in Edward the Sixth's time, and the chapel was granted by the Crown into lay hands, and is now used as a malt-house.

THE MANOR OF SEMERE'S,

At the Conqueror's survey, belonged to Roger of Poitou, third son of Roger de Montgomery Earl of Arundel, and was held in the Confessor's time by a freeman named ULFRIZ:² it was then valued at 10s. and after at 20. It divided into two parts, one belonged in 1311, to Alice and Edmund de Sancto Mauro or Seymor, Knt. and Joan his wife, from which family it took its name: this Sir Edmund, in 1335, infeoffed it with the manors of Sileham and Esham, and their adwosons, in Sir John Wingfield, Knt. as trustee; and Laurence Seymour, parson of the united churches of Sileham and Esham, and Ralf his brother, released all their right; and the next year, Sir John released them to John son and heir of Sir Edward Seymour, Knt. It appears, that in 1291, John de Brampton held the other part of Elizabeth de Ingham at half a fee, and that it then divided, the one half continuing in the Inghams, of which Sir John Ingham, Knt. was lord, and Maroya or Mariona, his widow, in 1217. In 1331, Sir Oliver Ingham, Knt. and it passed with that family, till Sir Miles Stapleton gave it to Mendham priory, when it became joined to DENSTON's in Nedham. The other part, now Semere's manor, was sold to Sir John Wingfield by Laurence de Seymour; and in 1349, John Gartek and Sara his wife conveyed their third parts of Sileham, Esham, and this manor, and their adwoson, to him. In 1401, Edw. Hales was lord; in 1551, it was sold to Henry Floteman, and it is now owned by John Kerrich of Bury M. D.

WHITENDONS, OR WICHENDONS MANOR,

Belonged to HUMFRY, a freeman of Edric's in the Confessor's time; and to Robert Malet, lord of the honour of Eye, in the Conqueror's;³ it after belonged to a family surnamed De Arcubus; and in 1226, William de Arches and Eve his wife gave it to the Priory of the Holy

This Richard, in 1534,⁵ appears to be treasurer, and a great favourite of Charles Brandon Duke of Suffolk; and an intimate acquaintance of Sir Rob. Budde, who was master of Wingfield college, and chaplain to his grace; and by his interest it was, that he obtained several great grants from the Crown;⁶ among which, he had Denston's manor in Nedham, and many lands belonging to Mendham priory: he was afterwards knighted, and lies buried with Dame Anne Coke his wife, in Mendham chancel, for whom there is a monument against the east part of the north wall, with the arms of Freston impaling Coke, which shows that he outlived his wife, and died in 1557; and was succeeded by

In 1285 Thomas de Mendham, who was lord also in 1306; in 1312, John de Mendham had it; in 1318, John son of John de Mendham, and Christian his wife, sold it to the lord of

KINGSHALL IN MENDHAM,*

To which it hath been joined ever since. This manor belonged to the KING, according as its name intimates, and was settled by Edw. I. on Queen Eleanor his first wife, after whose death it came to the Veres Earls of Oxford; and Sir Robert Vere, in 1314, sold it to Sir John de

* Called in 1328, KENYNGHALE in parochia de MENDHAM.

Fresingfield, Knt. son of Seman de Fresingfield; at which time, Robert son of John de Mendham, released to him all right in Mendham's-Hall manor; and in 1317, Sir John sold them to Sir Walter de Norwich, Knt. and his heirs, the Earl of Oxford releasing all right; Sir John de Insula, or L'isle, Sir John de Foxele, and Sir John Abel, Knts. Barons of the King's Exchequer, Sir John Muteford, justice of the King's Bench, and others, being witnesses. In 1353, Sir John de Huntingfield held those manors late of Thomas Earl of Oxford, at half a fee. In 1363, it was presented that William de Huntingfield held the river WAGHENE as a separate fishing, from Mendham bridge to King's-hall mill, and that he had the fishery there, as belonging to his manor of King's-hall. In 1369, Will. de Huntingfield held it for life; and in 1370, John Deyns, rector of Toft in Lincolnshire, and Richard Wright of Holbeck, chaplain, his trustees, released to Roger de Huntingfield, who, with his trustees, John de Seckford, parson of Somercotes, John de Linstede, parson of Cawston, Tho. Horne, rector of Huntingfield, and others, soon after, settled them on MENDHAM priory: in which they continued to its dissolution, and then were granted to Charles Brandon Duke of Suffolk, and his heirs, by King Henry VIII. in 1540, along with the lete of Metfield, and

THE MANOR OF MENDHAM PRIORY,

Which was given to it by its founder. They after belonged to the Frestons, and in 1551, Richard Freston was lord; in 1619, Sir Thomas Holland of Quidenham, Knt. sold to Edw. Ward of Mendham in Suffolk, Esq. the site of Mendham priory manor, now called Mendham's-hall, &c. Kings-hall meadow, &c. the park, the manor of Mendham-hall, &c. with the letes thereto belonging, situate in Mendham, Withersdale, and Waybrede; all which, he purchased of Anthony Gosnold of Clopton, Esq. Anthony Gosnold of Swillington, Gent. Robert Gosnold of Ottley in Suffolk, Esq. Thomas Laurence of St. James's in S. Elnham, Gent. Michael Wentworth of Rogersthorpe in Yorkshire, Esq. Thomas Wales of Thorp in Norfolk, yeoman, and Loye Browne of Norwich: and the said Thomas, and Dame Mary his wife, sued a fine, and passed a recovery to the use of the said Edward Ward the elder, and his heirs; together with the fishery in the river WAYVENETH. It came afterwards to the Baxters, and thence to the Gardiners of Norwich; and was sold by Richard Berney, Esq. recorder of Norwich, executor to Stephen Gardiner, Esq. late recorder there, to the Rev. Mr. THOMAS WHITAKER, late rector of Fresingfield, whose widow now owns them. They have a lete here, and another in Metfield, belonging to them; they give dower, and the eldest son is heir.

I find the following memorials relating to the BAXTERS in this church:

WALSHAM-HALL,

From Gilbert de Walsham, who held it of the Abbot of Bury in the time of King Ric. I. at one fee; and lately it belonged to the HOBARTS, who lived in the site of it, till Anthony Hobart, Gent. sold it to Mr. Robert Bransby, senior, of Shotesham, who sold it to Mrs. Sarah Woogan, wife of the Rev. Mr. Holmes, rector of Fresingfield, who now owns it.

I find the following account of the HOBARTS buried here:

In the chancel on brass plates, Hobart's arms with a label of three.

Her Time was short, the longer is her Rest,

There is an under manor or free-tenement, called MIDDLETON-HALL, in this town, which belongs to Mrs. Whitaker, and is a good old seat; here Richard de Middleton lived in 1373, and William his son in 1390, who was succeeded by William his son; on whose marriage in 1392, it was settled on Margaret his wife, with estates in South-Elmham and Redenhale: this family always sealed with a fess erm. between three crozlets; and it continued in it a long time. In 1457, William Middleton owned it, and Robert Middleton in 1467, who lived here in 1491. In 1553, Henry Reppes of Mendham died seized of it, and of Thorney manor in Stow in Suffolk, and gave them to Anne Wodehouse, alias Reppes, for life, with remainder to John Reppes, son of his brother Francis, remainder to John Reppes his brother, &c. In 1562, Ric. Whetley, rector of Homersfield, leased his rectory to Basingbourn Gawdy of Middleton-hall in Mendham, Esq. by whom it was sold, and so became joined to the other manors.

There is an ancient seat here called OAKEN-HILL, (but no manor,) in which the family of the BATEMANS have resided ever since the time of William Bateman Bishop of Norwich; and William Bateman, only son of William Bateman, Gent. of Mendham, lately deceased, now dwells there: (see vol. iii. p. 506;) most of this family have had the christian name of WILLIAM, ever since the Bishop's time.

MENDHAM church is a good building, with a square tower and five bells; having its nave, two isles, and south porch leaded, and chancel tiled, in which are the following memorials, besides those already taken notice of:

In the north isle window, France and England in a bordure gul. impaling or, an eagle displayed sab. quartering Morley.

JAMES RANT, Esq. his father, is since dead, and buried by him, and WILL. RANT, Esq. his only surviving son, now lives in Mendham-Priory, which is situated just by the river Waveney, about five furlongs south-west of the church, where there is a good old chapel still left, which is kept clean and neat; but there is no manor remaining with the site.

In the chancel,

In the churchyard are memorials for William Bateman, Gent. Jan. 9, 1659, æt. 70.

In 1469, WALTER NYCHE or Neech of Mendham, was buried in All-Saints church there, before St. Nicholas's altar, and gave 12*d.* to every monk of Mendham, and five marks for a new tabernacle at St. Nicholas's altar; he owned an estate here, which had continued many generations in his family. In 1610, 21 Jan. Anne Neech married to William Bateman, Gent. to whose family the estate now belongs. He left Katherine his wife, Alice and Margaret, his daughters; and three sons, Robert, John le Senior, priest, and John le Junior; from whom descended the Rev. Mr. Anthony Neech, late rector of Snitterton, of whom in vol. i. p. 110, 421.

The vicarage stands in the King's Books at 5l. 5s. 2d. ob. and being sworn of the clear yearly value of 23l. 4s. 7d. is capable of augmentation, and was augmented accordingly by the Rev. Mr. Whitaker, late rector of Fresingfield, the patron, who presented his nephew, the Rev. Mr. Thomas Whitaker, the present vicar.

Mr. Child, sequestrator; who was succeeded by the present vicar's predecessor,

Mr. Seth Turner, who was presented by Mr. STEPHEN BAXTER, and was vicar above 50 years; he is buried here.

MEDEFIELD, OR METFIELD,⁵

Is also another hamlet and parochial chapel of Mendham, the great tithes of which, belong to the impropriator there, who nominates and pays the stipendiary chaplain. The Rev. Mr. John Mendham, vicar of Weybrede, hath it now; and I am informed, there is a good house and glebe given to the serving minister since the Reformation.

The chapel is dedicated to St. John the Baptist, and hath a square tower, clock, and three bells; on the biggest is this,

Munere Baptiste, Benedictus sit chorus iste.

The south porch, nave, and chancel, are leaded. There are stones for John Norton 1609. Anne wife of John Fraucklin, Gent. daughter of William and Elizabeth Blobold, Gent. 1636, and left John, William, Elizabeth, and Anne. Will. Browne 1660, 70.

But this hamlet is of chief remark, as being the ancient seat of the JERMYS.

It seems this manor, called

METEFIELD IN MENDHAM,

Was anciently of the fee of the abbot of Holm, of whom it was held in the time of Richard I. at half a fee, by Hugh Burd; after which, it was escheated to the Crown, and was granted to THOMAS DE BROTHERTON, son to King Edward I. who married ALICE, daughter of Sir Roger Hales of Harwich, Knt. whose sister JOAN,⁶ married to Sir JOHN GERMYN or JERMY, Knt.; and in 1325, the said Thomas conveyed to his brother-in-law, Sir John Jermy, Knt. two parts of this manor, and the third part to his wife, for the assignment of her dower. In 1353, Sir John Jermy, Knt. held it at a quarter of a fee of the manor of King's-hall in Mendham. In 1385, Sir Will. Jermy, Knt. was buried here; Elizabeth his wife survived him. In 1428, Sir John Jermy, Knt. and Margaret Mounteney his wife, owned this and Withersdale manors; and he it was, that rebuilt this church and manor-house, where he placed the matches of his family in the windows; and his own arms are carved several times on the timber of the roof, and arc still in several windows, and in stone on the font; he died in 1487, and was buried at the north-east corner of the chancel; his inscription was cut in old text letters on his stone, but it is so worn and broken, that this only remains,

qui obit s s s s

By his will in Register Aleyn, fo. 330, which is dated at Bukenham-Ferry, Oct. 24, 1487, he appointed to be buried here, and gave a legacy to this church, and those of Bukenham-Ferry and Husingham, of which he was patron; he ordered 100 marks to be distributed to the poor on his burial day, and gave the manor and advowsons of Bukenham and Hasingham, to be sold, after his wife Margaret's death: he gave 200 marks to the Abbot of St. BENNET at the Hohn in Ludham, to found a chantry priest to sing mass daily there, for him and his family for ever; he is called Sir JOHN JERMY, senior, Knt.

Sir JOHN JERMY, junior, Knt. his son and heir, married Elizabeth, daughter of Will. Wroth of Enfield, Esq. and had two sons; from Thomas, the younger son, descended the JERMYS of Bayfield in Norfolk, under which place I design an ample account of the family. And JOHN JERMY, Esq. the eldest son, continued the family at Metfield; he married Isabel, daughter of John Hopton, Esq. and lies buried in the chancel by his grandfather, with this on a brass plate on his stone :

EDMUND JERMY, Esq. his son and heir, married a daughter of William Booth, Esq. and left Sir John Jermy of Metfield and Brightwell, Knight of the Bath;⁸ who by Margaret, daughter and heir of Sir Thomas Teye, Knt. had Francis Jermy of Brightwell, Esq. who by Eliz. daughter and coheir of Sir William Fitz-Williams of Ireland, Knt. had Sir Thomas Jermy, Knight of the Bath; who by Jane, daughter and heiress of Edward Stuart or Styward, of Teversham in Cambridgeshire, had four sons, Thomas, Edmund, John, and William, of which,

THOMAS, his eldest son, settled here, for whom there is an altar tomb at the north-east corner of this chancel, with the arms of JERMY, and a griffin proper for the CREST, and this,

THOMAS JARMY Esq; Sonne and Heire of Sir THOMAS JARMY Knight of the noble Order of the Bath. 21 Dec. 1652.

Since which time, the manor hath been sold from the family, and now belongs to Walter Plommer, Esq.

I have an account, which says, that more gentlemen kept coaches in Mendham, than in any place in Suffolk, and that in 1642, many cauileers in these parts, raised a sum for the King; among which in this town, Richard Baxter, Gent. lord, 30*l.* Rob. Harper 30*l.* William Bateman, senior, 10*l.* James Terrold, Gent. 10*l.* William Jacob 20*l.* Will. Herring 3*l.* &c. Thomas Jermy, Esq. 20*l.* Anthony Freston, Gent. 5*l.*

In Charles the Second's time, Sir William Godbould lived here, and Colonel John Hobard; and Edward Ward, Esq. justice of the peace, in K. James the Second's time.

P U L H A M:

THIS rectory, with the chapel of St. Mary Magdalen, was taxed in the old Valor at 70 marks, and in the year 1559,⁹ was returned by the name of Pulham Utraque, among the benefices that pay double institution fees, but without reason, for there never was a double institution, it being only a chapel of ease to Pulham St. Mary the Virgin;¹ founded on account of the market anciently held there, which occasioned a great many people to fix near it, and for their convenience it was first erected; NORWICH Domesday says, that the rector had a noble house, and about 44 acres of glebe; that the church with its chapel, was then valued at 80 marks; that the procurations were 7s. 7d. ob. the Peter-peuce 3s. and that the parish paid clear to each tenth 11l. 4s. It is an undischarged living, and as such, pays first-fruits, and yearly tenths, and is capable of augmentation: it stands thus in the King's Books,

RECTORS OF PULHAM.

1253, Henry de Wengham, Dean of St. Martin le Grand in London, presented by the KING, on account of the vacancy of the see of Ely, to which the advowson belongs.⁵ Henry III. at the death of William de Kilkenny Bishop of Ely, would have prevailed upon Ely monks to have chosen this Henry de Wengham, then his chancellor, to that see; but could not persuade them: upon which, the King spoiled the woods and parks of the bishoprick, and applied to the Pope; but Wengham never stirred at all in the matter, but confessed Hugh de Balsham, whom the monks had elected, more worthy than himself: it is also said, that the suit on his behalf was commenced by the King, without his knowledge; and that when he saw his Majesty so earnest, and deal so violently in it, he went to him, and humbly besought him to let the monks alone, and cease further soliciting them by his armed and imperious requests; for (saith he) after invocation of the name of GOD, the grace and direction of his holy Spirit, they have chosen a man more worthy than myself, and GOD forbid, that I should, as it were by force, invade that noble bishoprick, and usurp the ministry of the same, with a seared or cauterised conscience: upon which, the King acquiesced in his request, and in 1259, he was made Bishop of London; being then Chancellor of England, Chamberlain of Gascoigne, Dean of Tottenham and St. Martin's, and rector here: in 1258, he refused the bishoprick of Winchester; he was twice embassadour into France, and dying July 13, 1261, was buried in his cathedral. 1331, John de Colby, presented by William de Colby, rector of Wilby in Suffolk, who had a grant of it from Bishop Hotham, on condition he settled divers lands here on the sec; and accordingly, as soon as his brother John had possession, he levied a fine with Will. de Colby, and released all right in the advowson, and in all their lands in Pulham, to the Bishop and his successors. He changed this for Thingden in Lincoln diocese, in

1339, with Master John de Hindesley, prebend of the church of Kareutoc in Exeter diocese; who was succeeded by

John de Herwardstok, and he in 1341, by Master Michael de Northburgh or Northbrook, archdeacon of Suffolk, prebend of Sutton, LL. D. He was confirmed Bishop of Loadon, July 7, 1355,⁶ and died of the plague Sept. 9, 1361, having resigned this, in exchange for Ledbury in Hereford diocese, in 1351, with William de Kellescy, who was presented by Thomas Lisle or Lylde Bishop of Ely. This Bishop disobliging the King, in 1354, had a writ of ne exeat regnum? sent him, commanding him, on forfeiture of all that he could forfeit to the King, to stay in England, and come in person to the parliament, which he had refused to do; and therefore the King seized this advowson, and on the vacancy of this rectory, about

1357, gave it to William de Wykham, son of John Perot and Sibill his wife, of Tichford, near Wickham in Hampshire, from which place he assumed his name. Godwin in his Catalogue of Bishops, p. 236, gives us a large account of the birth, parts, fortune, and great rise of this man; who was parson of St. Martin's in London, then dean of St. Martin le Grand, successively archdeacon of Lincoln, Northampton, and Buckingham: besides these ecclesiastical preferments, the provostship of Wells, a number of benefices, and 12 prebends, in several churches, he held many temporal offices, as the secretaryship, the keeping of the privy seal, the mastership of wards, the treasurership of the King's revenues in France, and divers others; but the yearly revenues of his spiritual promotions only, as they were then rated in the King's Books, amounted unto 876*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* In 1356, he was prosecuted in the Pope's consistory at Rome, for illegally holding this benefice, with so many, that had cure of souls; but to no purpose, for King Edw. III. who gave it him, and did every thing for him he desired, immediately confirmed it by patent under the great seal, to be held in commendam for life, with all his other preferments; and though he was attached again, it availed nothing, for he had another patent of confirmation passed in 1360; but the next year he resigned it voluntarily to his friend, for room, which seems to have been founded very early, by the brethren and sisters of St. James's GILD, to which apostle this chapel was dedicated; and in which St. James's gild was held, till Edw. the Sixth's time, when all such fraternities were suppressed: here was a hermitage close by it, in which a hermit dwelt, who daily officiated in it, and prayed for the living members of the gild, and for the souls of the deceased that belonged to it. The present fabrick was built about 1401, when John Fordham Bishop of Ely granted an indulgence of 40 days pardou, to last for three years, to all that would contribute to rebuild it, and to maintain Walter Colman, the poor hermit, there; as I find in Register FORDHAM, fo. 193.

And this he did in respect to Robert Morton, Esq. his uncle, who lived here in 1460, and was buried in this church in 1467: as I learn from his will,⁹ in which he made Alice his wife, (who I suppose was a Tendring, by the arms of Morton impaled with Tendring in one of the windows,) and John Ashfield, junior, executors; and gave his manors of Lympol and Hesse in Nottinghamshire and Yorkshire, to Nicholas his son; and legacies to Margaret and Oscá, his two daughters.

It seems that the tower and porch were built about this time, by the assistance of the Bishop and other benefactors; on the porch there is a great quantity of imagery in stone; on one side of the entrance, an angel holds a scroll with Abt Maria on it; opposite is a Bishop sitting on his throne, a goat's face under him as the consance of Morton, the book of the Holy Gospel on a stand by him, on which sits a dove with its beak close to the Bisop's ear, to intimate that book to be dictated by the Holy Spirit; by the stand is a helmet, on which, for a crest, is the trunk of a tree raguled, with three arms cut off, representing the Holy Trinity; there are eight angels, four with trumpets in their mouths, two playing on lutes, and two on violins; all the building is adorned with angels faces, &c. There are four large shields under the image of the Virgin Mary, that was placed in a niche, but is now pulled out of it, which are, the instruments of the Passion, the emblem of the Trinity and the arms of the East Angles and Ely see. Five images carved in stone, are fixed on the top of the battlements, 1, A wolf sitting, holding St. Edmund's head in its paws. 2, A lion. 3, A woodman, sitting with one leg on his knee. 4, A greyhound seiant. 5, Defaced. And there are the arms of Morton Archbishop of Canterbury; and on a shield three cardinals caps; and faces, by their habits, of the four degrees, viz. a monk or regular, a parish-priest, or secular, a gentleman, and a peasant.

The chapel of St. MARY MAGDALEN, commonly called Pulham-market church, is a good fabrick, with a large square tower, a clock, and six bells; a handsome north porch, two isles, and nave, all leaded; the chancel being tiled; it is an exceeding lightsome building, kept very neat and clean.

longing to the church of St. Audry,⁶ though now it is reckoned among the towns in the Duke of Norfolk's liberty,⁷ as being in Earsham half hundred. In 1249, it appears from the Plea Rolls,⁸ that there was a weekly Wednesday market here; and in 1250, the Bishop of ELY, on which this see was settled at its first erection, had a charter of free-warren throughout the manor; in 1277, there was a general extent made, of all the lands, manors, and revenues, belonging to ELY see;⁹ when the jury sworn for this manor,¹ returned upon oath, that the town was in the free hundred of Earl Rog. Bigod, called ERESHAM half hundred, to which the Bishop's bailiff ought to do suit from hundred court to hundred court, or pay two shillings every Michaelmas day, at the will of the Earl or his bailiffs, who might choose either the suit or the money; that the advowson of the church of St. Mary the Virgin at Pulham, with the chapel of St. Mary Magdalen there, belonged to the Bishop of Ely, with the market held by the said chapel; the profits of which, were then worth 3 marks and an half per annum, the profits of the fairs held there being included;² the two windmills with the suit of the tenants thereto, worth 5*l.* a year; there were 685 acres and an half, by the lesser hundred, in demean, and every acre was worth 15*d.* a year; half of it was to be ploughed yearly by 4 ploughs of six oxen and two scotts; there were also 36 acres and an half of meadow land, worth 4*s.* an acre; 33 acres of several pasture (or Lammis land) worth 18*d.* an acre; every acre of this manor, according to its custom, being measured by the perch of 18 feet and an half. There was a park of 60 acres, a wood called Grishaw of 100 acres, the manor-house stock was 14 cows, a free bull, 40 hogs, and a free boar, and 200 sheep; all the lands but the several, and commons, were whole year land. The commons of Nortwood Green and Westwood, were common to the whole town only;³ but notwithstanding, nobody could cut wood on them but the lord, who had 27*l.* 12*s.* 3*d.* 3*q.* yearly rents in money; 20*s.* 8*d.* q. for hederwick, the scheresilver uncertain, because it is more or less yearly; 36 quarters 6 bushels and 2 pecks of foddercorn, six score and eight hens, 597 eggs by the great hundred, 267 acres to be ploughed in winter, the ploughing of each

Among the freemen of the manor, Sir Adam de Tifteshale or Titshale, Knt. held 36 acres; Sir Roger de Thirkelby 20 acres and two men; the parson of Pulham one meadow, and the prior of Ely 30 acres, late Osbert de Stradeset's; Richard de Kittleshaw two carucates; *Will. In 1286, the Bishop of Ely claimed the following privileges to this manor, and they were allowed in Fire, viz. infangenthef, outfangenthef, view of frankpledge, assise of bread and ale, pleas de namio vetito, and to have a prison, and carry and re-carry his prisoners any where before the King's justices; and to have the finés and amerciaments of all his tenants, and all the goods and chattels of felons and fugitives, with the return of writs, and all other liberties belonging to his see of ELY, together with free-warren, according to Henry the Third's charter.

In 1431, Pulham was returned to be within the liberty of the Bishop of Ely, and under the jurisdiction of his bailiff, Henry Sharyngton; it being held in demean of the King, as parcel of the Bishop's barony, and so continued till the first of Queen Elizabeth, and then it came to the Crown, by virtue of an exchange made with that see; and it continued there some time; it being above 102*l.* per annum, besides the woods, in 1558, but was soon leased out at 13*l.* 6*s.* per annum, and many of the woods and demeanes granted to divers persons; but in 1609, the citizens of London held it in fee-farm, when the free and copyhold rents were 71*l.* 8*s.* 9*d.* per annum, and the farm of the lands 37*l.* 10*s.* 7*d.* but that lease being out in 1622, Richard Ashorth, senior, Esq. accounted with CHARLES Prince of Wales, on whom King James I. had settled it, for 107*l.* 2*s.* 4*d.* in rents, and 18*l.* 3*s.* for fines of lands, and perquisites of courts;⁵ and about 1631, it was sold by King

N. B. There are above 6000 acres of land in the parishes of Pulham St. Mary and St. Mary Magdalen.

Charles I. and the chamber of London (the advowson being excepted) to divers tenants; and in the year 1679, was divided into 30 parts, one part in 1633, belonged to John Bradshaw, Esq. WINDSOR herald, who lived in Southolt in Suffolk, and died there the same year, and gave his part to John his eldest son, paying an annuity of 10*l.* to William, his second son: this part came afterwards to Thomas Fauconberge, who married Margaret, daughter of the said John Bradshaw, and Margaret his wife: his will is proved in 1655, and left his part of Pulham manor, to Dorothy his wife for life, then to his children, Thomas, Robert, Laurence, Charles, and Henry.

About 1681, Thomas Sayer, justice of the peace, John Sayer, Gent. Charles Daveney, William Palgrave, Maurice Kendal of Grey's Inn and Bukenham Nova, Gents. and others, were returned as lords. But now the whole is vested in JOHN SAYER of Eye, Esq. the profits of one-fifteenth part being employed as an endowment to the schoolmaster, who keeps school in St. James's chapel here.

This JOHN is descended from an ancient family resident at Pulham for several hundred years; and the old register, which begins in 1539, shows us, that it was as numerous as any I have met with, there being great number of their births, marriages, and burials, entered there: and it appears, that the several branches have been all of them considerable owners in this parish: I find, they have spelt their names differently in different ages, as Sawyer, Sayer, and Saer, which last I take to be their proper name, for SAER or SAYER, was anciently a common christian name; but I shall only trace here, that branch from which the present lord of the town is descended.

JOHN SAYER, senior, of Pulham St. Mary, was born in 1493, and was buried in 1583, in the 90th year of his age; by his first wife he had

THOMAS SAYER,⁶ who married Christian Palgrave of Pulham-Market in 1557, and JOHN SAYER, who married Margaret Thurketel; and by Rose Skete, widow, his second wife, he had

JOHN SAYER, Gent. who in 1607, married Mrs. Anne Pullin; their son,

JOHN SAYER of Pulham, Gent. was born in 1617, and married Elizabeth, daughter of Thomas Dunston of Worlingworth in Suffolk, Gent. who was buried at Pulham St. Mary in 1653. Their son,

THOMAS SAYER, Gent. of Pulham, married Muriel, daughter of Richard Browne of Sparkes in Tacolneston, by Muriel Knevet his wife, and had Mr. EDWARD SAYER, apothecary in Norwich, Mr. DANIEL SAYER, attorney at law in Harleston, younger sons; besides their eldest son

JOHN SAYER of Ely, Esq. one of his Majesty's justices of the peace for the county of Norfolk, who is now lord of this manor; but hath no issue by DOROTHY his wife, who was sister to the Rev. Mr. THOMAS BURTON, vicar of Halifax in YORKSHIRE, and is still living.

BURTON.

The ancient survey of this county, hath this,

In this town, (for both PULHAMS make but one town,) is only the manor of Pulham, commonly called Pulham manour, which heretofore belonged to the BISHOPRICK [OR CHURCH] of Ely, even from the time of the SAXONS, about 800 years since, until the reign of Queen Elizabeth, who took it into her own hands with divers other manors, and is now in possession of the King [Jac. I.] as her next and immediate heir: the King keepeth court and leet, and hath in it, weyf, felons goods, &c. hauking, hunting, fishing, &c. The extraordinary service of the tenants is reveship, heywardship, and cullyer-ship; whoever are cullyers or collectors, gather the rents of the other tenants, and pay them to the reeves, and they at the audit to the receiver; whoever is heyward calleth the court; there is one that holds his lands by cornage,⁸ that is, blowing a horn in the morning at the beginning of the court: the finés are certain of the copyhold lands, at ⁷ For the crest see p. 331.

for which the lord pays 4*d.* and gives him his dinner; this was the service as the lord's huntsman: and there are 7 acres held by being my lord's hangman, William son of Adam Akeman held 7 acres by divers services, all which were to be remitted, whenever a thief was hanged in the manor, he being obliged by his tenure to hang him in lieu of all service for that year.

six pence an acre.⁹ This town hath the privileges of ELY, as all other manors, holden by the same bishoprick; none may arrest within their limits, besides their own bailiff, &c. There was a market kept for a long time in Pulham-Magdalen, (the cross yet remaineth,) purchased by the church of Ely in the time of the Saxons, but now altogether decayed, by reason of the vicinity of Harleston, a hamlet to Redenhall, whose market is on the same day.

There was formerly a manor here, called

HEMENHALE'S,

Which had its rise in 1258, when Walter de Hemenhale confirmed all right to Hugh Bishop of Ely; the said Bishop conveying to him 200 acres of laud, 5 marks rent, 40 acres of wood, and 20 acres of meadow; and in 1308, it extended into Redenhall.

In 1321, Sir Ralf de Hemenhale was lord, and John de Hemenhale was his son and heir; but in 1389, Sir Robert de Hemenhale, son of Ralf owned it, and settled it on Sir George Felbrigg, Knt. and others, his trustees.

In 1258, Ric de Ketleshawe, held of the Bishop many lands and rents; and Sir Roger de Thirkelby, in 1248, had a messuage, 110 acres of land, and divers rents, which he granted to Robert of St. Ives. In 1342, John Sturmy had a capital messuage and 40 acres, and divers rents, which he held of the Bishop of Ely, and Robert was his son and heir; and in 1351, John Cooper and Alice his wife had a free tenement, 120 acres of land, 20 acres of meadow, 10 acres of wood, and 15s. rent in Pulham; all which he recovered against John Cursoun and Catherine his daughter; and in 1370, Alice his wife, who was daughter of Ric. de Ketleshawe or Keteleshale, in Norfolk, inherited his estate here, and in the year 1425, Sir John de Heveningham, senior, Knt. died seized of all these manors, free tenements, and capital messuages and rents, called then, the manor of ⁹ In the 9th year of King Car. I. there passed a decree in Chancery, by which the fines of all the complainants lands (and of no other tenants of the manor) all which are specified at large in the decree, were fixed at 6d. an acre, 2s. each messuage, and 1s. each cottage, built or to be built, and these lands and houses on request made in court, are demisable for 21 years, or any term under, on paying half a fine as before stated; these tenants are not to forfeit for waste, and may fell timber, &c. without license, and use the soil at their own will and pleasure; but the rest of the tenants of the manor hold their lands at the lord's will. The lands descend to the eldest son, and it gives no dower.

The commons belonging to the manor are Northwood-Green, containing about 30 acres; Hadeshage-Green about 36 acres; Westwood Common, &c. On all which, the tenants common with great and small beasts. And the lete fee or common fine of each parish, is 20s. Among the ancient customs of the manor I find, that the copyholders were forced to grind at one of the lord's mills, which occasioned the two mills to be let at 5l. per annum in those days, the tithe being allowed out of it. They were obliged to pay a fine to the lord for license or leave to marry their sons and daughters: and to pay childwite if they had any bastards; and could not sell an ox or male colt of their own breed, without leave of their lord; the market and fairs then let at 3 marks and an half a year; and divers of the tenants paid ploughshares for the fines of their lands.

PULHAM, HEMENHALE'S, VAUXES'S, STURMIN'S, AND STURMER'S,

In Pulham, Riveshale, Dickleburgh, and Titeshale, in Norfolk.

But being all purchased in, long since, there is no such manor now existing. The demesns or manor-house, called Vance's or Vauce's in Pulham, with a farm at Rushall, formerly part of the said manors, is settled for the propagation of the Gospel in New-England.

The dean and chapter of ELY, have a small manor in this town, called

WINSTON'S CUM PULHAM,

The quitrents of which are only 17s. 10d. per annum; it formerly belonged to the Prior of Ely, who held part of it, of the gift of Osbert de Stradsete.

For Ric. de Boyland's lands here, see vol. i. p. 57.

PULHAM-MARKET hall is a good old house, enclosed with a high wall of brick embattled, and was formerly the mansion-house, of the PERCIES, a younger branch of the Northumberland family; in 1543, Mary, daughter of Henry Persy, Gent. was buried in St. Mary's church at Pulham: in 1564, Alice Percy was married to John Bunkenham, and it seems, as if another daughter was married to a Brampton, for this estate was owned by William Brampton, a strenuous man on the King's side in Kett's rebellion, by whom a great part of the present building was erected, and it continued in that family, till a William Brampton sold it to Philip Rosier, who left it to Peter Rosier his brother, late high-sheriff of Norfolk, who died here in 1743. (See p. 397.)

The arms of the Earl of Northumberland, and those of Brampton impaling Leventhorp, are in the windows.

DENTON,

TAKES its name from the Saxon word den, a cave, or hollow place between two hills, which exactly answers to its situation: ¹ the present church stands on a high hill, and the parsonage-house on the north side of the churchyard, in the very den or hollow, from which the village is named. The superiour jurisdiction over divers freemen of this town, from the time of the Conquest to this day, hath passed with the hundred of Earsham; ² but the chief manor of Denton, was held of Bishop Stigand by ALFRIZ, in the Confessor's time, ³ and by EUDO son of Spiruwin at the Conqueror's survey; when it was worth 4l. per annum the town being then a mile long, and four furlongs broad, and paid 18d. geld. This came to William de Albany, who joined it to Bukenham castle, with which it passed many ages, as you may see at vol. i. p. 369, &c. Another part which formerly belonged to Bury abbey, was held by ТАЕМОУТ, and after by the said Eudo; ⁴ this constituted that manor called Payone's in Denton.

¹ Thus DEN and STRAND, in the old law terms, signifies liberty for a ship to run aground or come ashore, which they usually did in such places for their safety.

DENTON cum TOPCROFT MANOR

Passed with the Albanys, and at the division of the estate of that family among female heiresses (as at vol. i. p. 372,) was allotted, among others, to Sir Rob. de Tateshall, Knt. in whose family it continued till the failure of issue male. In 1227, King Henry III. granted to Sir Robert de Tateshale, Knt. a charter for free-warren here, which was confirmed to Constantine Clifton, his heir; and in 1285, Rog. Bigot was found, as lord of the hundred, to have joint free-warren with him: it went from the Tateshales through the Bernaks, Orrebys, &c. as at vol. i. p. 374, &c. to the Cliftons, and continued in that family with Bukenham castle, till 1447, and then Sir John Clifton, Knt. gave this manor (as at p. 377, vol. i.) to Robert Clifton his cousin,⁵ and his heirs; who, jointly with Elizabeth his wife, conveyed the united manors of DENTON cum TOPCROFT, the manors of Hoes and Littlehall in Denton, with the advowson of the church, to Sir Gilbert Debenham, Knt. son of Sir Giles de Debenham, Knt. together with a manor in Denver, and the advowson of St. Giles's chapel in Topcroft; the manors then extending into Denton, Topcroft, Alburgh, Bedingham, Wotton, Hemenhale, Hadesco-thorp, and Dicleburgh; and by a fine passed soon after, they were settled on Tho. Gardyner, as trustee, for the use of Robert and Eliz. Clifton his wife, for life, remainder to Sir Tho. Brewse, of Salle in Norfolk,⁶ and Wenham in Suffolk, and Eliz. his second wife, sister and heiress to Sir Gilbert Debenham, and their heirs:⁷ Sir Thomas's will is dated in 1479, by which he ordered himself and wife to be buried in Wodebridge priory church, of which he was patron, and where many of his ancestors lie; he had four sons, William, Robert, John, and Edward, and a brother named Robert, whose daughter Anne, was a nun at Reddingfield; he gave his manor of Stinton's in Salle, to William his eldest son, after the death of Eliz. his wife, to whom he gave the manors of Hawker's, Denton, Topcroft, Hoo, and Littlehall, with the advowsons of Denton and St. Giles's chapel in Topcroft, for life; and his feoffees settled them accordingly, with remainder to Robert Brewse, Esq. his second son, and his heirs; he married Katherine, daughter of Sir John Wingfield of Letheringham in Suffolk, Knt. and was succeeded by Thomas Brewse of Topcroft-Hall and Wenham in Suffolk, Esq. who in 1514 was lord; he married Jane, daughter of Scroop of Bentley in Suff.; their son, Sir John Brewse of Wenham, was lord in 1533 and 1582; and in 1590, Thomas Brewse, Esq. whose son John Brewse, in 1602, was lord, being then six years old; he was afterwards knighted, and married Cecily, only daughter to John Wilton of Topcroft, Gent. (see vol. i. p. 364.) and soon after the WILTONS were lords. In 1650, I find that Rob. Wilton, son of Ric. Wilton, brother to the said Cecily Brewse, held a court baron for

HOE'S MANOR IN TOPCROFT,

Being joined to Denton cum Topcroft, I choose to treat of it here: it belonged at the Conquest to Bury abbey, and at the survey Berengarius held it of the Abbot,⁴ and the lete then belonged to it, and it was arms of Smyth quartering Churchman (see vol. i. p. 449) and this, worth 40s. per annum : this man was infeoffed in it by Abbot Baldwyn, and in 1196, Roger de Hoo owned it; in the year 1300, he was returned as holding it by inheritance from John de Hoo his father; in this record he is called Howe; he divided it into two parts, that in Topcroft, Roger de Coggeshale, and the other, Nic. de Fulsham had; and being soon after united, it passed through many hands, and was purchased by Andrew de Bixton, citizen of Norwich, whose scoffees, in 1348, conveyed it to Catherine his widow for life, and then to Jeffery his son and heir, who sold it to the Cliftons, and in 1378, Sir John Clifton was lord, and in 1458, Robert Clifton, Esq. who had it by inheritance from his father, joined it to Topcroft cum Denton manor, with which it still remains.

LITTLE-HALL MANOR IN TOPCROFT

Is also joined to the aforesaid manor : this had its original in 1302, when Robert de Tateshall, the fourth of that name, then lord of Topcroft and Denton, granted to William de Bernak and Alice his wife, daughter of Robert de Driby, sister and heir of John de Driby, and their heirs, about the third part of the manor, to be held of his capital manor at 2*d.* a year, (see vol. i. p. 374) John Beruak, their son and heir, had it, and after him Hugh his brother; in 1352, Richard Bernak, and Alice daughter of Ric. de Watervil, his wife, had it; and with Margaret, daughter and heiress of Sir John Bernak, it went to her husband John Stonham, Esq. and so to the Greys; John Grey, Esq. of Topcroft, was the first that owned it of that family; he left it to Robert Grey his son and heir, who sold it to John Stanhawe of Bedingham, whose son Ralf Stanhawe was lord in 1409, and before 1447, sold it to Robert Clifton, Esq. and Elizabeth his wife, who joined it to his other manors, with which it still remains.

The customs of these manors are,

The eldest son is heir, they give no dower, every message pays 6s. 8*d.* fine certain, every acre of land of the old grant or feoffment, pays 2s. each acre fine certain, and every acre of the new grant 4s. fine certain.

WESTHALL, OR PAYONE'S MANOR IN DENTON,

Was formerly a considerable one, extending into divers towns. It was in two parts, in 1239, Stephen de Brokedish granted his part (which contained a carcate of land) to John son of Hamon, and Maud his wife, who in 1249 was called JOHN DE DENTON; in 1256, he claimed to be superiour lord of his own fee, excluding the Earl Marshal, who had only the weyfs of it in right of the hundred. Roger de Denton succeeded, and in 1397, Will. de Wotton had it; and in 1345, Rob. de Occult, and then it became joined to the principal part of the manor, which was infeoffed by BURY abbot in the BYGODS, and by them in the BOISES of Fersfield, and passed with that manor, as you see in vol. i. p. 74, &c. In 1345, Sir John Howard had it; in 1401, Gilbert Fraunsham was lord; and it was soon after purchased by Stephen Payon of Denton, and left to William Payone, from whom it took its name: the next owner I meet with, was John Bengys, parson of Scarning, who released it to Robert Rous of Dennington, Sir Will. Phelip, Knt. Sir John Carbonel, Ric. Pykot, and Robert Park, to the use of Ric. Pykot; and so it became joined to Starston-hall manor, to which I refer you.

This CHURCH is dedicated to the Virgin MARY, who had her image in the chancel, with a light burning before it. Domesday of Norwich tells us, that it was valued at 36 marks, that the rector had a house and carcate of land, and paid 2s. synodals, 7s. 7d. ob. archdeacon's procurations, and 14d. ob. Peter-pence. The Corography says, there are 80 acres of glebe inclosed, and wooded, lying round the house within itself, and hath a pretty manor, having about 20 copyholders, and six marks a year quitrents, the fines being at the will of the lord. This town paid 4l. 10s. clear to every tenth. It stands thus in the King's Books;

24l. DENTON rectory, 2l. 8s. yearly tenths.

And consequently pays first-fruits, and is incapable of augmentation.

¹ N. B. there is a school now kept here.

there is a meadow belonging to Denton parish : there are 7 acres and an half of town-lands to repair the church ; a pightle called Charitable Use Pightle, of 20s. a year, for the use of the poor, which was given by Mr. John Porter, formerly rector ; Robert Rogerson, rector, by his will dated 1713, gave a piece of land intermixed with the glebe, for the augmentation of the rectory for ever.

In 1693, Sarah Bidbank gave 8s. per annum, to buy Bibles, to be given away at Easter by the church-wardens. Mr. Warnes gave 20s. per annum to the poor labourers of Denton, which is now paid by the treasurer of the Boys Hospital, in Norwich, for which, see vol. iv. p. 413.

This HUNDRED is all enclosed, and as good fertile soil as any part of Norfolk.

THE HUNDRED OF HENSTEDE.

THE hundred of HENSTEDE, anciently called HENESTEDA, or HEINESTEDE, in Domesday Book, takes its name from the Saxon words þine, a husbandman, and ƿæsa a place or mansión; and so signifies the place or dwelling for the husbandmen, which shows as if this part was cultivated before the adjacent part of the country, which is no wonder, if we consider that the old Roman Castrum or Castre is in it, which was a defence for them against all invaders.

In the Confessor's time, the Abbot of St. Bennet at the Holm had a freeman, who held 5 acres, &c. the rest of the hundred being the KING'S, at both the Confessor's and Conqueror's Surveys, all the churches were valued in their several manors. The fee of the hundred is, and always was in the Crown, and have in different ages been leased out to divers persons, as in 1327, Johu de de Clavering, lord of Horseford, and it continued with that honour some time; it was then worth 8*l.* per annum, "without oppressing the country," (as the words of the records say) and the Earl-Marshal, by his bailiff, held pleas De vetito Namio (withernam) and had free-warren in all his demesans in the hundred: the town of Amringhale was exempt from the hundred, as belonging to the Prior of Norwich; as also, the towns of Trous and Newton, on the same account: King James I. demised it to Sir Charles Cornwaleis, Knt. Charles, eldest son of Sir Will an Cornwaleis, Knt. and Thomas Cornwaleis, second son of Sir Charles, for their lives, and the longest liver of them, with all its rights, court letes, felous goods, &c. at the yearly rent of six pounds and nine pence halfpenny farthing, or 10*l.* increased rent for the whole hundred, which paid yearly, clear of all deductions, 56*l.* 9*s.* 2*d.* to every tenth, and is all in the deanery of BROOK, and archdeaconry of NORFOLK.

	The annual payment of each town in this hundred to the land tax, at 4 s. in the pound.			The quarterly payment for each town, for quarterage , vagrant-money , &c. for a 600 l. levy each quarter.

AMERINGHALL,

So called from ALMARIC, its Saxon owner: this manor was a berewie to THORP by Norwich; at the survey it belonged to the Conqueror, and was under Godric's management; the village was five furlongs long, and three broad, and paid 8d. to the geld or tax.² It continued in the Crown till given to one Flahald, with the manor of Lakenham, and his son Alan gave it to the church of Norwich; and it was settled by Bishop Herbert, with the King's consent, on the prior and monks there. In 1206, 8th of King John, ROBERT, the chaplain of Ameringhale, settled 70 acres of land here, and seven acres in Trowse-Newton, on the prior and convent, after his own, and his wife Estrild's death, and the death of their son John. In 1281, Edward I. licensed Richard de Swerdeston and Isabell his wife to convey and settle many lands in this village, on the prior and convent of Norwich. In 1285, the prior had view of frankpledge, and assise of bread and ale belonging to this manor, which continued till the convent's dissolution in the monastery, and was regranted to the DEAN and chapter, who are now lords; it hath been leased out by them, to the families of the Mingays and Hernes, and Sir Horace Pettus of Rackhithe, Bart. hath the present lease.

And for his impropriate tithes and spiritualities, six marks, and 8*d.*

The CHURCH is dedicated to St. Mary the Virgin, and was appropriated by John de Grey Bishop of Norwich, to the chamberlain of that monastery;³ the rectory was valued at six marks, and the vicarage at 40*s.* and was not taxed; it paid 3*d.* carvage, but no synodals, procurations, nor Peter-pence; it being exempt from the archdeacon's jurisdiction: the Dean and Chapter hath probate of wills, and all archidiaconal power,⁴ but at the appropriation the Bishop reserved to himself and successours, all pontifical and parochial jurisdiction, and gave them liberty to serve the church by their chaplains, removeable at pleasure; but yet they were forced to endow a vicarage, to which the Priors of Norwich presented the following

Here was a small chapel dedicated to St. Andrew, now demolished; it stood at a place called Belhawe.

The church is eleven yards long, and five and an half broad, the chancel is seven yards long, and the same breadth as the church, and are both thatched; there is a square tower about 35 feet high, and three bells, but no isles or porch.

I find that NICHOLAS HERNE of Tibenham in Norfolk, had NICHOLAS, his eldest son, who came and built a good seat at Ameringale (which is the house now standing) and settled there: he was clerk of the Crown, and raised large fortunes, and had two wives, but leaving no issue, his estate descended to his brother, Richard Heron, or Herne, Esq. alderman of London, who married Alice, daughter of — Pascke, D. D. of Cambridge, by whom he had two sons, Nicholas, his eldest, and JOHN HERNE of Lincoln's Inn, his second son, to whom he gave Ameringale; he married Susan, daughter of John Woodward, Esq. grocer, and alderman of London, by whom he had John Herne aforesaid, who was buried under this monument, and by Mary, daughter of George Pitt, his wife had six sons and three daughters: 1, SUSAN, married to Luke Clapham of Ludlow in Shropshire. 2, MARY, to Benj. Stone of London, merchant, but died without issue. 3, CATHERINE, unmarried in 1708. The 6th son, Lionel, was a merchant in London, had a deputy teller's place in the Exchequer, and died a widower without issue in 1714, and was buried in St. Andrew's Holbourn, London. ROBERT, the 5th son, was fellow of Clare-hall in Cambridge, and died without issue; as did THOMAS, the 4th son, and GEORGE, the 2d son.

JOHN HERNE, the eldest son, married first, Mary Cotton, and is buried in the altar rails under a marble, with the arms of Herne and Cotton impaled, and this,

His second wife was Dorothy, daughter of William Cooke of Broom, Esq. who is also buried by her, under a black marble with the arms of

Leaving no issue by his wives, his estate at his death, about 1616, went to

FRANCIS HERNE, his third brother, who was a Spanish merchant, and married a Flatman, by whom he had Eliz. Anne, and Frances; and a son, FRANCIS HERNE, Esq. who sold Ameringate to Dame ELIZ. PETTUS, mother of Sir HORACE PETTUS, Bart. the present owner.

CASTOR,

THE ancient CASTRUM, or one of the chief CAMPS of defence when the Romans possessed this country. I take it, that after Claudius Cæsar entered this land, which was about the 46th year after CHRIST, and Ostorius, his Proprator, or lieutenant, had vanquished the Iceni, the old inhabitants of these parts, who openly opposed them, and defended their country to the very utmost of their power, that then they first settled here, raised camps, appointed colonies, and fixed stations, in order to keep the new conquered country in subjection, and to fortify themselves against any future attempts of the natives; that in case of any turn of adverse fortune, they might not be destitute of strong camps, and large fortifications to retire to, till they could either turn the scale themselves, or gain time to send to their allies to come to their assistance; and that in case of necessity, such help might not be hindered (like a wise and warlike people) they always took care so to fix their camps and stations, in all places where the situation and course of rivers would permit, that they might have a free passage by them to the ocean, either to have assistance by men or provisions, whenever they wanted them; or if they could not keep their ground, a safe retreat at least, for their persons and effects; thus landing at the Garienis Ostium, or mouth of the Yare, where Yare-mouth now is, they fixed a strong castle on the south side, placed a garrison of the Stablesian horse the e, named it Gariononum (from its situation on the Garienis, or Yare)⁹ and so made it a guard as well as an entry, into that part of the country which is now called Suffolk, the remains of which still are very perfect; the town that belonged to it assuming the Saxon name burgh from this fortification, at this day called Burgh Castle; where abundance of coins, fibulas, and other Roman antiquities are now found: opposite to this, on the northern side of the water, as an inlet into, and guard of, that country which is now called Norfolk, they made another camp, and called it Castrum, and the village in which it was, is now called Castor or Castre. And following the river up into the country till the course of it divided into two streams, they turned with that on the southern side, and at the first streight where it was easy to command the passage over, fixed this CAMP, which for its dimensions and strength was named CASTRUM, or the camp, by way of eminence; and is still called CASTOR; it was certainly their most considerable fortification in these parts, as appears from its dimensions, which remain very conspicuous to this day: it is a square single VALLUM and RAMPART, and hath been enclosed with a strong wall of flints and Roman bricks, still evident in many places; the grand entrance was in the middle of the east part, at each corner of which, there were mounds, or watch-towers; and below on the west part, which was washed by the Tais, or Tese, was a water-gate with a round tower by it, where the vessels used to unload; the whole site contains about 30 acres, at the south-east corner within the rampart, stands the parish church, placed there, on account of the convenience for the materials of which it is built; for the whole is of flints, and pieces of Roman bricks, taken from the old walls of the camp; and indeed, most of the houses in the parish, are built of the like materials; at the south-east end of the chancel, in the bottom of the trench, is a small spring or well of water, about five

⁹ Mr. Camden says, the Garienis or Yarien was called by the Britons GUERNE, by the English Gerne or Jere, from the alder-trees (so named in British) with which it was overshadowed; and that it rises at Gerveston or Jereston, near the middle of the county, and so comes by Berford to Ertham, Eaton, &c. making CASTOR to stand on it; but this is an error, and so is the whole, as to Norwich standing on Baraden, &c.

² The Roman bricks are 16 inches and an half long, a foot broad, and an inch and half thick; there are some at the south-west corner of the church, and at the two corners of the chancel.

feet deep, which is always full and very cold. I never heard of any urns found, which makes me think, there was no burial-place appointed here, but at the VENTA ICENORUM; which, though Mr. Cambden and others have thought fit to fix here, I can by no means join with them, for reasons already given in my 2d volume, at the 2d and 3d pages; [see vol. iii. p. 2, 3:] but imagine that place to have been at what we now call North-Yarmouth, where there is by far a greater number of urns found, than at any place in the counties of Norfolk or Suffolk;² all the several known Roman burial-places, being far less than that: the country people now call it Castor-castle,³ and the part of the tower by the water, when it stood higher than it does now, might give rise to its being so called. I take it, when the Romans in general quitted this land, which was about the year 418 after CHRIST, that this camp, being deserted in a good measure, the remaining Romans and notives joining together, became one people, and the situation where NORWICH now is, being much better than that at CASTOR, as standing on rising and high ground, and on a far better stream, this at Castor declining, as the sand at Yare's-mouth increased, most of them left this place and settled there, as well for the better convenience of fishing, as for carrying their goods higher up into the inland parts of the country, even to VENTA, which though then in the decline, yet remained a place of more note than this; till by the fixing of the sand on which Yarmouth now stands, the water so far retired, as to cut off all commerce to it by that element, and then VENTA wasted very speedily as CASTOR had done; out of the ruins of which, the new-founded city of NORWICH suddenly sprang up to great maturity; but yet, CASTOR was a place still regarded, as as fit for defence, and as such always belonged to, and was in the hands of the Saxon, English, and Danish kings, both before, in, and after the Heptarchy; till King Edward the Confessor gave it to the monastery of St. Edmund his kinsman,⁴ with Mildenhale, and the eight hundreds and an half, in Suffolk; and THURKETEL, a noble Dane, who had obtained the keeping of this place, with a grant of part of it, gave his part with Thorp, in common, to the monasteries of St. Edmund and St. Bennet at the Holm,⁵ and upon the Abbot of

² I am told of two urns found at Dunston-hill some time since, which is on the other side of the river, but not a mile from the camp.

³ In 1575, a survey of this town was made upon oath, and the lands belonging to the several manors of Over-hall and Nether-hall in Castor, and of Blackworth-hall, Ameringhall, and Framlingham Pigot, which extended hither, were all described, and among other lands, some are abutt'd, Ad pedem montis Muri CASTELLI. And the land within the rampart is thus described, terra infra pedem Montis Muri CASTELLI continua cum fossata, &c.

⁴ REX EDWARDUS dedit cognato suo SANCTO EDMUNDO, Mildenhale et Octo et dimid. hundreda illi appendencia et CASTRE, &c. Consuetud. Abb. Sci. Edmundi, penes Car. Baronem Cornwaleis 1726 fo. 73. And in Register Pinchbeck, fo. 181, there are entered 3 carucates of land. 10 villeins, 7 bordars, 4 socmen of 25 acres, given to that abbey by King Edward the Confessor, &c. which is also recited in the Black Register of that abbey at fo. 167. Mon. Ang. vol. i. fo. 292.

⁵ THURKETEL, THANE, dedit Deo et SANCTO BENEDICTO de Hulmo, in comuni, CASTRE et Torp. Regr. Alb. fo. 19. Pinchbeck, fo. 223. His will is recited at large in the Sacrist's Regr. fo. 45. Mon. Ang. tom. i. fo. 294.

Bury's releasing Thorp wholly to St. Bennet, the Abbot of St Bennet released their part in Castor to St. Edmund and so the whole became vested in Bury abbey, and continued so till the Conquest.

The great number of Roman coins daily found here,⁶ convince us of its having been a place of great repute during the most part of the time, when that great people were concerned in Britain; I have seen above an hundred, found by Mrs. Susanna Long of Dunston, who hath many more found by other people; I have a great number myself, besides several which I gave to the cabinet of coins in the publick library of the city of Norwich, among which, the following inscriptions may be read on the several obverses and reverses.

There are great numbers of the denarij, with Romulus and Remus sucking the wolf; and those, with CONSTANTINOPOLIS and the Genius of that city on the reverse; the most common are Constantine's, with the reverses of Gloria Exercitus, and Militum Reparatio, with a Roman taking a Briton captive; made probably when Constantine appeased the British insurrection, and his soldiers had recovered the credit they had before lost in a battle with them.

THOMAS PETTUS, Esq.⁷ by will dated Oct. 14, 1618, proved in the prerogative court of the Archbishop of Canterbury at London, gave 5l. 10s. a year, for ever, to be distributed by the overseers for the time being, in this church, every Sunday, as equally as may be, to six poor people inhabiting in this town,⁸ and tied all his lands in Shimpling in this county, being about 30l. per annum for payment thereof.

This Table was erected by Thomas Blondel, who at his own expense, recovered the said donations, after they had been buried in oblivion for a time; and do here set them in publick view, to prevent the like for the future.

The font here seems to be made by that good man, Richard de Castor,⁹ whose life you may see at vol. iv. p. 147. On it is carved in stone, the emblems of the Holy Trinity, the four Evangelists, with the instruments of the Passion; the arms of the East-Angles, West-Saxons, and Bury abbey; and round it at bottom is,

FRAMLINGHAM-PICOT

WAS separated from Framlingham-Earl very early, when Roger Bigot Earl of Norfolk gave to his beloved cousin REINER PICOT, Kut. and his heirs male, for the acceptable services that he did him in feats of arms, and other honourable deeds, to his great credit and praise, with the King's special leave, all Framlingham-Picot, with the advowson of the church there; also his whole manor, and services of all the tenants belonging to it; and all liberties whatever, with a fold for 500 sheep, going in Framlingham, Bramerton, Kirby, and Rockland; with view of frankpledge over all the tenants, free bull and free boar; hunting, hawking, and fishing, as well in Framlingham, as in all the Earl's adjacent manors; to hold them as freely as the Earl received them of the King, when he knighted him; and at the same time, he constituted the said REINER and his heirs male, marshal of his household and castle of Framlingham in Suffolk, with all perquisites, customs, and profits, thereto belonging; with liberty to take two bucks every summer, and one doe every winter, at what time they please; witnesses to this deed were, Clerewald his son, and Baldwin his brother; Robert and Will. de Saham, Will. Blomeville, Roger de Poryngland, Will. de Kirby, and others; (the seal is the same as in vol. ii. p. 113.) I find Will. Picot and Rob. Malherbe lords soon after; and Rob. Picot, who held in Suffolk two fees of the new feoffment of Roger Bigot; in 1235, Ralf Picot was lord and patron. In 1249, John Picot was fined for not having taken the honour of knighthood; he was succeeded by Ralf Picot, who held one fee in Suffolk of the old feoffment, of Nigel Bishop of Ely; in 1306, he and Maud his wife presented to this church; and in 1312, settled the manor on themselves, with remainder to George and William their sons, and Emua and Christian their daughters; and then on Richolda, wife of Nic. de Ingham. In 1317, Maud Picot had it, who remarried to Nic. de Castello, or Castle, of Stanfield; for in 1333, they presented Geo. Pycot her son; and in 1352, it seems they were both living; her grandson, Ralf Picot, son (as I take it) of Will. Picot, succeeded; and in 1361, his son Gregory Picot: in 1396, Barth. Picot, Esq. lived here, as did his son Tho. Pygot, or Picot, Esq. in 1434, but was removed to Stradsete in Suffolk in 1437; his son Thomas was lord here and of Stradsete, and left them to John Picot, Esq. his son, who married Joan daughter of Peter Bedingfield, Esq. and died in 1546, leaving one daughter Alice, and one son and heir named John, then one year old only; he was succeeded by Francis Pigot, Esq. who sold it to Rob. Gawsell of Shotesham, Esq. and afterwards Francis Lane sold it to Jane daughter of Anthony Sparrow, late Bishop of Norwich, who married Richard Webster, clerk, and they sold it to Sam. Nedham, rector of Dicleburgh in Norfolk; it was afterwards purchased by the father of John Pell, Esq. alderman of Norwich, who is the present lord and patron.

John de Bresele. In 1396, BARTH. PICOT of Framlingham, Esq. gave it to John Malpas, who was buried here in 1404, and in 1405, Jeff. son of Rob. Cock of Howton; and in

Stephen Paly. In 1431, Simon Dykon of Biteryng, and John Barnard, gave it to
Tho. Harteston, who resigned in 1434, and Tho. Pigot, or Picot, Esq. gave it to Nic. Trowth, on whose resignation in 1437, Rob. Ker had it, by the gift of THO. PICOT of Stradscte, Esq. who in 1443, presented

Tho. Eytow, who was deprived in 1464, and Tho. Picot of Stradscte, gave it to brother
John Winter; and in 1504, John Sheriff had it by lapse, and the next year it was really united to Framlingham-Earl, and so continued till 1661,⁹ as you may see at p. 433, to which I refer you.

In 1603, both the Framlinghams had 60 communicants. In 1562, Thomas Witherel of this town purchased the next turn of Francis Pigot, and conveyed it to Hen. Witherel, A.B. of Harleston.

1661, Christopher Athow was presented by ROB. GAWSELL of Shotesham, Esq. and held it with Framlingham-Earl by personal union; at his death in 1669, the said patron gave it to

Samuel Snowden, at whose resignation in 1673, he presented Samuel Hancock, who held it by union with the other Framlingham. In 1698, Tho. Cooper, clerk, was presented by SAMUEL NEEDHAM, rector of Dickleburgh, and Peter Parham, M. D.

Mr. Richard French, the present rector, holds it united to the consolidated rectory of Burgh cum Apeton, with the mediety of Holveston.

At the time of making Norwich Domesday, the heir of Sir William Picot was lord and patron; the rector had a house and 30 acres, now no house, but 25 acres two roods of glebe: it was valued at 8 marks, and pays 1s. 6d. synodals, 6s. 8d. procurations, 10d. Peter-pence, and 5d. carvage; and the whole town (which is left out of Saxton's map) paid 50s. to each tenth.

So that it is discharged of first-fruits and tithes, and is capable of augmentation.

The CHURCH is very small, and never had a steeple, but a bell hanging on the outside, in an arch at the west end. The nave is only eleven yards long and seven broad; the chancel six yards square; both, as the south porch, are tiled: this is also dedicated to St. Andrew. In the nave on the south side, is a low altar-tomb, but no inscription; on a brass plate is this,

Alle Men that do my Sepulture behold & see,
On me John Bunting shew your Charite.
Buried Aug. V. M. cccc°.

In the porch, Edward Watson, an humble admirer of free-grace, 1722, 68. Amy his wife, 1725, 70.

Strict is the way to heaven, and strait the Gate,
Few enter in, because they strive too late,
Be therefore ready now, as you would dye,
Our Works are Seeds, sown for eternity.

P O R I N G L A N D.

THERE are two villages of this name, one called East, or Great-Poringland, and the other, West, or Little-Poringland; both of them are in the liberty of the Duke of NORFOLK, and formerly were but one village, the whole of which (except the parts of other manors which extended hither) came into the hands of ROG. BIGOT; and have continued in the Norfolk families ever since, descending in the same manner as Forncet manor, to which I refer you.

But the advowsons and other parts which were granted off by the Bigots, constituted other manors lying in both parishes, of which I shall treat separately. It is plain, that the church of Great Porland (as it is commonly called) was founded before the Confessor's time, for in his survey we find it mentioned, as having then 12 acres of glebe worth one shilling an acre, of which ULKETEL, a Dane, was then patron, as belonging to the manor of Framlingham; to which, the chief part of this town always was, and now is, appendant: the style of the court anciently being FRAMLINGHAM ex parte PORINGLAND.

At the Conqueror's survey the towns were a mile and a quarter long, and a mile broad, and paid 12*d.* to the geld or tax. In 1285, Roger le Bigot, superiour lord of both the Porlands, claimed view of frankpledge, assise of bread and ale, and free-warren over all his tenants; and afterwards the Earl-Marshal, lord here, was sued for exceeding the bounds of his free-warren in Porland-Parva, by extending it above half a mile towards Shotesham, when it did not really

The advowson of the church of Great-Portland, which belonged to the Earl's manor of Portland-Magna, as a member of his manor of Framlingham-Earl, was given with divers lands by the Bygod family, to Clement de Portland, whose son Roger de Portland and Joan his wife, gave it in Henry the Third's time, to the monks of St. Mary at Thetford;² in which house it continued till its dissolution, and then was granted with it to the Duke of Norfolk.³

This family surnamed of the town, continued here many generations; John de Poringland and Katherine his wife owned the estate of that family in 1268, and in 1313, Roger de Poringland and Margaret his wife had it; and after them, Alexander their son; from whom descended Robert de Portland, a monk of Norwich,⁴ and brother Ric. de Portland a gray friar there;⁵ as also, another of the same name, vicar of St. Stephen's:⁶ this estate came to the Fastolfs, and was sold by Thomas Fastolf, Gent. in 1594, to Thomas Bransbye, Gent.⁷ which family continued some time here.

John Pouches, resigned in 1323, with Roger de Gunton, for Gunton rectory. In 1324, John de Foxton had it, who changed it for Hedenham in

1334, with Rob. de Swathying. In 1349, Tho. de Mor of Saham, deacon, was presented by MARY Countess of Norfolk, by the King's grant, who had the temporals of Thetford priory in his hands, as an alien; he was one of the 60 clerks that the Pope dispensed with, being when instituted about 20 years old, on account of the great pestilence that had swept away most of the clergy in the diocese.

Abraham Barri, in whose time the church and chancel was rebuilt, and the chancel windows glazed; in the north window next the altar, part of an inscription still remains in remembrance of him, 1410, Robert Spenser of Shadingfield; it seems he arched the inside of the chancel roof, for his arms still remain thereon, with those of the benefactors to the rebuilding of the church, which was finished in the year 1432, as the date on an upper south window shows: besides his own, there are the arms of Brotherton, Bateman, France, and England, with a label of three ar. and V. a cross in-grailed, ar. counterchanged.

1423, Tho. Lambert of Westley, who resigned in 1451, to Rob. Curyour, and he to

John Morgan, and he in

Tho. Weston, resigned in Orate pro anima Roberti Peresson nuper Rectoris istius Ecclesie, cuius anime propicietur Deus.

This rector built the seats in the chancel, and the screens, and painted them neatly with the twelve Apostles, each having a sentence of the Creed in labels from their mouths; there are twelve other effigies of prophets, kings, and confessors, with labels also.

1, Moses, with yellow horns holding the law,

In Principio creavit Deus Celum et Terram.

2, St. Peter with the first Article of the Creed.

3, A person crowned, and this, Dominus dixit ad me, Filius meus, es Tu.

4, An Angel, Ecce Virgo concipiet et Partiet Filium.

5, Post sex hebdomadas occidetur Christus Domini.

6, Ero mors tua O mors mortuus tuus ero inferne.

7, Spiritus meus erit in medio Vestri, nolite timere.

8, In Ecclesiam Populi Dei, convenerunt Populi Judei.

9, Cum odio habueris dixit tui Domine Deus Israel.

10, Suscitabo Filios tuos Spon.

11, Ego do vobis viam et Vitae et Mortis.

12, * * * * *

On the screens are Adam and Eve plucking the forbidden fruit, and an angel driving them out of Paradise.

On the north end of the seat, directly over his grave, is Peresson's own effigies in his priest's habit, on his knees, saying,

Mater Dei, miserere mei.

On the south end, he is in a red cope, with this,

Iesu Fili Dei miserere mei.

He was succeeded in 1490, by John Drake, at whose death, in

1527, Tho. Greene had it, being the last presented by the Prior; and in 1529, he had it united to Portland Parva; at his death in 1546, the King gave it to

Will. Robinson; and in 1559, the Duke of Norfolk presented Hugh Duddesbury, who held this and Portland-Parva as really united, and had a personal union with Howe; he died in 1570, and THOMAS Duke of Norfolk presented

John Gascoigne, who held Little-Portland, and in 1603, returned answer that he had 94 communicants in his parish of Portland, which were really united about 67 years since, and valued together at 6*l.* but at his death they were disunited again; and in 1612, the DUKE gave it to

William Coppin, who the next year had Little Portland by personal union; he was buried here Jan. 1, 1624, and THOMAS Earl of Arundel gave it to

*Sam. White, A. M.*⁹ who was succeeded by

Nic. Sheppherd, at whose death, in 1672, HENRY Lord Howard, of Castle-Rising, presented

Thomas Frost, L. DD. who died in 1674, and then by the name of HENRY Howard Earl of Norwich, he gave it to Richard Webster, on whose resignation in 1681, HENRY Earl of Arundel gave it to

John Paris, who held it united to Portland-Parva; he was succeeded in 1696, by Rob. Fawcet, who was presented by HEN. Duke of Norfolk, and held it with the adjoining rectory of Castor, by union, till his death; and in

1736, Arthur Womack, eldest son of Laurence Womack, late vicar of Burton, and rector of Castor by Yarmouth, was instituted, on the presentation of FRANCIS TAYLOR, Esq. and FRANCIS LOGGIN, Gent.; he held it united to Hillington rectory, till Aug. 9, 1738, when he died, and was buried in the rails on the north side of the altar, being succeeded in Oct. 25, following, by

The Rev. Mr. Vincent Hotchkiss, A. B. the present rector, who was presented by the said Francis Taylor, Esq. and Francis Loggin, Gent. patrons in full right.

The CHURCH is dedicated to All the Saints, hath a steeple round at bottom and sexangular at top, with three bells in it, on one of which is this,

Doſ sociat Sanctis ſemper Nicolauſ in altis.

There are two porches both tiled, a leaded nave, and thatched chancel.¹

Thomas Harod Clarke, rector of Bungeye, 2 May 1686, æt. 68.

Thomas Badleye, deceased 27 May 1607.

Mrs. Mary Dilke widow, daughter to the Rev. Mr. William Cecil, late rector of St. Michael Costary in Norwich, died Aug. 20, 1736, 57. This in the altar rails on the south side.

In the south chancel window is the Salutation very perfect; in one pane the Blessed Virgin, in the other an Angel meeting her, with Ave, Gratia plena Dominus tecum.

In another window St. Catherine with the wheel; and in a north window, St. Christopher carrying our SAVIOUR over the water.

The present fabrick (except the steeple, which is much older) was begun about 1400, and finished about 1432; the windows were glazed at the expense of divers benefactors, whose effigies and names, with their arms, were originally fixed in them, though now much defaced. There was a tabernacle of All the Saints, and two gilds, one of St. Anne, and the other of St. Andrew, held at the two altars, which stood in the nave, on either side of the entrance of the chancel. In the north windows are the following arms, &c. viz. of

HARE single, and HARE impaled with BASSINGBOURNE. Parts of a man and woman praying, and over them, Sancta Trinitas unus Deus, miserere Nobis. And the shield of the Holy Wounds, viz. Arg. a cross az. on which a wounded heart gul. in chief two hands, in base two feet, all cooped and wounded gul. and under it Jesu Christe. St. Sebastian holding an arrow. Our SAVIOUR standing with the crown of thorns on, and the purple robe; his hands erected, and under him a woman on her knees praying, with this over her in a label,

Ut intendas et defendas Morde tristi.

In the south windows, St. Laurence. BROTHERTON'S arms. A man and woman kneeling, but their subscriptions lost, all but Uxoris eius. There is a fine bust of the Holy Virgin crowned; and in the upper part of the east chancel gable in the churchyard, are three niches, in one of them, part of an effigies of the Trinity still remains.

The RECTORY is in Norfolk archdeaconry, and Brook deanery, and stands thus in the King's Books, 6l. PORINGLAND vulgo PORLAND Rectoria. 40l. sworn real value.

And being discharged of first fruits and tenths, it is capable of augmentation. It pays 2s. syndols, 5s. procurations to the Archdeacon.² The Prior of Thetford had a pension paid by the rector of 13s. 4d. per annum, which is now paid to the Duke of NORFOLK in right of that house. It paid 12d. Peter-pence, and 8d. carvage; and the town paid 1l. 8s. clear to each tenth, besides 5s. paid by the Prioress of Carrow for her temporals here, and 7s. by the chamberlain of the monastery of St. Edmund's Bury for his temporals, which were part of Brook manor, that extended hither. When Norwich Domesday was made, the rector had 10 acres of glebe, but no house, though now there is a very mean cottage, 10 acres and an half of glebe, and two pieces without contents; there is a piece of glebe about half a mile southward of the church, towards Howe, called the Old Churchyard, where the parish church originally stood, before it was removed for convenience to the site of the present church, which seems to have been done about William Rufus's time.

The family of the HARES fixed here, and owned a good estate in 1344, which John, son of Ralf Hare and Catherine his wife, purchased of Rob. Toke and Catherine his wife.

In 1502, Thomas Hare, by his will, tied his close under the south side of the Park, to find a mass with dirige and requiem without end:

In 1503, JOHN PRAT of this town gave two acres of land in Poringland Field, at Car-mere, to keep a light burning before the image of our Lady of Pete, in the church, and 12 acres more (now the townlands) lying in eleven pieces (all of which are plainly described) to the church-wardens and parishioners for ever, on condition they pay the rector yearly for ever 4d. on Advent Sunday to say mass for the dead, and for his soul in particular; and also cause the bells to be rung that day; and the rest of the profits to be disposed of by the church-wardens, "Pro taxis Domini Regis, et alijs oneribus, predictis parochianis et villanis, in perpetuum venturis."³

Ever since the first union, the parishes joined in choosing officers, (as they do now as to overseers), but since the consolidation of it to Howe, they pay their church rate to Howe, as well as all their tithes, and choose one constable and one surveyor for themselves; Great Porland is valued to the tax at 421l. and Little Porland at 250l.

ROSCELINES, OR RUSTELINES IN PORINGLAND.

In 1235, Peter de Roscelyne held it of Rob. Fiz.-Roger; in 1317, Thomas, son of Sir Peter Roscelyne, Knt let it to farm to Sir Walter de Norwich, at 6l. 11s. 8d. a year, when it extended into both Porlands, Cruchestoke, Shotesham, both Framlinghams, Yelverton, Trous, Brakendale, Surlingham, Kirkeby, Holveston, Bramerton, Rokeland, Lodue, and Langley. In 1327, William de Shotesham, Clerk, settled it on John de Shotesham and Margaret his wife; and in 1638, Edmund Doyley, Esq. died seized, and was found to hold it of the King's hundred of HENSTEDE, in free soccage; Susanna his daughter being then only three years and nine months old. But whether the whole of this manor was manumised, or into what hands it afterwards came, I have not found.

LITTLE PORINGLAND.

LITTLE PORINGLAND manor belonged also to the Norfolk families as a member of their manor of Framlingham, and continues so now; there is lete, free-warren, and assize of bread and ale, belonging to it; as did the advowson, till granted off, with divers lands, by the Bigots: the church was demolished before the year 1540; there are few ruins of it now to be seen, the highest piece of wall being about for life; and then to Thomas, William, Alice their daughter; and after their Nicholas, and John, their sons; and deaths, to Langley abbey.

7 feet high only : it was dedicated to St. Michael, whose image stood in the chancel, in the usual place of the imago principalis, or patron's image, which was always on the north side of the altar, mostly against the east wall, or at the very corner. When Norwich Domesday was taken, the patronage was in seven parts, William le Mouney de Gowthorp, Wil. Lerer de Dunstone, Wil. son of Nic. de Dunstone, Edm. de Carleton, Tho. de Framlingham, and others ; the rector had a house and 4 acres of land ; it was valued at 40s. but being not taxed, is not in the King's Books ; it paid 6*d.* Peter-pence, 3*d.* carvage, 12 d. synodals, and 7*s.* 7*d.* ob. archdeacon's procurations.

RECTORS.

In Edw. the First's time Ralf was rector.

1307, Edm. de Carleton settled a fifth part of the advowson on his son Alexander. In 1312, Peir le Money of Gowthorp, for his turn, gave it to Will. de Dunston. In 1314, John de Dunston gave his turn to Oliver de Witton.

1322, Ric. Weston of Norwich was presented by EUSTACE LE MOYNE of Cruchestoke. In 1323, ROB. DE DUNSTON gave it to Will. de Dunston, subdeacon. In 1332, Will. de Burgo, or Burgh, chaplain, and John de Burgh and Joan his wife, settled it on themselves, and the heirs of John, against the heirs of Alice de Burgh. In

1349, Edm. de Carleton was presented by Sir PETER SPIRHARD of Fakenham, who granted to this rector, and his heirs, a small piece of land joining to the churchyard, and the fifth part of the advowson appendant to it ; he was succeeded by

John de Kimberlee, who resigned in 1372, and SIMON BLICKLING, citizen of Norwich, gave it to

Ric. Lystere, on whose quitting it the next year, JOHN LEFT presented

John Kirkehouse of Shouldham, succeeded in

1388, by John de Bruuthorp. In 1395, JOHN DE DUNSTON and MAUD his wife settled a fourth part of the advowson on Sir Edmund de Thorp, Knt. John Keymes, and others. In

1406, John atte Dam in Oxburgh had it, and the same year, ROG. BLICKLING, citizen of Norwich, gave it to

Rob. Leghun, who soon resigned, for the next year

John Witton had it by lapse, who changed for Swerdeston with Walkeline Percomb, and he in 1412, for Rede, with

Simon Aleyu, who was presented by Sir THOMAS ERFINGHAM, Knt. In 1416, Clement Herward, Rog. Blickling's feoffee in the manor of Gowthorp in Swerdeston (to which this patronage was said to be appendant) presented

John Rede of Peterburgh, who was buried in the chancel in 1422. I find no presentation at his death, till 1432, when

Will. Wirmod had it by lapse, who changed for Berg-hapeton, in 1434, with Rog. Philpot, who was presented by ROB. BLICKLING : his successor,

Walter Windeshore, resigned in 1463, and John Winter had it of the gift of JOHN GOSSELYN, then patron; he lived at Little-Poringland, and by his will dated 1505,⁵ ordered his body to be buried in the "Grave redy made withynne the chaunsell of Lityl Poryngland, Item, I wyll and bequethe to the fyndyng of v Lights callid halff quarter Candells to brenne in the honour of the v Wounds of our Lord God, and the v Joies of our Lady St. Mary, to brenne upon my Grave every Holyday in Tyme of Dyvynne Service, coming of the Profights of suche Londes as hereafter shall appear remayning in my feofees Hands to that Use and Intent, to be found perpetuall. 1527, Tho. Tudenham, alias Mileham, a canon of Hempton, had it by lapse, and in 1529, MARTIN GOSTLYN presented

Tho. Green, who held by a personal union with Portland-Magna. In 1546, Hugh Duddesbury was presented by HEN. DOYLY, Esq. in right of Margaret his wife, (who, I suppose, was a Gostlyn) and held it really united to Portland-Magna, and personally united to Howe; and in 1507, HEN. DOYLY presented

John Gascoign, at whose death they were disunited again; and in 1611, EDM. DOYLY, Esq. gave it to

John Bury, who held it united to Stoke-Holy-Cross; he was succeeded by

Will. Coppin, who died rector of this, and Great Portland, in 1624, and ROGER CASTELL, guardian to Edmund Doyly, Gent. gave it to

John Nash, A. B.* 1635, EDM. DOYLY, Esq. presented

Robert Legge, at whose death, Sir WILL. DOYLY, Knt. in 1662, gave it

Oliver Harrison, and soon after to John Goddard; his successor,

John Paris, died rector of this and Great Portland. In 1696, Tho. Hacon was collated by lapse, and held it with Yelverton; and in 1734, 22 Jul.

The Rev. Mr. Charles Wadesworth had it by lapse; and the advowson being purchased by him of the Doylies, it was consolidated upon the statute to the rectory of Howe.

BIXLEY.

THIS village is now in the liberty of the Duke of Norfolk, who is lord of it, as a member to his manor of Framlingham Earl; and it hath passed with that from early times. In 1285, Rog. le Bigot Earl of Norfolk, claimed to his manor of Biskele, a member of Framlingham Parva, view of frankpledge, assise of bread and ale of all his own tenants in Biskele, and it was allowed him in eire: the advowson always attended the manor, which wholly at first belonged to Roger Bigot, who granted off divers parts to be held of his barony. Bishop Stigand owned it in the Confessor's time, and gave it to his freeman named GÉNRET, who held it under him;⁹ Ralf Fitz-Walter had it; it was then worth 20, and was after raised to 50s., the village was half mile long and 4 furlongs broad, and paid 10*d. ob. gelt.* It had a church and 24 acres of glebe, valued at 2s. a year. Ulketel the Dane had then another part,¹ and Anslac a freeman another;² all which, after a long contest in the hundred court with Godric the sewer, Roger Bigot recovered, and had his manor completed by divers parts, in Surlingham, Rokelund, and Bramerton, being added to it.

The first part that he granted off, was to SAIER or SAER DE BISKELE and ADA his wife, who survived him, and William de Biskele inherited, who was dead before 1233, for then Hugeline his widow, released all her right to the Prioress of Carrow, which house held it to the Dissolution; and now it belongs to Carrow abbey manor, and was always held of Forncet manor at half a fee; the Prioress being taxed for it at 5*2s.* and 8*d.* temporal rents here; but in 1609, Charles Cornwallis, Knt. in right of the wife of Sir Ralf Shelton, Knt. son and heir of Sir John Shelton, Knt, owners of Carrow, sold part of them to Ric. Osborn, Gent. The Prioress had a fald-course here.

Another part was granted by Bigot, the founder, to Langley abbey, who gave it at the foundation to that house, which was always taxed at 10*s.* for their lands here; and after the Dissolution it came to the WARDS.³ It was held at a quarter of a fee of the Earl-Marshal, as of Framlingham-Parva manor.

In 1268, another part belonged to Tho. Rock, de Rupibus, or Rokele, and in 1286, Hen. de la Rokele, conveyed to Ric. de la Rokele,

Of all his numerous issue

WILLIAM WARDE, the sixth son, was the most remarkable; who being put apprentice, became a wealthy goldsmith in London, and jeweller to Henriette-Marie, King Charles the First's Queen, and was knighted by that King; the great fortunes which this gentleman raised, was owing to a lucky accident, soon after his setting out in trade, which I find thus related: Mr. Ward standing by his shop door in Lombard-street, a man in a sailor's habit passed by, whom he asked the usual question, whether he wanted any thing in his way? whose answer was, He could not tell! till he knew whether he had occasion for something he had to dispose of, which he would show him, if he pleased to go into the back shop; where Mr. Ward was surprised with a great number of rough diamonds, poured out of a bag upon the compter by the sailor, who at the same time asked him, if he had occasion for, or would buy any such things? and if so, would he would give for them? Mr. Ward answered he had, and would buy, if they could agree; which was soon done, so much to Mr. Ward's liking, that he invited the sailor, and all the ship's crew, to supper at a neighbouring tavern; where he treated them so generously, that the sailor whispered to him at parting, that he had such another parcel for him in the morning, if he pleased to buy; which Mr. Ward gladly accepted of, and bought them, gave the like treat, and parted merrily with mutual joy; the sailor for his ready cash, and the jeweller for the great advantage that he saw in his purchase. He soon fell to work upon the stones, which fully answered his expectation, and so much added to his fortunes, that he soon raised his reputation, and became one of the most eminent bankers in London. It after chanced, that Edward Lord Dudley having much impaired his fortune by irregular living, was advised by his friends, to apply to Mr. Ward, as an honest and substantial banker, for 20,000*l.* who told his Lordship at once, that the money was ready, upon producing satisfactory security; which his Lordship soon did; upon which, Mr. Ward told his Lordship, he thought he might be supplied better and more honourably, than by borrowing: and being asked, how? Mr. Ward said, he had an only son, and his lordship a granddaughter (named FRANCES) the only issue of his son and heir, Sir Ferdinando, deceased; and if they might be married together he would supply more than the present want: my Lord listened to it, the match was soon concluded, and so the two families and estates became united. When SUTTON Lord DUDLEY died, the married couple were not equal in honour; she, Lady Baroness DUDLEY, (the honour descending to females, on failure of heirs male,) her husband, only Mr. Humble Ward; but he, meriting much for seasonable supplies brought to his Majesty, was in consideration thereof, first knighted at Oxford in 1643;⁶ and shortly after, advanced to the dignity of a Baron, by the title of Lord WARD, of Birmingham in Warwickshire,⁷ from whom the present JOHN Lord WARD is descended.

EDWARD WARD of Bixley, Esq. his son and heir; who was knighted by Oliver Lord Protector, Nov. 2, 1657; he having been high sheriff of Norfolk in the preceeding year, was continued in that office this year also: his first wife was a Catlyne,¹ by whom he had no issue; but he had several children by his second wife,² Eliz. daughter and sole heir of John Harbourne of Mundham, Esq.³ granddaughter of William Harbourne of Mundham, Esq. who was sent ambassadour by Queen Elizabeth, to the Grand Signior, as appears by her Majesty's letters patent dated Nov. 29, 1582. In the year 1660, 12 Car. II. Sir Edward was created a Baronet; which patent, it is said, was procured by Lord Ward, that the eldest branch of his family might not want a title of genuine honour. He died about 1664, seized of Postwick manor and advowson, lands and estates in Bixley, Framlinghams, Kirby, Trouse, Amringhall, Poringland, &c. held in soccage of the Duke of Norfolk, which he left to

Sir EDW. WARD, Bart. his eldest son, who died about 1684, and married Jane,⁴ daughter of William Rant, M. D. of Thorpmarket and

Sir EDWARD WARD, Bart. succeeded his father in the honour and estate; he was fellow commoner of Caius college in Cambridge, and dying single in 1742, was interred in the chancel; for whom there is a neat mural monument over the south door, with the arms of Ward, and this inscription, Sacred to the Memory of Sir EDWARD WARD of Bixley, Bart. (Son of Sir Edward and Dame Susan his Wife) who at an Age exposed to Temptation, and prone to Vice, in Spight of the Contagion of Corrupt Examples, blush'd at every Vice, and practis'd every Vertue: Every humane and generous Principle, was implanted in his Soul by Nature, improved by Education, matured by practice; a large and diffusive Benevolence distinguished him to the World; to his Friends, Faith and Constancy inviolable, to his Relations, the purest Affection; and to his Mother, Piety and Tenderness beyond Example: At the University of Cambridge for the space of three Years, he pursued his Studies, with Diligence and Success, and being ready to enter into the publick and busy Scene of Life, fully prepared to satisfy the Expectation of his Country, the Hopes of his Friends, and the fond Wishes of a Parent, a malignant Fever put an end to his Life, in the 21st Year of his Age.

WITLINGHAM.

THIS village was in two parts at the Confessor's survey; one belonged to EDRIC DE LAXFIELD, and was a berewic to Eaton, as may be seen at p. 516, vol. iv.⁷ and after passing a long time with the manor of Rokele's in Trowse, became joined to a manor in Kirby-bedon,⁸ and after to Wadker's in Windham, as you may see at p. 506, vol. ii.

The principal manor of this village belonged to Bishop STIGAND, and was held by Ulflet, a free-woman, in the Confessor's time, being then worth 20s. there was a church and 10 acres of glebe, valued at 12d. a year, and the whole was of Bishop Almar's fee; at the Conquest it was risen to 30s. a year, and the town was then half a mile long, and as much broad, and paid 7d. to the geld, towards every 20s. raised in the hundred. The Conqueror gave it to Roger Bigot, of whom it was held by Rob. de Carcun or Carson at the survey,⁹ and after by William de Carcun his son, who sold it to Osbert and Parnel his wife, and they were infeoffed as at p. 129; and it continued with Carleton till 1320, and from that time with Cosley, in the Jernegans, as at p. 413, vol. ii. till the year 1342, and then Sir Peter Jernegan, Knt. conveyed it to Will. Berte. In 1371, Ric. le Spencer was lord; in 1393, George de Felbrigge and Amy his wife sold it to Will. de Ermyn, clerk, in trust for Edward Gerbridge and Cecily his wife, and their heirs. In 1432, John Coppuldike was lord, and afterwards Margaret daughter of John Coppledick, wife of Tho. Zouch, Esq. settled it with other manors, on Peter Arderne their trustee; for in 1478, Sir John Coppledick paid his relief for two fees; and in 1435, Sir John Coppledick, Knt. and Elizabeth his wife, sold it to Nicholas Hare and others, when it extended into Kirby-bedon, Trowse, Lakenham, Bixley, Framlingham, Yelverton, Norton Soupe-Cors, Newton-Flotman, Rockland, Bramerton and Surlingham; and in 1546, by the name of Sir Nic. Hare, Knt. he and Robert Hare had a grant of Saham's in Kirby-bedon, and of the impropriate rectory and advowson of Witlingham, and so it came joined to the manor; and in 1549, Robert Hare settled on Sir Nicholas Hare, Knt. and Miles Hare, his son and heir, this manor, impropriation, and advowson, with the manor and third part of the advowson of Kirby-bedon: this Miles was lord in 1559, when he paid his relief for two fees, which this manor was held by, to Rob. Kempe, Esq. feodary to the Duke of Norfolk, of whom it was held; and in 1609, Michael, son of Michael Hare, Esq. held it at two fees of Fornet manor, and in 1610, sold them to Owen Sheppherd, Esq. general receiver to Henry Howard Earl of Northampton, by which office he much advanced his fortunes; and it continued in the family till Rob. Sheppherd, Esq. barrister at law, sold it to Mr. Cock of Norwich, by whom it was sold to Edw. Pearce, Gent. of Parsons Green in Fulham parish in Middlesex, son of Edw. Pearce of London, Esq. by Mary, daughter of Thomas Bishop of London, Gent. and grandson of John Pearce of Glyn, by Alice White of Lewes in Sussex, and by Mary daughter and coheir of Sir Dudley Carleton (by his second wife, Lucy Crofts of Crofts Castle in Hertfordshire,) he had Edward Peirce, Lieutenant General, Colonel Thomas Peirce, Major General in 1693, and Mary, Lucy, Bridget, &c. Edward son of Lieutenant General Peirce, married a daughter of Major General Peirce, who now is his widow, and owns it.

The CHURCH was dedicated to St. Andrew the Apostle, and its advowson belonged to the manor: it was founded before the Confessor's survey, for it is entered there. In 1249, Richard de Rokele, lord of that part of the town which beonged to Rokele's manor in Trowse, claimed a right of presentation, against Agnes widow of Roger Fitz-Osbert, who then held the manor in dower; but upon proof that Will. de Curson, Fitz-Osbert's predecessor, always presented single, it was confirmed absolutely to the manor; and was after given by Peter Fitz-Osbert,² lord here, to the canons of St. Olave at Heringfleet in Suffolk of his father's foundation, and was immediately appropriated to their house, and having no vicarage endowed, they took the annual profits, and paid a chaplain or curate for serving the church, till the Dissolution, when it was granted to Sir Nicholas Hare, Knt. and from that time to this, hath passed with the manor, with which it now remains.

NORWICH Domesday tells us, that it had a house and 12 acres of glebe was valued at five marks and an half, and was appropriated to the Prior of St. Olave, the synodals being 16*d.* the procurations 6*s.* 8*d.* the Peter-pence 5*d.* and carvage 4*d.* ob. and the vill paid 50*s.* to each tenth. The Prior of Norwich had a portion of tithes here, out of the demesns of Roger Fitz-Osbert, which was confirmed by Bishop Blundevyle, and settled on the celerer of the monastery; they were first valued at 40*s.* after reduced to 5*s.* only; and in 1513, the Prior of St. Olave compounded for them, with the Prior of Norwich, at 12*s.* per annum. The Prioress of Carrow had temporals here taxed at 3*s.* 10*d.*

In 1593, Mr. Stebbing was curate, and it was returned as a perpetual curacy. In 1603, in the Answers of the Parsons, among others is this entered, Tho. Cranforth is curate, it is an impropriation, of which Mr. Hare is proprietary, and pays to the curate a stipend of 4*l.* per annum, there are 40 communicants in this parish, which is in Brook deanery. In 1609, James Smith was curate. In the Revision of the Archdeaconry of Norfolk, made in 1630, it paid the aforesaid synodals and procurations, and Laurence Townley, curate, received a clear stipend of 4*l.* per annum.

But soon after, the church being dilapidated (for now the walls only, and a square tower remain) it was joined to Kirby-bedon (the manor of which, belonged at that time, to the same owner) and continued with it many years; and the rector of that church received the stipend and other ecclesiastical dues, and then performed the duty, by burying the parishioners at Kirby, &c.³ but I am informed, that it is lately joined to Trowse, though by what authority I know not.

According to an act of parliament dated 24 Aug. 1653, Ambrose Shepherd, Gent. was chosen 24 day of Sept. 1653, to be register of the parish of Kirby St. Andrew, unto which the parish of Wicklingham St. Andrew, was at the general sessions of the publick peace, holden at the castle of Norwich in the shire-house there, Oct. 4, last according to the said act, united, &c.

The act of union is dated Oct. 4, 1653, and entered in the county records. 12 Car. II. cap. 12, confirms such judicial proceedings done in the rebellion.

TROWSE AND NEWTON,

Now called Trowse with Newton, the latter being a hamlet to the former, though originally it was the contrary; Newton being the principal part or manor, and Trowse an appendage to it;⁴ Bishop Stigand owned all Newton, and about half Trowse, and a free-woman held them of him; at the Conquest, Godric seized it, but could not keep it, for upon her appeal to the Conqueror himself, she had it restored for life; it contained three furlongs in length, and four in breadth, and paid 8*d.* gelt, towards every 20*s.* raised upon the hundred. There never was a parish church at Newton, but the inhabitants always went to Trowse; after her death, Godric had it, and Ralf Fitz-Godric gave it with the advowson of Trowse, to the monks of Norwich, which gift King Henry II. confirmed. In 1285, the jury presented, that the bailiff of the King's hundred of Heustede always held his hundred court at Trowse, till within these 13 years past, when he was inhibited so doing by the Prior of Norwich, lord there, under pain of excommunication; and it being found to be one of the Prior's manors, enjoying the privileges of the church, and that this was no damage to the Crown nor country, the inhibition was confirmed. In 1428, the Prior was taxed for his temporals here at 10*l.* 8*s.* 10*d.* ob. At the Dissolution, Trowse and Trowse-Newton manor, with the impropriate rectory and advowson of the vicarage, were conveyed to the DEAN and CHAPTER of Norwich,⁵ who are now lords, impropriators, and patrons of the vicarage.⁶

Trowse-Newton-Hall is an ancient building, erected by the Priors of Norwich, whose country seat it was; it had a chapel and all offices convenient: in in 1335, King Edward III. and Phillipa his Queen, lodged there, as at p. 540, 612, vol. iii. It continued as a retirement for the deans, long after the Dissolution, but being now leased out, is inhabited by a farmer only.

⁶ There were divers lands, rents, and services, added to this manor, of divers gifts, as by John son of John de Hemenhale, Robert de Hemenhale and Kat. his wife, Thomas Vincent, Amabil, widow of Andrew le Porter, all before 1280, Will. Butt of Norwich in 1305, Henry Trewboy in 1339, and in 1392, by Rob. Thugarton.

That part of Trowse on the Norwich side of the river is called Trowse-Milgate, of which you may see a full account, in vol. iii. p. 168, 197, 380; vol. iv. p. 524.

ROKELE'S MANOR

In Trowse, extended into a great number of the adjacent vills, but though it was so very considerable at that time, the several parts have been sold off or manumised, so that Sir Randall Ward, Bart. is the only remaining copyhold tenant of the manor; which ANSCOT had at the Confessor's, and RANULF or RALF at the Conqueror's survey, who held it of Roger Bigot,⁷ and it hath been held always of the Norfolk family, as of Fornceet manor. William Curcum was lord here, and gave it with his daughter Alice, to Ric. de Rupibus, Rapella, Rock, or Rokele, who had Richard and Reginald;⁸ but they dying without issue, Will. Rokele their brother succeeded; in 1268, Thomas Rokele was lord, and in 1286, Henry Rokele, who the next year conveyed it to Ric. de la Rokele, who was lord in 1306; in 1390, it was owned by John Rokele or at Hyl, citizen of Norwich, who then conveyed to Sir Miles Stapleton, Knt. Sir Roger de Boys, Knt. Richard de Cratefield, master of Norton-Soupecourse college, and William de Claxton, this manor; with 20 acres of demesans called Trowse-Hilles, 55s. quitrents, one capon, and one pound of cinamon, with liberty of holding a court every three weeks in Trowse, with the suit of all the tenants belonging to this manor, in Witlingham, Trowse cum Newton, Bixley, Kirkebydon, Bramerton, Tuseburgh, Brakendale, Rokelond, Carleton Juxta, Langley, Surlingham, and Anringhall. In 1357, Will. at Hyl and Jeffery Vernon,⁹ granted other lands, &c. which were joined to these manors, to William de Blickling, Barth. del Appelyard, and John de Causton. It after belonged to John Potter, then to John de Witton; and about 1403, John de Barney and Will. de Catton had it; and after that, Edmund Caily of Trowse, Gent. who infeoffed Sir John Clifton, Knt. John at Chirche, Esq. Andrew Syre of Surlingham, Richard Rede of Oxburgh, Edmund Fairbed of Trowse, and William Narford of Bixley; it had been then in trustees hands, for they had it of the feoffment of John Hempstede, citizen of Norwich, Roger Prat, clerk, Will. Ymmis, and Thomas Will. In 1438, Robert Howlyn, clerk, conveyed it to Sir John Clifton, Knt. John Windham, Esq. and Will. Gladine of Norwich, notary publick, with all the fisheries, swanmarks, &c.; and in 1445, they released it to Clifton. In 1491, it belonged to John Blake, who lies buried in the chancel, with this on a brass plate,

It now belongs to St. Giles's hospital, to which the mayor and aldermen of the city of NORWICH, are perpetual trustees.

The CHURCH is 27 yards long, and 8 broad; it hath a square tower about 16 yards high, in which are three bells; the church and chancel are both leaded; there is also a south porch; and the vicarage-house and yards join to the south side of the churchyard.

At the outside of the east gable of the chancel, on a stone under a niche, in which an image formerly stood, is this,

It seems he built the chancel, and placed the image of St. Andrew the Apostle (to whom the church is dedicated) in it, in view of all the passengers in the high-way, which goes under the churchyard wall; in 1280, he leaded it and glazed it at a great expense.

There is a tomb in the yard for John Youngs, 9 Jan. 1721, 84. And Anne and Hester his two Wives, Hester died July 1676, and Anne Feb. 1703, Sarah their Daughter 1705.

Concerning an insurrection here in 1569, see vol. i. p. 334, pedigree.

In 1239, Walter Fitz-Bernard settled on Carrow prioress, 3l. per annum rents in Trowse and Newton.

The church was appropriated to Norwich Prior and monks in 1205, by John de Grey Bishop of Norwich, at the death of Master Simon de Plumpstede, the last rector, to the office of the sacrist, a pension of two pieces of gold (duorum aureorum) being reserved to the celerer; and the Prior was taxed for his spirituals at 12 marks. There was a vicarage endowed, which was always presented to by the priors;³ and its advowson belongs now to the dean and chapter and is one of their peculiaris,⁴ pays no synodals nor procurations to the Archdeacon of Norfolk, nor first-fruits; it stands thus in the King's Books, 5l. TROWSE vicaria. 10s. yearly tenths.

So that being undischarged, it is not capable of augmentation; it pays 15*d.* procurations to the Bishop at his visitation, and the town paid 40*s.* clear to each tenth.

Here was a gild of St. Andrew, to which John Stone, who was buried at the porch door in 1507, was a benefactor; as also to our Lady's image in the church, and to the light burning in the bason before the rood-loft. In 1553, John Debney was buried here.

In 1323, Thomas Edithorp was vicar. In 1412, John Gorleston. In 1669, 26 Aug. died Mr. Drury, vicar of Trowse. In 1603, Tho. Cauforth, vicar, returned answer, that there were 170 communicants here. Dean Prideaux had it, see vol. iii. p. 628.

The Rev. Mr. John Kirby is the present vicar, who hath Stoke-holy-Cross also.

SURLINGHAM,

SUTHERLINGHAM, or the village of low meadows on the south side of the water, was in several parts the Confessor's survey; the chief manor belonged to ULKETEL the Dane, and was after given by the Conqueror to ROGER BIGOT of whom ETHARD DE VAUX held it at the survey,⁵ when the town was a mile long, and half a mile broad,

St. Saviour in Surlingham, which was given with the church of St. Mary there, to the abbess and nuns at Carrow, by Norwich, by Maud de Multon, lady of the manor, and patroness of them both; and immediately after the gift, the rectory of St. Saviour, was appropriated to that house, which to its dissolution received all the great and small tithes belonging to it, paying a yearly stipend out of them to a serving chaplain here: and it continued a distinct perpetual curacy till lately: in 1630, in the Revision of the Archdeaconry of Norfolk it is returned, that James Culley, clerk, was then curate and proprietor,⁶ that it paid 18*d.* synodals, and 5*s.* archdeacon's procurations, and was appropriated to Carrow, and there being no vicarage endowed, it was never entered in the King's Books: the Abbess in order to get it appropriated, pretended that it was only a chapel belonging to the church of St. Mary; but that was contradicted by the return then made, and entered in Norwich Domesday Book; where it is said, that Surlingham St. Saviour had the same patroness with St. Mary, and that though they had now valued it with it, yet heretofore it was a mother-church, distinct from the other church, and had baptism and burial; for the Lady Maud de Multon, formerly patroness of the same, declared that all infants born in that parish, were baptised there, and that her own brother, and many others, lie buried in that church, and that the parishioners have been buried there immemorially.

In the Chorography of Norfolk, St. Saviour's church at Surlingham was returned to be a donative, sometime belonging to the priory of Carrow, and purchased of the King after the Dissolution, whereto belongeth one barn, and no other houses, and 30 acres of glebe; about 1705, it was settled by consent of all parties, that the impropriator, should pay for ever a clear rent charge of 16*l.* a year, by quarterly payments, and so should enjoy all the great and small tithes and glebes, belonging to this parish; and soon after, the service was removed to St. Mary's, and the church dilapidated; it never had any steeple, the bell hanging in a niche at the west end; the nave and chancel were of an equal height and bigness, each being 15 yards long and six broad; and had a south porch.

In the yard lies an old coffin-stone, with a cross floré on three pieces; and on a grave-post is this,

RECTORS OF SURLINGHAM ST. MARY,

1304, Master Will. de Dallyng, LL. D. 1324, he changed for Hecham with John de Thirstone, who was the last rector.

For in 1349, they got it appropriated to their house on the 10th of July, for to find clothing for the nuns;⁷ the original appropriation is extant in the 4th Institution Book, fo. 24, 26, by which it appears, that the BISHOP was to nominate the vicars on every vacancy to the prioresses, who were obliged to present the persons so nominated: the vicar had a vicarage-house assigned him, with the tithes of hay, wool, and all other small tithes and offerings whatever, belonging to the parish; with 33 acres of glebe land, and an annual pension of 10 marks out of the great tithes.⁸

The Chorography of Norfolk says, that St. Saviour had formerly a barn, and no other houses; and (as it is supposed) 30 acres of glebe.

⁹ In 1428, Prioressa de Carrowe taxatur ad 32 marc. pro ecclesia de Surlingham, in qua est vicaria dotata ad 11 marc. et vicarius solvet procuracione sua 14*s.* 3*d.* et sic Prioressa solvet 28*s.* 3*d.* pro integra decima. The Prioress was discharged from paying it, on account of the parish being much damaged by inundations.

Master John Alwyk, a relation to William Alwyk Bishop of Norwich, who nominated him to this vicarage; he gave the present town-lands to this parish, to repair the church, and lies buried in the chancel, with this inscription under his effigies in brass,

Thomas Langworth succeeded him, and resigned in 1517, to Stephen Logon, who was deprived, and in 1525, Alexander Duckworth was nominated by the Bishop, and was the last presented by the Priores; he died vicar.

 was served by licensed curates, and in 1677, Wil. Brooke was licensed to it; in

THE CAPITAL MANOR OF SURLINGHAM, WITH BASTWICK'S PANCLOSE, AND VERDON'S, ANNEXED.

SURLINGHAM manor belonged to Aitard or Ethard de Vaux,² who held it of Rog. Bigot in the time of the Conqueror, and it continued a long time in his family, and passed with the manor of Keswick, as you may see at p. 434. It remained in the VAUX's family till about 1250, and then John de Vaux gave it, with his daughter Maud, in free marriage, to Thomas de Multon or Moulton, of Gillesland in Cumberland, and they in 1252, had a charter for free-warren in all their demesns, by the grant of King Henry III.; but notwithstanding this, and other favours conferred on him by that King, he deserted him, and joined with the rebellious barons against their Prince; upon which, the King seized upon this manor, and gave it to William de Saint Omer, and directed his writ to the sheriff of the county, to deliver him seizin; but the sheriff favouring the barons, would not do it, but for his refusal, he was next year fined 10*l.* and after that 20*l.* and the treasurer of the Exchequer was ordered by the court to levy it;⁴ but after this, making his peace with the King, he died seized, and in 1275, Maud his wife settled it by fine on herself for life, and then on Hubert de Multon her son: she was found to have free-warren, assise of bread and ale, and view of frankpledge, in the towns of Surlingham, Bramerton, and Rockland, but that the lete or view of frankpledge, belonged to this manor only for 30 years past, when Andrew Walceline, bailiff of the King's hundred of Henstede, to which these letes belonged, took of the then lord of Surlingham, 20*s.* and a robe, to say nothing of it. In 1295, it was found that Maud de Vaux, widow of Thomas de Multon, died seized,⁵ and left it to Hubert her son, as guardian to Thomas her grandson, son of her eldest son, Thomas de Multon, who died before his father; but when the

In 1315, John de Multon was returned lord; in 1331, Margaret widow of Sir Hubert de Multon was lady, see vol. iv. p. 79. In 1345, William de Legh was lord. The Multon family, continued in Lincolnshire, after they had nothing to do here. In 1367, John de Multon of Holbech, son of Sir John de Multon, Knt. died, and left Maud his daughter and heiress, married to William de Spain of Boston.

said Thomas the grandson came of age, he released it to his uncle Hubert, who held it of the said Thomas de Multon, who was found to hold five fees in Surlingham, Denham, Kirby, Keswic, and Cringleford, of Forncet; at Hubert's death, John de Multon his son inherited, who held it of that Thomas de Multon of Gillesland, who had released it to his father Hubert; and it seems that John died a minor, and was succeeded by Margaret du Bois his sister, then the wife of Sir William Legh, Knt. for Will. de Legh, Knt. and Margaret his wife, settled it in trust, on Adam de Brampton and Will. de Tofts, it being then worth 32*l.* 14*s.* per annum. In 1578, Sir William Legh, Knt. was sole lord, and granted off a 40th part of a fee here and in Rockland, to the Abbot of Langley; that part here, constituted the Abbot's manor; he died seized this year, and Will. de Legh, Knt. his son, succeeded him; in 1415, he settled this manor and Bramerton advowson, on himself and Agnes his wife, in tail; Henry Preston and others being trustees; he gave lands in Cringleford to St. Giles's Hospital in Norwich; to the deed is his seal affixed, circumscribed, Sigillum Domini Willt: de Legh Militis. The crest is a falcon rising from a torse; the arms are, two bars surmounted by a bend chequy; he died in 1427, and Agnes his wife survived him, and *Sir Will. Legh, Knt.*⁶ his son and heir, had livery of his lands; he died about 1492, and Thomas Legh or Lye, his son, inherited, who died in 1494, seized of this manor and Bramerton advowson, which extended into Bramerton, Kirbybedon, Yelverton, Bixley, Poringland, and Framlingham: it being held of the Lord Dacres, who held it of the Norfolk family, as of Forncet manor. Rob. Legh, his son and heir, succeeded. In 1527, John Legh, Esq. paid to Richard Bainard, Gent. feodary to the Duke of Norfolk, 4*l.* for an aid to marry Catherine, daughter of Thomas Duke of Norfolk; he holding Surlingham manor at four fees, of his honour of Forncet. After him, Tho. Legh, Esq. and Maud his wife, owned it, who seems to have been a Redman, it being settled at their marriage on Mathew Redman, in trust. In 1556, Thomas Samson, a trustee, released to Thomas Legh, the manor, with a warren of conies, free-warren, &c. in Surlingham and Bramerton; in 1568, Tho. Legh, Esq. conveyed it to Ric. Lowther; and in 1570, Sir Tho. Gawdy, Knt. of Claxton, was lord, and had free fishery in the river, belonging to it; in 1587, at the death of Sir Thomas Gawdy, Knt. one of the justices of the Common Pleas, who died the 5th of Nov.; it was found that Henry, his son and heir, was then 36 years old, and that the manors of Bastwick's in Surlingham,⁷ and Panclose there,⁸ were held in capite of the King, that Verdon's manor⁹ in Surlingham was held of Forncet, as was also the capital

⁸ Peter son of Jeffery de Holkham in 1189, settled it on Vincent Clerk of Surlingham; it had 42 acres in demean. In 1240, Will. de Burgh conveyed it to Jeffery de Say and Alice his wife, the rents being two marks a year; it after belonged to Thomas Levebaud, and then about 1285, to Master Ric. Levebaud, and in 1345, to John Sparrow.

⁹ This manor was in the family of the VERDONS, and passed with Brisingham, as at vol. i. p. 49, &c.

manor of Surlingham. In 1603, Sir Henry Gawdy, Knt. was found lord, as heir to his father Sir Thomas, who purchased it of Mr. Legh; the fines are certain at 2s. an acre.

It was sold by Gawdy to Mr. Corbet, and belonged afterwards to Mr. Corey,¹ and after that, to old Major Hauteyn, who sold it, the advowson of Bramerton, and the warren excepted, to Colonel Thomas Sidney of Randworth, whose two daughters and heiresses had it; MARY married to Sir BROWNLOW SHERRARD, Bart. who released their right to WILLIAM PERRY, Esq. of Turville Park in Buckinghamshire, the present lord, who married ELIZ. SIDNEY, sister to the said MARY.

The court is usually kept at COLDHAM-HALL, commonly called the WOOD'S END, which formerly belonged to one of the united manors, but is now a publick-house belonging to a private owner.

EARLHAM'S MANOR IN SURLINGHAM, WITH LITTLE-BREECHIE IN ROCKLAND.

This manor belonged to GODRIC the sewer, and ALNOT the Saxon, when the survey was taken;² in 1215, Roger de Veteri Ponte or Fipond, had it; it was sometime owned by John de Earlham, from whom it took its present name. In 1272, it had assise of bread and ale, and Will. de Carleol, a minor, in the custody of Sir Ric. de Boyland, had it; in 1285, Sir Tho. de Helgeton or Hellington, owned it, and joined his manor of Little Breche in Rockland, to it, which hath passed with it ever since.

In 1315, Tho. de Helgeton was lord; and in 1381, John Latiner of Norwich: in 1401, Nic. Briant, or Brian, held half a fee here; in 1404 Ralf Dacre, and in 1409 Tho. Dacre held it. In 1429, Thomas Baxter, alderman of Norwich, willed it to be sold; and in 1446 Tho. Lucas of Holkham, Esq. gave it to Etheldred his wife, and after her death to Elizabeth his daughter. In 1520, Kat. Bosard, widow, died, and left it to Margery her daughter, then the wife of Thomas Naunton, Esq. and Will. Naunton their son, had it after them.

Earlham's manor, had then 26s. 8d. quitrents, &c. and the lands belonging lately to Metyngham College were joined to it.³ How it passed from the Nauntons, I do not find, but Sir Tho. Gawdy purchased it of Mr. Holdich of Ranworth, and left it to Hen. Gawdy, Esq.

held a quarter of a fee here, of Roger Sturmyrn, Edw. Syre, and Sara Picot, of Arundel's fee, formerly of Ralf de How's; and now John Neve, clerk, master of Metyngham college, holds it.

In 1266, Will. Esturmy or Sturmyrn, settled it on Laurence Clarice, and Nicolas Sturmy, after the death of Muriel his mother. In 1312, Ralf Syre of Surlingham settled his estate here on Vincent Syre.

The Sturmys Syres, and Surlinghams, are three old families, owners here; of the last, Will. was rector of Colveston; see vol. ii. p. 231. And John de Surlingham was rector of Barsham.

his son, and it was sold by the Gawdies; and in 1720, Tho. Rant, Esq. of Yelverton, was lord, at whose death, James Rant, Esq. of Mendham, his brother had it, whose son, William Rant of Mendham, Esq. sold it to JAMES BRANSBY of Shotesham, Gent. the present lord.

The court is usually kept at the public-house called the Ferry,⁴ which is owned by Lady WARD of Bixley.

ABBOTS, OR LANGLEY MANOR

In Surlingham, was granted (part by Sir Will. Leigh, part by Ric. de Hoc or Howe, and part by others) to that house.⁵ In 1285, the Abbot was summoned to show why his villeins of Surlingham did not do suit to the King's hundred court? but the Abbot was discharged, on proving no such suit was ever done. In 1401, the Abbot held a 40th part of a fee here, and in Rockland, of Sir Will. de Leigh, and Nic de Castello or Castle, and another part of the heirs of Hubert de Multon: this continued in the abbey to its dissolution, and it seems afterwards to have been joined to the capital manor.

BRAMERTON.

THE name of this village is said to signify Brab-men-tun, or Broad-mere-town;⁶ to which Broad-mere belongs a swan-mark to this day. It was in the hands of Roger Bigot at the Conquest,⁷ and is now in the liberty of the Duke of Norfolk, as a member of his manor of Framlingham, which extends hither; and indeed, this town is very particular for not having a manor belonging to it; the principal part

BRAMERTON HALL is a good house, situated pleasantly enough, against the east side of Bramerton heath; it was built by the CORIES, which have been owners of estates here, ever since 1403, when ROBERT CORIE first settled here, having purchased an estate of William Langton of Bramerton, and Maud his wife: the next I meet with was William, whose second son Francis Corie of Bramerton, married Grace, daughter of Mr. Broune of Tacolneston, and had Thomas Corie of Bramerton, who by Barbara, daughter of Ric. Ferrers of Norwich, had five sons and one daughter;⁶ of which, William Corie of Norwich, the 5th son, married Joan, daughter of Christopher Soame of Norwich, Esq. and had Thomas Corie of Norwich, and two daughters; MARY, married to Fyrmyne Le Neve of Ringland in Norfolk, grandfather to PETER LE NEVE, Norroy; and ANNE, the other daughter, married to George Grundie, goldsmith, of Norwich, and had issue: their brother Thomas aforesaid, married Rose, daughter of William Tudenham, of Hale in Norfolk, and had Thomas Corie of Norwich, Gent. who married Elizabeth, daughter and coheir of Christopher Layer of Norwich, Esq. (see vol. iv. p. 231,) and Anne and Rose, who both died unmarried; they had two sons and one daughter, of which Francis and Bridget died single, and William, their eldest son, a barrister at law, married Judith, daughter of William Coppin, of Wotton in Norfolk, who remarried to Theophilus Williams, rector of East-Herling, but having no issue, this branch of the CORIES extinguished.

ROBERT CORIE of Bramerton, second son of Thomas Corie and Barbara Ferrers, was buried here in 1629, and by his first wife, left Francis Corie, recorder of Norwich,⁷ who was buried here in 1678; his eldest son and heir married Anne daughter of Sir John, and sister and coheir of Sir Thomas Corbet of Sprowston, Bart. by whom he had a son Thomas, who died single in 1682, and was buried here, and Eliz. his sister by him, so that for want of heirs, he gave his Bramerton

The family of the Hauteyns, Haughtons, or Houghtons (for I find the name often spelt these three ways) is of very old standing in this county, their ancient capital seat for many ages, being at Oxmead, under which place I intend to treat of them at large; so that I shall go no farther back now, than to

Sir ROBERT HOUGHTON, Knt. serjeant at law, and one of the readers at Lincoln's Inn, whose son, John Houghton of Randworth, had by Mrs. Doughty, Robert his son and heir, who married Elizabeth, sister to Anne Corbet aforesaid, by whom he had four sons and three daughters, ELIZ. married to Sir Nevile Catlyne, Knt. of Kirby Caam in Norfolk, died without issue; LYDIA to John Jay of Holveston, Gent. son of Suckling Jay; and MARY died unmarried. Richard, Charles, and Thomas, the three younger sons, died single, and JOHN HOUGHTON of Randworth, Esq, the eldest son, to whom the estate was given, came and settled here; he was major of a company of foot belonging to the militia, and clerk of the peace, died in 1723, and is buried here, as was MARY his wife in 1727, who was daughter of Richard Chamberlaine of Astley-Castle in Warwickshire; their eldest son,

JOHN HOUGHTON, Esq. one of the justices of peace for the county, now dwells here, and by his deceased wife, who was one of the daughters and coheiresses of the late dean baron, hath issue.

KIRBY-BEDON,

KIRBY, or KIRKEBY, signifies the dwelling at the kirken or churches; and Bidon or Bedon was added, to distinguish it from another village of the same name in this county; it being the name of the ancient lords of the capital manor; that it should take its name from its churches, is no wonder, there being two here, long before the Confessor's time; for in his survey, they were found to have each of them 10 acres of glebe, then valued at 12*d.* a year, and both belonged to Robert de Curson, who held them and the manor, of ROGER BIGOT, the town being half a mile long and as much broad, paid 20*d.* to the geld.⁸ The part which Godric the sewer managed for the King,

KIRBY-BIDON MANOR.

This manor continued in the BIGODS after Carson's death, who held it of Roger Bigot at the survey, till Hugh Bigod Earl of Norfolk infeoffed it, with many others, no less than seven whole knights fees, in HELENALD DE BIDUN,⁷ who held also one fee in Wadley in Berkshire, of the honour of Warengesford. This HALENOD gave the church of Hockham, with the consent of Agnes daughter of Pain Fitz-John, his wife,⁸ to the abbey of Osney; in 1168, he and his wife granted a mark a year rent in Sutton, to Missenden abbey; and that they were persons of the first rank in those times, appears from the witnesses to this deed of gift, Adam son of Will. de Sutton, his principal clerk or chaplain: Benedict his chaplain, Nic. de Brunsted his sewer, &c. William Bishop of Norwich confirmed it; Hunfry de Bidun was lord; and in 1170, John de Bidun held an honour containing five knights fees and an half, in the county of Northampton, as we learn from the Red Book of the Exchequer; but I do not find he was lord here, but JOHN DE BIDUN, junior, his son, was, and died so, leaving MAUD, daughter of Thomas Fitz-Bernard,⁹ his widow, lady here; who re-married to John de Bokesford, and died seized in

Lib. Nig. Scaccarij Edit. per Tho. Hearne, A. M. Oxon. 1728, vol. i. p. 284.

At this time one John de Bidun held half a fee of Ralf de Nuers, his brother, I suppose.

⁸ I imagine he had no issue by her, because Ralf de Muntchensy her son confirmed it.

1254,¹ when it was found, that John de Bidon died without issue of his body, and so his whole barony and estate descended to his five sisters, viz.

1, AMICIA or AMY, who had three daughters, Amabilia who died single; Isabella, who had HENRY FITZ-RALF, her son and heir, then living; and AGNES, wife of Warine de Bragenham, then living.

2, AMABILIA,² whose son and heir, Miles de Beauchamp, held his part.

3, SARAH, whose three daughters inherited her part; Isabel, alive and held her part; Maud, who was dead, but Sarah her daughter then married to Rob. de Walton or Wanton, was living, and held her part; Philippa was dead, but John de Croxton (or Oxinton, as sometimes called) held his part.

4, MAUD, whose son Robert Fitz-Jeffry was dead, but Thomas Fitz-Robert, his son, enjoyed his part.

5, ERMENGARD, whose two sons, first John, surnamed de Gatesend, was dead, but had issue, John de Gatesend, junior, his son, whose son, Ric. de Gatesend, held his share. 2d, Richard, whose son John was living, and enjoyed his part.

But several of these parts were united again very soon; for in 1256, JOHN, son of John de Gatesend, had purchased so, that he was lord of one moiety. Before 1277, HUGH DE POLSTED had one part of Gatesden's moiety or manor, and James de Creike another, but about 1302, JOHN DE SAHAM had this moiety or manor, and the whole advowson; from whom it took the name of SAHAM's, which it still retains. John was succeeded by Hervy de Saham, who occurs lord and patron in 1320; and in 1332, Rob de Elmham, Christian, daughter of John de Saham, Ric. Merkanut of Saham, Agnes, widow of William de Horpling, and Tho. de Hillington, were joint lords and patrons.

It after belonged to John Sturmy, and then to Hervy Rockhow, whose trustee, Tho. Panton, was lord in 1394; this Hervy was citizen and goldsmith of London, and presented here in 1412, and in 1423, ROB. WIRMEGEVE had it. In 1437, John Bacon of Baconesthorp, and Maud his wife, presented, and in 1482, John Barges and Margaret Wyrmegey had some time before infeoffed John Blake, Esq. and about 1503, it was purchased by JAMES HOBART, Knt.³ In 1506, Will. Lincoln of Norwich, Gent. was buried in the Black Friars there, and it appears by his will, that Rob. Wyrmegey had married his sister, for in it is this clause: 'I will that my executors endeavour to recover the third part of the manor of Saham's in Kirby, which was my sister Wormegay's right.' In 1553, Sir James settled it on his son, Miles Hobart, who had livery in 1571, but only of two thirds, for in 1546, Sir Nic. Hare, Knt and Rob Hare his son, had a third part; in 1550, Michael, son and heir of Sir Nicholas, had it, and in 1557,

² I find her often called Isabella.

³ 1440, a fine of divers lands here, and in Surlingham and Kirby, was levied between Robert Spencer, clerk, rector of Bramerton, and other querents, and Andrew Syre of Surlingham and Maud his wife, John Wirmegey of Yelverton, and Agnes his wife, daughters and coheirs of Jeffery Mahew of Bramerton, senior, son and heir of Will. Mayhew of Kirby-Bydun.

Sir Nic. Hare, Knt. master of the rolls, ordered that this manor, if his sons died without heirs male, and the third part of St. Andrew's advowson, which he had before settled with other estates in this hundred, on his son Michal, and Elizabeth his wife, in jointure, should go to his brother, John Hare, mercer, of Loulton, and his heirs; who afterwards inherited it. In 1603, Sir Tho. Hobart, Knt. and Michael Hare, Esq. were lords and patrons; but in 1604, Owen Shepherd, Esq. was lord and patron. In 1610, the manor was settled in trust on Will. Spencer, and Will. Palmer, Gents. by the said Owen, who left it to ROB. SHEPHERD of Wicklingham, Esq. who was lord in 1660, as was Ambrose Shepherd, Esq. in 1693, when the three manors, of SAHAM'S, OSBERNE'S, and WODEHOUSE, were all united, and in 1712, belonged to

WILLIAM BROOKE, clerk, rector here, who was succeeded by his eldest son, WILLIAM BROOKE, Esq. recorder of Norwich, the present lord, as also patron of the church of St. Andrew.

The capital manor-house, and the demesns, were sold by Robert Shepherd, Esq. to Mr. Cock of Norwich, who sold them to Capt. Nic. Rockwood, who conveyed them to the BERNEYS, who have resided here ever since; it being now the seat of Sir HANSON BERNEY, Bart. of which ancient family I shall treat at large, under Berton-Bendish in Claclose hundred.

WODEHOUSE MANOR IN KIRKEBY

Was originally a moiety of BIDON'S or SAHAM'S manor; Thomas Fitz-Robert, son of Maud de Bidon, having purchased several parts, obtained at last a division, and made it a separate manor; he came and dwelt by the wood here, and so called it Wodehouse manor, and assumed the surname of De Bosco or Du Bois of Kirby, on that account; by which name, in 1280, he had the lete here, and all liberties of a lete: but in 1285, the King recovered it, and let it to him in fee-farm for ever at 6*d.* a year, payable to his hundred of Henstede: he was returned by the name of Tho. Fitz-Robert, to hold this manor, and that of Stowbidon, and lands in Thompson, of Baldwin Wake, as of his manor of Brunne in Cambridgeshire, at one fee. In 1301, Thomas de Bosco of Kirby-bedon, and Maud his wife, settled it on Robert de Hales their trustee, to the use of themselves for life, remainder to their heirs; and John de Bosco, who is often called John Atwood, their son, inherited it; whose daughter and heiress married to WARD, as you may see under Bixley. The manor had 10 acres in demesne, 3 acres of meadow, 3*l.* quitrents, and 9 messuages held of it: and it extended in Apeton, Bramerton, Rockland, Yelverton, Wicklingham, Framlingham, Trowse, Bixley, Ameringhale, Lakenham, Caster, and Porland. In 1401, JOHN WARDE held it of Thomas Moxbroy at half a fee; in 1572, EDW. WARD. In 1586, the manor of Kirby Wodehouse, alias Ward's, was conveyed by Stephen Coppin, Gent. and John Hwcke, to Thomas Godsalue, Esq. and John Holand, Gent. and afterwards was purchased by the lord of Saham's manor, and joined to it, and so continues.

LANGLEY ABBOTS, ALIAS OSBORNE'S MANOR.

Roger Fitz-Ozbert held a fee here, which came to the abbey of Langley soon after, if not at its first foundation. The Abbot was always taxed at 36s. 9d. ob. for his manor of Kirby, which at the Dissolution came to the Crown, and was granted in 1543, by Henry VIII. to John Corbet, Esq. to be held by the rent of 3s. 8d. ob. a year; and immediately after, the King licensed Corbet to sell it to ROBERT and THOMAS OSBORNE;* and Thomas was lord in 1572. In 1587, it was settled on Fiske, as trustee to the Osbornes; and in 1589, Tho. Osborne, Gent. settled it in trust on Wit. Temperley, Esq. and Will. Money, junior, who in 1594, released it to Osborn again; and in 1605, Tho. Osborne, Gent. obtained license to alien it, and in 1672, John Coppledicke, Esq. was lord; and sometime after, it became joined to SAHAM's manor, with which it now remains.

The CHURCH of St. Mary at Kirby-Bedon, was appropriated to the abbey of Langley, and the rectory was valued at 8 marks, and the vicarage at 5, but was not taxed; and so occurs not in the King's Books; it paid 2s. synodals: but in 1550, Bishop Thirlby released 20d. out of the synodals; the archdeacon's procurations are 6s. 8d. Pcter-pence 12d. carvage 5d. and the vicar had a house in the churchyard.

VICARS OF ST. MARY,

PRESENTED BY THE CONVENT OF LANGLEY.

1308, William old Barlick of Saxlingham.1328, John de Billingford.1349, Tho. Bee of Harple.1395, Walter Turner of Shotesham.1441, John Dalton.1490, Henry Hart; he died, and in

1505, John Warnull had it by lapse, who was the last instituted to this church; it having been held as a curacy ever since the Dissolution, when the impropriation vested in the Crown, and was afterwards granted off; and in 1575, belonged to Rog. Manners, Esq. and afterwards to Sir Nicholas Hare, who sold it to Stephen Moss, and he to Mr. Fellow, who conveyed it to Henry Kimbold, and he to Thomas Dethyck in 1578; and afterwards

William Brooke, who had the manors, and was patron, rector, and impropriator, gave the impropriation to Edward Brooke his son, whose widow, Mrs. ELIZ. BROOKE, now owns it, and pays a stipend of sl. per annum to the rector of St. Andrew's, for serving the cure; the rector of that parish, having been constantly curate here, ever since the Dissolution. In 1603, Hammet Hyde, curate, and rector of St. Andrew, returned answer, that there were then 40 communicants in this parish, that it was an impropriation, and that the impropriator constantly paid him his stipend out of the tithes.

The church stood east of St. Andrew's, their churchyards being parted by the road only; it is now in ruins; it had a south porch, nave, and chancel, the steeple is standing, and is round, and had two large bells, which were lately taken down, and placed in St. Andrew's church.

RECTORS.

John de Cressingham, resigned in

1318, to Roger de Burgo, who was presented by JOHN DE SAHAM; he changed this for Bykere in Lincolnshire, in

1320, with Rob. de Wetheringsete, who had it of HERVY DE SAHAM's gift. In 1333, Hervy de North-Elmham was presented by ROB. DE ELMHAM, CHRISTIAN, daughter of John de Saham, RIC. MERKAUNT of Saham, AGNES, widow of Wil. de Horpling, and JOHN HILLINGTON, joint patrons.

1387, John Gowe of Aslaby. JOHN STURMY, patron. 1393, THO. PANTON and HERVY ROKHAW, gave it to

John de Kirby;⁵ and in 1412, the said Hervy presented

Will. Lightfoot, who resigned in 1424, and

John Biskelee, or Bixley succeeded, on the presentation of ROBERT WIRMEGEYE; he resigned in 1437, and JOHN BACON of Baconesthorp, and MAUD his wife, gave it to

Tho. Messenger of Fakenham, who was succeeded by

Rob. Howlyn, at whose death, in

1480, William, son of Robert Wirmegey, was instituted at the presentation of JOHN BLAKE, Esq. feoffee of the manor, from John Burges and Margaret Wirmegey; he died, and in 1481, JOHN WARD, Gent. presented

Henry Hert, on whose death Sir JAMES HOBART, Knt. gave it to

John Warmull, vicar of St. Mary's. In 1582, Oct. 4, Tho. Cuthbert, rector, was buried here; and the assignee of Michael Hare, Esq. gave it to

Hammet Hyde, buried here 7 Sept. 1610. In 1604, OWEN SHEPHERD, Esq. presented

Daniel Thaxter, buried here Oct. 7, 1625, and in less than two months, his wife and seven children were buried by him. In 1625, Owen Shepherd gave it to

Henry Moye, A. M. who died rector, and in 1634, Edward Hobart, Esq. presented

Edw. Boun, A. M. who held it united to the mediety of Pakefield; he was succeeded by ⁵ Alexander de Kirby lived here in Richard the First's time.

Nic. Shepherd, who (as Walker says⁶) was plundered and often imprisoned, and during his troubles, contracted so many debts for the support of himself and family, that at his death, his goods were seized, his widow utterly deprived of all maintenance, and reduced to great necessity; and was at last relieved by the charity of the corporation for ministers widows: whether he was any thing more than presented in the rebellion, I do not find; for in 1661, Robert Shepherd of Wicklingham, Esq. presented

Nic. Shepherd, who was buried Feb. 1, 1671; and in 1672, John Bendish of London, and Martha his wife, presented

William Brooke, who was lord, patron, rector, curate, and impropriator, and so died;⁷ and in 1714, WILL. BROOKE, Esq.⁸ his eldest son, on the 2d of April, presented

Gilbert Pickering, who resigned the 8th of the same month, and then he gave it to

Francis Brooke, his brother, who held it sometime united to Surlingham, and after that, to Carleton and Ashby; and at his death, the said WILLIAM (who is now patron) gave it to

The Rev. Mr. Ric. Brooke, son of the said Francis, who is the present rector, and holds it united to the consolidated rectory of All-Saints, St. Julian's, &c. in Norwich city.⁹

When Norwich Domesday was made, John de Gatesden was patron; the rector had then, as now, a house joining to the south side of the churchyard, and a grange or barn in the churchyard, and 2 acres of glebe; it was first valued at 11, and after, at 10 marks, and pays 2s. synodals, 6s. 8d. procurations, 12d. Peter-pence, and 6d. carvage. It stands thus in the King's Books, 6l. 4s. 9d. ob. KIRKBY-Beadon (or Bedon) Sancti Andree RECTORIA.

36l. clear yearly value.

So that it is capable of augmentation. The temporals of the Prioress of Carrow were valued at 37s. 8d. and the town paid to each tenth clear (without one pound paid by the religious for their revenues here) 5l. 13s. 4d. Here was a GILD of St. John, for in 1558, Will. Necton of Norwich, sold half an acre belonging to this gild, which he had of the grant of Edw. VI.

In 1668, 31 Oct. Rob. Harris, clerk, was buried here. In 1690, two faculties were passed for seats in the church, one to Sir Ric. BERNEY's house, and the other to Mrs. Sheldrake's.

The tower which stood at the west end of the church is down, but now there is fixed up in the lower part of it, a convenience to hang three bells in; the nave, chancel, and south porch, are all thatched; but the dormitory on the north side of the chancel, built by the Rockwoods, is leaded; and there are no isles; the porch was built in 1479, by the executors of Robert Osborne, who ordered his body to be buried in the churchyard, by Robert Connald and Joan his wife; and that over their three graves, they should build a church porch, which they did accordingly: at the east end of the chancel in the yard, there is an altar tomb for Thomas son of Robert Harris, Gent. and Grace his Wife, Jan. 9, 1680, aged 74.

ROCKLAND,

Called anciently Rockland-Abbots, to distinguish it from Rockland in Shropham hundred,³ from the Abbot of Langley having the manor here,⁴ which consisted of several parts: belonging to Alnoth, Godric, Ulketel, Ulf, and Will. de Noers, at the Confessor's survey; and the KING, Roger Bigot, and William Bishop of Thetford, at the Conqueror's. In 1235, Roger Picot held it; and in 1238, the Abbot of Langley held it of Picot's fee, which extended into Surlingham, Bramerton, &c. In 1249, Will. Sumersweyne and Eda his wife, gave many lands to the abbey, which Simon, abbot there, added to this manor; and Robert Bryan and Alexander his son gave part of a fee here, and the lesser part of the advowson of St. Mary's, which they had of the Bigots, to this house.

After this, there was a grange purchased by that house of Sir Ralf de Hegge.

At the Dissolution it was granted by king Henry VIII. with Portland manor, to John Corbet, Esq. who in 1543, sold off the barley rents in Rockland and Bramerton,⁵ and the manors of Rockland and Poringland, to Roger and John Gostlin, and their heirs, both the manors having continued together as they now do, ever since, I shall refer you to Portland, at p. 438, 44.

Belonged to Edwin and Haslec, one of the Confessor's thanes,⁶ and at the Conquest to Godric the sewer, and after to Thurston, whose son Walter, in 1202, sold it to William de Badient, to be held at the 4th part of a fee: in 1249, William Summersweyn and Eda his wife sold it to Herbert de Helgeton or Hillington; and it seems Eda was heiress to Badient, for she warranted it to Herbert and John de Helgeton. In 1285, Sir Thomas de Helgeton had the lete or view of frankpledge over all his tenants here: he joined it to Eartham's manor in Surlingham,⁷ with which it now remains.

Great part of this town belonged to Roger Bigod's manor of Surlingham,⁸ and was held of him by Aitard de Vaux, and hath passed with the capital manor of Surlingham ever since, which see at p. 467.

Another part belonged then and now to Framlingham Picot.⁹ See p. 432.

Another to Bixley. See p. 448.¹

In this CHURCHYARD there were two churches; the church of St. Margaret is in ruins, and stands a few yards east of St. Mary's; it never had a steeple, but consisted of a chancel and nave only, and was much of the same bigness with St. Mary's; it was given early to the nuns of St. Margaret of Bromehale in Berkshire, and the adwoson belonged to Little Breche manor, and was called Rockland Major; it was appropriated to that house, and had a vicarage endowed, the nomination of which belonged to the Bishop of Norwich, and the presentation to Bromhale prioress; but afterwards, the whole was consolidated to Rockland Major, as in vol. iv. p. 534.

The CHURCH of St. Mary is now in use, a moiety of it, called the pars major, or greater part, was always a rectory belonging to Roger Bigod's part of the town, which belonged to Surlingham, and had ten acres of glebe, for though he infeoffed Aitard de Vaux in the manor, yet the advowson was excepted, and attended the manor of Forncet, till it was lately sold by the Duke of Norfolk, along with the rectory of St. Laurence at South Watsham, to Queen's college in Cambridge, the master and fellows of which, are now patrons. Here was a GILD of St. John. In 1239, Ric. de Nugun, rector of the greater part, purchased a messuage here, and settled it for a parsonage-house for ever, of Nic. de Surlingham, and Nicholas his son.²

The other moiety, called pars minor, or the lesser part, was given to Langley abbey, by Robert Bryen, the patron, and confirmed by Alexander his son, and was soon after appropriated to that monastery, and it was confirmed by the pope and diocesan, and for this, the abbot paid 12s. 6d. spiritualities, and he paid 12d. synodals, and 20d. procurations, for his part; this was afterwards consolidated to the other moiety, and in 1360, Sr. Walter de Manney, patron of the mediety of Rockland St. Mary, and of the mediety of Holveston, got them consolidated by a perpetual union, as they now remain, by Tho. Percy Bishop of Norwich, so that now it is an entire rectory, incapable of augmentation, for it stands thus in the King's Books:

6l. 13s. 4d. Rockland rectoria. 13s. 4d. yearly tenths,

Norwich Domesday saith thus: ROCKLAND MINOR. The Earl-Marshall is patron of one mediety, (pars major) the Abbot of Langley hath the other (pars minor) appropriated. The rector hath a house and 8 acres of land untaxed, and paid 2s. synodals and 6s. procurations. The Chorography of Norfolk saith, It hath a convenient mansion-house, and necessary out-houses, with 40 acres of glebe, it pays no first-fruits, synodals for Rockland Utraque 5s. for Holveston mediety, 9d. The Revision of the Archdeaconry of Norfolk made in 1630, saith, that the synodals were 4s. 4d. the archdeacon's procurations, 13s. 4d. including the 2s. 6d. procurations for Holveston mediety. The whole town paid clear to each tenth, St. 10s. and the religious for their revenues 1l. 14s.

William Peper of Rockland gave to Simon, prior of Norwich, his 10 acres of salt marsh here, which shows that the tide came up hither at that time, for which and his other revenues here, he was taxed at 21s. 4d. In 1435, the honour of Richmond extended hither, for John Duke of Bedford died seized of the third part of a fee here, and in Bawburgh, held by the Prior of Norwich, as belonging to the

HOLVESTON,

COMMONLY called HOLSTON, is in the liberty of the Duke of Norfolk, as a member of Framingham, and takes its name from its situation in a great hollow or hole: at the survey the village was half a mile long and 3 furlongs broad, and paid 8*d.* geld. The moiety of the town, and the advowson of the church, belonged to Roger Bigot's manor of Framingham;³ and the other moiety of the church and town, constituted HOLVESTON, alias VAUX's manor, so called from Ethard de Vaux, lord of it at the Conquest, who held it under Godric, who managed it for the King.⁴ The mediety of Holveston that belonged to VAUX's manor, was consolidated before NORWICH Domesday was made, to Burgh-Apeton, and the Earl's mediety was consolidated to ROCKLAND mediety, and the church hath been so totally demolished, that it is now ploughed over: it was about 24 yards long, and stood on the west side of the road leading from Holveston-hall to Yelverton-heath, right between them, on the very pitch of the hill, from which place, the road to the heath is mended with its ruins, which were pulled down in memory of many now living, for that purpose, the road formerly joined to the south-east part of the churchyard, which it doth not now touch by about 50 yards.

In 1358, THOMAS PERCY Bishop of Norwich, on Ormesby's death, at the request of Sir Walter, perpetually united this mediety to that of Rockland; and Roger Godwine, then rector there, had possession of it Oct. 6, and it was certified that this mediety was valued at two marks only.

But that part of the vill not held by the Norfolk family, as a member of Framlingham, belonging to the ancient family of the Holvestons or Uulvestons, who took their name from the town, of which Sir John de Holveston, Knt. of Norwich, in 1349, was patron of Hardingham, and in 1390, feoffee for the manor and advowson of Flixton in Lothlingland, for Sir John Fastolff, Knt. his son William de Uveston of Heverland, Esq. had a daughter Catherine, married in 1420 to Henry Cat, Esq. About 1549, William Halse of Heverland died seized, and left this manor to Margt. Eliz. and Cath. his daughters and heiresses, with those of Heverland, Montjoy, &c. And afterwards Sir Thomas Gawdy of Claxton purchased it, and was lord in 1570, and it continued in that family till it was sold to the JOHN MARCON, Esq. of Holveston, barrister at law, lord and patron of Edgefield, died in 1723, and Rebecca his relict, daughter of Sir Benjamin Wrench, Knt. and now widow of Colonel Harbord, holds it for life, and Mr. John Marcon, attorney at law in Swaffham, son of Edmund Marcon, late of Fornect, cousin to the said John, is heir in reversion.

In 1323, the Earl of Pembrook, AYMER DE VALENCE, held the mediety of this advowson, as belonging to the fees of the barony of Montchensy, together with his manor of Burgh-Apeton, which this mediety hath always attended, being annexed to that advowson.

THIS parish is in the liberty of the Duke of NORFOLK, as a member to Framlingham manor, which hath the superiour jurisdiction over the town.⁷ It belonged to Ralf Earl of Norfolk when he abjured the realm, and after to Roger Bigot. In the Confessor's time ALNOTH, a Saxon, and ALURED, had it under Bishop Stigand. Yelverton was then half a mile long, and four furlongs broad, and paid 10*d.* ob. to the geld; but it is now much larger, for the vill of APPLETON, now called ALPINGTON,⁸ is joined to this town, though it was then a separate village belonging to EDWIN in the Confessor's, and to ROGER BIGOT in the Conqueror's time, and was of more annual value than all Yelverton. Alpington, is that part lying against Yelverton-heath, and hath a constable chosen by itself, who answers its

In 1198, Ralf Fitz Robert, to whom it was first granted, conveyed it to Ralf Fitz Ralf and William son of Adam de Hengham, with the advowson, lands, and 8s. per annum rents. It afterwards belonged to William de Baconsthorpe, and in 1235, to *Will. In 1391, John de Yelverton and Margaret his wife, had all the Yelverton's estate here, and in 1444, William Yelverton, justice of the King's Bench, owned it; and in 1462, his commission was renewed, and again in 1471. In 1499, William Yelverton, junr. Esq. son of Sir William Yelverton, Knt. the judge, had the estate, at his father's death; this William

The RANTS. The first of which family that I find mentioned, as having estates in this county was Henry Rant, who lived in 1444, from whom descended, ROBERT RANT of Norwich, buried in St. Stephen's church there, as in vol. iv. p. 152, as was HUMFRY RANT,² notary-publick, and KATERINE his wife, who first settled at Yelverton, and died in 1609, being succeeded by WILLIAM RANT, M. ROGER DE ETON, rector of Yelverton, by his will, proved before the official of the Bishop of Norwich in 1405, ordered his body to be buried in the hospital church of St. Giles in Norwich, to which church, and that of Yelverton, he was a benefactor, and gave 20s. yearly rent to keep his anniversary in the hospital, and feed the clerks, brethren, sistern, and and sick poor, that day, and tied houses in St. Peter Mancroft for it.

In 1479, Tho. Wyoth, rector, was buried in the chancel, before the principal image of the Blssed Virgin there, which stood against the east wall, at the north side of the altar, he gave a legacy to the gild of St. John Baptist held in this church, and 20s. towards the new roof of the church.

This advowson being forfeited to the Crown, was granted by King Henry VII. to JOHN Earl of OXFORD, and his heirs male of his body, and upon failure thereof, it came to the Crown, where the patronage hath continued ever since.

1505, Henry Curle, rector. In

1560, Rob. Howse was collated by lapse. In 1583, the Queen presented

D. and brother to Henry Drury, rector of Tending; in 1603 he returned 124 communicants here, and 43 in Beeston St. Laurence, which rectory he held with this. In 1606, it was returned, that the advowson being granted under limitation, the reversion was now in the Crown, and on a quare impedit, it was determined to be so, and in 1591, the QUEEN presented

Joseph Dawes. In 1608, the King presented

Daniel Howse, who was succeeded in 1638, by Tho. Baldwin, and he in 1654, by Christopher Blanks, who in 1661 was instituted on the King's presentation. In 1698, Tho. Hacon had it, and was succeeded in 1733, by the Rev. Mr. Charles Wadsworth, the present rector, who holds it united to the consolidated rectory of the mediocities of Howe with Poringland-Parva.

There is one acre of land given to repair the church; this town is left out of Saxton's map of the county; it paid 2*l* 10s. clear to each tenth, besides 6s. from the lands of the religious here. The CHURCH is 33 feet long, and 22 broad. The south isle and chapel at its east end, are 46 feet long, and 13 broad, and are both leaded; the chancel is 31 feet long, and 16 broad, and is thatched. The steeple was rebuilt in 1674, by Thomas Thetford: it is 50 feet high, and contains three bells.

SAXLINGHAM.

THIS and most other towns, begining with the words, SAIRE, SEAXE, or SAX, such as Saxham, Saxmundham, &c. had their names, in all probability, from one or more persons of the name of SAX, among the SAXONS, which name continued till after the Conquest, as appears from the Consuetudinary of Bury Abbey,⁶ where Richard, son of SAX, is mentioned after that time.

The town is commonly divided into two parts, called Nethergate, and Overgate, or Thorp; the manors were called Netherhall-Verdons, and Overhall or Thorphall, and have been united for some time past; to the former the advowson of Saxlingham-Nethergate belonged, and to the latter that of Saxlingham-Thorp.

* (Journe L'peop'le.)

1380 the said Simeon had it, and presented in full right. In 1401 John Bernak, Knt. held it. In 1478, John Broughton, Esq. died seized of this, Stonham Aspale in Suff. Ak., and Colne Engayne in Essex, and left John his son and heir, who died in 1528, leaving Anne and Catherine his coheiresses, (his only son John dying under age) who had livery of their several moieties of this, Tilney, and many other manors in Norfolk, Suffolk, Bedfordshire, Devonshire, Berkshire, Buckinghamshire, Cornwall, Huntingdonshire, Cambridgeshire, Leicestershire, Hertfordshire, Oxfordshire, Essex, and Northamptonshire; so great was the estate of this family; these two coheiresses married, ANNE, to WILLIAM HOWARD, Knt. lord Howard of Naworth; and CATHERINE, to Sir THOMAS CHEINE, Knt. lord warden of the Cinque Ports, by whom several large parts were severed from the manor, which went to Sir WILLIAM PAULET, Knt.⁹ in right of Anne his wife, one of the coheiresses of William Lord HOWARD; and in 1603, the Marquis of WINCHESTER was found lord and patron; and in 1609, Sir Henry Gawdie, Knt. of Claxton, and other inhabitants of Saxlingham, (who had purchased several parcels of its demeans^s) were found to hold VERDON'S manor at 1 fee, of Forncet manor. In 1636, Sir William Pawlet and Sir Henry Gawdie had it: and afterwards it belonged to Judge Gawdie, in whom all the manors and advowsons were joined. After him it was Charles Suckling's, and then John Tuttle's, Esq. who died in 1684, and Elizabeth his daughter and heiress inherited; she married John Mingay, Esq. and died in 1716, leaving her three daughters her heiresses; 1, ELIZABETH, married to John Burkin, Esq.; 2, MARY, to John Foxle, Esq.; 3, SUSAN, to John Baron, D. D. Dean of Norwich, who all joined and sold it (except the advowson) to ROBERT ATWOOD, Esq. father of John Atwood, Esq. whose daughter, and heiress, ANNE, by Joanna his wife, is now married to the present lord, THOMAS GOOCH, Esq. of Benaere in Suffolk, eldest son to Thomas Lord Bishop of Ely.

THE MANOR OF THORPHALL

Belonged at the Conquest to the Abbot of HOLM, and was given by Hugh, Abbot there, to John son of Robert, commonly called Fitz-Robert, and his heirs in fee; to be held by the service of half a knight's fee, on condition, that if John son of Pagan or Fitz-Pain should recover it from the Abbot, then he was to hold it of Fitz-Pain.

Eustace de Vesci gave to Adam de Carleolo, or Carlisle, in the time of King Stephen, in exchange for the manor of Caldebec, &c. which his father gave to Adam with Maud his daughter, all his land in Saxlingham, being half a fee, held of the Abbot of St. Benedict, and 19 bovates of land in Knupton, &c.

Stephen Blund, and Agnes his mother, in 1198, held half a carucate, and in 1235, Ellen le Blund held it of William Cardville and John de Gosford half a fee; and the same year the heirs of Stephen le Blund, held here a quarter of a fee of the Earl of Arundel. 1306, Will. sou

¹ 1587, Will. Warde held the lands of Ralf le Blund sold it to Peter son of Will. de Nerford. In 1317, the King seized John son and heir of Simon de Gosford, because the said Simon held his manor of Berewell in Saxlingham of William de Carliolo and his wife, who were now rebels, by adhering to his enemies of Scotland, it being held at half a fee of Saxlingham manor. 1323, William Blund had it. In 1343, Roger, parson of Heydon, and Tho. de Brewse, held it; and John de Gosford and Roger Herdegrey held half a fee, late John de Gosford's, which soon after fell again into this manor.

Tifordina de Kardville held it at half a fee after him. In 1225, William Cardville held it of the heirs of Vesci; they of Rob. Fitz-Roger, he of the Abbot of St. Bennet, and he of the King in capite, as part of his barony. In 1272, Ascelina widow of William le Bland or Blunt, brought a writ against William son of Warine de Muntchensy and Sapientia widow of Will. de Cardville for her dower in Saxlingham. In 1285, Will. de Karliolo or Cardeyl, son of William and Sapientia, lord here, had weyf, assize of bread and ale, and view of frankpledge; and in 1290, King Edw. I. granted him a charter of free-warren in all his demesnes here, and in Utedely and Crossely in Cumberland. In 1297, John de Goseford owned that he held by half a fee of this William, a messuage and 60 acres in Saxlingham, which John his father had of the grant of Will. father of this *Will.*² who being a rebel to Edw. I. that King seized all his lands and gave them to Sir William de Monteacute, Knt. and Eliz. his wife, with Knoll in Somersetshire, and Woneford in Devonshire, and Will. de Scottow, clerk, took possession of this manor, as his attorney; this William died seized about 1319, and of the advowson of Saxlingham-Thorp, leaving Eliz. his widow, and William his son 18 years old, who had his manors here, and in Somersetshire, Lincolnshire, Oxfordshire, Devonshire, Dorsetshire, Bucks, and Hertfordshire; in 1316, this Will. de Monteacute had a charter for free-warren here, and in Drayton, Knoll, and Woneford, and died seized; in 1320, Will. de Monteacute and Eliz. his wife held it with the manors of Ughtreby, Bampton, Crossley, and 10 bovates in Brunesly in Gillesland in Cumberland.

In 1350, John de Stoke-ferry, and Alice his wife, settled it on Geffery Botiler and Joan his wife, and Tho. de Bumpstede, and John de Plumstede, to the use of Geffry, who jointly with his wife, in 1357, conveyed it to Sir John Wingfield, Knt. and Eleanor his wife, and their heirs; and this year John de Ferdon and Maud his wife settled their manor here on Sir John Wingfield and his wife (except Overhall advowson) for life; in 1358, Sir John and *Eleanor*³ his wife settled Netherhall on themselves in tail, remainder to Catharine wife of Sir Michael de la Poole, Knt. remainder to Thomas and William Wingfield, his brothers, Ric. de Amudeville being trustee. Michael de la Poole and Catharine his wife, in 1389, held this manor, and the advowson of Saxlingham Thorp; in 1401, Mich. de la Poole Earl of Suffolk held it of the Abbot of St. Bennet; in 1433 William Earl of

³ 1374, ELEANOR, daughter and heir of GILBERT GLANVILLE, Knt. and wife of Sir JOHN WINGFIELD, held Saxlingham, and CATHARINE their daughter and heir married to MICH. de la POOLE Earl of Suffolk.

Suffolk and Alice his wife had it, and died seized, and left it to his son John, and it remained in the Suffolk family till the attainder of Edmund de la Poole, and then the King seized it, and granted it in moieties, to Edward Wadham and Thomas Fogg, and their heirs males, in 1509; and in 1512 the King granted Fogg's moiety to Christopher Garneys, and his heirs males, but Margaret, wife of Edmund de la Poole, enjoyed the whole manor for life, but survived her husband only two years; in 1511, John Bremer, of Newton Flotman, Gent. gave his moiety to John his son; one moiety, now in the Crown, was granted to the Lady Anne de Cleve for life; and in 1558, Thomas Chapman had livery of it at the death of Alexander his father, and held it in 1561, and in 1566 sold it to Thomas Gawdy of Claxton, and Frances his wife, and his heirs, and Henry Gawdy his son joined it to Verdon's manor:

The other moiety, which was Bremer's, came to John Dimock, who in 1567, with the Queen's license, sold it to William Tattill, of whom Gawdy bought it, and joined it to Verdon's about 1567.

The CHURCH of St. Mary of Saxlingham Thorp is now ruined, the steeple and walls only standing; it stands thus in the Revision of the Archdeaconry of Norfolk, made in 1630:

Saxlingham-Thorp is a rectory, of which Sir Robert Gawdy, Knt. is patron, and William Pudding, A. M. licensed preacher, is rector; it is valued in the King's Books at 6*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* and pays 16*d.* synodals, and 7*s.* 6*d.* ob. archdeacon's procurations. He holds Nethergate also by a personal union.

In 1608, Robert Robinson, rector, certified that there were 140 communicants in this parish, and that Sir Henry Gawdy was then patron.

Being sworn of the clear yearly value of 25*l.* it is discharged of first fruits, and tithes, and in 1740, was consolidated to Nethergate. There was a GILD in honour of the Virgin Mary anciently held in this church.

At his death, in 1739, both these rectories, which he held by personal union, became void, and in 1740 were really annexed and consolidated, and on June 7, 1740, John Berney, A. M. the present rector, (now D. D. and archdeacon of Norwich,) was instituted to the rectory of Saxlingham Nethergate with Saxlingham Thorp annexed, being collated by THOMAS GOOCH Bishop of Norwich (to whom he was chaplain) by lapse of time, and had a union to the consolidated rectories of the two mediocities of Hetherset, and Cantlose, which he now holds with the rectory of St. Clement in Norwich. This town produced ADAM DE SAXLINGHAM (a white friar of Norwich convent; see vol. iv. p. 418,) a man of good learning, and great ingenuity in preaching and disputing: he wrote divers treatises, and flourished under EDWARD III. A° 1350.

The CHURCH is 25 yards long, and 6 and an half broad, and hath no isles; the nave and chancel are leaded, and the south porch is tiled, it hath a square tower, and six bells; the parsonage, which is a good and convenient house, joins to the west part of the churchyard.

S H O T E S H A M.

SCOTESSA, SCOTESSAM, or SHOTESHAM, signifies the village of SCOTS, or portions; and was very properly so called, for it was in above twelve parts, at the Confessor's and Conqueror's surveys; it had four capital manors, four parish churches, two HAMLETS, and the manors extended, into Framingham,⁴ Bedingham,⁵ Brook,⁶ and Stokeholy-Cross.

THE MANOR OF VAUX'S, NERFORD'S, OR SHOTESHAM-HALL,

Contained the parish of SHOTESHAM All-Saints, commonly called High Shotesham, from the situation of the church on a great eminence, the advowson of which belonged to this manor, till it was given to Pentney priory. ALNOT held it at one carucate at the Confessor's survey,⁷ and it afterwards belonged to RALF Earl of Norfolk; and on his abjuring the realm fell to the Conqueror, and GODRIC his sewer took care of it; the Bp. of Baieux had it of that King in fee, and Roger Bigod held it of him, and gave it afterwards to AITARD DE VALLIBUS or VAUX, in whose family it continued many generations; it was first valued at 30*s. per annum*, and after at 3*l.*

ELIAS DE VALLIBUS, or VAUX, one of the itinerant justices, was lord here, and obtained the lete by grant from the Crown, so that it was severed from the hundred; OLIVER DE VAUX was lord, and after him, JOHN his son. In 1202, Robert de Vaux settled on RALF Abbot of Hulne 2 carucates of land in Shotesham, which Robert his father gave to that monastery, by which he much lessened the manor, in 1248. The manor being held of the Norfolk family, Earl Roger was guardian to William de Vaux, lord here, who in 1250, added divers rents and services to it, which he purchased of William de Hemenhale and Maud his wife, and of Jeffry de Caam and Agnes his wife. In 1263, John de Vaux of Therston obtained a charter for free warren here,⁸ of King Henry III.; this John was sued for appropriating the fishing to himself on each side of his mill, it being proved that all the fishery in the manor was common to the tenants except the mill pool only, and at the same time the Abbot of Holme was fined, for hindering the common fishing at Linewesse in Shotesham. In 1285, John de Vaux was allowed to have a LETE, and view of frankpledge as well over all his freemen of Shotesham as other tenants there,⁹ and in 1288, one moiety was assigned to Will. de Nerford, in right of Petronel his wife, eldest daughter, and coheir of John de Vaux, who held it jointly in 1291, of the Earl-Marshal at one fee, and in 1300, Maud sister of Petronel was seized of the other moiety of it; and in 1306, Will. de Ros her husband had it: after the death of William de Nerford about the year 1300, who had the whole manor allotted him, Petronel his widow, in 1303, settled it on Oliver de Redham for life, paying her 40*li. per annum* clear out of it; in 1327, Sir John de Nerford, Knt. and Agnes his wife, settled it with Wisete in Suffolk and the advowsons of Pentney priory in Norfolk, and Rumburgh priory in Suffolk, &c. on themselves and the heirs of John; there was an exact extent and survey of this manor made in his time and there were 1136, acres belonging to it. In 1374 Agnes, then wife of John Matravers, senior, held the manor for life; this Agnes, first married Sir John Argentine, Knt. by whom Sir John Argentine, her son and heir; and secondly, to Sir John de Nerford, Knt. who died 3d Edw. III. and left Thomas Nerford his brother and heir, who died in 1343, and Sir John Nerford, Knt. his son, was his heir, who daughter and heiress Margaret (or Margery) de Nerford died without issue; but before her death in 1390 sold it to

Sir JOHN WHITE, Knt. and his trustees, Sir Miles Stapleton, Knt. Oliver Groos, and others.

This family were originally of SUFFOLK, and in 1272, BARTHOLOMEW LE WITE and Alice his wife had an estate at Stoke Neyland in that county; and soon after William, son and heir of Ralfle White of Saxlingham in Norfolk, and Ellen his wife, had lands in Shotesham; and in 1388, Ralf White had it, whose son Robert White, Esq. of Shotesham, was father to the aforesaid Sir JOHN WHITE, Knt. who was the raiser of this family, by his martial exploits: in 1401, he was the very first person named in the commission, by Hen. IV. to raise the AID to marry the King's eldest daughter; in 1403, he and Margaret (or Margery) his first wife lived in Tunstall in Suffolk, and owned a manor in Orford; he was a commander under the Earl of Dorset at the siege of Harfleu, and in 1317, at the siege of Roan in Normandy, he rode up to the gate of that city, and challenged the bastard Darly, a French officer, to break a lance, who accepting his challenge, at the first course ran Sir John through, who by his falling from his horse was presently dragged into the town, and in a few hours died there. By Joan or Julian, his second wife, who was daughter of Peter Hovel of Swannington, and relict of John But of Norwich; he had John White of Frettenham, lord of Maidenton or Mayton manor there, which his father gave him, who with Alice his wife, daughter and heiress of Robert Burnham of Lyn, are interred in Frettenham church, leaving Mayton to Margaret their daughter and heiress, who was buried by them in 1431, leaving issue by Giles St. Lowe, Esq. her husband; one daughter, ELIZABETH, married to Henry Statham, Esq. who died in 1481, and left Joan their daughter and sole heir, married to John Sacheverell.

But this manor went to the eldest son by Sir John's first wife, viz. ROBERT WHITE, Esq. who by Elizabeth his wife, daughter of William Appleyard and Margaret his wife, daughter of Robert Clere of Ornesby, Esq. left Bartholomew White, Esq. of Shotesham his eldest son and heir; this Elizabeth was buried in Shotesham St. Mary, in the chancel there, in 1442, and left Margaret Appleyard her sister, Emma Bray her sister, Mr. Appleyard her brother, and Bartholomew White her son, her executors, and gave legacies to Elizabeth her daughter, Henry White her second son, and William White, lord of Thorp Parva, her third son, for whose descendants, see vol. i. p. 139.

In 1440, Sir Simon Felbrigg, Knt. released to Bartholomew and his heirs, this manor, with the several knights fees held of it, with the advowson of FILBY, all which he had settled on him in trust, jointly with William Appleyard, John Lancaster, William and Robert Clere, Bartholomew Appleyard, John Upton and John Alderford deceased. This Bartholomew, in 1486, founded the chapel on the north side of the church of Shotesham St. Mary, and placed his own effigies, and those of Joan Dalton, his first wife, by whom he had no issue, and of Alice Shuldham his second wife, (who all lie interred in it, under stones now robbed of their brass plates) and under them, placed this inscription, Orate pro Bartholomeo White, Joanna et Alicia uxoribus ejus, qui istam Capellam fieri fecit Anno domini M. CCCC. LXXXVI^o, quorum animabus propicietur Deus.

He had his own arms single on his surcoat, and each of his wives had theirs. He died in 1495, and then held this manor, of the manor of Fornect at one fee, sc. half a fee in Shoteshams, and half a fee in Crouch-Stoke, or Stoke-Holy-Cross.

Simon White, Esq. his son and heir, succeeded, and died about 1505, leaving by his wife, daughter of Holdich of Didlington, Esq.

Edward White of Filby, Esq. his son and heir, after of Shotesham, and London, counsellor at law, who married Elizabeth, daughter of Tho. Foxmere of Bromesthorp; by his will, dated June 17, 1521, he bequeathed a legacy to the poor, for undeserved fees, and dying the 8th of July following, was buried in St. Mary's chancel, under a stone which hath a brass plate on it, thus inscribed, Hic jacet Edwardus Whyte Armiger, et Elizabetha Uxor eius, qui hoc seculum reliquerunt viii^o die mensis Julii Anno Domini M^o Ue. xxviii. quorum Animabus propicietur Deus.

They both died of the sweating sickness. Their effigies, were on the stone, and the following arms.

By the inquisition taken after his death it appears, that he married Elizabeth, daughter of Thomas Fromere of Bromesthorp, and died seized of the manors of Shotesham-hall, Swans, and Toft-hall in Shoteshams, held of the Duke of Norfolk as of his manor of Forncet; Wramplingham manor and advowson, Mayton or Maydenton manor, held of the Lord Morley, Little Thorp, of the Bishop of Norwich, Blockby manor of the heirs of John Berney of Redham, Esq. and the advowson of the church of All-Saints in Filby, held in gross, leaving

GEORGE WHITE, his son and heir, 12 years old, who was an ideot, and died without issue in 1546; Thomas Duke of Norfolk was his guardian, who in 1535 settled the manors after George's death, on his heir at law,

EDMUND WHITE of Shotesham, Esq. his uncle, whose will was proved in 1538, when he was buried in Shotesham church, in the north chapel there, and Margaret, relict of William, son of Sir John Timperley, Knt. whom he had married, survived him, leaving

EDWARD WHITE his son, then seven years old, who inherited the whole at George White's death; he died in 1558 single, and

ANNE WHITE, his only sister, inherited, who was then married to Henry Doyly of Pondhall in Suffolk, Esq. who became lord of all these manors in her right, except a messuage called Kitts, and 88 acres of land which were severed from the manor, and belonged to JOHN WHITE, alias Holls,¹ who held it at the 12th part of a fee of Shotesham manor, which paid for it to Forncet manor. This part at his death descended to Frances his daughter and heir; and at her death in 1597 it went to her sister Helen, who died single, Mary, married to John Sprat, and Martha then single, and so this ancient family of the WHITES centered in females, and the whole inheritance, viz. the manors of Shotesham-hall, Toft-hall, and Swans, the advowson of the church of St. Michael at Poringland Parva, &c. came to

The DOYLYS, a family of great antiquity, surnamed from the lordship of Oilleia or Oyly in Normandy,² which they enjoyed long before the Norman Conquest; and at that time

ROBERT, eldest son of the lord of OYLY, for his great services in that expedition, was amply rewarded by the Conqueror with two baronies, containing many goodly lordships, and manors in England, lying chiefly in Oxfordshire.³ This family were great benefactors to the abbies⁴ of Abington,⁵ Eynesham, Godstow, Tame, and others. In 1071 they built the castle and bridge of OXFORD, which was their ancient seat, and new walled that city. This Robert being the King's constable, was made Baron of Hokenorton in Oxfordshire, by the Conqueror, and married Alghitha, daughter and heiress of Wigotus or Wigot, a Saxon thane or nobleman, who was lord of Walingford, by whom he had the lady

MAUD, his daughter and heir, who inheriting her ancestor's valour, valiantly defended the Empress her namesake, in her castle at Walingford; she first married Miles Crispin, and afterwards Brian Fitz-Count, lord of Burgavenny, but leaving no issue, was succeeded by

NIGEL, or NIGELLUS D'OYLY,⁶ her uncle, who was constable to William Rufus and Baron of Hocknorton; he married Agnes, and left two sons, FULK, buried at Eynesham in 1126, and

ROBERT, the eldest son, succeeded, as Lord High Constable, and Baron of Hocknorton: he married Edith, daughter of the Lord Grey-stock, and built the abbey of Missenden in Buckinghamshire, and amply endowed it; and in 1129, at the earnest request of his wife, founded the famous abbey of Osney, by Oxford, and settled large revenues on it; and at his death left his honours and fortunes to his eldest son,

Lord HENRY D'OYLY, Baron of Hocknorton, and the King's Constable, who married Margery, daughter of Humphry Bohun Earl of Hereford, and had five children by her, Henry, and Robert; Margery, who at last was heir to her brothers; another daughter married to Maurice de Gaunt (from whom descended the GAUNTS Earls of Lincoln), and a third daughter married to Thomas Lord Daventry. At his death his estate and honours fell to his eldest son,

HENRY who had two wives, SIBIL and MAUD, who remarried to William de Cantalupe; he had only one daughter, MAUD, who died young. He attended King Ric. I. to Jerusalem, and as he returned, died and was buried in Austria, and was succeeded by his only brother,

ROBERT, who was Baron of Hocknorton, and the King's Constable, but dying without issue, his eldest sister,

MARGERY, by the King's favour, was declared his heir; she married Henry de Newburgh, a great courtier, and Earl of Warwick, by whom she had Margaret Countess of Warwick, who married two husbands; first, John Marshal, in her right Earl of Warwick, &c. 2dly, JOHN DE PLESSET, a great courtier, likewise Earl of Warwick in her right. She had issue, THO. Earl of Warwick, who married Ela, daughter of William Longspee Earl of Sarum. But though the honours separated thus from the family, yet several manors, and a good part of the estate, descended to

ROBERT D'OYLY, who was the eldest son of GILBERT the younger, and only brother to the first Lord HENRY;

JOHN, son of this ROBERT, was the first of the family concerned in Suffolk, where he had a seat at Wrentham, and was succeeded by his son,

ROGER, who had

ROGER DOYLY, his eldest son and heir, who inherited all the Oxfordshire estate; from whom Sir JOHN DOYLY of Chislehampton in ⁶ GILBERT D'OYLY, his younger brother, who gave him lands in Oxfordshire, came in also with the Conqueror.

Oxfordshire, Baronet, is descended, as may be seen in the Baronetage, vol. iv. p. 500, 1, 2, 3. But

JOHN DOYLY, 2d son of ROGER, and younger brother to the last mentioned Roger, had the estate in Suffolk, and married ROSE, daughter and coheir of Sir William Dunston, Knt. their son,

EDWARD D'OYLY had issue,

Sir EDMUND DOYLY, Knt. who married the daughter and heir of John de Bowden of Northamptonshire, by Alice, sister to Sir John Swinford, and by her had

THOMAS, father to

EDWARD D'OYLY, who married Anne, sister and sole heir of Tho. Legate, son of Helmiu Legate of Pondhall near Hadley in Suffolk by whom he had that manor, and seat, where he fixed, and his posterity remained, till they removed hither. He died about 1447, and was buried in St. Mary Woolchurch in Lombard-street, London.

JOHN D'OYLY, their son and heir, in 1466, had license granted him by Thomas Archbishop of Canterbury, to have a CHAPEL for his family at Pondhall; he died in 1483, and was buried with Elizabeth his wife in St. John's chapel in Hadleigh church, to which town the family were great benefactors.

EDWARD DOYLY, their son and heir, married Anne, daughter of Thomas Cotton of Landwade in Cambridgeshire, Esq. and died in 1534.

HENRY DOYLY, Esq. his son and heir, was knighted by King Henry the Eighth, at Boleyn in France; he had three wives; 1st, Joan, daughter and heir of William Stele of Mersland, by whom he had no issue; 2d, Jane, daughter and sole heir of John Ekeyn of Wigenhall in Norfolk, Esq.; 3d, Margaret, natural daughter of John Duke of Norfolk, relict of Sir John Timperley of Hintlesham in Suffolk; he died in 1563, seized of Pondhall, and Topsfieldhall in Hadleigh, Cossford manor in Whatfield, and many other estates in Suffolk; leaving

HENRY, his son and heir, who marrying Anne, sister and sole heir of Edmund White of Shotesham, came here and settled in the old seat of the Whites; he was knight of the shire for Bucks, in Queen Elizabeth's time, sheriff of Norfolk and Suffolk in 1573, and again sheriff of Norfolk in 1590; his wife was buried in the church or St. Mary at Shotesham, Dec. 6, 1592, and he was interred by her in May 1597, dying seized of the manors of Shoteshamhall, Swans, and Tofthall, in Shoteshams, of Blackfordhall, Roketes, and Grangeviles, in Shoteshams, Stokeholy-cross, and other adjacent towns, holding the manor of St. Benet's in Shotesham, by lease, of the manors of Mayton in Frettenham, Warham manor, which he bought of John Appleyard, Esq. Thorp Parva, and of several churches and appropriations in Norfolk, besides his ancient estate and manors in Suffolk; they left several children, of which Anne, married Thomas Townshend of Bracon-Ash, Esq. son and heir of Sir Robert Townshend, Knt. Chief Justice of Chester.

EDMUND DOYLY of Shotesham and Pondhall, Esq. their son and heir, was high sheriff of Norfolk in 1604; he first married Anne, daughter of Sir John Goodwin of Winchindon in Bucks, by whom he had Henry, who died young, and Elizabeth married to Charles Vesey

(by Elizabeth his wife, sole daughter and heir of Sir John Gresham of London, Knt. by Frances his wife, daughter and sole heir of Sir Henry Thwaites of Lound, on the Woldes in Yorkshire, Knt.) This Sir Henry Nevil was one of the privy council to Henry VIII. and Edward VI. brother to Edward Lord Abergavenny, and father to Sir Henry Nevil, ambassador in France from Queen Elizabeth to King Henry IV.; on his marriage he settled the manors of Pondhall, Topsfieldhall and Cosfordhall in jointure, and an annuity of two hundred marks a year out of his manors of Thorp Parva, Shoteshamhall, Swans, Tofthall, and Warham, the whole jointure being estimated at one thousand marks a year; he was buried in Shotesham St. Mary, October, 12, 1612, and had issue, 1, Sir Henry; 2, William; 3, John; 4, Charles; 5, Robert; 6, Edmund; but the four last of them died without issue, and two daughters, Elizabeth married to Mr. Buxton of Tibenham, and after to William Perte of Mountencys Inge in Essex, and Alice to Wil. Clopton of Castcleyns and of Grey's Inn, London.

SIR HENRY DOYLY, Knt. eldest son and heir, married SUSAN daughter⁷ of Lionel Talmach of Helmingham in Suffolk, Esq. and sister to Sir Lionel Talmach of the same place, the first baronet of that family, he was buried in St. Mary's chancel March 6, 1616, and had issue, Anne and Susan, who died young, and one only son and heir, Edmund; he died seized of the several manors aforementioned;

EDMUND DOYLY, Esq. married BRIDGET, eldest daughter of John Coke, Esq. fourth son to Sir Edward Coke, Knt. Lord Chief Justice of the King's Bench, by whom he had Susan, who died young;⁸ she remarried to Sir Isaac Astley of Melton Constable in Norfolk, Bart.; he was buried in St. Mary's chancel with this,

It came early from the Fitz Walters to the Langelots or Langtofts, from whom it took its name; and in 1235 Nicholas de Langtoft held it at half a fee of the Earl of Clare and Gloucester, and it was now joined with the manor of Ickburgh, and passed with it in this family, as at vol. ii. p. 234, and it came afterwards to the Yelvertons; and in 1401, John Yelverton and his trustees conveyed it to Thomas Legate and Margaret his wife, and it continued in the Legates till it was joined to Shotesham-Hall manor by Edward Doyly, who married ANNE, sister and sole heir of Thomas Legate. It was then held of the manor of Shotesham-Hall.

SWAN'S MANOR

Was owned by ULKETEL the Dane, who held it of Edric, whose possessions the Conqueror assigned to Robert Malet, lord of the honour of EYE, who had it at the last survey;⁸ from which time it passed as the manor of Little Thorp, as at p. 138, vol. i. and JOHN SWAN, from whom it took its present name, was lord in 1401, and held it at a 5th part of a fee of Shotesham-Hall; he was alive in 1420, and then he presented to Little Thorp: Robert Swan, his son and heir, succeeded him, who sold it to the WHITES, who joined it to Shotesham-Hall, with which it now remains.

THE MANOR OF SHOTESHAM ST. BENET'S at that time, was a mile long and half a mile broad, and paid 2s. to the geld; Little Shotesham, viz. St. Martin and St. Buttolph's parishes, being a mile and half long, paid to the GELD 16*d.*; another part which was the abbot's, was granted by the convent to Walter Giffard, who gave it to Odine to be held of him, and at the Conquest, Walter, the successor of Odine, had it; ⁴ but this part was soon joined by the Fauxes to Shotesham-Hall manor, with the Convent's approbation. In Henry the Second's time this manor was allowed to enjoy all the liberties granted to the monastery of HOLM by the several Kings of the realm, and consequently had all royalties in itself, as liberty of free-warren, view of frankpledge, freedom from all tolls by land and by water, in cities, burghs, counties, markets, and fairs, with soc and sac, infangenthef, grithbrich, wardpeni, &c. it being held in capite as parcel of the Abbot's barony. In Henry the Third's time, the Abbot had 220 acres of arable land in demean, valued then at fourpence halfpenny an acre per annum, five acres of meadow valued at 8*d.* an acre, and he was afterwards in 1428 taxed for all his temporals here, at 14 li. 15*s.* 6*d.* It continued in the monastery till the exchange, and then came to the SEE, (as at vol. iv. p. 540,) and now belongs to the bishoprick of NORWICH, of which it hath been held by lease ever since; the several lords of Shotesham manors having been lessees. Part of Gruesvile's manor is in Stoke.

The fine of St. Benet's manor is 4*s.* an acre certain.

was held of the manor of Forncet, and was formerly part of the manor of HOE, or HOWE, as it is now called, that extended hither, and was given to that house by Richard de Hoe, of which it was after held by Sir Richard de Boyland. It was after held of the abbey by divers families, as by William Gavel in 1401, and after by the Gawells, &c. The Abbot of Langley had this and other temporals here, for which he was taxed at 38*s.* 4*d.*

Of the four parishes in this village I shall begin with

The church of ALL-SAINTS, called high or Great Shotesham church, which was given by Sir ROBERT DE VAUX, founder of Pentney priory in Norfolk,⁵ to that house when he founded it, and so it became separated from Shotesham-Hall manor, which it constantly had attended to that time; and Ralph de Hoe released all his right in it; the same founder also gave to that house, a mill at Shotesham and 15 acres of land late belonging to the church; and the advowson of St. Botolph's church here, and the prior got the church of All-Saints appropriated to his house, and was taxed for its spirituals appropriated, at 12 marks, and always presented to the endowed vicarage, till the Dissolution, when the whole vested in the Crown, and continued there till 1552, and then Edward VI. granted the impropriate rectory and the advowson of the vicarage, and the advowson of the churches of St. Mary and St. Botolph, to William Necton, and William Mingay and his heirs; and it hath continued in the Mingays, for in 1715, William Mingay, Gent. was impropriator and patron.

It stands thus in the King's Books,

6*li.* 13*s.* 4*d.* SHOTESHAM All-Saints vicarage; clear yearly value 25*li.*

So that it pays no first-fruits nor tithes, and is capable of augmentation, but is charged with 2*s.* synodals, and 7*s.* 6*d.* ob. archdeacon's procurations. At Norwich Domesday's making, the Prior of Pentney had the rectory-house and a carucate of land belonging to it, and there is now a vicarage-house and glebe.

In 1329, the PRIOR presented Robert Prat to the vicarage, and in 1349, John Malet; in 1379, Harvey de Bestorp was vicar. In 1603, Mr. Christopher Greenwood, vicar, returned answer, that there were 100 communicants in this parish, that he was master of arts, that he held it personally united to St. Mary and St. Botolph's vicarages, which were long since perpetually annexed; and that there was a parsonage impropriate, and all the vicarages were endowed, Sir Henry Gawdy, Knt. being patron. 1621, Mr. Hancock was vicar. 1630, John Boit, A. M. vicar, held the consolidated vicarages of St. Mary and St. Botolph by personal union.

The CHURCH of St. MARY in Little or Low Shotesham, belonged formerly in an alternate presentation, to the manors of Shotesham-Hall, and St. Benet's; and in 1187 there was a great contest about it, before the Bishop of Norwich and Ralph Glanville, justices itinerants, between RALF Abbot of HOLM, who claimed it as a chapel belonging to his church of St. MARTIN, and ROBERT DE VAUX released all right in St. Martin's to the Abbot, and he, all his right in St. MARY's to Robert, and all the lands in both parishes were to be parted equally, and a moiety settled on each church, and the lands of Faux's fee to belong all to St. Mary and those of the Abbot's fee to St. Martin; each was to be a mother-church; and for this agreement Robert gave the Abbot as much land in Shotesham as was worth 2*s.* a year in rent. In 1287 this advowson on the partition of the estate of JOHN DE VAUX was assigned to the part of Maud de Roos, second daughter and co-heir of the said JOHN; and in 1311, WILLIAM DE ROOS of Hamlake, and Maud his wife, settled this advowson and a carucate of land here, on RICHARD Prior of St. Mary Magdalen of Pentney and his successours for ever; it appears, that the land belonged to the church, for that house was taxed at 3*d.* only for their temporals, and at 10 marks⁹ for their spirituals, being the appropriation of this rectory, and at 8 marks for their appropriation of the church of St. Butolph, and the vicarage of which was consolidated to this. In 1305, Alan de Quitebuck was instituted to the rectory of St. Mary and died in 1310, and Bishop John Salmon appropriated it to the priory of Pentney, reserving power to him and his successors, to endow a vicarage and collate the VICARS to it for ever.

And the year following, the same Prior, on pretence of the smallness of the revenues of St. Butolph's parish, got that also appropriated, and agreed that the Bishop should endow and collate to the vicarage, and both vicarages being perpetually annexed, in 1311, the Bishop endowed them, and appointed one VICAR for both the parishes;¹ the Prior was to have all the great tithes, and part of the glebe, on condition he repaired the chancels; the vicar was to have a house and land, and a house over against St. Butolph's church, and was to pay all the synodals and procurations; and in

1311, 3d July, Thomas de Cleydone, priest, was instituted to the VICARAGE of the churches of St. Mary and St. Butolph, at the Bishop of Norwich's collation, and in Nov. following, Wil. de Chevele, priest. In 1327 Richard de Hakeford, priest, changed this vicarage for Catton, with Robert de Langele, who resigned it. 1352, Sir William Valentine of Borewell, priest. In 1381, John Forster of Whiston, &c. and so the advowson continued in the bishoprick, till the exchange in Henry the Eighth's time, and then fell to the Crown, as did the impropriation at the dissolution of Pentney priory; and both continued there, till 1552, and then King Edward VI. granted the impropriations, and the advowsons of the vicarages, to William Necton, and WILLIAM MINGAY, Gent. in whose family it continued till 1731, when William Mingay, Gent. presented the Rev. Mr. John Manister, the present vicar, to the consolidated vicarage of St. Mary and St. Butolph, and to the vicarage of All-Saints, which last he holds by a personal union with the former; but the impropriations and advowsons are since sold to WILLIAM FELLOWS of Shotesham, Esq. who now owns them.

The CHURCH of St. Mary is 40 feet long, and 19 broad, and the church is 20 feet long; it hath a square tower 60 feet high, and but one bell.

In the east window of the chancel are the effigies in the glass, of JOHN PRISOT, chief justice of the Common Pleas,² and of *Bartholomew White*³ and his wives, who built the chancel, and put up that window in 1486, for under them is this inscription,

² 1449, JOHN PRISOT, chief justice of the Common Pleas, had 53*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* per annum allowed him, for his more decent port, and also 60*l.* 6*s.* 6*d.* per annum for his summer robe, and 106*s.* 11*d.* ob. for his winter robe, according to the statute in the parliament held at Westminster, 18 H. 6.

There are the arms of WHITE and SCHULDAM; WHITE and DALTON, and

In the north chapel, under a raised tomb, lies buried Simon White, Esq. who died about 1505.

The windows were formerly very richly adorned with arms, most of which are now lost; but from Mr. Austis's MS.⁴ marked L. 26. fo. 3, we have the following account of them :

WHITE, PRISOT,⁵ WHITE and CLIPESBY, Appleyard, THORLE, vert. seven escalops arg. &c.

Norwich Domesday tells us, that St. Mary, when a rectory, had a house and 20 acres of glebe, and paid 6*d.* synodals, and 6*s.* 8*d.* procurations, and when it became a vicarage it was valued with that of St. BOTOLPH, at 6*li.* and so it stands now in the King's Books, and being sworn now of the clear yearly value of 25*li.* it is discharged of first fruits and tenths, and is capable of augmentation. In 1603 Christopher Greenwood was vicar of all the vicarages, and returned 70 communicants in St. Mary and Butolph's parish, and that Sir HENRY GAWDY, Knt. was patron. In 1630, John Bolt, vicar, paid 6*d.* synodals and 6*s.* 8*d.* archdeacon's procurations, and 2*s.* synodals for St. Butolph's, and 6*s.* 8*d.* archdeacon's procurations, and HENRY MINGAY, Gent. was then patron. There was anciently a GILD of St. Mary, in this church.

THOMAS DE BLUMVYLE Bishop of Norwich confirmed the charter of JOHN DE GREY, Bishop there, of a portion of the tithes of this parish, to the monks of NORWICH cathedral, who were taxed at 30*s.* for them; the celerer had a portion of 3*s.* 4*d.* out of it; and their temporals here were taxed at 3*s.* 4*d.*

Mr. Woolmer was sometime vicar, as was Mr. Pitcairne.

BERENGARIUS, who held TOPCROFT and HOWE of the Abbot of BURY, had 20 acres and three bordars, belonging to his manor of Howe, in all which he was infeoffed by Abbot Baldwin, in King William the Conqueror's time, for which temporals the chamberer of Bury was taxed at 76*s.*

There is a very agreeable COLD-BATH in the parish of St. Mary, fitted up for publick benefit, at the expense of WILL. FELLOWS, Esq. of Shotesham.

⁵ It seems as if Chief Justice PRISOT was buried under the defaced raised tomb on the north side of the chancel.

I saw a stone much defaced, that was formerly taken out of this bath, on it was, barry of eight, a canton ermine, and this, much defaced:

There were many arms in the windows of Shotesham-hall, which stands near St. Mary's church, and was the seat of the DOYLIES; as, WHITE⁶ impaled with Tindal, Crofts, Appleyard, Schulldham, Holditch, Yelverton, Froxmere, Cocket, Prisot, and Lane, WOODHOUSE and WHITE, Clopton, Froxmere and Cornwallis, Clere and White, &c.

THOMAS LAWRENCE of St. Alban's Hall in Oxford, A. M.⁷ an apothecary's son in London, afterwards of Merton College; after he had taken his degree, studied physick, and practised that faculty in Norfolk, and was of some eminence there, especially upon his writing and publishing, MERCURIUS CENTRALIS, or a Discourse of Subterranean Cokle, Muscle, and Oyster Shells, found in the Digging of a Well, at Sir WILLIAM DOYLIES in Norfolk, many feet under ground, and at a considerable distance from the sea. Sent in a letter to Tho Brozue, M. D. Printed at London 1664 in 5 sheets in octavo. He died in NORFOLK some years after.

The CHURCH of St. Butolph is now totally demolished, being pulled down at the Reformation; the ruins of the steeple show that it was square, the churchyard was ploughed up when I saw it; it abuts southward to a hollow way leading eastward over the river to High Shotesham church, being the very corner piece at the turn of that way.

It was appropriated with St. MARY's to the priory of Pentney, and both became one vicarage, as is before observed, the whole glebe and house belonging to this church,⁸ except Fisher's Croft, was reserved to the vicar. NORWICH Domesday tells us, that there was a house and 30 acres of land.

⁶ Hen. Howard, youngest son of Hen. Earl of Surrey, and brother to Th. last Duke of Norfolk, was born at Shotesham, bred in King's college in Cambridge, then in Trin. hall, being afterwards chancellor of the University. A great scholar, witness his learned "Dispensative against the Poison of supposed Pro-phesies," dedicated to Sir Fr. Walsingham. He lived privately in the reign of Queen ELIZABETH till King James advanced him in honour and wealth, creating him Baron of Marnehill in Dors., Earl of Northampton, Lord Privy Seal, Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, Knight of the Garter. He funded and endowed an hospital for 12 poor women and a governor at Rising in this county: another for 12 poor men and a governour at CLUN in Shrop. another at Greenwich in Kent, for a governor and 20 poor men, of which 8 are to be chosen out of Shotesham. He died 15 June, 1614, and was buried in the ancient chapel at Dover. Anglorum Speculum, Lond. 1684, p. 528.

⁸ It now belongs to the vicarage, and stands opposite to the churchyard.

The church of St. Martin belonged to the Abbot of St. Bennet at HOLM,⁹ and at the exchange of the revenues of that abbey, came to the SEE of Norwich, and the Bishop of that see is now PATRON. It is a rectory, valued at 4*li.* in the KING'S BOOKS, the true real value being 18*li.* per annum only; it is capable of augmentation, and is discharged of first fruits and tithes, and pays 2*s.* synodals and 3*s.* 4*d.* procurations.

Master RICHARD DE BOYLAND was rector here in Edward the First's time; in 1308 Clement de Westleton, subdeacon; in 1334, William de Honing, clerk; in 1349, Adam de Westwyck, priest; in 1408, Sir William Crane, priest, &c.; in 1422, Thomas at Water, rector, was buried in the church; in 1603, Robert Grey answered that there were 40 communicants in the parish, and that Edmund Doyly, Esq. was patron, by lease from the Bishop of Norwich. 1630, Oliver Harrison held it by union with Stoke vicarage; in 1693 it was held with Holesley in Suffolk by union; in 1706, Richard Laughton, clerk, had it, and now the Rev. Mr. FRANCIS MOSSOON is rector. The ruins of the church may be seen not far distant from St. Mary's.

The Prioress of CARROW was taxed for temporals at 6*s.* The Prior of Mendham for spirituals at 7*s.* 6*d.* and 6*s.* 8*d.* a year was paid to the PRIORESS of Bungey out of a tenement called Shreves.

There is piece of laud called CHAPEL-YARD, late parcel of the possessions of the priory of Hickling, where a freechapel stood formerly, of which I have no further account in any evidences that I have seen.

All the parishes were valued together to the TENTHS, as one town and paid 9*li.* 6*s.* 8*d.* clear.

The ancient family of the MINGAYS hath been here for a long time, as also that of the BRANSBYS which anciently came from the neighbouring village of Poringland-Magna.

STOKE,

COMMONLY called STOKE HOLY-CROSS, anciently Cruche Stoke, from its parish church, which was dedicated to the honour of the HOLY-CROSS, was in many parts, belonging to the several manors of *Shoteshams*¹ Eaton, &c.² but the principal manor and church, which had 18 acres of glebe, then valued at 2*s.* per annum, belonged to

THE MANOR OF BLACKWORTH, OR BLACKFORTH HALL.

This part of the town was held by WALTER, one of the CONFESSOR's thanes, in part, and partly by KETEL the Dane, under Bishop Stigand, and was then in three parts or manors, which were all given by the Conqueror to TOVI, who made them one manor, the whole of this part, at the Conqueror's survey, laid in the hundred of HUMBLE-YARD, and had a church, and 23 acres of glebe and the moiety of another adwoson, belonging to it; STOKES was then a mile long, and 4 furlongs broad, and paid xi. d. to the geld, without Grenesvill.

In Henry the Second's time RALF CURZUN of Flegg was lord, and sold a part of it, to be held at the fifth part of a fee, to ROBERT son of ROSCELINE, which constituted ROSCELINE's manor here, which joined to the manor of that name in PORINGLAND, (see p. 443,) both which have been, and still continue, joined to this manor of Blackworth.

In 1229, ROBERT DE CURZUN granted it to Simon de Whatfield, and in 1267, Reginald de la Wade and Alice his wife conveyed it to ADAM Abbot of St. Bennet at the Holm; when it contained a capital messuage, a carucate of land, and 13s. 4d. annual rent, in Stoke and Greynesvill, on condition the Abbot should find Reginald, during his life, 2 robes or 30 shillings sterling, one at Christmas, the other at Easter, and every week 14 loaves, and 8 flaggons of ale, such as the monks drank; and to Alice, if she outlived Reginald, 7 like loaves and 9 flaggons of ale; and thus this manor became joined to

THE MANOR OF GREENESVILL, OR GRANGVILLES ROCKELLS,

Which belonged to the Abbot of HOLM, and contained that part of Greensvill hamlet which laid in Stoke; this manor was confirmed to St. Bennet's, by several kings and popes, but Abbot Conrade, who lived in Henry the First's time, granted to WILLIAM CURZUN the land of Greingville in fee, who thereupon sware fealty to the church, and to pay 60 seli of wheat;⁵ and he also gave two parts of the tithes of his land at Blackworth, and at Fridestone or Freton to that monastery, and William his successour confirmed it; and Daniel Abbot of Holm granted it in fee to Robert Picot and Beatrice his wife, for the same rent; but Ralf Curzun, about the time of Hen. II. had it, and acknowledged that he held it in fee of the Abbot, and that if William Cursuu of Wichingham should recover it against him, he would not sue the Abbot;⁶ he gave also to the abbey 2 sheaves of the tithes of his demesans here, which was held by Sir Robert Cursun in 1239. This ROBERT, in 1218, sold half the manor to RICHARD DE RUPELLA, OR ROKELE, viz. half a carucate of land, &c. containing an hundred acres, to be held by him and his heirs of the said Robert and his heirs, by the yearly rent of 30 combs of wheat, and the sale was inrolled before the itinerant justices in Eire at NORWICH, the Sunday next after the feast of St. Agatha, among whom were Ralph Germyn, Walter de Verdon, Richard de Seinges, and John de Worthstede, and others; and Sir Richard, at the same time, released to the Abbot of HOLM all his right in two sheaves of the tithes of the demesans of this manor, the Abbot, as chief lord of the fee, consenting to the alienation. Soon after this, Sir Richard granted it to Reginald de Karevilla, or Carvill, in marriage with his daughter Alice, and they afterwards conveyed it again to the Abbot of St. Bennet, who settled it on Sir Wil. de la Rokele, Knt. whose son, Sir Rich. de la Rokele, Knt. in 1296, had license of King Edw. I. to exchange this manor for that of Woodhall in Sandringham, which was accordingly done, and the Abbot released his right to Rokele in his possessions in Appleton, Sandringham, Newton, and Wolfreton, and so they became united to Rokele's manor in Appleton. In 1272 the other moiety was sold by ROB. CURSUN of Town Berningham, and Ralf his son, to Sir Simon son of Richard Braunche, and it is said to lie in Cruchstoke and Castre, and the Abbot of St. Bennet confirmed the sale, on condition he was paid yearly 30 combs of wheat; and if it should happen that Sir Wil. de la Rokele, Knt. should recover the manor of Grengesvill in the King's court, namely, that part of it which he had of the gift of Reginald de la Wade, against the said Abbot, then the said Simon need not pay the corn, to the said Sir William de la Rokele, as was used to be paid to Sir Robert de la Rokele his father.

In 1279, Sir Simon de Grinvile, or Sir Simon Braunch of Grinvile, died seized, and was succeeded by Peter Braunche,⁷ who in 1215 had lete and view of frankpledge allowed him here.

The other part of the town called,

STOKE MANOR,

Belonged to Gilbert Pecche, and after that, to the BYDUN family, and then to the Burgates, and Sir Baldwyn de Burgate, Knt. lord of it, and Rose his wife, gave many lands here to St. Bennet's abbey; and in 1272, John de Tyveteshall held it of Giles de Wachesham, of the manor of Thuriton in Suffolk, which was then owned by Giles son of the said Giles, at a quarter of a fee; in 1285, William de Montchensy was lord, and he and his tenants were summoned to do their suit to the King's hundred of Hensted, though he had a lete to his own manor.

This year all these manors of STOKE and GREENESVILL united, and Andrew de Hengham conveyed them to Henry de Norwich and Catherine his wife, and in 1297, the Abbot of HOLM let all his revenues here for life, to Sir Walter de Norwich, with the FREE-CHAPEL, by the site of this manor of GREENESVIL, with chapel-land and chapel-acre, with the wood, and 56 acres of demesans joining to the site.

In 1301 there was an extent made of this manor, for Sir WALTER DE NORWICH, then lord;⁸ by which it appears, that the Prior of HICKLING had 20 acres of land, and paid to the lord 2s. 6d. and 4 MINE⁹ of wheat; and the Abbot of St. Bennet held 53 acres of land, and the rents were 35s. 10d. besides the corn-rents, which were 9 quarters and an half and 2 fifth parts of a bushel.

In 1302, King EDWARD I. granted to Sir JOHN DE NORWICH, Knt. and his heirs, free-warren in all his demesans, in Cruchestoke, Howe, Shotesham, Poringland, Sculthorp, Lyng and Great Massingham in NORFOLK, Bromfield, Walpol, Melles, Wenhaston, Thorington, Shipmedowe, Metyngham, Ilketeshale, Redesham, and Dalynghe in SUFFOLK; and soon after this, Sir Walter purchased all he could in this neighbourhood; for in 1306, Sir Richard de Boyland granted to him and his heirs all the lands and tenements belonging to his manor of HOE, lying in Shotesham, there being 25 tenants and their services, all which he added to this manor: the same year Reginald son of Nicholas de Shotesham sold him all his meadows and marshes between the watermill and Merkeshall Bridge, and William son of Peter But of NORWICH, an estate in BLACKWORTH village, in Cruchestoke parish, and lands by Grenesvill Hill, in Grenesvill Village in CRUCHESTOKE aforesaid, and land abutting on the way called YKEN-ELDESGATE; in 1308, Thomas son and heir of Sir Peter Rosceline Knt. granted to Sir Walter de Norwich the yearly rent of 6l. 11s. 8d. to be received of his tenants in Poringland-Magna and Parva, Cruchestoke, Shotesham's, and other adjoining townes, by deed dated at Blackworth in Stoke, and thus Rosceline's manor became wholly joined to this, though Thomas Rosceline, upon suing for it, was returned lord of Rosceline's manor in 1315. In 1322, St. Walter Norwich, Knt. and Catherine his wife, owned Blackworth in Stoke, and the several manors and fees joined to it, and this year the settlement of the Norwich's estate was made, and by fine levied between Sir John de Norwich, querent, and Remigius, parson of Hengham, and Walter de Thruston, parson of Sculthorp, deforciant; the manors of Sculthorp, Ling, Howe, and Blackworth, with the advowsons of Ling,¹ Sculthorp,² and Howe, after the decease of Katherine widow of Sir Walter de Norwich, Knt. and of Joan widow of Alexander de Clavering, were all settled on Sir John de Norwich and his heirs male, remainder on Thomas de Norwich, with remainder to Roger brother of Thomas.³

In 1343, Nicholas son and heir of John de Suffield, granted divers lands to Sir John Norwich, Knt.; and in 1353 Henry de Kenton, parson of Swanton-Abbots, did the like; in 1356, King Edward III. confirmed to Sir John Norwich, Knt. his CHARTER of free-warren in all his manors and demeans. In 1372, Sir John settled this and other manors in trust, on Sir John Plais, Sir Robert Howard, Sir Roger Boys, Knts. and others. In 1374 this manor and Metingham castle, and other manors, at the death of Sir JOHN NORWICH, junior, Knt. descended to KATHERINE BREWSE his cousin and heir, she being daughter and heir of Thomas, brother to Sir JOHN NORWICH the elder, father of Sir Walter, father of the last Sir John, and she settled it on her feoffees, with her other estate, as at p. 138. This Catherine, in 1378, took upon her a religious habit, and became a nun at Dertford, and Margaret her aunt became her heir, who first married to Sir Thomas Cully, Knt. and then to Robert Ufford Earl of SUFFOLK, whose son,⁴ William Ufford Earl of Suffolk, inherited, and was lord of this manor, and died in 1381, and it passed from the Suffolk family to the BILLINGFORDS, and JAMES BILLINGFORD, clerk of the crown, who had an annuity of 20*li. per annum* belonging to that office, was lord here, and of Stapleford in Hertfordshire in 1388; and in 1476, one of the same name had it, with the manors of Ower and Netherhall in TOFT Monacorum; in 1558, Edmund Billingford of Stoke-holy-Cross, Esq. was buried in the chancel, by the tomb of Elizabeth his wife, and Catherine his wife survived him, Thomas his son inherited;

he had a daughter married to George Sheffield, a brother named Richard, John Appleyard of Dunston, and Thomas Gresham, being his cousins; in 1571 his son Thomas was lord, and married Anne daughter of Sir Edmund Jenny of Knodeshall in Suffolk, and was succeeded by Edmund Billingford, who married Elizabeth Felton, a coheiress, and had Thomas, who first married Mrs. Harman, and then Mrs. Brown;⁵ in 1610, Thomas Billingford settled Blackworth manor, and Roscelines, &c. on Samuel Style and Edmund Purdye, who held it with Stoke manor, then called old Hallsted manor, of the manor of Forncet, at 4*d.* per annum for castleward or forewatch, and the said manor was further held of Barningham manor, by a pound of pepper yearly; and soon after EDWARD DOYLY, Esq. purchased the manor of Blackworth-hall, with the members belonging to it, viz. the manors of Stoke-holy-Cross, or Old-hallstede, Roscelines, Rockeles, and Grenevilles, or Grangevilles, &c. and it hath passed ever since, as the manor of SHOTESHAM, which see at p. 507, 8.

This manor hath LETE, weyf, and stray, the fines are at the lord's will, and the woman's dowry is one moiety.

The PRIOR of NORWICH had large revenues here,⁶ in lands and rents of divers ancient donations to that monastery, and the advowson of the church was given and appropriated very early, for John son of Oliver de Vaur, lord here, acknowledged by deed under his seal, to the PRIOR and convent, that he had no right in any part of the advowson, on account of any feofament made him by John de Waxtuncsham, his ancestors having long before given the advowson to the monastery, to which house it had been then long appropriated. Richard de Snaringes,⁷ John son of Sir John de Gatesden, Knt. John son of Sir John de Nerford, Knt. and Lady Petronel his mother, Walter Penning and Bertrice his wife, William Karman, Ralf son of Tho. de Rickingale, Thomas de Nerford brother of John, and Agnes his wife, who was formerly the wife of John de Mautravers, and many others, were benefactors; in 1320 Brother Ralf de Hemesly, Prior of St. Mary at Hickling, exchanged lands with the Prior of Norwich, who was taxed for all his lands and temporal rents, at 5*l.* 9*d.* without those of the Abbot of Holm, which were taxed separately at 12*d.* The whole town and hamlets being charged to each tenth at 12*li.* but had a deduction of 2*li.* 13*s.* 4*d.* allowed on account of the lands of the religious here, they being taxed by themselves.

The RECTORY was appropriated to the CHAMBERER's, or chamberlain's office in the priory of Norwich,⁸ and had a VICARAGE presentative, and afterwards endowed, but was never taxed, so that it is not mentioned in the KING's BOOKS; and indeed the town itself is left out in Saxton's map of the COUNTY; the Priors of Norwich always presented to the vicarage, till the Dissolution, and then it was granted to the DEAN and chapter,⁹ who are impropiators and patrons of the VICARAGE at this time; in NORWICH Domesday, the chamberer, who was then impropriator, had a house and 24 acres of land; in the Revision it is thus entered: to the parsonage belong 26 acres of glebe, and the tithe corn only; to the vicarage, 22 acres of glebe, and all other tithes, and the spirituals of the Prior of Norwich were valued at 16 marks, and the temporals of the Abbot of Langley, at 4s. 7d. It formerly paid 2s. synodals, but no procurations to the archdeacon, it being one of the *peculiar*s belonging to the DEAN and CHAPTER; though now it seems otherwise, for in the Revision of the Archdeaconry of NORFOLK, in 1630, it is thus entered,

STOKE-HOLY-CROSS vicarage; ELIZABETH BURMAN, widow, is patroness and proprietary (by lease, I suppose, from the dean and chapter,) Oliver Harrison, clerk, who also holds Shotesham by a personal union, is vicar. The vicarage is valued at 5*li.* pays 10s. tenths, and 15*d.* procurations at the Bishop's visitation, 2s. synodals, and 6s. 8*d.* ARCHDEACON's procurations. But notwithstanding this, I do not ever find the vicarage to have been in the King's Books, and instead of five pounds it was never estimated before the Reformation at but 5 marks, and not at all, that I can find since; but being not mentioned in the Valor, it is capable of augmentation, if sworn to be under 50*l.* per annum clear; but it appearing, by Mr. Ecton's last Valor, published in 1742, not to be certified as yet; till that be done, it is incapable of that advantage.

In 1550 the dean and chapter paid to the Bishop of NORWICH 6s. 8*d.* per annum for a parcel of tithes in this town lately belonging to the sacrist of HOLM abbey. There was a GILD held in this church, in honour of the HOLY-CROSS.

In 1342, Sir John Atte Cherche of *Sweyne*storp was vicar; in 1349, Thomas Curteys; 1372, John Hacoun, &c.
